

ALL HAIL PE-RU-NA. A Case of STOMACH CATARRH.

Miss Mary O'Brien, 306 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Peruna cured me in five weeks of catarrh of the stomach, after suffering for four years and doctoring without effect."

"Peruna cured me of catarrh of the head and stomach and nervous debility from which I suffered for two years."

"I waited before writing to you about my sickness, catarrh of the stomach, which I had over a year ago."

"These were people who told me it would not stay cured, but I am sure that I am cured, for I do not feel any more ill effects, have a good appetite and am getting fat."

"So I am, and will say to all, I am cured for good."

"I thank you for your kindness."

"Peruna will be our house medicine hereafter."

"Catarrh of the stomach is also known in common parlance as dyspepsia, gastritis and indigestion. No medicine will be of any permanent benefit, except it removes the catarrhal condition."

"Nervous Debility."

"Miss Irene Smith, 10 Minnesota Ave., Randle Highlands, Washington, D. C., writes: "Peruna cured me of catarrh of the head and stomach and nervous debility from which I suffered for two years."

"Meets With Bad Accident"

"Will Kuhne, whose home is at Elmwood, and who is employed by C. H. Warner, met with a very serious accident last Saturday evening, which came near proving fatal in its consequences."

"It seems that Will was driving along the road and another team coming up behind him, frightened his horses which became unmanageable and ran away, throwing Mr. Kuhne out of the wagon dragging him for some distance before he became disentangled from the frightened horses."

"When he was at last disentangled he was in an unconscious condition and had numerous bruises all over him. The left arm was broken and the left foot badly bruised and mashed, and a long cut which required five stitches to close, behind the right ear. One of the horses was somewhat injured, and the harness was broken. Will, who was eighteen-years-old, was brought to town by Mr. Warner and Dr. Livingston reduced the fractures and the patient was removed to the Plattsmouth hotel, and Louis Kuhney was delegated to care for him, as Mr. Kuhne was suffering from the effects of the injuries and the drugs which had been given when the operation was in progress, and it was thought that he should have an attendant. Mr. Kuhney who had been working hard, dropped asleep for a moment and Will got up and walked out and went to the home of his employer, Mr. Warner, where he is at this time, feeling pretty sore from the effects of the injury."

PLATTSMOUTH'S SELF MADE MEN

"On a beautiful morning in May in the year 1882, there stepped off the train at this place a green dutch youth, just entering into manhood, with no knowledge of the way things were done in America and no capital, except a disposition to work and an ambition to make a home, a fortune and a life of success all his own."

"To this green dutchman, nothing glowing offered, but what was at hand he accepted with a hearty thank you, in the shape of driving a delivery wagon for Peter J. Hansen, which position he occupied for four years. During this interval he learned to speak English, and became acquainted with the way things were done here. Peter Hansen sold his store and went west, and our dutch friend, Melchior Soennichsen, stayed with the new firm, Bauer & Wohlfarth, for another year. In 1887 having saved some of his hard earned money, he went in partnership with George B. Lehnhoff, buying out his late employer, and this marked the beginning of business for himself. In this capacity, as had been his practice at all times, he was a hard worker, always clever, courteous and always keeping his thinking machine in good running order. This partnership continued for one year when a new partnership was formed with M. Shirk, and they built a five-cornered store room where the A. O. U. W. hall now stands, and after two years sold the same to Henry Zuckweiler and E. P. Lutz, under the name of Zuckweiler & Lutz. During the next four years he was out of business but during this interval he was always a hard worker. This period covered the last years of hard times, which began in 1893. In 1896 Melchior bought Henry Hempel's coal business and moved the yards to their present location."

"In 1897, a new partnership was formed, whereby he consolidated his coal business with that of the A. H. Weckbach grocer, and the firm became A. H. Weckbach & Co. In this partnership Melchior conducted the coal part of the business during the day, and helped in the store in the evening, always doing his portion of the work, and always willing to do so. In June 1904, Henry Weckbach was taken sick and after a short sickness died. Melchior conducted the business, now having to assume entire charge of both places, but shortly after the death of his partner bought the remaining interest. Since then he has conducted the business himself, looking after both places."

