C. M. Hubner, editor of the Nebraska City News, was in the city on Tuesday and engaged the B. & M. band to furnish the music during the State fireman's convention in Nebraska City, January 21st, 22d and 23d. The members of the Plattsmouth fire department and many of their friends expect to attend.

Postmaster Smith entertained his brother postmasters in his office on Wednesday, and when his visitors departed he was horrified when he discovered that his brand new overcoat had disappeared, and in its place was hanging one that was several sizes too large for him, besides being considerably to the bad on account of wear.

News was received here on Saturday of the death of John Whalen, who died very suddenly from heart trouble at Lawton, Oklahoma. The remains were shipped to this city for burial, and on Wednesday afternoon the funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, of which order deceased was a member.

The Nebraska City News says: The ice men are considerably worried over the fact that the river has been rising considerably during the past two days and they are afraid the ice they have staked out, and will harvest as soon as the weather will permit, will go out. They fear that if this ice goes out the river will not freeze over solidly again this winter, as that is the history of things in the past.

J. B. Meisinger, one of the oldest subscribers on the Journal's list, was in town on Wednesday and renewed his allegiance to this paper for another year. Mr. Meisinger also renewed subscription for his son, John B. Meisinger, who lives at Circleville, Ohio, where he is engaged in the ice cream and confectionery business with his father-in-law, James P. Antill, formerly a well known resident of Plattsmouth.

A local syndicate was recently organized to invest $2,600 in a stallion, but all is not harmony in the new company. It was agreed at the start that thirteen shares of $200 each would be issued, and no one person was to own more than one share. But thirteen is an unlucky number, and one of the share-holders bought three more shares, thus precipitating trouble in the ranks of the syndicate and the deal was declared off.

During the past week County Judge Douglass has issued marriage licenses to the following parties: Bert Crissman, age 21, and Mrs. Bertha Sampson, age 23, both of Plattsmouth; Alvin Durwood Ferris, age 24, and Ada Myrtle Slocum, age 24, both of Murray; Fred August Lau, age 24, and Louisa Augusta Neumann, age 18, both of Mardock; Albert Fiddeline, age 21, and Viola Buskirk, age 26, both of South Bend; George Edgar Barker, age 21, and Minnie E. Henton, age 20, both of Myrand; Wm. De Witt Eager, age 51, and Jennie Desch, age 43, both of Omaha.

We have noticed that when corn or any other kind of grain was a short crop and prices began going up that before another crop was harvested prices would go down. When corn is double or triple the usual price it is so much more than consumed. Farmers are selling their hogs before they are near as fat as they usually are. Cattle men are feeding wheat instead of corn. One man on the Platte has already fed ten thousand bushels of wheat. We would advise the farmer to sell his corn and not to hold it for a dollar. We knew a man to hold his three dollar wheat for three and a half and finally sold for one dollar.—Nebraska Independent.

An unknown man who was crossing the Missouri river on the ice near the Plattsmouth bridge Thursday broke through and came perilously near getting drowned. He was driving across and the break occurred when he was near the Mills county shore. Luckily several men were at work on the Q switch at Bethlehem and a number rushed to his assistance. The man and his team were hauled out on the ice and saved but the wagon slipped under the ice and now no doubt is spinning merrily about in the Gulf of Mexico. Had this gang of Q employees not been at hand the chances are the man and his team would have gone with the wagon. The place where he went through happened to be thin ice, a sort of air hole, and this is what caused the break. There was quite a bit of travel across the river on the ice until this incident occurred but since that time people have been somewhat chary about crossing back and forth from Iowa to Nebraska on the treacherous Missouri river.—Glenwood Tribune.

Butter a shallow baking dish thoroughly; line the side with good, a t., then fill in with well-seasoned meal potatoes. Cover the top thickly with bits of marrow from scup bone or butter, hard-boiled eggs sliced, banchel almonds, a few slices of lemon and candied peel and sliced dates. Cover the pie with a thin crust and bake in a quick oven for thirty minutes.

South Africa is a good market for cement. All public buildings, stores and dwellings are coated with cement. There are few wooden buildings erected. The masons in South Africa are mostly Malays. They are skilled in their trade and do the work neatly. Cement is also largely used in the construction of aqueducts, wharves, chimneys, walls, etc.

