Sams, the ring candidate, who paints twenty-year-old picture, on his campaign cards, was in Plattsmouth Saturday and Sunday evening, but did not attend the lecture of Senator Dolliver. GERING & CO., Plattsmouth. Busby Bros. circus, which showed in this city Monday, September 17, "give up the ghost" at Falls City the following Wednesday—making but two dates after leaving here. The past season has been pretty tough on shows, especially the small ones. Geo. Shouman, a retired farmer of near Louisville, has purchased property on Eighth street, and removed his family to this city. Plattsmouth has a vast number of retired farmers and they are all good citizens. The advantages here are greater than at any other point in the county. Charley Banning of Nebraska, was in Plattsmouth attending to some business matters Monday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Banning, who went from here to Tabor, Iowa, to visit relatives. Mr. Banning dropped in a moment to see how the Journal was getting along. Frank McNurlin, of Mt. Pleasant precinct, was in the city Monday, and being one of the reliable democrats of Cass county, called and subscribed for the Journal. Mr. McNurlin says the charges preferred by the News, and the editor's failure to come to time on every proposition made to him, is winning votes for Sheriff McBride in Mt. Pleasant precinct.

Free of Charge.

For the next month we will send out a number of extra copies of the Journal. If you get a copy of it during that time remember that it will cost you nothing. At the end of that time if you desire to subscribe, please inform us.

Dr. E. W. Foster was down from Cedar Creek on business Tuesday. C. A. Richey was down from Louisville, Tuesday on business. T. W. Shryock, of Louisville, was a Plattsmouth visitor Tuesday. M. S. Briggs and Rob't Troop went to Logan, Iowa, Monday on a business trip. After this week the Ebinger Hardware Company will be found in their new quarters in the Coates block. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Todd, of Nebraska, were county seat visitors Friday. The open season for prairie chickens and grouse begins today. The season is also ripe. G. W. Lair came in Sunday from Kingsfisher, Oklahoma, for a visit with his son, D. J., and family. Baldwin and family, who have been visiting with the family of Nelson Jones for the past two or three weeks, departed Saturday morning for Osceola, Neb., where they will make their future home. Charles Spencer, the young man, who escaped from the asylum at Lincoln, reached this city Wednesday evening of last week, having walked the entire distance, but was taken back by Sheriff McBride Thursday afternoon. Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company which appeared at the Farme theatre Friday night, drew a crowded house, and it is said that many were unable to secure seats. The company are not above the average ones playing this stale old play. The county commissioners were in Louisville Tuesday at which time work was commenced on the repairs of the bridge across the Platte river. It will cost $2,000 to place the bridge in proper shape—one-half of which will be paid by Saryp county. C. J. Gaebel was in the city Friday. Mr. Gaebel had been out advertising his big hog sale for October 7th, at his home five miles southwest of Louisville, and dropped in to "chin" the editor of the Journal a few moments. He is always welcome. Uncle Jake Kuntzman, accompanied by C. A. Wachob, both substantial farmers of near Cedar Creek, gave the Journal a pleasant call Friday, and while here Mr. Wachob ordered his name enrolled on our Cedar Creek list, and also ordered two hundred return envelopes. Dan Kiser gave the Journal a business call Friday, and reports that he sold over 600 bushels of peaches, and hardly had enough to go half way round. Peaches at $2 and $1.50 per bushel is a pretty cheap luxury, but some people will have "peaches and cream" at any cost. It is not generally known that since the Burlington railroad company completed the new bridge across the Missouri river at this point that the company has commenced to replace the old bridge with a new heavy steel one across the Platte river between Oread and LaPlatte, which will be equal in every respect to their bridge at Ashland, and will be able to carry their heaviest engines and big freight trains. They have doubtless abandoned the idea of shortening the line by building a new road through Swallow hill, as intimated.

Asher Clark has a fine line of china and cut glass. Dr. Frank L. Cummins, dentist. Office with Dr. E. D. Cummins. Dr. Richards, the famous eye expert will examine eyes free of charge, Wednesday, Oct. 11th, at Gering & Co's drug store. This is a great opportunity of getting a pair of spectacles perfectly fit. George Meisinger who has been visiting with relatives and old time friends in Plattsmouth and vicinity for the past three weeks, departed for his home in Pekin, Illinois, Tuesday morning. John P. Tritzsch called Tuesday and left his measure for the Journal. Mr. Tritzsch was a patron of the Journal several years ago, but said the paper had so improved under its present management that every farmer ought to take it.

Wabash's New Bank.
The business interests of Wabash are evidently on a boom. The best indication of this fact is the establishment of a banking institution in that thrifty village by Mr. O. O. Thomas and incorporated under the laws of the state with a capital of $5,000. It will start out with a home of its own, as a new brick building is being erected especially for its occupancy. Mr. Thomas is a thorough business man, and such an institution in such competent hands is bound to prosper and result in much good to the business interests of Wabash.

Returned From the East.
Dr. G. H. Gilmore was up from Murray Tuesday, and let the light of his countenance beam in upon the Journal force. He reports that his father-in-law, J. A. Walker, has returned from his visit to the Keystone state, much delighted with his visit to the scenes of his childhood. A Close Call.
John Barris, aged fifteen years, who is making his home with his cousin, Albert Fickler, four miles south of Plattsmouth during the absence of his parents, who are visiting relatives somewhere in the west, met with an accident last Sunday afternoon, which was not serious but very painful. The young man stepped into the back yard with a shotgun to shoot at a hawk, when in some manner the gun was discharged while holding it under his arm with the muzzle downward, and in close proximity to the right foot, badly lacerating one of his toes. While the boy's injuries are by no means serious, it was certainly a close call.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by all druggists.