"In 1902 the many friends of Mr. Soennichsen induced him to become a candidate for city clerk, and after the smoke of battle had passed, it was found that he had been elected by an overwhelming majority. Two years later he was re-elected almost without opposition."

"Henry M. Soennichsen"

"So efficiently and faithfully did he discharge his official duties that his friends insisted upon his candidacy for the third time but without avail. He refused to serve longer."

"Four years ago he was the democratic candidate for the office of county clerk and only needed ten votes to secure for him the coveted prize. And here we offer you a result of what can be accomplished by simply keeping at it, working away, and using your earnings and what is of more consequence, your intellect to good advantage. We are glad to number H. M. Soennichsen as one of the factors which is making Plattsmouth the best city of its size in the west."

"Dilapidated Sidewalk Causes Fall"

"A Matous, while walking along Sixth street, between Rock and Marble yesterday, caught his foot on a loose board which tripped him throwing him to the ground, striking his face on the edge of the walk, cutting and bruising his face and nose in a very painful manner. The board was loose and in walking near the edge, the board flew up causing the accident. It would not take much to make a good concrete walk, and property owners are carrying a very heavy risk when they do not look to the matter of keeping the walks in good condition along their property."

WELL DESERVED

"The Praise that Comes From Thankful Plattsmouth People."

"One kidney remedy never fails. Plattsmouth people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Plattsmouth testimony proves it always reliable."

"J. B. Patridge, living on Eighth street, between Oak and Locust streets, Plattsmouth, says: "I never before had any remedy that did me so much good as Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured from Gering & Co.'s drug store. Before using them I was pretty nearly broken down with my back. I could hardly straighten and suffered almost constantly from pain across my loins and kidneys. My first experience with this kind of trouble dates back a long time ago and I believe I know what misery and torture kidney complaint brings. At times I have been so crippled up that I could not get around without the use of a cane. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills did me so much good that I got the second box. This brought me out all right. It did the work thoroughly. There is no expression I can give that overestimate the value I place on Doan's Kidney Pills."

"For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States."

"Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other."

"Injured While Boarding Train."

"Last Saturday, Newton Russell, in company with some more of his friends and neighbors from across the Big Muddy, was in the city until rather late and essaying to board a train in the yards missed his footing and fell under the wheels of No. 20, a train passing through here for Pacific Junction at about ten o'clock at night. Engineer Julius Neilson, who came as near witnessing the accident as anyone, says he was on the shop lead track and had received a signal from night yardmaster Reynolds, to pull down to the station after the passage of the freight going east and that he saw the man run across the track and as he approached the freight train, throw up his hands. As Mr. Neilson was on the right side of the engine he crossed to the other side and looked to see if he could see where the man had gone. He saw him throw up his hand again and go down. On the passage of the train, he went behind his engine and found Mr. Russell lying in the middle of the track with one foot broken and the other one crushed. Had Julius not have taken pains to go look, his engine would have passed over the unfortunate man, and we would not now be recording the accident as it is today, but a one of far more grave consequence. The unfortunate man was picked up and taken into the station where his injuries were dressed as best they could. Afterwards he was taken to the home of a relative living in the south part of the city. Yesterday a brother-in-law took him home to Pacific Junction."

"Boy Drowned"

"The following was received by Mr. Lester Burrows and handed to us for publication: LESTER BURROWS:—Please keep looking out along bank of the Missouri river for the body of Harry Price, drowned in river at Sioux City, June 17th. Age 14, light hair, blue eyes, slim build, dressed in black shirt waist and knee pants. Wire information. E. G. DILLEY, Sheriff, Sioux City, Iowa."

"Another Pretty June Wedding"

