Liars Will Figure

DISRAELI once said that there were three kinds of invertebrates—lies, d—d lies, and statistics. Had he lived in America in these degenerate times, he would undoubtedly have substituted "advertisements" for "statistics." No untruths, however, shall creep into our advertisements.

Country school districts can do well by figuring with us on school books and all school supplies, as we are headquarters for these goods. Lehnhoff's book store.

William Schmidtman has a complete and extensive line of horse blankets, fur and plush lap robes—the largest line in Cass county and at reasonable prices.

Cedar Creek camp, Modern Woodmen of America, will hold their annual ball on December 7th at Sayles' hall. Good music will be in attendance, and everybody is invited.

Frank Warren is here from Denver for a visit with his mother, Mrs. R. D. Blunt. Frank left Plattsmouth nearly fifteen years ago, and this is his first visit here since that time.

A juvenile tramp was at the B. & M. depot Wednesday morning bound from Denver to Galesburg, Ill. He stowed away under a vestibule on No. 4, and continued his journey.

Cold weather will soon be here, so don't fail to get some of the celebrated seal brand underwear for ladies and children. Sold only at Zuckweiler & Lutz, Sixth and Pearl streets.

Lewis E. Myers is in town, and is stopping at the Perkins house. He is organizing a class in book-keeping, and will give instruction in that branch to those who desire to join the class.

Before buying your stove call on Ebinger Hardware company. They carry the best line on earth, such as the Radiant Home Acorn base burners, Quick Meal and Acorn ranges and Round Oak soft coal stoves.

County Clerk-elect L. A. Tyson was in the city during the last week seeking a place to live when his official term begins. He wants to buy residence property here, but has not found a place that exactly suits him.

A meeting of the pioneer settlers of Cass county has been called by Wm. Gilmour to meet at Richey's lumber office tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock for the purpose of arranging for a general meeting of the association.

John McNurlin, of Louisville, was in town on Wednesday attending court, and was a caller at this office. He reports that his corn was turning out better than expected, and that he would have a yield of twenty-five bushels per acre.

Mrs. A. B. McKinney, mother of Mrs. Phillip Sauter, died on Wednesday night. Deceased was seventy-five years of age, and has made her home with her daughter in this city for the past two years, coming from Peoria, Ill. She leaves two married daughters who live in Omaha, and one daughter in Chicago.

Dr. R. P. Plimpton has decided to remove from Plattsmouth to Denison, Iowa, his former home, and is packing his office furniture for shipment to that place. The people of Plattsmouth are sorry to lose the doctor as one of our citizens, and he is sorry to leave us, but business conditions induced him to change locations.

John Tighe, of Manly, has been in town several days this week. John is one of the government gaugers at the Willow Springs distillery in Omaha, having been appointed during the last Cleveland administration, and the position being under civil service rules enables him to retain it even under a republican administration.

J. F. Doud, an old resident of Cass county, died at his home two miles south of this city on Tuesday night. Deceased was among the early settlers in this county, and was well and favorably known to many people here. He has been very feeble for the past five years, both mentally and physically. He leaves one son, Frank, who lives in Franklin county. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, and the remains were buried at the Eikenbary cemetery.

The river steamer Jacob Richtmann passed down the river early Wednesday morning, bound for St. Louis. Navigation on the Missouri at this season of the year is attended with considerable difficulty, the Richtmann having grounded just above the mouth of the Platte river, where it remained all Tuesday afternoon and night. The boat left Omaha on Saturday afternoon, and put in three days traveling the thirty-five miles river distance between Omaha and Plattsmouth. At this rate it will not reach St. Louis before the ice closes the river.

The fire demon visited the domicile of Jimmy Moore last Friday forenoon, and did considerable damage before his progress was checked by our valiant and vigilant fire department. Jimmy has been hibernating in the old shack at the corner of Fifth and Pearl streets, which is a part of the assets of the defunct Citizens bank. The building was hardly worth saving, but for fear the fire might spread to adjoining property the flames were extinguished. An inventory of the loss Jimmy sustained developed the fact that most of the damage was caused by water, his fine "Stradavariou's" fiddle, which has furnished musical inspiration on so many occasions for Happy Hollow dancing parties, was "mighty nigh ruined."

Union

From the Ledger.

The much advertised excursion gotten up by Nebraska City for last Saturday was not much of a drawing card from here. Less than a dozen went to visit some of their friends.

Postmaster Rose informs us that he has forwarded his resignation, to take effect the first day of January.

This village needs a public hall large enough for conventions, entertainments and meetings, and we believe that if some of our wealthy men would get together and put up the right kind of a building they would find it a good investment.

Wm. Eikenbary took very sick last Friday, and for a few days there was fears that pneumonia would follow, but we are pleased to say that he is now getting along very nicely.

There is but one newspaper in this county that can be charged with "mad slinging" in the county campaign this year, and that paper is not published at Weeping Water, Union, Louisville, Elmwood, Eagle, Nehawka or Greenwood.

