

The Plattsmouth Journal

Weeping Water

From the Herald.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stohman, Monday, June 15, 1903, a girl.

Dr. Hungeat reports Mrs. Walter Cromwell on the road to recovery with a trained nurse giving her every attention. Also Gust Hansen sitting up through the day, and the wound healing nicely.

H. A. Ruge is in town Monday with a load of wheat. His six boys are giving him lots of help and part of the corn has been gone over twice.

Master Walter Phillips met with an accident Monday evening that will incapacitate him from active play during most of the vacation. He stood on the fence in Mr. Girardet's yard, and made a jump for the limb of a tree, which he failed to catch, but his left fore limb struck the ground pretty hard; breaking the bone at the elbow.

Geo. Cappen, son of Frank Cappen, and a loaded 22-calibre rifle participating in a shooting last Saturday, and the former came out the worse for the encounter, the bullet passing through across the back of the left hand, starting in below the first finger. He dropped the rifle, which struck the ground and jarred the hammer firing it off.

John H. Davis went to Louisville Saturday, to meet with the citizens there, and assist in starting the G. A. R. reunion in a proper manner. Mr. Davis is president of the district association, and his experience here in making ready for holding these annual gatherings renders his advice helpful. The citizens of Louisville are planning on making the next reunion a banner one, and they can do it, but it takes time and work.

H. D. Reed was the owner of five pigs born November 5, 1902, and which he sold June 14, 1903. Four of these hogs when sold averaged 205 lbs. each, the other while quite young got something in its throat which retarded its growth and it weighed only 265 pounds. Total weight of the five was 1175. He sold them to Thomson for $5.70 per cwt., netting him $84.07. If anybody can beat that record for seven months' old swine we want to hear from them.

From the Republican.

Mrs. Carrie Spohn left Tuesday morning for Minnesota where she will join her husband in their new home.

The Misses Thresa and Edna Tighe arrived home this week from Sinsinawa Meand, Wisconsin, where they have been attending the St. Clara college and academy.

The many friends of Prof. Geer will be pained to learn that his health is very poor, and he is compelled on that account to give up his work at Amity college and go west.

Frank Johnson delivered five wagon loads of wheat to the mill Monday morning. He sold some sometime ago at 54 cents but could not deliver sooner on account of the bad roads.

Mrs. E. C. Ovington has sold her home down the valley one mile to Frank Anderson, and left this morning with her family for her former home, Tabor, Iowa, where she will reside in the future.

Invitations have been sent out inviting friends to the wedding of Miss Clara Sackett of this place and Mr. Ora R. Rush of Murdock, which will occur on the evening of June 24, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sackett in this city.

Married at the M. E. parsonage on Wednesday June 16, at ten a. m. William H. Gardner and Miss Grace Robotham, Rev. T. H. Worley presiding. The contracting parties both live at Eagle. They were in attendance at the Sunday school convention at Louisville and Tuesday went to Plattsmouth and secured the license and came here to have the ceremony performed.

W. H. Schomaker a wealthy farmer residing two miles north of Nehawka, accompanied by his wife and daughter were in town Friday. The ladies came up to have some dental work done and Mr. Schomaker improved his time transacting business and calling on friends and the Republican was not forgotten. Mr. Schomaker said that on Thursday of last week Messrs. Kunsman & Range, a leading butcher firm of Plattsmouth called at his place and bought for their trade seventeen head of steers coming two years old that had been on full corn feed since November. He stated that for seven years this firm has bought his young steers and slaughtered them for their local trade. The people of Plattsmouth are to be congratulated if they are supplied with meat of that sort.

Eagle

Chas. Venner of Farragut, Iowa, visited with his parents, Friday.

Mrs. Burnett and two daughters of Newton Iowa, are guests at the Hinshaw home.

The K. of P. lodge No. 104 postponed their decoration services until Sunday afternoon, June 28.

Paul and Mila Judkins who have been attending the Wesleyan university are home for a three months vacation.

John Adams & Son shipped three car load of fine cattle to South Omaha Monday for which they received the top price.

