A CONTEST IN

BEESONS' COURT.

Contest Probate Joanna Coleman Will.

Yesterday Judge Beeson heard the evidence pro and con on the contest of the probate of the will of Joanna G. Coleman, deceased, a Greenwood lady, who died last December. The will was offered for probate by the child, five in number and contested by one daughter Mrs. Helen E. Lemon who received a very small amount of the property. There were six grounds set forth by the contestant and given as reason why the will should be refused probate, the principal one being that of undue influence exerted over the mind of the testatrix by the other five heirs and sisters of the contestant, causing her to practically disinherit the contestant. The estate is stated in the petition to be between seven and eight thousand dollars. The proponents were represented by D. K. Barr, assisted by Byron Clark and W. A. Robertson, and the contestant by O. B. Polk, of Lincoln.

After listening to the evidence, Judge Beeson, ordered that the probate of the will be allowed, and the instrument declared to be the last will of the deceased, and granted special administration to Niles C. Coleman pending an appeal of the probate proceedings to the district court. The contestant ordered a transcript of the proceedings, preparatory to appealing to Judge Travis court

THE SENATORIAL BEE

BUSILY BUZZING.

Congressmen Norris and Hitchcock Will Soon Make Announcement.

Advice from Washington this morning announces that Congressman Norris and Congressman Hitchcock will soon announce officially their candidacy for the shoes now worn by Senator Burkett, the former as a republican and the latter a democrat. The plot thickens.

Too Much Publicity.

The Omaha gentlemen who has been talking with M. Fanger relative to starting a cloak and skirt factory in Plattsmouth, is of the opinion that the local papers have a very wide circulation, as he has had within Light Plant in Shape.

Jesse Bolsley of Omaha expert workman with the Sunderland Roof & Supply Co., returned to Omaha this morning having worked yesterday and last night at the electric light plant here. The expert put in some new shafting and repaired the belts and put the plant in good shape to render first class service from now on. Heretofore when something happened to one of the dynamos some little time was required in taking off one belt and putting on the other before the light could be turned on again. But now all that will be necessary to start up will be to throw the clutches from one machine to the other which will be but the work of a moment. Users of lights will get good service in the future, as Mr. Bolsley says the plant is now in good shape.

Banner Meeting Yesterday.

The meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church at the home of Judge and Mrs. A. N. Sullivan yesterday, in which Mrs. Sullivan was assisted in entertainment by Mrs. J. W. Larkin and Miss Gladys Sullivan proved to be the banner meeting of the year. Forty two members and friends of the organization partook of the dainty refreshments served by the hostess. An informal program of music and reading was given which enlivened the occasion. Rev. Mr. Gade, of Cincinnati, who preached at the church Sunday morning and evening, was present for a portion of the afternoon, and many had the pleasure of meeting him.

Attends Cousin's Funeral.

F. A. Burford, of Monmouth, Illinois spent a few hours in the city today, enroute to Union, called there by the death of his cousin R. C. Kendall. Mr. Burford's mother and the deceased's father being brother and sister. Mr. Burford had not learned the manner of Robert's death until he reached Plattsmouth, having only received a wire that his cousin was dead.

Employs Plattsmouth Boy.

A. F. Hedengren, the Burlington bridge man was in the city this morning looking after the company's interests. While here Mr. Hedengren employed G. A. Pomon, to begin work soon with the bridge gang. Giles will make a good workman and will no doubt give satisfaction to the foreman.

MURDER CASE HEARD

IN SUPREME COURT.

Argument of Clarence Case Taken Up and Submitted Tomorrow.

Tomorrow will be heard in the supreme court of Nebraska the case of the State against John Clarence for the murder of John Thacker, his cousin which was taken to the court of last resort on error from the district court of this county. Clarence was convicted here on very conflicting evidence, as his friends used every effort to clear him of premeditated murder.

The case was bitterly contested but the jury convicted, and the court sentenced the accused to fourteen years in the penitentiary at hard labor. The contention of the defence is that the verdict was not supported by sufficient evidence. The county attorney and the attorney general are both of the opinion that there will be no reversal in this case, as according to their view there was no error in the record of the trial.

J. W. NEWELL

WINS PROMOTION.

Former Plattsmouth Boy is Making a Success.

J. W. Newell, son of Judge W. H. Newell of this city, who has been auditor of ticket and freight accounts for the Burlington at Omaha, will be promoted within a few days. It has leaked out that this worthy young Plattsmouth man has been selected to take charge of the audit of freight accounts at Chicago. Friends of Mr. Newell were seen as to the rumor and stated that it was an authentic report. He has already procured a house in Chicago and will shortly remove his family to that city. His friends here in Plattsmouth, are glad to note his steady upward climb, and predict that he will win many more promotions in the future.

Takes Possession of Farm.

A. W. Smith and family of Carsens Iowa, purchased the Holschu farm west of Plattsmouth, and arrived this morning to take possession of it. Cass county is gaining a good citizen and worthy family and it is to be hoped that other good Iowa people will join their neighbors in this county.

In County Court.

Petition was filed yesterday by Catherine Bevens, asking administration be granted on the estate of Abel Bevens, deceased who died possessed of 80 acres in section 18 township 12 range 10, being near Ashland. The prayer is for the appointment of Catherine and Pearl Bevens, as administrators of the estate. Attorney Wilson of Ashland represents the petitioner.

Commends News-Herald.

W. H. Newell is in receipt of a letter from his old comrad D. Combs, of Portsmouth Ohio, stating that Mr. Combs has been receiving the News-Herald regularly and that under the present management the paper is all right. He likes the ring of Col. Barrow's editorials and hopes he will keep up the fight along the line.
