Thrilling Little Romance About a Ring, a Girl and a Fight—Newly Elected Officers of Star Lodge, No. 4, Degree of Honor—E. & M. Shops Make a Record in Car Building.

A couple of youngsters got into a lively tussle encounter on Main street last evening, and one of them was getting decidedly the worst of it, when a bystander remarked that the police were coming. The bout was called off and the participants scattered. It is reported that a ring and a young lady caused the scrap. One of the boys was letting his sweetheart wear the ring, and she loaned it to the other boy, who said that he had lost it.

The original owner of the ring met his rival last evening while coming home from work in the shops and demanded $3.50, which he claimed was the value of the ring. Hot words ensued and the former made a swipe at the other boy with his dinner pail. That was a serious mistake, for his antagonist made a clever duck and lead off with a swift right-hand punch, which floored the dinner pail and the boy at the same time. A few more licks soon retired him permanently.

Both the boys are ordinarily well-behaved, and as no arrests were made their names are withheld.

Plattsmouth Shops Make a Record.

When the Burlington secured the new fast mail contract for transporting the mails from Chicago to Billings it found itself short five mail cars. To do this work satisfactorily to the government the Burlington had to secure the cars in quick time. Orders for three cars were placed with the Pullman people, and the cars shops at Plattsmouth were ordered to turn out the other two. All five are now in service and the three from the Pullman shops were turned out and placed in service in less than two weeks from the time the order was given. The order was placed on November 5, the day before election. No work was done in the shops on election day. The first work on the new cars was done on the morning of November 7, and on the 17th the cars were turned over to the company for service. The two cars were built in the Plattsmouth shops and turned out in a little less than three weeks—Lincoln Journal.

A Distinguished Actor.

Mr. Whiteside's forthcoming engagement will, from present indication, be one of the most successful ever played in this city. In those days when man regaled or rather assailed with so much that is unworthy of place in the amusement world, it becomes a pleasure to welcome into our midst an actor whose auditors are never depressed with sense of being unworthily occupied, but who steadily feel the force of a commanding intellect and an intense nature concentrated on the sincere beneficial treatment of momentous themes.

Mr. Whiteside will present "Heart and Sword" at the Parnell on Saturday, December 13. Seats will be on sale at the box office tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Pecky Chicken Thieves.

For the past several months W. C. Benfer has been carefully cultivating and watching a half dozen nice fat pullets, which he figured would come in a mighty handy for Sunday dinners during the festive holiday season. Every night Billy has tenderly tucked his chickens in their little beds, but this morning, when he arose to serve their breakfast, some scoundrel had beat him to the coop, and the whole batch of fowls were gone, even unto his faithful old rooster, whose duty it had been to chaperone the young pullets on their daily rounds.

Billy is keeping his weather eye open for the pecky thieves, and if he discovers them there is likely to be a job for the undertaker.

Mr. Whiteside's New Play.

Comedy, bright, clean, high and refreshing will be seen at the Parnell Saturday evening, December 15, in the shape of Mr. Whiteside's new play, "Heart and Sword." Mr. Whiteside, it is said, has given to the play a beautiful scenic setting and costumed it in a gorgeous manner. "Heart and Sword," tells a romantic story of love and war in which a mythical prince and princess of different principalities are the prime movers. It is reported to be a quaint and unique play, full of bright comedy and brilliant epigrams. From a financial standpoint it is possibly the most substantial success Mr. Whiteside has had.

Smallpox at Alliance.

A dispatch from Alliance to the Lincoln Journal says: "This city is in a state of mild excitement over the appearance of several cases of an epidemic which resembles smallpox, and although the physicians here cannot agree on the disease, some good authorities pronounce it a mild type of smallpox. About half a dozen cases are at present reported. At a meeting of the city council December 7 Dr. Bellwood was appointed quarantine officer, whose duty it is to quarantine every case. The disease is thought now to be well under control. Schools and public gatherings are materially cut down by lack of activity."

Purchases Both Daily and Weekly. According to the bill of sale on file in the county clerk's office, H. B. Groves has purchased both the Daily and Weekly Post, including the subscription lists, good will and all machinery, type, etc., used in the publication of the two editions. The former owners of the paper have for security a chattel mortgage on the entire plant.

