MARRIED AT HIGH NOON

Miss Mary Ptak, of This City The Charming Bride.

A very pretty June wedding occurred today at high noon at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Emil Ptak, at which one of Plattsmouth's young ladies and a young man from Sioux City, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The bride, Miss Mary Ptak, was gowned in light blue, and carried shower bouquet of bride's roses and wore roses in her hair, while the groom, Mr. Theodore Schroeder, was attired in conventional black.

In the parlor which was very pleasantly decorated with roses, and at the altar constructed of roses, at the bay window they were united in marriage according to the beautiful ritual of the Episcopal church by Canon H. B. Burgess, using the ring ceremony, while listening to the inspiring strains of Lohengren wedding march, played by Miss Mary Janda.

After the ceremony and congratulatory remarks were over, the wedding party sat down to a three course wedding dinner. The presents were numerous and beautiful as well as useful, and demonstrated the esteem in which the young couple were held by their friends. The bride has grown to womanhood in this city, and is a young lady of high moral character, known and admired for her friendly disposition and kindly ways, and the young man who is securing her as a bride is to be congratulated on his obtaining such a prize.

The groom, Mr. Schroeder, is a locomotive fireman living in Sioux City, where he has a very lucrative position on the Milwaukee road, and where he has a nice cottage for the bride where they will go to housekeeping immediately. The happy couple departed on the evening Missouri Pacific train for their home at Sioux City. The Journal, with the many friends of the bride, wish them an abundance of happiness and prosperity in the new life. The wedding was witnessed only by the immediate relatives of the bride and her friend, Miss Addie Chapman, of Glenwood, Iowa.

A man who is in perfect health, so he can do an honest day's work when necessary, has much for which he should be thankful. Mr. L. C. Rodgers, of Branchton, Pa., writes that he was not only unable to work, but he couldn't stoop over to tie his own shoes. Six bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made a new man of him. He says, "Success to Foley's Kidney Cure."

Everybody Invited

To follow the crowd to the big lawn social to be held at Add Kiser's Saturday evening, June 6. Ice-cold lemonade drawn from a well, cake, ice-cream and various fruits will be served. Have your fortune told by the gipsies, Sino and Poned. Then vote for the most popular young lady and gentleman present. Votes one cent each.

Tonight

If you would enjoy tomorrow take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets tonight. They produce an agreeable laxative effect, clear the head and cleanse the stomach. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at F. G. Fricke's drug store.

School Money.

The county superintendent's office has just gotten out the school apportionment for the county, which consists of some $7,023.96 one-fourth of which is divided equally between the different districts, or parts of districts. The other three-fourths is divided proportionately among the schools as per the number of scholars.

Good Pasture With Water.

I have pasturage room for a number of horses and cattle at my place, west of the city. See me at residence, or call Plattsmouth 'phone 12G.

WHERE QUALITY COUNTS

Louisville

From the Courier.

Little May Taylor has been sick for sometime with pneumonia, but is reported improving.

It is reported that a portion of the Burlington pump house has been found in Fort Crook, a distance of twenty-five miles.

Let us have another park. River View cannot be rebuilt in years. There are many pleasant localities. Let us get together and select one and then lose no time in putting it in shape.

Whenever a man is so dead to public interests that he refuses to help push public improvements, and is content to plod along at the old pace, he should make his presence most conspicuous by his absence from the locality in which he lives.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ragoss received a bad fracture of one of his legs Tuesday. The little fellow was playing on a wood pile when a heavy timber rolled down, catching the boy's leg and fracturing the bone between the knee and hip. A local physician attended him.

A team being driven by Fred Wren ran away Monday evening and when near Gust Standers' farm Mr. Wren was thrown out and was quite severely injured, three ribs being broken loose from the back bone and he was otherwise injured. A local physician was called and bandaged him up and at present he is getting along as well as could be expected.

Elmwood

From the Leader-Echo.

L. F. Langhorst has recently had the interior of his opera house neatly papered, which greatly improves its appearance.

Ed. Kaczmarek left Dick Deles Dernier's, where he was working a few days ago without saying anything to anyone about it. This week relatives received word that he is with his father at Cheney, Washington.

