Plattsmouth,

Nebraska.

The First Presbyterian Church of Plattsmouth, Neb., was organized by Rev. Daniel Lawrence Hughes, May 8th, 1858, with 16 charter members, only two of the original 16 still live. They are Mrs. Lucy J. Martin, of San Jose, Calif., and Mrs. J. Newton Wise of Plattsmouth. Among the men who have ministered to the church since its organization are to be found some who have had to do so with the hardest of the pioneer work which has marked this section during the early days.

Rev. Wm. Hamilton, Mr. John K. Demarest, Mr. James J. Cale, Mr. C. D. Roberts, Rev. Daniel W. Cameron, Rev. Wm. T. Bartle, Chaplain Wright was also frequently heard. His daughter, Mrs. J. N. Wise has been for many years an active member. Rev. John T. Baird, D.D., served the church from July 11th, 1875, until July 11th, 1905, rounding out one of the longest pastorates in this synod, a full thirty years. Dr. Baird still remains a resident of the city and takes a helpful and definite interest in the work of the church. Rev. J. H. Salsbury came to the church Sept. 1st, 1905, and is now the active pastor of the church.

The membership of the church at this time numbers 179, of whom some 140 are resident members. The church stands prominently for sound doctrine, purity in every department of life, and aggressive evangelism.

In 1889 the present church building was erected at a cost of $17,012, of which $11,012 was paid at that time and the remainder liquidated a year ago at the occasion of the Semi-centennial Jubilee. A pipe organ was also installed at a cost of $1,500.00.

The church has recently concluded a series of evangelistic services under the leadership of Chester Bireh of Winona, Ind., which has been of inestimable value to the organization, resulting as it did, in a marked awakening among the membership and the addition of several to the roll of the church.

The members of the session at the present time are Elder J. Newton Wise, Elder Thos. Pollock and Elder J. M. Roberts. The church has all the usual auxiliary societies, doing good work and the outlook for progress is good.

Rev. J. H. Salsbury, the present pastor of the Presbyterian church, was born at Breckenridge, Mo., in 1871. He received his early education in the country schools and Kidder Institute of Kidder, Mo., and took his divinity course in Auburn Seminary, Auburn, N. Y., graduating from that institution in the year 1899. He settled at once in the presbytery at Gresham, in York County, where he served for three and one half years and then went to the Third Presbyterian Church, of Lincoln, from which place he came here four years ago.

The capital of the bank is $50,000, the surplus fund is $25,000 and undivided profits of $3,134.76. The aggregate deposits are $370,183.66.

The First National bank makes an excellent showing, and its record is one of steady and uninterrupted progress from its beginning to the present.

Its policy is liberal, but not to the degree which would make it reckless.

It is sound and has never been even slightly affected by any panics.

The Perkins House.

The Perkins is the oldest and best known hotel in Plattsmouth. For years it was the leading house in the town, and through all the time its doors have been open to the public has been a popular stopping place for the traveler.

Mr. C. F. Guthmann, the present manager was born in Plattsmouth 28 years ago and since his eleventh birthday has lived in the house which he now conducts.

His father, Mr. F. R. Guthmann was the proprietor from January 28th, 1892 till 1904. The two sons, C. F. and H. A. Guthmann then leased the property and managed it until August 1st, 1906, when the present proprietors took charge.

The Perkins was built in 1880, and was named for C. E. Perkins, the president of the Burlington railroad.

Through all the years of its existence, the Perkins has always maintained a good reputation and had its share of public patronage.

Mr. C. F. Guthmann is familiar with the business, having been brought up in it and under his direction, the reputation of the house has been carefully maintained.

The Perkins has 41 available rooms and they are kept in first class condition at all times.

The Plattsmouth State Bank.

This financial institution, while the youngest in Plattsmouth, has had a healthy and permanent growth.

Among them are W. H. Newell, J. H. Becker, S. H. Atwood, F. G. Fricke, John Albert, J. V. Egenberger, H. E. Becker, C. F. Guthmann, J. M. Roberts, J. P. Falter, I. Pearlman and W. M. Stewart.

The officers are W. H. Newell, president; J. P. Falter, vice-president; J. M. Roberts, cashier.

The capital is $50,000, all paid in. The bank does a commercial business, which is developing steadily, from year to year.

The careful and conservative management of the Plattsmouth State bank has brought to it a clientele which is becoming greater and stronger all the time.

The officers are well known and respected citizens in this community, and to their efforts is largely due the bank's prosperous condition.

Its location is one of the best in Plattsmouth and is growing in importance and favor year after year.

Plattsmouth Public Library.

On February 25, 1885, twenty young ladies met and organized a reading room association; this society became known as the Y. L. R. R. A., (Young Ladies Reading Room Association.)

January 1st, 1886, a free reading room and circulating library was opened. The institution was supported by the members of the association until 16 years ago, when they offered to donate the books, furniture etc., to the city provided the city council would vote to support a free public library. This offer was accepted and a tax levied sufficient to pay running expenses, and the library then became a free circulating library and reading room, under the direct control of a library board appointed by the city council.

Miss Olive Jones was installed librarian at this time and still continues in that position.

From a small circulating library with 200 volumes, the institution has grown to its present splendid proportion until now there are over 4,000 volumes and 1,600 borrowers. A splendid showing for Plattsmouth, as its proportion of patronage stands at the head of the list for cities of this size.

January 1st, 1901, the library building was formally opened, just 15 years from the day the Y. L. R. R. A. opened their first little reading room.

Our citizens are justly proud of the fact that it was built by their own generosity, and appreciate the little $3,000 building more than they would a $30,000 Carnegie building, as everyone feels they have a personal interest in the building.

The members of the library board at present are: President, D. B. Smith; Secretary, Miss Barbara Gerling; Treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Walting; Mrs. C. C. Parmele, Miss Verna Leonard, J. M. Roberts, E. H. Wescott, Henry Herold and J. W. Gamble.

In conjunction with the Librarian, the library board uses every effort to extend the usefulness of the library. The utmost care being specially exercised in the selection of books for the Juvenile Department.

Special privileges are allowed to teachers, making it possible for them to take out books, for school use without using their individual card, or incurring a fine if the books are kept over the usual time.

They now receive from the city the actual running expenses amounting to about $400 a year.

There is no indebtedness on the building now, so all monies received from any source will be applied for the purchasing of new books.

Owing to the large circulation, the books wear out rapidly and there is always more demand for books than can be supplied.