Quite a number of young people from this neighborhood attended the masquerade ball at Cedar Creek last Saturday night.

The sale at John Norris' was largely attended and everything sold well.

Revival meetings are now being held at Otterbein, and the attendance is quite large.

Will and Henry Wenke are visiting at Stanton, Neb.

John Young has sold his livery barn at Murray to Nick Klaurens.

Quite a number of farmers in this vicinity sold their corn this week, and they are now busy shelling and delivering the same.

Union

From the Ledger.

J. L. Young of Murray had part of his store here last Saturday and sold at auction in the afternoon and evening. Some good bargains were snapped up, but the auctioneer has the credit for selling some articles above store prices. That's the auctioneer's business, as long as the people will keep bidding.

Miss Rosa O'Donnell returned to school in Plattsmouth last Sunday after spending the holiday vacation at home.

Dr. Walker went up to Murray Wednesday evening, and from there he drove over to Rock Bluffs to attend Mrs. Phelan Hall who is very ill with inflammatory rheumatism. He says the smallpox fright has almost passed away up there.

Mr. W. F. Tracy, who succeeds John R. Pierson as owner of the bank and other property in this village, is making many friends by his genial personality and business qualifications.

Grandma Buck has been quite ill the past week, which delayed a visit she and her daughter had planned. We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Buck is much better, and they will go next week for their visit at Akron, Colorado.

H. F. Taylor has concluded to go to Los Angeles, Cal., to spend the balance of the winter, and intends starting within a few days in case his health will permit, and Marion Mickie will accompany him. Mr. Taylor's physical condition has been unusually bad the past few weeks, and he hopes to improve by changing to the Pacific coast climate.

Some of the residents of school district No. 10, about four miles north-east of here, have a smallpox scare, on account of one of the Bates boys of Rock Bluffs attending a party in that neighborhood last week. The boy denies that he was ever exposed to the disease, but the school board decided to adopt the safe plan by closing the school and await developments. As yet there is no sign of the disease in any part of the neighborhood, and it is hoped that none of it will develop.

Nehawka

From the Register.

T. V. Davis, of Murray, took the Sunday evening train here for Lincoln where he is studying for a physician. Mr. Davis will graduate this year and there is some talk of his locating in Nehawka.

W. H. Lopp rode his bicycle up to the sale last Tuesday, and going down a hill that was a little slippery he took a header. Mr. Lopp has come to the conclusion that pneumatic tires were not made to run on ice.

This must be considered a very unhealthy neighborhood, considering the number of physicians that have been here the past week looking for a location.

It is reported that E. D. VanCourt is negotiating for a large contract for crushed stone, which if secured will furnish employment for a large number of men.

F. L. Nutzman was in town Tuesday and reports that he has purchased a hundred steers to feed. It is a lot of grit to feed sixty cent corn but Fred has it.

Wm. Newman sold a horse to Bert Dunn last Tuesday for the consideration of $15.

A traveling man was at the depot last Monday who said he was the last populist in the United States. He said there was good money in it, as he could get a job in a show any time at $5,000 a year to exhibit himself as the last "pop" left.

Get a rabbit's foot if you want to be in style. They are all the go and bring good luck to the wearer every time. Dr. Pollard put one on and inside of three days he got $75.00 on account that had run a long time. Jim Banning put one on in the morning and that evening a man paid him $7.50, which Jim never expected to get.

Two young doctors were in town last Tuesday looking for a location. They did not see any cemetery on any of the hills near by, so went on to Union.

Weeping Water

From the Republican.

Saturday's dispatches from Washington, stated that Congressman Burdett had sent in the name of Postmaster C. V. Hay of Weeping Water, for reappointment. Mr. Hay's term expired on the 14th. Mr. Hay's administration has given entire satisfaction and there was no other candidate for the place and no opposition to his re-appointment.

The old established firm of the Weeping Water lumber company have sold out to Linderman Bros. of Lincoln, who are to be here this week to assist in taking an inventory of the yard.

Five more members of Chas. Philpot's family are down with smallpox. They sent to town on Monday for a nurse, and offered most any price, but we believe they failed to find anyone who was willing to go.

