

Delinquent Tax List.

In Cass county, Nebraska, for the year 1924.

Notice is hereby given that I, William D. Wheeler, treasurer of the County of Cass, in the State of Nebraska, will on the first Monday in November, being the sixth day of November, 1924, as required by law, commence selling at the office of the county treasurer of said county, in the City of Plattsmouth, at public auction, so much of the following tracts of lands and town lots as shall be necessary to pay the taxes, together with interest and costs that may be accrued thereon on that day, being the delinquent taxes for the year 1924, as appears from tax list of said year. Said sale will be held between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said date, and continue from day to day between said hours until all of said property, upon which delinquent taxes remain unpaid, shall be sold or offered for sale. I shall also offer for sale at same time and place all certificates of tax sale of the County of Cass and City of Plattsmouth acquired under tax suits which are undischarged at time of said sale.

WILLIAM D. WHEELER,
Treasurer of Cass County.

CHICKEN THIEVES AGAIN AT WORK

They are Again Detected at the Home of R. L. Todd, West of City.

THE NEIGHBORS OUT WITH SHOT GUNS

But They Again Elude the Pursuit of the Excited Avengers.

It looks to a man up a tree as though chicken thieves are taking desperate chances when they return to the same neighborhood from which they were "set to flight" on Saturday night to again ply their chosen avocation. But this they did last night, when they visited the home of R. L. Todd.

Mrs. Todd was apprised of their visit by the noise of the chickens, and after they had succeeded in amputating the heads of several they get away, leaving the heads of the fowls behind them. M. S. Briggs and A. H. Thomlinson also heard the squawking of the chickens, and they made out after the fleeing thieves. They were soon joined by Charley Cook who wanted to aid in the capture of the disturbers of hen roosts, but in going through a corn field it is said that Charley puffed and blew so hard that when the thieves heard him coming they were not long in getting away. Charley only weighs about 250 pounds, but we will bet, with all his puffing and blowing, if he had got a grip on one of them that fellow would not have stolen any more chickens in that vicinity for some time.

The pursuers were all prepared to "blaze away" had they gotten sight of the thieves.

After last Saturday night's work at Mr. Briggs' it certainly looks very courageous on the part of the thieves to so soon enter the same neighborhood on a like expedition, and it may be possible, with the feeling that now exists in that vicinity, they will visit there just once too often, as people out there are prepared to "shoot to kill" if it becomes necessary.

The row among the chickens at the Todd place must have occurred early in the night as Chief of Police Fitzgerald and Bert Hanna went out, but no trace of the thieves could be observed.

TAX JUDGMENT SALE.

Pursuant to decrees of the District Court of Cass County, Nebraska, duly entered in the state tax suit for the year 1923 or former years, in behalf of the State of Nebraska to enforce the payment of delinquent taxes and assessments upon real estate by the State of Nebraska, and in pursuance of the statutes in such cases made and provided, I shall on Wednesday, the six day of November, A. D. 1924, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the County Treasurer, in the City of Plattsmouth, and the County of Cass, offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash, the lands and lots on which decrees of said court have been entered, as shown by published list herewith, to satisfy the amount of such decrees with interest, penalties and costs, such sale will continue from day to day from nine o'clock a. m. to five o'clock p. m. until all the lands therein described have been sold or offered twice. I shall also offer for sale at the same time and place all certificates of tax sale of the County of Cass acquired under state tax suits which are undischarged at time of said sale.

Fire at Nebraska City.

Speaking of the narrow escape from a destructive fire in that city Monday, the Tribune says: "Shortly after three o'clock this afternoon an alarm of fire was turned in from the Masonic building on Sixth and Central avenue. The fire department responded quickly and soon had the flames under control. The fire originated in some book cases standing against the east wall on the second floor. Before subdued the conflagration had spread to the third floor, where some slight damage was inflicted. The loss, which will be nominal, was mostly from water damage. The warehouse rooms of the Bradley-Catron Co. on the ground floor suffered from water. This is the first alarm that has been turned into the fire department for a period of nearly four months."

EARLY PIONEERS OF CASS

They Visit Here for the First Time in Twenty-three Years.

Mr. Michael Thimman departed last evening for Murdock to meet his wife, and together they will return to their home in Denver. They formerly resided on "Pony Creek" in this county, where their ten children, seven boys and three girls were born, the eldest being 41 years of age and the youngest 24 years of age. Each one of the ten, except the eldest and youngest sons, are married, and the majority of the second generation are living in Denver. Michael Thimman is 63 years old and his wife is 64 years of age, both hale and hearty with many more years in front of them.

