FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1901.

THE petty thief nearly always suffers the extreme penalty, while the big thief too often escapes punishment altogether. The Bartley and Bollen cases—where the defaulters were pardoned after serving a few months of their long sentences to the penitentiary—quite forcibly indicate that it is more profitable to be a big thief than a small one, that the risk assumed is less, and that the penalty is more easily paid.

DEMOCRATS will not be troubled by a scarcity of good material from which to select a candidate for county treasurer this fall. While the names of Samuel Waugh, W. H. Heil, James Herold and George P. Horn have been mentioned and discussed as suitable candidates, the candidacy of James Herold has received the most attention locally. Mr. Herold was a candidate for the nomination two years ago, and is being brought out by his friends again this summer. He is a democrat of long standing, and has three times been elected a member of the city council from a republican ward—the third—by an increased majority each time. His record in the council has been good. He is a native of Cass county, having been born here in Plattsmouth, and has lived here practically all his life. His nomination is now urged by quite a number of democrats, and his candidacy will receive due recognition and consideration at the democratic convention.

THAD Adams writes to the Journal from Eagle, and inquires: What is McKinley doing this year that he does not send some rain? Where is the prosperity when the crops fail you? Mr. Adams' inquiries are timely and to the point, and they are hereby referred to Judge Sullivan, a local member of the staff of old General Prosperity, for answer. Now, Judge, speak up loud and tell the gentleman from Eagle why the great father at Washington does not send rain, and what will happen to "prosperity" if the crops fail.

To fuse or not to fuse is a question that is receiving considerable attention from Cass county democrats just now. During the past four or five years fusion between the democratic and populist parties in this county has been neither pleasant nor profitable, and has resulted in considerable wrangling each year which was very detrimental to success at the polls. This year there is quite a pronounced sentiment among the democrats to put up a straight ticket, and allow the populists to work out their own salvation. If the cardinal principles of the two parties are identical there is no need whatever of separate party organizations, and if they have nothing in common fusion can never be made effective.

THE Bartley pardon is proving to be a bitter dose for the republicans to swallow, and many of the most hide-bound republican newspapers—notably the Fremont Tribune—are outspoken in their condemnation of the governors' action in pardoning the defaulters of public money—Joseph Bartley and Henry Bollen.

EDITOR HUCKINS, of the Nebraska Blizzard, was in town one day last week, and the last issue of his paper contained two columns of local political news. Among other things he says: The announcement in last week's Blizzard that Byron Clark was a likely candidate for congress is without foundation. However, if there should be another federal judge Mr. Clark would have no objection to its coming his way.

IT would be interesting to know what reason actuated the republican leaders who thought that D. Clem Deaver should be rewarded with a position that pays as well as the receivership of public moneys at the O'Neill land office. Deaver pretended last year to be a mid-road populist, and really sought to lead the long-hairs of the populist crowd into the republican camp. This trick was justified on the part of the republicans by the stake at issue, but there is nothing either in morals or politics that justifies the rewarding of Deaver for performing such work. It is placing a premium upon underhand trickery that, however a politician may justify it, is nevertheless unjustifiable to the great mass of people.

THE absence of a tail to the shirt waist seems destined to defeat its prospects of popularity with the men. Like the fellow whose foot was cut off yet was troubled with an irresistible tickling of the toes, the average man, encoined in a shirt waist, feels as though the south end of his garment had at last eluded his vigilance and was waving in the breeze.

LOOKING at the number of new pensions granted last year it is seen that 7,086 were given for disabilities incurred in the Spanish war. For every man killed in that war we have so far put more than twenty men on the pension list. Out of all the men who enlisted for that war almost twenty per cent have applied for pensions. And this is only the beginning. The pension attorneys have only commenced to get in their work. If the American people are to keep on with the policy of expansion through war they will have to discontinue the pension system.

Mynard

Special Correspondence.

Hot, hot, that's what. About fourteen days of a hundred in the shade. Verily, man sweateth under such conditions. It's too hot to write about.