The old gravel roof on the American Exchange bank building has been removed and a new tin roof put on. H. W. Miller, Louis W. Roettger's competent tinner, put on the new roof. Now will you quit leaking?

Verner Perry, wife and babe came up from Mynard last week, visiting at the home of Mrs. Perry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. McCrory, and attending commencement exercises and the alumni banquet.

Al Denison returned first of the week from his western trip. He is delighted with the country about Spokane, where he purchased a farm. He is packing up his goods preparatory to an immediate removal to his new possessions.

The village board hereby order that all shooting of guns, rifles and revolvers inside the corporate limits, day or night, be stopped at once. Parties disobeying the ordinance governing this matter will be arrested and prosecuted, as many complaints have recently been made to the board.

Miss Grace Tolhurst came home from Orleans Friday, where she closed a very successful school year in the primary department. The board of education were pleased with her work, and offered her the position for another year at an increase in salary.

The Degree of Honor convention, district No. 1, comprising twenty-five lodges, was in session at Langhorst's opera house Wednesday and Thursday of this week, in charge of Mrs. Mary Latky, grand chief of honor. The attendance was good and a splendid program was given, closing with a banquet last evening. We have been promised an extended write-up of this pleasant "doings" for next week.

L. B. Brown of Kenosha was a business visitor in the city this morning.

Nehawka

From the Register.

The editor enjoyed (?) a sprained ankle for a couple of days this week.

Prof. Debolt of the Murdock schools made his farewell appearance in Nehawka last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Thos. Fulton, accompanied by her daughter, Fay, and Jesse Allen, left for Willard, Kan., Sunday to visit James Lemon and family.

Isaac Pollard sold the quarter of land south of the stone house, which is being farmed by Hugh Warden, to West & Palmer. The consideration was $100 per acre.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tucker and daughter, Lillian, left yesterday morning for Alva, Oklahoma, where they expect to remain for some time if it proves beneficial to Mrs. Tucker.

Lester E. Stone came in from Cherokee, Oklahoma, Monday evening to attend the funeral of his mother. His homecoming was sad, but it is a pleasure to meet him again and find him the same old genial Lester.

Delbert and Leo Switzer are now starting a menagerie. They came through Henry Sturm's alfalfa field last Friday and in doing so discovered eight young coyotes, which they captured and brought to town.

Miss Leda Ross has accepted a position in the schools at Scotts Bluff with an increase of $10 in her salary. While we regret losing her from our school we congratulate the Scotts Bluff school in securing her services.

George Hansen and his father came to town Saturday having been released from the smallpox quarantine that was established over six weeks ago. George was carrying his eye in a sling caused by a drop of acid with which they were disinfecting the house, flying in it. The eye was badly burned, but the sight was not injured. He carries the trade mark and shows that he had the smallpox. His father had not been in town before in nearly three months and said it was just like getting out of prison. He did not contract the disease.

Will Advertise the Town.

A fine street parade on the Fourth of July will speak volumes of praise for the business men of Plattsmouth. Let every business in town be represented. Let no one stand back because some other merchant will be able to make a grander display than he will. Do the best you can. Floats, beautifully trimmed with all sorts of decoration, is what catches the eye of every visitor. Then they will go home and talk about what a big time they had at Plattsmouth and how the enterprising merchants turned out beautiful floats for their grand street parade. Now is the time to begin the good work by planning what you are going to have.

In Hard Luck.

Contractor C. D. Woodworth is certainly in hard luck on the paving contract. For two week nothing to amount anything has been done upon the repaving of the streets. The rains come in such rapid succession as to virtually make it an utter impossibility to resume work for any length? Should the rains continue much longer it will not be possible for Mr. Woodworth to complete his contract as early as our people would like. But he cannot be held responsible for the delay.

J. W. Gamble and wife departed for Gretna this afternoon on the fast mail where they will participate in the commencement exercises of the schools at that place. Mrs. Gamble will sing a few numbers, while Mr. Gamble will make the address of the evening. Returning tomorrow, they will stop at Omaha, where they will visit Mr. Gamble's mother who is at the hospital yet and is reported as making good progress.