C. C. Baldwin met with a painful accident last Saturday. He was working at a corn shredder and got his hand caught. Three fingers were mutilated, one was so badly mashed that at first it was feared he would lose it.

Some of the prominent men of this county indicate their belief that there might have been other considerations than mercy which caused the release of J. S. Bartley.

Grandma Buck, of Murray, came up Saturday to spend the Sabbath with her brother, Uncle Geo. Shridder. Mr. Shridder got a fall about Christmas time and injured his back, the effects of which he is just getting over and is able to be around a little.

Elmwood

From the Leader-Echo.

An acetylene gas plant for lighting the streets, business houses and residences of Elmwood, is an assured fact, work having been commenced. Mr. J. E. Noyes will put in the plant and furnish gas to all who wish lights. From twelve to twenty large light-bulbs will be maintained at the street crossings by the village. Mr. Noyes was in Omaha last Wednesday and purchased the machine, piping, etc., and will complete the system as soon as possible.

Elder Cyrus Alton and wife and Dr. W. A. Alton and wife left last Wednesday for Pasadena, California, where they go in hopes of benefitting the doctor's health. They will be gone three months at least, and if the climate is agreeable, will no doubt make California their permanent home.

Attorney Deles Dernier has added a valuable set of books to his library, consisting of eighty-one volumes of the American state reports, at a cost of $250. This will enable Will to do a great deal of his studying at home hereafter, thus saving the expense of numerous trips to the capital city for that purpose.

Clayton Cowell has purchased lot 5, and Clark Shreve lot 6, in block 28 from Charles Walker, and each will erect a residence thereon as soon as possible. These lots lie just south of the residence occupied by Mrs. Barnhart.

Lou Langhorst is mourning the loss of a forty-pound chunk of meat that disappeared from his wood-house Wednesday evening. A quarter of dressed pork also disappeared from John Hoover's place a few weeks ago.

Dr. W. H. Dearing, of Lincoln, was the guest of Dr. Neely last Monday. "Doc" spent several days in the vicinity of Wabash last week organizing a lodge of Royal Highlanders.

Wm. Coon was in town last Tuesday, from Lincoln. He has just returned from a visit of several days at Rockford, Illinois. He made a close observation of crop conditions in Iowa and Illinois, and says Nebraska had just as good crops as can be found anywhere. Mr. Coon is preparing to move back to Elmwood in the spring and will build a new house on the southwest corner of his eighty-a-mile north of town into which Rose Tyson will move as soon as it is completed. The house will be 16x28 two stories high, with an addition 12x26, one-story high.

Ben Root is mourning the loss of his pocket book, containing over $22 and a ticket for Lincoln. He either lost it or had his pocket picked between Weeping Water and this place on the early train Saturday morning.

Eagle

H. G. Wiggins and Mrs. Henry Fender were called to Illinois on last Wednesday, by a telegram conveying the sad information that their mother was lying at the point of death.

M. J. Burns who has been very sick the past week with the pleurisy is somewhat improved.

Chas. C. Gardner received notice last Friday that he had successfully passed the civil service examination, for a position as mail clerk. His many Eagle friends are glad to hear of his success.

Mrs. John Q. Adams is visiting friends and relatives at Plattsmouth.

Uncle Jake Ryan, of Alv., has been suffering with gangrene in one of his toes. It was thought best to amputate the offending member. Dr. Neely of Elmwood assisted by Dr. Muir per-

J. D. Sumner sold a fine team of three year old colts on last Tuesday, for $175.

Louisville

From the Courier.

For the past two weeks farmers living in the vicinity of the Glendale school house have noticed a bright light at between 11:00 and 12:00 o'clock at night, sometimes in the corn field of Ote Ward and then again in the vicinity of the Walradt cemetery. The light will appear at some unexpected place and when an investigation is begun it will disappear and in an incredible short time it will appear perhaps a mile distant. The people are at a loss to fathom the mystery and talk of investigating committee, meanwhile the more timid young people do not venture far from home at night.

A literary society has been organized at the Buffalo school house north of Louisville, meeting every Wednesday night. Several Louisville young people attend and report plenty of sport.