Michael Thimman came to this county from Germany in 1861 and two years later he married a girl from the "old country." Tiring of Nebraska, the family removed to Sterling, Col., where he was county treasurer for six years, during which time he lost $16,000 by the failure of a bank. He is now retired from business and spends most of his time viewing with pride the work of his sons and daughters. At present Gus Thimman, the third son, is in California and one of the daughters is living in Hastings, Neb., but they will make their home with their parents whenever it is possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Thimman had not visited in this, Seward or Howard counties where they have relatives, for 23 years.

A New Order to Station Agents.

A new order has been issued by the Burlington, cautioning the station agents against ordering a greater number of grain cars for one day than can be loaded in that day. It has been the practice, where elevators were full, containing from five to twenty cars, to order each day a sufficient number of cars to empty the elevator. Hereafter the cars asked for must be reduced to the number that can be actually loaded in the day named.

RESISTS THE JAG GURE

W. A. Simmons Ask the Court to Restore His Liberty.

W. A. Simmons, a Dawes county cattleman worth $10,000 is one of the forty dipsonamics held at the Lincoln hospital for the insane, says the Lincoln Journal, who resists his incarceration and has applied to the Supreme court for a writ of habeas corpus. The writ was allowed by Chief Justice Holcomb returnable October 18, and on that date the case will be heard. Attorney General Brown waived objections to the jurisdiction of the judge to issue a writ of habeas corpus and will prepare to defend the new dipsonamic law.

Mr. Simmons is of the opinion that a man cannot be deprived of his liberty because he drinks whiskey. He alleges that he has been unlawfully deprived of his liberty without due process of law, that the act under which he was sentenced is contrary to the constitution in that it deprives the accused of a trial by jury. He asserts also that he was denied an appeal to the district court. Simmons was born in England and is fifty-four years of age. The county insanity board that passed on the complaint against him reported that he had been subject to attacks of drunkenness for ten or fifteen years. One cause noted in the report is that the man was reared on stimulants.

The plaintiff in this case was sentenced to be detained at the Lincoln hospital for the insane for a period of two years, or until sooner released according to law. The law provides that the insanity commission of any county may exercise the same powers in such cases as they exercise over an insane person. A hearing shall be had in the presence of the accused and if the board finds the information charging him with being an inebriate or addicted to the excessive use of narcotics to be true, they shall impose a sentence of detention in the hospital until he is cured, and not exceeding three years. Dr. Greene, superintendent of the hospital, has ruled, that each patient must remain at least ninety days. If at the end of that time the patient can be either discharged or paroled. A parole is issued if the patient agrees to refrain from the use of intoxicants or narcotics. The cost of committing and caring for a patient shall be paid by the county from which he was sent. Mr. Simmons alleges in his application for a writ that this portion of the law has not been complied with by Dawes county.

A Surprise to Their Friends.

A special from Nebraska City says that Mrs. Mary E. Morse has filed a petition in the district court, praying for a separation from her husband, Frank S. Morse, and the custody of her minor son, Charles. The husband is superintendent at the Union stock yards and the family are social leaders in that city. The divorce proceedings are a surprise to all.

Silenced For Once.

Carrie Nation has been silenced at last, but only temporarily. A conductor in Missouri accomplished it. She was riding in a car in which there was a drunken man. She endured it for a while, but at last she yelled to the conductor, asking if he allowed drunken people to ride in the car. He said he had no objection and she could stay as long as she would be quiet.

Doctors Said He Would Not Live.

Peter Fry, Woodruff, Pa., writes: "After doctoring for two years with the best physicians in Waynesburg, and still getting worse, the doctors advised me if I had any business to attend to it at once, as I could not possibly live another month as there was no cure for me. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to the store for it, and after taking three bottles I began to get better and continued to improve until I was entirely well."

Both Imported and Home-Bred. I will sell you a full blooded American-bred Stallion as good as were ever grown in Europe, and better and more prolific breeders at prices from $200 to $1000. I have horses of all ages, 2 to 7 years old, from 1650 to 2300 lbs weight, all sound and good, and will, besides paying for themselves in one season, put $500 in the owner's pocket. Many a Nebraska farmer has reached the point where he has several fine brood mares and is able to keep a nice stallion for his own and his neighbors' use. Don't let the boys leave the farm; raise more horses and mules, it pays better than anything you can do. Now is the time to raise good horses. Come to the Cedar Rapids Jack Farm and buy a better stallion than you have ever seen for $250. We have a large assortment of.