Alvo is going to celebrate the Fourth in grand style and a good time is asured to all who spend the day with them.

Miss Jessie Crabtree left Wednesday morning for Plattsmouth where she will spend a couple of weeks with friends and relatives.

Saturday evening about twenty of George Trimble's young friends gathered at his home to help him celebrate his fifteenth birthday. Games of various kinds were indulged in until 10 o'clock when the guests were invited to partake of a delicious luncheon. At 11 o'clock the merry guests departed for their respective homes wishing George many happy returns of the day.

Union

From the Ledger.

Postmaster Will DuBois bumped against a new proposition a few days ago, when a letter came addressed to "Postmaster's Wife," and as Will has never met the lady he is waiting patiently for some handsome girl to come forward and help him out by claiming the name and letter. Now girls, is your move.

Last Saturday afternoon Dewey, the little son of Ed Pritchard, had a close call for his life, and is fortunate in escaping fatal injury. He with his mother, was visiting at James Barkhurst's east of town, and some of the little fellows were playing in an old house, when Dewey discovered a 38-calibre revolver. He thought it a very nice plaything but changed his opinion quite suddenly for the revolver was discharged and the bullet struck him on the left hand at the third joint of the little finger, making an ugly and painful wound. Dr. Redfield was called and dressed the hand, and young Dewey will not be in the naval service with his illustrious namesake for some time.

The announcement of the marriage of Miss May Huggins of this village and Otis McNurlin of Murray will be no surprise to their friends who have observed the course of love making in this case. The couple called at the office of Judge Douglass in Plattsmouth on Wednesday and the accommodating official added to their happiness by making them husband and wife. The bride is well known and highly respected here, and this vicinity has been her home since childhood, her father, the late Amos Huggins having been one of the first settlers of this county. The groom is an industrious farmer who has resided near Murray for many years, where he owns a good farm, and they will make their home there.

Raymond F. Taylor, born July 22, 1896, died at 3:12 a. m. on Tuesday, June 16, 1903, at the home two miles southeast of Union. Raymond was the oldest child of William L. and Ravina Taylor, and until a few weeks ago he was a very stout and healthy boy. May 22nd he suffered an apparently slight injury by stepping up on a nail, and although he complained of pain for several days, there were no alarming symptoms until a week ago, when he seemed to be suffering much pain and continued growing worse, and Monday night his condition was of most serious nature. Through the long hours of night anxious parents watched for a favorable change and medical skill did everything possible to save the precious life, but all in vain, and after one convulsion little Raymond passed away.

Louisville

From the Courier.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ash, Friday, June 17, a boy.

The next annual Sunday School convention will be held at Murdock.

Street Commissioner Cox is making some needed repairs on the streets this week.

Word has reached Louisville to the effect that a son has been born to Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hasemeier at Los Angeles, California.

Atwood & Newell are getting their machinery in readiness to open up their new sand pit and expect to be ready to go to work in a few days.

A nice shower Thursday night. It was accompanied by considerable hail but the latter did no damage owing to the absence of wind. The rain was very beneficial as the ground had become very dry and hard.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stohman, Monday June 15, a girl. The only thing that would add to Andrew's cup of joy would be to have had the stork left a boy instead.

Louisville will not celebrate the Fourth this year but will be content to wait until the date of the G. A. R. reunion, when there will be something doing in the old town worth coming miles to witness.

Little Roland, the 19-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Ward, living southeast of town, came near losing his life Monday by being stung by bees. The little fellow unnoticed got too near a bee hive when the angry bees lit upon him by hundreds and had it not been that help was near he probably would have been stung to death. When taken to the house it was found that more than a hundred bees had stung him. His face, hands, head and body were literally covered and they had even stung him inside his mouth. A quick application of soda is all that saved the little fellow's life, says Dr. Thomas, who was summoned as soon as it was possible to get a messenger to town. The little fellow is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances and is on a fair way to recovery.

Elmwood

From the Leader-Echo.

Elmwood will celebrate. Henry Roelofs has sold his Alvo business to Henry Bennett. Possession is to be given July 1st.

