If a new revenue law could be adopted that will find the property that has been successful in escaping taxation in the past, it will prove a great satisfaction to honest taxpayers.

There is an effort in Illinois and Missouri to amend the divorce laws so that a divorce cannot be secured on any old pretext. The divorce laws of Nebraska would also bear remodeling in this direction.

Wouldn't it be a good idea for the legislature to make an effort to cut off a few of the many superfluous officeholders drawing salary from the state and doing but precious little work to earn it?

With ten million able-bodied men in reserve to carry arms, the United States have little to fear from the attempted encroachments on the Monroe doctrine.

The man who has a few loose dollars right now and doesn't invest them in a few of the cheap lots that are offered in Plattsmouth, will be kicking himself inside of two years for making the mistake of his life.

It is proposed to increase President Roosevelt's salary to $100,000 a year, thus placing him on a financial equality with coal barons.

House roll No. 224, "prohibiting minors under eighteen years from using tobacco, under a penalty of a two day's jail sentence," is a preposterous measure, the adoption of which will do a great deal more harm to the boys than the constant use of the weed.

It is noted that the republican press universally condemns Addicks and glorifies in the fact that the senate has refused to confirm Addicks's man Byrne for the district attorneyship.

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

Don't forget the old man with the fish on his back.

For nearly thirty years he has been traveling around the world, and is still traveling, bringing health and comfort wherever he goes.

To the consumptive he brings the strength and flesh he so much needs.

To all weak and sickly children he gives rich and strengthening food.

To thin and pale persons he gives new firm flesh and rich red blood.

Children who first saw the old man with the fish are now grown up and have children of their own.

He stands for Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil—a delightful food and a natural tonic for children, for old folks and for all who need flesh and strength.

The octopus may keep at a respectful distance and control congress by silent smiles or frowns or mysterious passes, but it mustn't undertake to send yellowish telegrams of a dictatorial nature.

Twenty years ago, says the Omaha World-Herald, the railroads paid in city taxes in Omaha $11,000. Last year they paid $1,300.

Ring down the curtains on "the Venezuelan incident" and then note how swiftly the stage is set for "the Bulgarian complication."

The inmates of the president's household are getting it "in the neck" all round. The latest is the ten cent cotton handkerchief the ladies of Dallas, Texas, received for exhibition at their fair from Mrs. Roosevelt.

A sad case with a lesson to parents occurred in St. Louis not many days ago. Arthur Rodgers, aged 16, had been presented by his father with a .22-calibre rifle.

SUNDAY Nebraska editors occasionally sneer at Governor Mickey because he carries his religion into the ordinary affairs of life, and the sneers are in very bad taste.

To which our esteemed contemporary of the Nebraska Tribune, adds, and which no doubt meets the approbation of Nebraska: "And if we mistake not the Lincoln News a day or two ago published the editorial squib about a stranger in Beatrice who resembled our Governor Mickey and the offers of sundry people who met him to show him where the Methodist minister lived."

Special Correspondence. Late again, but better late than not all. If you have not already closed the doors let me in please.

Weather? Well, 15 degrees below last night, thank you, is not to be sneered at. This was the best we have had thus far.

We are trying hard to keep our equilibrium in this time of car famine, with the grain 'spector stalking abroad in the land, taking no heed as to how many he is making his victims, with spring work close at hand—desperation.

Your correspondent is related to truthful George, in regard to veracity, and when we tell you about Smith or Jones delivering corn here these days, you would have to get your information elsewhere.

Revival services are still in progress at Liberty church, with interest increasing each night. Your correspondent was present on Tuesday evening, and heard Rev. Carter announce that if the young man who whispered so loudly as to disturb the meeting of the night before, did the law again, the law would be invoked.

The funeral of the late J. H. Cook, sr., took place from Liberty church Tuesday. A large concourse of sorrowing friends, in spite of the severe cold weather, followed his remains to their last resting place.

The wife of M. L. Ruby died at her home in Eight Mile Grove Tuesday morning, leaving seven children, some quite small. Her funeral was held at Eight Mile Grove M. E. church Wednesday.

Miss Marie Berger left Tuesday for Pender, Neb., to visit a few weeks with her brother Will.

Large banks are being provided with a new alarm system, mentioned in our paper a short time ago. The safe is connected with large bells which are set in motion as soon as someone tries to open the safe by force after it has been closed.

Another Old Settler Passes Away.

In the person of Joseph Cook, one of the early settlers of Cass county passes away. His death occurred at the home of his son, J. F. Cook, near Mynard, on Sunday, February 15, 1903, with whom he was living.

Mr. Cook was born in Germany on the 12th day of July, 1821, and had survived till the 12th day of July next, would have been 82 years old. He came to Nebraska in 1856, where he has since resided. During his long residence in Cass county he was greatly respected by all who knew him, and was known as honorable upright citizen in all his business transactions.

The funeral occurred the following Tuesday at 11 o'clock a. m., the services being conducted from the United Brethren church, and interment made in the Elk-bury cemetery.

Eleven grown children survive him, as follows: Mrs. Bina Kitzel, Mrs. Mollie Wheeler, Mrs. Lizzie Valley, Mrs. Caroline Cole, George, Philip, John, Charles, William, Joseph and J. D. Cook.

Tendency of the Times.

The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grips in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence.
