Lincoln Day Proclamation.

The name of Lincoln strikes a responsive chord in the breast of every true patriot, and inspires to more noble deeds and higher ideals, the citizenship of the American republic, Lincoln, a name which stands out pre-eminently in a conflict which not only shook to the very foundation of our own country, but was felt like a mighty earthquake throughout the nations of the earth, Lincoln, the man, who, when the battle for a principle which concerned all mankind, was on, guided it so wisely to a triumphant conclusion.

The life of Abraham Lincoln was dedicated to all humanity, ignoring all selfishness and laboring against oppression and wrong, a far-seeing statesman, a man of the common people, close to the soil, foremost on the nation's banner of illustrious citizens, a leader of the nation in her hour of peril, and with whose blood was sealed the proclamation of universal liberty.

The name of one who has contributed so generously to the welfare of his country in the past, should be an inspiration for the future, and on this approaching centennial anniversary of his birth, it is but fitting that every loyal American citizen in the proper observance of this national event, should feel it a duty and a privilege to take part in such exercises as will perpetuate his memory.

To the end that Nebraska may maintain her patriotic and loyal distinction, I hereby respectfully request that on Friday, the twelfth day of Feb. A. D. Nineteen Hundred Nine, the citizens of Nebraska display the flag, and assist all patriotic societies and institutions in their efforts to venerate the memory of the lamented Lincoln.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of Nebraska to be affixed.

(Seal)

Done at Lincoln this 18th day of January, A. D. 1909

By the Governor
Ashton C. Shallenberger.
George C. Junkin,
Secretary of State.

Case Goes Higher.

Another step in the now noted case of Carroll vs. Jeary was taken today when Justice Archer prepared and transmitted to Clerk of Courts Robertson a transcript of the case as it was tried before him. It will be recalled that this case was tried to a jury in Justice court and that the jury found a verdict for Carroll after the court had ruled all his evidence relating to the transaction in question out. The case arose over a commission for the sale of lands which Carroll claimed was owing him by Jeary. Carroll had got written authority to negotiate the sale and for this reason the court ruled against him, the statute requiring this. Despite this fact the jury gave Carroll a verdict for $50 and costs. At the time the verdict was rendered Carroll did not have sufficient funds with him to pay the jury-men and the verdict was sealed up and lay in Justice Archer's hands until several days ago when it was opened. The defendant Edwin Jeary, the prominent banker and attorney of Elmwood and Lincoln, has appealed the case and it will come up at the next jury term of the district court.

R. L. Hoback of Weeping Water, who is serving his country on the jury list for this term of court, came in yesterday and is quartered at the Hotel Perkins.

BADLY DAMAGED

Loss at Home of C. H. Vallery Is Much Greater Than at First Reported

The Journal regrets to say that the fire at C. H. Vallery's was much worse than it was led to believe by the reports received Saturday morning. From Mr. Vallery it is learned that his damage will approximate twelve to fifteen hundred dollars. The fire made practically complete destruction of his dwelling, hardly a board being left standing while the loss to his household goods was also very heavy. The contents of two bed rooms were completely destroyed and the remainder of the property which was gotten out was badly broken up and damaged in handling. The fire started from a defective flue presumably the result of the work of the winds of Thursday night and Friday and as it broke out when the high northwest gale was still on, there was little which could be done to stop it. It is a very severe loss upon this excellent citizen and he has the entire sympathy of his many friends and neighbors in his misfortune.

For a time it was feared he was without insurance as he was unable to locate his insurance policy which was in the Cass County Farmers Mutual Company and amounting to $800. There was some question as to whether it was still in force or had been allowed to expire. Fortunately the policy has been located. It was discovered that in carrying the goods from the house, the policy was taken out and the high wind which was prevailing picked it up and blew it into the road some distance away. One of Mr. Vallery's neighbors has since found the paper and returned it to him, so his loss is at least cut down by that amount, this policy being still in force.

It is quite fortunate that the fire broke out during the day as it must have resulted in loss of life to the sleeping family had it happened in the night owing to the heavy gale prevailing.

A Good Man.

The many friends of Matt Jiroushek will be pleased to know that he had decided to remain in Plattsmouth and has engaged with C. E. Wescott's Sons, the clothing store "where quality counts." Matt thought for a while he would locate elsewhere, but after looking around concluded that Plattsmouth was hard to beat. He took up his duties with this popular firm this morning and hereafter his smiling countenance will be seen at the corner of Fifth and Main.

It is due Matt to say that he is one of our most promising young men. Reared in this city, he has by his affable manner and cheerful industry made an enviable place for himself in this community. His business education and wide acquaintance thoroughly equips him for the position he now occupies with Wescott's Sons, and we are glad to see his ability recognized by so solid and substantial a firm. Matt feels that now he is better prepared to take good care of the clothing needs of his friends.