H. H. Carroll and family left Wednesday for Sugar Loaf, Kansas, where they will spend the summer.

Rev. F. Backemeyer has purchased the two lots west of Ed Langhorst's residence from Henry Stege and will soon build a neat residence thereon.

Farmers are mostly over their corn for the first time. Although small it looks well and is now growing nicely since the hot weather of the last few days.

H. D. Wall has purchased two lots of A. M. Ferguson, located just across the street west of the Evangelical parsonage. They expect to build a residence there on in the spring.

Another special stock train was run from Elmwood to the South Omaha market Monday afternoon consisting of six cars, three of cattle and three of hogs. Those shipping stock were Gamble Bros., Dan Pentman, Wm. Lefler and J. F. Hoover.

Quite a heavy shower visited this vicinity last evening. The storm was accompanied by considerable hail, many as large as walnuts falling. Fortunately no wind accompanied the hail so that it did but little damage. The roar of the storm could be heard for half an hour before it reached us, indicating that it was more severe north and east of here.

During the storm last evening Ray Pickwell, the fourteen-year-old son of G. V. Pickwell, of near Murdock, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. He was sitting on the porch when the bolt descended. Whether other members of the family were injured or the house damaged we did not learn. Deceased was a half brother of Mrs. Geo. Shackley of this place.

Nehawka

From the Register.

Charles Stone drove down from Murray and Sundayed with the home folks.

Mrs. McBride and children returned to Plattsmouth, Tuesday, after a few days visit with friends.

Mrs. Ruffner and son, Grover, came down from Plattsmouth Tuesday, to visit Mrs. Kirkpatrick, her sister.

Dr. Pollard was elected by the Woodmen as a delegate to the National gathering at Indianapolis this week. He left last Friday and of course is having a good time.

Chris Ross sold two cars of fat cattle the other day and says he sold too soon. The market was going up but he didn't know it. He says if he had his telephone in it would have been worth $50 to him.

Mr. Holmes arrived in Indiana all right, but was almost immediately taken with an attack of apoplexy and paralysis. He is still in a dangerous condition; the family will come home as soon as he can travel.

Mrs. Taylor of Vermont, but just in from Loup county, where she went to see Mr. Taylor, who is there for the present visiting old friends and neighbors in Nehawka. She is a sister of B. W. Bates, and an old friend of our Vermont colony. Mr. Blanchard, also from Vermont, is visiting the new Englanders.

Billie and Edna Tucker, Mrs. August, Mrs. Banning, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mr. Switzer, Dr. Pollard and others have been having an attack lately of a peculiar disease. It effects the head, stomach, liver, back and eyes and gives one an overish kind of a feeling. The doctors are unable to give it a name; but we think it is epacardi-paralysis, which is Greek and means "A whole lot".

Greenwood

From the News.

Chas. Hurburt purchased the restaurant of Ora McDonald this week.

Lena McDonald went to Fairbury last week, where she expects to visit with friends for a few weeks.

Mr. King has sold 127 quarts of strawberries from plants set out last year. Berries measuring 1 1/2 inches in diameter were found. Some stalks were 18 inches in length.

J. A. Gardner celebrated his 54th birthday Monday. A few friends were invited and refreshments of ice cream and strawberries were served. We are pleased to note the improvement in Mr. Gardner's health.

The little son of Wm. Roberts, the barber, fell from a barn loft one day last week and sustained a broken arm. The little fellow suffered greatly with the pain. It was not set till this week.

About 60 of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rhyhan called at their beautiful home in the west part of town Tuesday evening to remind Mr. Rhyhan that he was just passing his 56th birthday and thought it in order to help him celebrate the event.

The boys are getting the ball ground in shape for a few games this year. Give them your support and let's have a good team and a good many games here this year that are worth attending. Greenwood contains the material of which a good team is composed and all that is lacking is the support of the people.

Maple Grove

Special Correspondence.

Ed Gansmeier and W. H. Puls delivered hogs to the Nehawka market Wednesday to James Palmer, for which they received $5 65 per hundred.