"Miss Anna Jochim, who is well known to the Journal people, and a daughter of our old friend, Stephen Jochim, was united in marriage with Mr. George Vogler, on Wednesday, June 26, 1907, and the Louisville Courier gives the following particulars of the happy event: "A very pretty wedding occurred Wednesday at 1 o'clock at the German Lutheran church, three miles south of Louisville, when Mr. George Vogler and Miss Anna Jochim were united in the holy bonds by Rev. H. Baumgartner. "The groom wore the conventional black and the bride was attired in a beautiful white taffeta silk dress, trimmed in chiffon lace and applique. "After the ceremony a sumptuous dinner was in readiness at the home of the bride, of which about three hundred relatives and friends partook. The groom is a son of Peter Vogler, a well-to-do farmer, and the bride is the highly esteemed daughter of Stephen Jochim, also a well-to-do farmer. "They were the recipients of many beautiful and expensive presents. The Courier extends congratulations. "The bride is a very beautiful and accomplished young lady, and the Journal congratulates the groom upon his wise selection of such a lady for his wife, and trusts that their pathway through life may be strewn with the choicest of flowers. "Pineules for the kidneys strengthen these organs and assist in drawing poison from the blood. Try them for rheumatism, kidney, bladder trouble, for lumbago, and tired worn out feeling. Red Sox Redeemed.

"The players of Pa. Schneider's Red Sox team redeemed themselves last Saturday when they defeated the Townsend Gun club of Omaha by the score of 12-3. Capt. "Biscuit" Heatherington, tried out a new player at third, Moore by name, who played very satisfactorily for a new man. Droege, the reliable center fielder, and Micin back in the left garden, took everything in the fly line. In the second inning Moriarty, the visiting pitcher, took a hot one from off the bat which knocked a couple of fingers out of place on his right hand. The Red Sox had the game won from start to finish. The score: RED SOX: AB R H PO A E SB: Schneider rf. 5 2 0 1 0 0 3; Wilkins p. 4 2 2 4 3 0 4; Fitzgerald c. 5 2 4 1 4 1 6; Heatherington lb. 5 0 2 12 0 1 4; Butler ss. 5 0 0 2 5 1 0; Micin lf. 5 0 1 1 0 0 4; Ramsey 2b. 5 3 1 4 1 3 5; Droege cf. 3 2 0 3 0 0 2; Moore 3b. 5 1 2 0 3 1 1; Total. 42 12 12 25 15 7 29"

"The Second Game"

"Yesterday afternoon the team sojourned across the "Big Muddy" where they had quite a tussle with the "web-feet" at Pacific Junction. The Junction team had strengthened themselves with a new pitcher and a left fielder and removed some of the weaker players, and let the visiting team know that they had to play ball. Graves pitched an extra fine game. While he did not succeed in striking out so very many men, his hits were scattered so that they were not very effective. Moore made three errors but not one cost a score, but these were easily executed on account of his being forced to do a barefoot stunt. Droege had his batting eye with him and out of four times to bat secured four hits, two of which were good for two bases. Capt. "Biscuit" did fine work both at bat and at first base, as did Billy Fitzgerald who caught a fine game. Graves, the reliable, pulled the Sox out of several holes when the bases were full and a hit would mean a score. On the whole they played an excellent game. The score: RED SOX: AB R H PO A E SB: Micin lf. 4 0 1 1 1 1 0; Schneider rf. 5 0 1 1 0 0 1; Wilkins 3b. 5 1 2 2 1 1 1; Fitzgerald c. 4 2 2 2 1 1 0; Heatherington lb. 5 1 3 10 0 1 3; Graves p. 4 1 0 3 4 1 2; Butler ss. 4 0 0 0 3 1 0; Moore 2b. 4 2 2 2 1 3 1; Droege cf. 4 2 4 2 0 0 4; Total. 39 8 14 23 11 5 12"

"Earned runs—Red Sox 5; Pacific Junction 4; Bases on balls off Anderson 3, Graves 0; Sacrifice hit, Butler; Two-base hits Heatherington, Fitzgerald, Droege (2), Moore (Red Sox); Anderson, Allis, Delahmunt; Struck out by Graves 3, Anderson 5; Double plays Graves to Fitzgerald to Heatherington, More to Reed to Mullicay; Hit by pitcher Allis, Anderson; Time of game 1 hour and 30 minutes; Umpire Minner of Glenwood; Attendance 290."

"In Police Court"

"For hearing in Justice Archer's court this morning were the cases of James Jones, Bert Elege and Arthur Jacobi, all charged with fighting and disturbing the peace. The two former with being drunk. James Jones pleaded guilty and was assessed a fine, while Bert Elege pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for the fifth but afterwards he changed his pleas to guilty and was assessed a fine of fifty dollars and costs, as per the fine of James Jones. Agreement was made that they should work on the street at $1.75 per day, allowing one dollar to go each day to live on, and they to board themselves. Arthur Jacobi, showed that what he had done in the matter was in self defense and that he had tried to avoid the fighting, he was discharged."