Harvest fields are dead ripe and cutting is in order. Some farmers say the spring wheat is hardly worth the threshing after being cut. Oats are almost nil. Chintz bugs are ravaging some corn fields.

Joe Adams is building a fine barn on his farm one mile west of town.

Mrs. Harriet Kizer's broken arm is doing nicely.

The Modern Woodmen increased their membership by four on last Saturday night, as that number of candidates were initiated.

Mrs. John Cook is suffering with a catarrh on her right hand, and it was necessary for Dr. Livingston to lance it.

Threshing is the order of the day.

Thead Amick, Ed Slocum and John Cook went fishing up on the Platte, but as usual eat all their fish before they got home.

Ada and Lila Kiser have returned from a week's visit in Plattsmouth.

Lulu Jewell, of Lincoln, and Grace Brown, of Plattsmouth, spent Sunday with their cousin, Ada Slocum.

JAMAICA.

Union

From the Ledger.

County Commissioners Zink and Falter and Surveyor Hiltner were in town last Friday, and went out to make lines on the new road southeast of here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Banning drove in from the farm near Nehawka Tuesday evening, and Mrs. Banning went to Plattsmouth on the evening train to see her father, William Morrow, who was reported to be dangerously ill.

M. A. Hartigan, of Hastings, has accepted the invitation to attend the old settlers' reunion here, and will address the pioneers on the second day, Saturday, August 31. Mr. Hartigan is well known in this part of Nebraska, having resided in Plattsmouth a number of years ago, and was one of the leading lawyers.

Peter Clarence has been working at the blacksmith trade in Murray the past week, helping his cousin, John Klaunens, handle the immense amount of work that has been coming to his shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Frans are rejoicing over their first heir, a fine new son, which arrived at their home Monday evening, July 15th, and Papa Will is as happy as a boy with a new tin whistle.

Eagle

C. C. Lortz, the efficient clerk, who has been working for Wiggins & Donegan for the past two years, handed in his resignation Saturday and departed for his home in Utica Sunday.

H. J. Edison was in this locality Saturday looking after the McCormick binder business. He is looking well, and says he has been doing a fine business this year for the Widow McCormick.

Will Richardson of Plattsmouth precinct was at Eagle on last Friday getting acquainted with the voters. He is a candidate for county clerk on the republican ticket. He is one of our best young men and if nominated will surely be elected.

Alex. Sneddon and wife departed for Glasgow, Scotland, Tuesday to pay a visit to their old home. They expect to return about October 1st.

A very painful accident happened to Albert Franck Friday. He was thrown from his binder in some manner and the team ran away. His hand caught in the chain and it dragged him some distance. His hand finally became disengaged, but it was badly cut and bruised. He had it dressed as soon as he could get to town, and he is getting along as well as could be expected.

Weeping Water

From the Republican.

Mrs. J. H. Cotner, of Plattsmouth, visited Reymond Gilmore's family over Sunday.

Sam Wart, Amos Cappen and Dave Erickson went to Plattsmouth Tuesday to apply for work at the B. & M. shops. It is said they are needing men there.

Dr. and Mrs. Shannon, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Donelan, I. W. Tegedarden and Miss Mamie Lacey went to Manawa Tuesday to enjoy the cool bathing and boating at that famous summer resort.

James Minniear, who is farming about three miles north of town, is in hard luck. In the past few weeks he has lost about 120 hogs by cholera, taking nearly every one he had. We learn also that Robt. Young has lost a large number of fine hogs by the same dread disease.

W. W. Cogilizer captured a 154-pound carp last week, just below the lower bridge. Those who fished there later for the mate to it say Bill's fish was a widow.

If Dave Woodward will go to Plattsmouth he can have the pleasure of interviewing "Dr. Cronin," the man who sold him a team and buggy for $190, which was called for later by a Nebraska City liveryman, as his property.

H. A. Rudige, living a mile west of Avoca, was in town Saturday. He said he had 200 acres of corn that is in fine shape. He had in seventy-eight acres of small grain, including twenty-seven acres of wheat, and this week he is threshing it.

