Miraculous Escape.

Last Sunday morning while driving on lower Main street, Mr. W. T. Melvin met with an accident that might have resulted in instant death. The horse attached to a top buggy, became frightened at a moving train and started on a run, and in doing so the buggy struck a telephone pole in front of the Plattsmouth hotel, the horse became detached from the buggy, Mr. Melvin had such a tight grip on the lines that he was jerked out of the buggy onto the sidewalk. In falling he hit on his head, and it was at first thought he was dangerously hurt. Dr. Cummins was called immediately and found, upon examination; that outside of some bruises on the back of the head, Mr. Melvin had escaped with but comparatively little injury. To say the least, it was a miraculous escape.

The Cash System.

Some of the merchants of this city are seriously considering the adoption of the cash system. It will prove the proper thing to do, if every merchant in the city will go into a move of this kind. The fact is it is the only mode of doing business. It is better for the merchant and also better for the purchaser, and as a general thing will give satisfaction all around when we get accustomed to such business.

"Plattsmouth, You Are a D-d Hog."

There was perfect harmony (on the surface) and all went home with enough of it in stock to insure no scratching of the ticket named, yet there was an under current that was unmistakable and if interpreted in slang phrase it might sound like this: Plattsmouth you are a d-d hog.—Louisville Courier.

Advice to Meddlers.

Some people are so prone to meddle with everything they see, especially those things they should not meddle with, that it requires a lot of warning and sometimes drastic punishment to cause them to desist.

The mail box hunter who delights to pepper those objects with a shot gun, has about got his fill of it, since several of them have been jerked up by the government.

Now comes the person who, walking along the public road, who stops to examine a mail box, pulls at the flaps which covers the openings for mail, tries the lock and peeks around to see if there are any defects in its construction. All of these matters do not concern him in the least, but his curiosity has to be satisfied. He probably does not mean any harm but his actions look suspicious and some of these days when a mail box is robbed, suspicion will at once fall on him, and he will be taken before a United States court and made to pay for his curiosity.

Better avoid such things. There is nothing about a mail box that is interesting, unless it is on the inside, and then it belongs to the man who owns the box and it is none of your business. There is not the least danger of trouble if you pass along and attend to your own affairs.

Tefft's Fool Friends.

The fool friends of Mr. Tefft of Weeping Water will probably never know how many votes their candidate lost in the republican county convention by insisting on secretaries from among bystanders. The convention was composed of men of more than ordinary intelligence, with sufficient talent to conduct their own business, and the unusual mode of procedure adopted there was unwarranted.—Plattsmouth Tribune.

The Omaha Commercial College.

If any of the young people of our county are going away this fall to a business college, this paper would advise them to be careful about selecting a school of the highest rank. Our state is overstocked with cheap, commercial schools and it always pays to attend one of long standing and of recognized efficiency.

The primary object in obtaining a mercantile education is to secure a good position, and there are but few, if more than one, business college in our state, whose prestige and influence are such as to guarantee you a position when you have become competent. The Omaha Commercial College, of Omaha, Nebraska, is, and has been for years, the leading school of this kind. When its students of last year came from twenty-four states of our Union and one foreign country, it must be regarded as a school of national reputation. This school has equipped more young people of the west for other so called business colleges combined, and as an evidence of having placed its graduates in positions, Rohrbough Bros., the proprietors, have published a "Rod of Positions" which they will send you free with every interesting advertising matter, if you will drop them a postal.

If you are going to a business college this year this paper would advise you to attend the Omaha Commercial College, for you can not and will not make a mistake.

We are informed that the fall term opens September 1, and that you can work for your board, if desired, thus getting through school for a small amount of money. Write Rohrbough Bros., for particulars. It will pay you.

A Happy Event.

Wade W. Windham was twenty-one years old last Tuesday, and the family celebrated the event by giving the young man a surprise party. Wade, who works in the B. & M. Auditor's office in Omaha, came down on the evening train and met with a warm reception at his home. A large number of Wade's friends from among the boys and girls were present to help him celebrate.

The grounds around the Windham home, on north Sixth street, were beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns and electric lights and the rooms were decorated with flowers and plants. There was gayety from start to finish, both in the house and on the lawn, such as music, both vocal and instrumental, and lively games of various kinds were indulged in.