Mrs. Mary F. Fell arrived home from West Virginia, where she spent about two months in visiting among relatives and old acquaintances at her girlhood home.

Fred J. Dean, our new hardware dealer, arrived here last Saturday with a car load of household goods, and his family arrived a few days later. Mr. Dean is busily engaged in getting his store in shape for business in the Roddy building.

Please remember that when you want to enjoy a really first class smoke you should call for the Acorn five cent cigars. For sale by all first-class dealers. Ptak & Bajek, manufacturers, corner of Main and Fifth streets, Plattsmouth, Nebraska.

Nehawka

From the Register.

R. D. Kehoe was seriously hurt one day this week while at work in the quarry. While breaking rock, a small piece struck him in the eye, inflicting quite a bad wound. He went to Omaha to consult an eye specialist, and it may be that he will not lose his sight.

George Marks was elected as road overseer in this district. George is about as strong a republican as you see.

Henry Taylor, of Vermont, is here visiting his uncle, B. W. Bates. He intends to stay here for some time yet.

Peter Hansen received the sad news one day last week, that his brother's son was killed by the cars in Wisconsin.

Edgar Marks captured a fine large coon Tuesday night. It tipped the scales at 24 pounds. He is surely a coon hunter. We expect to go along some night and enjoy the sport.

Last Thursday noon occurred the marriage of one of Nehawka's best girls, Miss Barbara Opp, to Rhyndard Ketchel, of Walton, Neb., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Opp, Rev. G. W. Ayers officiating. This was also the silver wedding anniversary of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Opp, they having been married just twenty-five years. Peter Opp was married to Miss Barbara Anna Moore, at Dexter, Iowa, in 1876. From there they moved to Nehawka, Cass county, Neb., where they have resided up to this time, excepting three years at Avoca. To this happy union seven children were born, all living but one. They were presented with a nice silver dish in honor of the occasion, and hearty congratulations in order from their many friends.

Weeping Water

From the Republican.

H. G. Race and wife, who have had a continuous residence in Weeping Water since Sept. 9, 1874, took their departure Wednesday, on the 10:40 train for Los Angeles, California, where they go for Mrs. Race's health, and the wishes of many friends for her speedy recovery goes with them.

Auctioneer Wilkinson reports a good sale at Union on Saturday, when he sold the chattels belonging to the Dr. Wallace estate. He says he had a good crowd, and the goods and stock brought good prices, the aggregate being about $300 more than the stuff was estimated at before the sale began.

James Colbert and wife moved down from their farm near Wabash on last Thursday, and are now at home in their house in Commercial avenue.

J. W. Bullis, E. A. Sackett, and T. L. Wiles returned home Friday night from the Pacific coast, where they spent a month looking over the state of Washington. Sackett and Bullis were pleased with the country and may some time emigrate, but Mr. Wiles doesn't like it.

Mr. Haslam had the misfortune to fall last week, and jarred one of his ribs loose, which has caused him a good deal of pain.

Wm. Cochburn, residing four miles west and one mile south of Murdock, had the misfortune to lose his house and all its contents by fire Wednesday last week. The origin of the fire is a complete mystery. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cochburn were in the field husking corn when the house was discovered on fire, but were unable to get to the house in time to save anything.

Auctioneer Wm. Dunn held his second big combination sale here last Saturday, and it proved to be the largest sale ever held in these parts, the total receipts being $6,623.70. There were buyers and sellers here from all over the county, and the crowd was immense.

"Gut Heil" cigars, 5c, home made union made.

Elmwood

From the Leader-Echo.

I. W. Hollenbeck of near Weeping Water, a nephew of Henry Hollenbeck, of this place, was the purchaser of Wm. Buser's 160-acre farm. The price paid was $47.50 per acre. Mr. Buser expects to go to Oklahoma to look at land soon.

John Hart returned Friday morning from his eastern visit, where he enjoyed a meeting with many of his old regiment comrades. He reports a splendid time.

Ernst Hayes and Coon Stoehr expect to leave for their new home in Oklahoma the last of this month.

Ed Gustin was the recipient of a very pleasant surprise party at his home on Thursday evening of last week. About twenty of his relatives and friends came in to remind him that it was his birthday. A splendid time is reported.

John Elliott is building a commodious addition to his residence on the farm. He will not move back on the farm until this is completed.

A boy in this town who has a $4 a week job bought a $34 overcoat, and the boys say he has been wearing it ever since the first frost, although it is intended for wear only in the coldest weather.

Eagle

Mrs. McGuffey had a bad runaway last Friday, but was fortunate in escaping without serious injury. The team became frightened and run away. She succeeded in getting them quieted and got out to fix the harness when they started again and run home. One of the horses struck its head on a tree in the yard killing it instantly.

Five loads of apples passed through town one day last week.

Charles Trumble struck one of his fingers with the meat cleaver last Saturday evening, almost severing the first joint. The cleaver struck a bone and glanced, making a very painful wound.