Lule Puls has engaged Mr. Jackman, of Louisville, to hitch his engine onto his corn sheller and now they are shelling corn to perfection. They have engaged about 12,000 bushels.

Quite a number attended the Gentry Bros. show at Plattsmouth last week.

A number of cattle have died in this neighborhood. They think it on account of the white clover pasture.

Herman Gansmeier returned Friday evening from Halle, Neb., and reports crops in good condition.

Quite a number of this neighborhood attended the ice cream and strawberry supper at the Woodman hall in Murray Saturday night.

Bert Phillipot's team got frightened and ran away with him last week. Bert had a narrow escape from losing his life and as it is very badly injured. His buggy was badly wrecked.

The county commissioners were in Avoca Monday.

Mynard

Special Correspondence.

A fine rain fell here on Sunday morning and afternoon, greatly beneficial to crops of all kinds and to some sorts of people, sweetening their disposition toward other humanity, and giving them rest, sweet rest at the dead hour of night when wrapt in Morpheus' arms.

D. L. Amick and wife while on their way to Plattsmouth on last Saturday had a runaway while driving down Chicago avenue, which might have resulted seriously to one or both. It seems one of the traces became detached, letting the tongue fall to the ground, but after running 200 yards the combined efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Amick brought the team under control. D. L. was so disgusted with the team that he disposed of it that selfsame day, for considerable less than they were worth.

Your Cedar Creek fellow grew facetiously linguistic in his last week's notes to your paper, showing sourness of spleen and anything but a gentlemanly demeanor. We have ourselves already seen gas bags and have heard them explode, but never seen a would-be gas bag with so little gas that was any good as that carried by your Cedar Creek sour, sore, soul.

Bengen & Gillespie shipped to South Omaha on Monday night a car of hogs delivered by many farmers in the neighborhood, over a muddy road but with smiling faces, the hogs bringing good prices and the rain being "just the stuff."

J. M. Kiser went out to Weeping Water and vicinity on Monday on a "repair" expedition which he needs badly.

A fine driving team belonging to Earl Cole was killed by the southbound 11:45 passenger train on Friday night. Earl, nothing daunted, took his customary Sunday 8 m. g. route on the 20th.

Your correspondent on Monday of this week took a trip southwest as far as Elmwood. On this tour we took especial pains to note the condition of the crops and we will say here now and at this time we have never in 27 years beheld such a sublimely poor prospect for corn as presents itself to the eye on the route we traveled. True, the corn is in a general clean condition, but the unfortunate thing about it is the small size of the corn. The largest corn we observed was scarcely a foot high, and many fields have corn just coming up. Wheat and oats are said to be in poor prospect for crops, and we noticed several wheat fields thick with rust. The fruit crop in the apple line

Cedar Creek
Special Correspondence.

A beautiful rain fell here last Sunday, which was needed very badly.

A good many young people attended the entertainment at the Keil school house last Saturday night. A good time was reported.

John H. Bauer one of Cass county's oldest settlers, died at his home northeast of Wabash last Saturday. The remains were laid to rest in the Glendale cemetery.

M. P. Williams shipped a car load of hogs to the Omaha market last week. A bird sat on a telephone wire.

And said to his mates (I declare) If wireless phones comes into vogue We'll all have to sit in the air.

While at work in the field W. H. Lohmes noticed two snow white crows flying about the trees in his pasture. How many have ever saw white crows? This is something new to everybody around here and all the boys in the neighborhood are practicing to throw a rope to catch the crows, but we think there will be more than two white crows by the time the boys will succeed in catching them with a lasso.

James Terryberry lost a fine steer last week from the effects of clover bloom.

Jack Yahn who is well known in this vicinity had a runaway with his pony while riding an auto.

Earl and Fred Terryberry were visiting relatives in Glenwood, Iowa, last week.

A good many coyotes are heard yelping in this neighborhood, so there surely must be another den close by.

Last night I held a little hand so daintily and so neat.

I thought my heart would burst with joy, so wildly it did beat!

No other hand into my soul could greater solace bring.

Than that I held last night which was, four aces and a king.