Why Not Hang Them?

Saturday evening Cleve Edgar, Geo. Stotts, John Walling, James Endicott and Ralph Hubbell were arrested by Marshal McMillan and were arraigned Monday before Justice Edwards on a charge of disorderly conduct, and they were sentenced to fifteen days in jail. It is said that they had been imbibing freely and were laying in wait for some boys from the country, but the marshal intercepted them in advance of any grave infringement of the laws.

These young fellows are reported to be from 16 to 22 years of age. They can consider themselves very fortunate that they did not receive much severer sentences.

The sixth transgressor of the law was taken in this week. In addition to the five Glenwood young men arrested by Marshal McMillan and Deputy Sheriff Estes, Saturday night and Sunday, Sheriff Lincille arrested Earl Lieper. He too had his hearing before Justice Edwards and was sent to jail for fifteen days along with his five companions in misdemeanor.—Glenwood Opinton.

Pleasant Caller.

Wm. Earhart came in this (Monday) morning from his farm near Wabash to look after business matters in the city for several days. Mr. Earhart favored the Journal with a very pleasant call and renewed his subscription to the old reliable for another year, considering that he was getting all the news at a reasonable price when he gets the paper. He is one of the best known farmers in the vicinity of Wabash and a citizen of upright character and sterling integrity. During his stop in the city he will meet many old friends as he is well known in this city and vicinity among the older residents.

G. J. HALMES, Owner.
ROBT. WILKINSIN, Auctioneer.

Julius Bock departed this noon on the mail train for New Castle, Wyo., returning to his home after a visit of several weeks in the vicinity with his father John Bock and family. During the time Mr. Bock has been here he has greatly enjoyed himself finding a great many of his old time friends and acquaintances who were delighted to see him. He is a prominent citizen of the vicinity of Newcastle and occupies an enviable position among those living near there as his estimable father does in this section. His parents and sister as well as several other relatives accompanied him to the city to see him depart.

Mrs. R. B. Brissey was one of the visitors at the hospital in Omaha today going to call upon Mrs. Elvey.

TOM SMITH, OWNER.
WM. DUNN, Auctioneer,
G. W. BOEDEKER, Clerk.

A. J. Lepinski, the sales agent for the Blatz Brewing Company, came down this morning and after spending several hours in the city looking after business matters returned to his home on the mail train at noon.

Miss Gladys Marshall was a passenger this noon on the mail train for LaPlatte where she will make a visit with the Misses Leyoldt for several days. Mr. Fred Leyoldt who was a visitor in the city for a few hours accompanied her on the mail, returning to his home with her.

A Fine Invention.

C. B. Schleicher who was visiting several days in the city with Charles Miller and family, departed this noon on the mail train for Omaha and will later depart for his home at Brady, Neb. Ben has recently taken out a patent upon a neck yoke which is guaranteed to prevent the destruction of buggies and possible loss of life by reason of the neck yoke coming down when the tugs of an animal becomes unhitched. The invention is not exactly a neck yoke but it is rather an improved fastening which goes over the end of the tongue locking the neckyoke to it. The device is a very simple one but it is quite effective. After the neck yoke has been placed upon the tongue there is no way by which it can be taken off unless it is turned upside down, an almost impossible state for it to get in. Owing to the extreme simplicity of the device and the small size of it, the cost of manufacture is limited and the device can be placed upon the market for from seventy-five cents to one dollar each. It is of heavy metal and will practically never wear out. Mr. Schleicher has entered his application for a patent and the device is thus protected from infringement. There is every reason to believe it will net him a large sum of money in its manufacture and in selling its right to use. Mr. Schleicher also has a number of other inventions of great merit and of a great deal of usefulness.

Miss Douglas Selected.

This morning at Coates Hall the contest to select the orator for the interschool contest to be held in South Omaha next week, was had. There were six aspirants in the debate and all did excellently, the final selection being that of Miss Marie Douglas who will ably represent the Plattsmouth High School. Everyone who knows Miss Douglas and her ability as an elocutionist, knows that she will come back with honors galore as she is one of the finest readers in the state.

Henry M. Pollard returned from Plattsmouth where he has been doing jury duty, minus a crop of bright red whiskers. We have been unable to learn whether he removed them voluntarily or whether his old friend, James Robertson refused to recognize him while wearing them—any rate we are proud to record their disappearance. He reports that Osenkop murder trial is set for Wednesday.—Nehawka Register.

W. J. Hayes of Elmwood, one of the regular panel jurors, came in yesterday and is again a guest at the Perkins hotel.