S. E. Allen has been granted a pension of $3 per month.

C. K. McDonald departed for Omaha on last Monday, where he has accepted a good position.

Henry Kreuer expects to leave soon for an extended visit with friends and relatives in Chicago.

Louisville

From the Courier.

The result of the election in Cass county was the same as two years ago, republicans electing the entire ticket with the exceptions of sheriff and superintendent of schools. We now have a democratic sheriff and a democratic superintendent and the result of the election makes no change whatever. The two democrats in question were elected by republican votes, as the county is republican by a large majority.

Louisville republicans did well by the state ticket Tuesday, giving Sedgwick a majority of 45.

The following old time residents of this vicinity will leave on Tuesday for California, where they expect to make their future home: C. D. Tapper and family, Dan Sweeney and family and J. Smith and family. They will locate in the Santa Rosa valley, near the town of Forestville and about twelve miles from the city of Santa Rosa. The Courier trusts that they may prosper in their new home but believes they will regret the change they are now making, for who is there that ever left Nebraska but longed to return.

A. W. Hall returned last Monday from Missoula, Montana, where he went in 1896. He says that is a great country for mining and stock raising and that small grain does well. Mr. Hall has been farming since he left here on what is known as the table land, which he says is very uncertain and that this year he had an entire crop failure.

Greenwood

From the News.

Editor Brewster is looking over his farm in Missouri this week. He invested in those parts recently.

We are glad to report that Miss Clara Slater did not take the small pox as was stated in last week's issue.

It is reported that Tom Wilburn has sold his farm to a gentleman from the east for $50 per acre.

Andy Christianson, a wealthy farmer living northwest of Alvo and who went to Denmark last spring on a visit returned last week and brought with him a brand new wife. Either the trip to Denmark or his getting married makes him look and act years younger.

Charley McPherson, the gentlemanly night operator at this place, has been promoted to the position of night operator at Plattsmouth, taking his new place last Friday night.

John Axmaker made his two daughters, Ethel and Hazel, a present of a fine new piano this week, paying $290 cash for it.

George Oliver is circulating a petition for the purpose of establishing a rural mail route at Alvo. He is meeting with considerable success.

Miscellaneous

The enterprising merchants of Nebraska City have arranged with the Missouri Pacific railroad for cheap fare excursions from surrounding towns, in order to induce people to do their trading at Nebraska City, and the scheme is meeting with some success.

A rate of one fare for the round trip has been made from Plattsmouth, Louisville, Auburn and intermediate points for next Wednesday.

Young men—our illustrated catalogue explains how we teach barber trade in eight weeks, mailed free. Moler Barber College, Omaha, Neb.

The Weeping Water Advocate says: Sage's defeat by such overwhelming majorities in Plattsmouth seems to indicate that the gentlemen who came to the county convention with the ready-made ticket in their pockets did not represent the voters of Plattsmouth.

H. F. Huntington, an entertainer, of University Place, will give an oratorical recital at Myard on Monday evening, November 18th, under the auspices of the Modern Woodman lodge of that village. Admission 10c and 15c. Everybody invited.

Don't Go to School to Learn Book-Keeping

When with the aid of Goodwin's Improved Book-Keeping and Business Manual, I will make a first class book-keeper out of you at your home within seven weeks' time for only $20, including all books, blanks, etc. How do I accomplish so much in so short a time and for so little money? I will tell you. I am organizing evening classes of three, so I can give each scholar individual instruction. You join a class, then I furnish you the above books, with all the necessary blanks, paper, etc., and pilot you right along through the study of book-keeping and commercial calculation until you understand it thoroughly, and are able to accept any position where a first class book-keeper is required, then if you ever need help after you have secured a situation I give it to you free of charge.

So simple and comprehensive are the principles, when viewed by the light in which they are presented, that any person of ordinary intelligence can not fail to obtain a clear understanding of the science. A complete description of all the different kinds of accounts used in business, together with an entirely new and original method of showing how each account is opened, where it is debited, where credited, and how closed. I will illustrate the most systematic and scientific method of opening and closing a set of double-entry books, where double-entry is reduced as nearly as possible to the simplicity of single-entry, which system is in use in the counting rooms of the best business houses of the country at the present day.

The young man who spends from six to sixteen months, and from $50 to $600, to learn book-keeping in a business college is—to put it mildly—throwing away both time and money. For $20 he can obtain, with seven weeks' study, a sufficient knowledge of book-keeping to enable him to accept and hold a situation as book-keeper in any wholesale or retail house in the country. Hundreds of young men have studied this system, and are holding lucrative positions today. Do you wish to be able to fill a high salaried position in a big house? How soon will you hear of an opening for a first class book-keeper? Who knows? Be prepared to jump into it. Don't delay.

Trusting you will decide to join the evening class at once, and assuring you that you can learn and understand the system, I remain,

Respectfully yours,
LEWIS E. MYERS

For further particulars call on me at the Perkins House.