A Very Successful Social

"At the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Todd, five miles north of the city last Saturday was held a most successful ice cream social. There were about two hundred there and everyone of those two hundred were enjoying themselves. The social was given for the purpose of securing funds to make up for a deficit in the salary of the minister, and the ones who had it in charge were very successful, as $30.15 was realized as the clear results of the social not counting the worth of the good time which everyone present had, and which cannot be estimated. Those who worked to bring about this much desired result were Mr. and Mrs. Todd and the entire family of Will Baker, with the assistance of other members of the Christian church."

"Frank Benfer Injured."

"During the noon hour today at the intersection of Sixth and Main streets as he was riding south, having gotten on the horse in front of the Hotel Riley, Frank Benfer was thrown from the animal and very severely bruised, although no bones were broken or internal injuries inflicted."

"The horse was not the gentlest, though thought to be gentle enough, and Mr. Benfer had gotten on him without a bridle, having only the halter. Frank had gotten on the animal at the corner and had not gotten across the street, when the horse pitched and threw him off, he lighting on his face and shoulder sliding along over the pavement. Dr. J. S. Livingston dressed the wounds and bruises and made the patient as comfortable as he could, but he will not be entirely free from pain for some time to come on account of the accident."

"A Benefit for St. Mary's Guild"

"Misses Ethel and Alice Dovey assisted by local talent will appear at the Parmelee theatre in the near future. Mr. F. Marsh, of the Cleveland Leader, will act as stage manager. Through the influence of Mr. Marsh, Miss Dovey has secured permission from the well-known playwright, George M. Cohen, to head the entertaining bill with his fetching one-act play, entitled, "The Goatsman's Son."

"The crowded houses which have always greeted the Misses Dovey at home fully expresses their appreciation of their splendid worth and the announcement that the pronounced favorites will appear again gives the home folks an opportunity to manifest their delight."

"A Wind Fall"

"That nice refreshing breeze which sprang up late yesterday afternoon, picked up a ladies hat from its resting place on train No. 2 of the Burlington, as the train was going over the river and wafted it afar out over the bosom of the "Big Muddy" and as hovers the twilight over the departing day gently deposited it on the swiftly running water. George Mann, who was below the bridge, in a boat, immediately went after it, but was not able to secure the "dream," until he had gone a mile down the river and when he returned the lady and train were making time towards eastern Iowa. Now do not be surprised at any new style of masculine headgear."

"Get Uniforms"

"An Indian was seen to board the fast mail this afternoon for Omaha, and in conversation with John Nemetz, he said that he was going to Omaha to secure regalia for a team that the red men are to use when they transform pale faces into redskins. When the uniforms arrive we may expect to see one of those copper colored sons of the forest behind every tree or rose bush. Now the timid people had better stay in after the moon goes down or take Herpicide."

"Has Finger Poisoned"

"Engineer E. B. Thrall has been having some trouble with one of his fingers lately, which resulted from being poisoned, whether from the bite of an insect or otherwise is not known, but the finger was very sore and had to be lanced. Though very painful Mr. Thrall did not stop work, as it was a very busy time with the engineers. The finger is improving nicely at present."

"Brought Back a Shaft"

"Jimmie Jones, the horse trainer, took out Frank Benfer's young colt yesterday to train it and in about an hour afterwards came back with one of the shafts of the cart which was using. The colt having gotten away with the cart and was not to be found anywhere. Immediately he started out again to look for the horse and during the night found it and with the exception of the experience and the costs of repairs everything is in as good shape as before the training went into effect."

"Have a Merry Time Sunday"

"The Sons of Herman had a merry time Sunday at a picnic given by the members of that order in the pleasant grove of Theodore and Wm. Starkjohn, at their home some six miles northwest of town. There was a large number of people from the city out, and also from the rural districts. They had games, refreshments and a general good time. Headache and constipation disappear when Dade's Little Liver Pills are used. They keep the system clean, the stomach sweet. Taken occasionally they keep you well. They are for the entire family. Sold by Gering & Co."