Miss Herma Windham was aided by Miss Josie Murphy and Minta Mauzy in entertaining the invited guests. Miss Ione Dovey assisted Miss Ellen Windham at the punch bowl, while Miss Ellen Pollock assisted Miss Kathryn Windham in serving refreshments.

Miss Ludmilla Newatny prepared and had charge of the refreshments, and as usual, she maintained her high reputation for this kind of service.

Those present were Misses Helen Cox, Minnie Wills, Margie Walker, Alice Sullivan, Florence Waugh, Ida Pearlman, Helen Waugh, Jessie Robertson, Sarah Ramsey, Mina Herold, Agnes Thrasher, Eva Fox, Gretchen Walsh, Florence Dovey, Mabel Eaton, Bessie Tyson, Francis Mitchell, Helen Chapman, Minta Mauzy, Josie Murphy, and Eva Windham, a cousin of Wade, from Glenwood, Iowa; and Messrs. Noel Rawls, Henry Guthman, Fritz Fricke, Charles Kennedy, Will Ramsey, Tom Murphy, Don Despain, Frank Kauble, James Mauzy, Arthur Dutton, Will Robertson, Lieut. George Guild, Sam McCallan, James Windham, Robert Windham and Wade Windham.

Miss Eva Windham, of Glenwood, Iowa, added much to the pleasure of the occasion by rendering a fine vocal selection. Wade was showered with congratulations both at the opening and close.

A Big Flunk.

Several weeks ago the officials of this county went to Plattsmouth where they played a game of base ball with the officials of Cass county with the understanding that a return game would be played here on Labor day.

Now at this day comes the officials of that county in a letter in which they back out of playing the return game and notify the officials of this county that their men have not recovered from the effects of the last game and that they will not play here on Labor day. This looks like a big flunk and shows that the officials up there are afraid and dare not play the return game for they realize that the local officials will wipe the earth with them. The boys here have gone to a great deal of expense in getting an outfit and fitting up the Argo grounds so they would be in shape for the game. They also arranged to give the visitors a royal good time and show them how it was possible to have a good time in this city and how to play a good game of base ball. This back out of the Cass county people is a sore disappointment to the people here, and similar to that experienced by the small boy when it was too muddy last spring for the Forepaugh-Sells circus to exhibit in this city.—Nebraska City News.

Crop Conditions.

The past week has been warm and dry. The mean daily temperature has averaged 3 degrees above normal in eastern counties and 6 above in western.

In a few central and south-central counties the rainfall ranged from one half of an inch to little more than an inch; in other counties only light scattered showers occurred with generally less than a quarter of an inch.

The high temperature and light rainfall of the past week have been exceedingly favorable for the growth of corn, as well as for the advancement of threshing, stacking and baying. In the counties of heaviest rainfall work was delayed the first half of the week by the rains and some slight damage resulted to grain in shock. Stacking and threshing from shuck are now nearly completed in the southern counties. Corn has grown rapidly and has improved in condition; it is caring well and now promises the best it has this season. A little early corn is beginning to harden in southern counties; considerable corn will be safe from injury by frost by September 15, but much corn will require until October 1, and some of the latest fields will need two or three weeks of October to mature. Fall plowing has progressed nicely with the soil in excellent condition. Pastures continue good. The third crop of alfalfa is being cut.

Has No Time.

Emperor William, although past ninety, carried his years with ease, being busy all the time. When at some occasion asked, if he was tired, he replied that he never had time to be tired. How different from the young people we see around now! Weak, tired and despondent, because their system lacks proper nutrition. It is necessary for them to renew their blood by using Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. This will make the digestion regular and thus the blood pure; the increased circulation will create new energy and ambition. You will be able to do your work without getting tired. Your muscles will become firm and elastic, your nerves strong, your mind clear. No matter what stomach trouble you have, Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine will help you. It is pure grape wine and pure herbs. At drug stores and at the manufacturer's Jos. Triner, 799 south Ashland avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Skeletons Unearthed.

Eight skeletons, supposed to be the bones of Indians, were unearthed on the farm of W. H. Barker, south of Plattsmouth on Thursday last. The discovery was made while some young men were plowing on a side hill, where the recent rains had washed away the dirt. The teeth were picked up and after examinations the conclusion was that they are the remains of Indians.