No coal has been struck in Cass county for three or four years and now that a seven foot vein has been struck at Milford it would be in order for some Cass county town to sink a shaft and try and keep up the name of the county.

Village Clerk M. Tritsch was at Plattsmouth where he was called by the Plattsmouth telephone company to ascertain whether or not the Nebraska telephone company had a franchise in Louisville as claimed. It will be remembered that when the Plattsmouth company began to string their wires in Louisville about a year ago preparatory to putting in the local exchange that the Nebraska company got out an injunction and delay them for almost thirty days and the case in the district court Wednesday was in the nature of a damage suit, as the Nebraska company had no franchise in Louisville at the time or have they one today. Their injunction was in the nature of a bluff and now they are asked to pay the local company for time lost.

Frank Carroll was down from South Bend last Wednesday afternoon. Frank has charge of the Rock Island and B. & M. semaphore and says he has not missed a night's work for eighteen months.

Greenwood

From the News.

A man by the name of E. L. Cook sold a forged $10 check to John Axmaker last Thursday, using the name of D. E. Thompson, but the man was soon arrested and $9.60 recovered. He was given a preliminary trial and sent to Plattsmouth to board in the county jail until the spring term of court.

Andrew Parsell, for many years in the employ of W. E. Pailing, is now engaged with McKinnon & Chevrouet, of this place.

The new Greenwood opera house has a large force of men engaged, and the building is rapidly approaching completion. It will prove a valuable acquisition to the east side of Greenwood.

R. A. Miller, formerly B. & M. station agent here for the past ten years, left Friday morning for old Mexico.

About two o'clock last Friday morning the blacksmith shop occupied by Hanson & Buck was discovered on fire, and the entire building and contents were destroyed. The loss in tools was between $200 and $300. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

R. E. Coleman has bought Austin G. Nelson's 120 acre farm nine miles north of Greenwood. Consideration $6,500.

Miscellaneous

The Glenwood Tribune says: Mr. Seth Hunt the Q's popular car hustler at Pacific Junction informs us that an unparalleled record was made in the matter of cars going in and out of the Junction Saturday. He said in the twenty-three hours from Friday evening at 7:00 o'clock until Saturday evening at 6:00 o'clock there was a grand total of 1,420 freight cars which came and went out of Pacific Junction. Just grasp the idea if you can—one thousand four hundred and twenty cars going and coming at one small station in the space of twenty-three hours. It seems almost incredible, but figures won't lie, and Mr. Hunt has the number down in black and white. The freight business is uncommonly heavy these days. It may also be interesting to note that there are fifty passenger trains in and out of Pacific Junction every twenty-four hours at the present time. This of course includes all the trains that come in on the three divisions of the Burlington system.

The Nehawka Register says: The most indefensible act ever done by a governor of Nebraska is the pardoning of Bartley. He was a thief, pure and simple, and no amount of explaining can make it anything else. No man is a safe governor who can be swayed by tearful appeals of a family or sentimental reasoning of "the ends of justice satisfied." Bartley should have stayed his twenty-one years in jail. When he came out he would have $25,000 per year for the time he served the state in stripes, but by the governor's action he has been paid at the rate of $100,000 per year. The action of the governor shows how dangerous it is to place third rate men in places of trust. An action that requires an apology should should never have been committed, and our governor takes two columns of the State Journal to apologize for his action, and it is the weakest kind of reasoning, even for a third rate man. He has listened to the soporific reasoning of a lot of slick scoundrels, instead of heeding the voice of safe conservative men of good judgment, who have the interest of the state at heart, and instead of remembering the demands of his party in state convention. If he is renominated we will take pleasure in helping to give five hundred majority against him in Cass county.

Notice of Sale Under Chattel Mortgage.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT BY virtue of a chattel mortgage dated on the 12th day of November, 1901, and duly filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk of Cass county, Nebraska, on the 12th day of November, 1901, and executed by Wm. Albin to J. M. Kiser to secure the payment of the sum of one hundred ($100) dollars, and upon which there is now due the sum of one hundred ($100) dollars, default having been made in the payment of said sum, therefore I will sell the property therein described, viz: (One top buggy with shafts, made at Rock Island by the Geo.