Fred Gorder says he has sold eighteen binders this season, most of them the Deering. He would have disposed of a number more, but the light spring wheat crop and chintz bugs caused a number who had bought conditioned on the crop to go back on the deal.

Greenwood

From the News.

Ulrich Summers, an old settler of this county in 1882, is now visiting old friends here.

J. D. Stone loads a car of broom corn for shipment this week. He gets $80 a ton for this car load.

William Pennington, of Eagle, is in Greenwood with his shooting gallery this week, and he must be enjoying a picnic judging from the crowd at his tent and the way they keep the bell ringing. His gallery is developing some good shots, some of whom are ladies.

William Nichols got a cluder in his eye last Saturday, which was quite painful until removed on Tuesday. It caused no permanent injury.

Orson Johnson lost all his old clothes on a bet Tuesday that he could rosin before Wednesday morning. He may need those old clothes if it continues hot and dry. Don't make any more such rash bets.

A little daughter of A. E. Cox, living nine miles northeast of Greenwood, fell out of a wagon on her shoulder on Wednesday, breaking the collar bone and shoulder blade. She was brought to Dr. Miller, who dressed the injured shoulder and the little sufferer is now doing well.

W. T. Replogle, our shoe maker, has discovered that nine pairs of shoes have mysteriously disappeared from the shelves in his shop. How long they have been gone he does not know, as he did not miss them until Wednesday afternoon. The party who took the shoes evidently has a key that fits the front door of the shop, and must have used up all the shoes they stole from this place about a year ago. The loss this time amounts to about $15.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Dr. W. B. Elster, Dentist, Waterman Block.

Buy your hammocks at Lehnhoff's book store, 50c up.

Balky watches made to work by McElwain, the jeweler.

All first-class dealers sell the Esquisto 5c cigar. H. Spies, manufacturer.

George B. Lehnhoff's book store is headquarters for all kinds of hammocks, from 50c up.

C. E. Yates, of Lincoln, superintendent of telegraph for the B. & M., was in the city on Wednesday.

We call for and repair all kinds of furniture. Call us up. Our telephone is 137. Sattler Furniture Co.

The art stained glass windows for the new Methodist church building are being fitted in their places.

Every democrat in the county can get new subscribers to the Journal if he asks his neighbors about it.

A. S. Cooley, of Eagle, is being mentioned as a strong candidate for the republican nomination for sheriff.

FOR SALE—Two Jersey cows, will be fresh in two weeks. Inquire of Norman Slocum, two miles south of Mynard.

When you get warmed up nicely, just call up Patts. Tel. 72-73, Neb. 72, and get block of COLD ICE—just the thing.

We take especial care in repairing watches. Let us repair your watch. We can please you. J. W. Crabill, Union block.

Watermelons have made their appearance in the local market, but they are not natives. They are shipped in from the south.

When you want to enjoy a good smoke call for the Esquisto 5c cigar. None better. Home made, union made. All dealers sell them.

A. S. Will brought in a drove of cattle early Tuesday morning, which he loaded into eight cars at the B. & M. yards and marketed at South Omaha.

Floride Aya, Red Axe, Acorns—ask for one of these brands when you want a smoke, and learn for yourself that the cigars of Ptak & Bajek are equal to any.

If there is one store in Plattsmouth that makes you want to buy everything they have it's that of the Sattler Furniture Co.—the big store on Sixth street.

Matthew Spader, of Wabash, is being mentioned as a probable candidate on the democratic ticket for county commissioner from the third district.

Don't forget that Ptak & Bajek are manufacturers of several lines of fine cigars, which have just been put upon the market. Try them for a fine, sweet smoke.

Mike Maury returned home Thursday morning from a trip to Furnas county. He reports the crops to be in a bad condition out there, caused by the general drought.

Ed. M. Mackey, who has been cook at the Riley for a year past, and who was married to Miss Louise Heinrich last week, has removed to Chicago, where he will make his home.

