Who Caught the Big One?

D. L. Amick, L. B. Underwood, McGinnis Churchill, W. H. McDaniel and James Loughridge composed a jolly party that spent a few hours on the Platte river lakes last week endeavoring to hook a few members of the finny tribe, but since returning it has been hard to determine as to how many they caught. Our genial friend Dave Amick claims to have hooked a "whopper" one that gave him a terrible tussle, and he even got him partly out of the water, when as usual the pole and line broke, and Mr. fish remained in his wattery home, leaving poor disappointed Dave standing on the bank, with but a small portion of the poll to remind him of the happy moment before. Mr. Underwood claims Dave became so excited that he came very near pushing him into the lake, but Dave says he fell asleep between bites and came near falling in. Just what Bro. McDaniel, Churchill and Loughridge were doing all this time, we have been unable to find out but feel safe in stating that they were pretty busy, either catching fish or digging bait. The boys had a good time and if Bro. Dave had just caught that fish, all would have been well, and these numerous explanations would have been unnecessary. Moral:—Dave, get a stronger line or stay at home.

Boys Afraid of Marriage.

An elderly lady asked an intelligent young man what makes the boys to shun marriage. "We are afraid of it, because it seems to us that girls prefer everything to housekeeping and cooking and we know that this is the real cause of all divorces." Bad cooking is expensive and dangerous, because it ruins the stomach, causes dyspepsia and makes a man impatient and irritable. Love disappears. On the other hand we find cases where the cook is good, but the stomach is bad and the result is nearly the same. In both cases Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine will cure the stomach and make it strong enough to digest all food. It cures dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, makes the blood pure and rich, the nerves strong, the muscles elastic. There is no better blood-purifier and tonic. At drug-stores. Jos. Triner, 799 So.