OBITUARY.

Died—Mary Shebel Hoeshour, wife of Edward Hoeshour, at the home of her parents, near Friend, Neb., November 30, 1900; aged twenty years nine months and five days.

Mary Shebel was born in Van Meter, Dallas county, Ia., February 25, 1874. She moved to Nebraska in early childhood with her parents and grew to womanhood at her home near Exeter. She was married to Edward Hoeshour October 15, 1891. Deceased leaves a husband and two children, Charley and Orpha, one brother and her parents to mourn their loss.—Friend Sentinel.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoeshour have resided in the vicinity of Maple Grove, this county, for several years. The former, Ed, as he is familiarly known, having been employed as a farm hand by Sigel Davis, G. W. Young and a number of other well known farmers. He and his wife were members of the United Brethren church, having united with O. Terbin Congregation several years ago. Ed is also a member of the Modern Woodmen, holding his membership at Murray, and has a host of friends and acquaintances who heartily sympathize with him in his sad bereavement. Indeed, the writer makes bold to declare that everyone who has had the good fortune to make the acquaintance of this couple has felt richer for having done so, and while they all feel a slight tinge of the great sorrow that has fallen like a black cloud upon Ed and his little ones, are prone to offer the consolation of the thought that

We are all, all here,
Mother, father, sister, brother,
Even the dead, though dead, so dear,
Kind memory to her duty true
Brings back their faded forms to view,
We are all all here.

The above was written by request.

INVASION OF ENGLAND

Extraordinary Speech Delivered by General Mercier in the French Senate.

WANTS TO GET READY FOR WAR

Proposes Practice in Embarking and Disembarking Troops,

With the Object of Pouncing on John Bull Pretty Quick—Consul General Stowe Talks of the Transvaal.

Paris, Dec. 5.—General Mercier caused a deep sensation in the senate yesterday during the debate on the naval bill by pointing out the ease by which England could be invaded, as he claimed. He demanded that the government introduce into the plans for mobilization of the army the navy methods for the rapid embarkation and disembarkation of an expeditionary corps. In the course of an extraordinary speech General Mercier said: "In view of the possibility of war with Great Britain the use of the army is not sufficiently taken into account. The times are not the same as they were 100 years ago. Steam, the navy, the telegraph, and the railroad have rendered the problem of the invasion of England much easier of solution. More-over England herself is no longer the same. The Transvaal war has shown that the British army, although brave, is not equal to the task which England expected it to perform. The British navy is powerful, but it has many costs to defend.

"France therefore is numerically England's equal at certain points, and is even her superior in the instruments of destruction. History furnishes many instances of mutiny in the English navy at the moment of battle. A landing in England is, therefore, not beyond realization. This is not only my opinion, but that also of high naval officers. The British premier recently expressed similar fears, and if the principle of landing is admitted, the practical means of execution may be discussed. I venture to think that the work I prepared while commanding an army corps could serve as a basis for such a project, which would not be expensive."

At this point: protests were raised, and M. Fallieres asked General Mercier not to enter into the details of the scheme. General Mercier replied that the scheme could be "held over the head of England like the sword of Damocles," and he proposed a resolution that the senate should invite the government to complete immediately preparations for the mobilization of the army and navy by preparing every thing necessary to embark and disembark as rapidly as possible an expeditionary corps. Protests were raised from various benches, and M. de Lessens, minister of marine, followed the president's ruling that the motion was out of order in the present debate by declaring that cheers that the government could not possibly accept it.

MOB LAW IN INDIANA.

Marshal Surrenders a Prisoner, Who Is Tarred and Feathered. Summitville, Ind., Dec. 5.—Last week several women were annoyed while walking on the street after dusk, and Saturday night a stranger knocked at several rear doors and when the summons was answered made insulting remarks. It is also alleged that he attempted to assault Miss Alexandra Wright. Soon after the town marshal arrested Frank Osborn of Alexandria, as the offender, and he was placed in the calaboose. About midnight a dozen and more masked men compelled the marshal to surrender the keys, after which they placed him in a cell and turned the key.

Beneched Her 100th Year.

Greensburg, Ind., Dec. 5.—Mrs. Margaret King is dead at the remarkable age of 109 years.