Morgan Waybright suffered the loss of one of his horses on Wednesday afternoon, caused by being overcome by heat while hauling wheat from the threshing machine on Isaac Wiles' farm.

Peter Rauen, the wagon maker, was overcome by heat and completely prostrated in his shop on Pearl street, Wednesday afternoon. He was removed to his home, where he soon recovered.

The old frame office building adjoining Dr. Livingston's office on Main street, which served Dr. R. R. Livingston for so many years as an office, is being torn down and the materials removed.

Save ice and money by buying the world famous Challenge Iceberg Refrigerators. There are others, but none equal to this one sold and warranted by the Sattler Furniture Co., the big store on Sixth street.

The family of the late Samuel J. Brantner desire through the columns of the Journal to express their heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends for their assistance and sympathy during their recent bereavement.

If you wish to hear some interesting incidents of travel by a highly cultured educator, or if you would learn of the work of Cotner university, you should attend the lecture to be given by President Aylsworth this evening at the Christian church.

Fred W. Crosser, postmaster at Murray, was in town on Monday on business. Fred is an aspirant for the nomination for register of deeds on the republican ticket this fall, and his wide acquaintance and popularity will make him a formidable candidate.

Lee J. Mayfield, publisher of the Courier at Louisville, was in town on Monday and made a fraternal call at this office. Lee enjoys the distinction of being one of the few publishers of republican newspapers in Cass county who has not got his hand up for office this fall.

Hudecek & McElroy, tailors, over Morgan's, desire to announce that they have received their new fall samples of suitings, etc., and that suits for summer wear will be made up at a liberal discount from former prices. Call and look over their samples and get their prices.

Watt Holmes, of Havelock, left on Friday morning for Lake Independence, Minn., where he will enjoy an outing for a week or two. Watt is an enthusiastic fisherman, and will undoubtedly have all kinds of fish stories with which to entertain his friends when he returns.

County Judge Douglass has issued the following marriage licenses during the past week: Henry Boesche, aged 25, and Annie Bennett, aged 18, both of Syracuse, Neb., and Chas. Frank Nagel, aged 43, and Ida Sophia Wioreg, aged 38, both of Chicago. The latter couple were married by Judge Douglass.

Claus Brekenfeld, of Louisville, was in the city on Tuesday, shaking hands with his Plattsmouth friends. Claus enjoys the reputation of being one of the best millers in the state, and will take charge of the Elmwood mills the first of next month. The people of Elmwood are to be congratulated on his becoming a citizen of their town.

Wm. Foxwell and daughter Jessie departed Sunday evening for a trip to England, where they go to look after matters connected with the estate of which Mr. Foxwell is one of the heirs. This estate has been in litigation for a number of years, and only recently was a decision rendered which confirmed his claim. His share of the income amounts to about $3,000 per year.

The work of clearing away the site for the new buildings to be erected by W. L. Pickett and August Bach, on Sixth street between Main and Pearl, has been commenced, and Engineer Hiltner was running the lines and setting the grade stakes on Wednesday. The plans for the buildings provide for three store fronts, will be built of brick, with iron cornices, and will be one story.

Church Howe, United States consul at Sheffield, England, is coming home for a visit, and the people of his home town—Auburn—will tender him a grand reception there on the evening of July 30th, next Tuesday. The affair will be of considerable magnitude, all of the state officers, as well as prominent citizens from all over the state, will be in attendance. Many will go from here.

Chas. D. Cummins, who will remove to Lawton, Oklahoma, the first of next month, will embark in the furniture and undertaking business at that place, and on Tuesday selected and ordered his stock of goods from a traveling representative of a wholesaler in that line. Lawton is south of Ft. Sill, in the new territory about to be opened up for settlement, and will no doubt be a good business point.

The Central City, South Dakota, Register says: James K. Pollock, who was injured about ten days ago by the breaking down of a rig, has so far recovered as to leave the hospital and return to his post at Elmore, where he is employed as book-keeper for Leppla & McLaughlin, the contractors. It was at first feared that he might lose his nose, but there is now no danger that he will even be disfigured.

.NO HUNTING.
