came back and took you in my arms. But I couldn't tell you—I could not tell you. I felt that if we were saved you must learn it from other lips than mine."

"But now we both know." She lifted her eyes suddenly, eyes misty with tears, and I realized the truth forever.

THE END.

Loaning Books.
You have in your library a set of books that you very much prize. The set is incomplete because a year ago a neighbor who has since removed to another city, borrowed two volumes and did not return them. Your first mistake was in loaning the books; your next, in not reclaiming after the lapse of two or three months. I would rather loan a complete set from my library than to break it by the loan of a single volume. One may always give a friend permission to come and read such a book in the room where it belongs. When anyone borrows a book and retains it indefinitely, a note should be sent, politely begging for its return. People do not borrow your clothing, jewelry or bric-a-brac, but, strangely enough, many persons display no reluctance in asking the loan of a book. You, of course, have your own exceptions; there are dear friends to whom books are precious, who know how to care for them and with whom it is a pleasure to exchange them at discretion.—Woman's Home Companion.

More Than He Could Say.
A native-born American member of a party of four business men who often lunched together took great delight in joking the others on their foreign birth.

"It's all very well for you fellows to talk about what we need in this country," he said, "but when you come to think of it, you're really only intruders. Not one of you was born here. You're welcome to this country, of course, but you really oughtn't to forget what you owe us natives who open our doors to you."

"Maybe," said an Irishman in the party, thoughtfully. "Maybe. But there's one thing you seem to forget: I came into this country wid me fare paid an' me clothes on me back. Can you say the same?"—Everybody's Magazine.

An Exception.
"Thus culinary journal states that all good cooks peel their onions under water," remarked the boarder who is always reading odd items.

"That's nothing unusual," laughed the comedian boarder. "I know a cook who peels his vegetables under water." "Ridiculous!"

"Not at all. He is cock on a submarine boat."

23:15 O'Clock.
A New York manufacturing concern in which only one-half of the employees work in the daytime has a 24-hour clock in the timekeeper's office, by which the work record is noted. The business day begins at one o'clock in the morning, and when other clocks indicate midnight the factory time-piece shows that it is 24 o'clock. The men who go in work at the time ordinarily known as six p. m., were recorded as having started at 18 o'clock. The people in charge of the work say that this change in the timekeeping method has prevented many errors, and although it took the men a little while to become accustomed to it they now speak of 14 and 16 o'clock in a matter-of-fact way and without the smile which at first the strange figures provoked.

Relief for Toothache.

If the tooth has a cavity use liquid ammonia. Spray from medicine dropper directly into the cavity. Be very sure and not touch the tender gum. If there is an ulcerated root prepare a poultice of flaxseed meal, mixed with water. But in a small vessel and apply to the gum, covering the swelling. Spread on small pieces of linen no larger than the end of the finger, fold one thickness over the poultice. Renew just as fast as they cool. This will soften the ulceration and cause it to break in a short time. Have a second party prepare the poultice, if possible, as it must be done quickly. Keep hot water bottle outside of bandage.

One Way to Appear Young.
A wise young woman gives as her reason for having learned the vertical writing: "This form of writing has been used for but a few years in some schools. When I have occasion to write to anybody they are very apt to conclude from my handwriting that I have been out of school but a few years, and accordingly I will be considered a real young woman."

"This does not count for so much at present, for I am only 23 years, but it may count a great deal in getting me a start in the friendship of a man later. I will not of course lie about my age, but I will get a more favorable start."

PIONEER DAY NOTES.

Preparations for Pioneer day, September 2, continue apace and this now promises to be one of the greatest days of the big meeting.

Chairman Windham has been making great preparations for the day and is sparing no effort to secure good attractions. He is today in receipt of communications from Hon. F. E. White and Hon. Orlando Tefft signifying their intention of attending the big meeting and accepting the invitations to deliver addresses that day. Senator Tefft speaks during the afternoon, while Mr. White addresses the banquet in the evening. Both are well known and popular speakers and will be listened to with great attention.

Mr. Windham also announces that the speaking will be held in the big tent north of the court house, the invitation of the Christian church people being accepted. This is done because of the long climb up the hill to Garfield park and the nearness of the tent to Main street.

Mr. Windham has also secured the office of McMaken & Sons for the place of exhibit relics of the pioneer days. Everyone having anything relating to early Nebraska is invited to bring the same to this place, where they will be placed in show. Col. McMaken has arranged his magnificent exhibit so that it can be shown to advantage and the place will be a veritable museum of early Nebraska.

Several very highly interesting relics of early days have been secured in addition to his fine exhibit. J. C. Coleman has kindly donated for use at the exhibition the old organ brought to Nebraska when the Methodist church was established. Conrad Schlater at that time played the instrument and was the first organ player in this vicinity. As a memento of the old days he will play this same organ, a priceless relic, on September 2 and the present Methodist choir will sing. This will be highly interesting and a striking remembrance of the past.

Another relic will be the bell from Peter A. Sarpy's ferry boat which operated at St. Mary's and later at Oreapolis, fifty years ago. The boat was sunk in the Platte river and all which ever was recovered of it was the bell which was donated to the Catholics of this city by Sarpy. Later it passed into the hands of John Fitzgerald, who donated it to St. John's church when the latter was founded. Afterwards it was given to Conrad Schlater when a larger bell was obtained for the church and he in turn passed it on to his sons for use on their ranch. It was conditioned that it should return to him when they sold the ranch and later it came back here, and has been in use on the Schlater-Fitzgerald property north of this city. Mr. Schlater kindly has this on exhibition as an interesting relic of early days.

These are not near all but they show the general trend of the exhibits. Pioneer day will be a winner for true.

A reception committee of ladies for active service at Coates' hall on Pioneers' day, September 2, has been selected and the members notified of their choice. This committee will consist of Mesdames S. L. Thomas, E. E. Hilton, H. J. Streight, E. A. Kirkpatrick, William Taylor, L. C. Todd and Miss Olive Gass. These will be the active reception committee and will hold forth at Coates' hall on Thursday, September 2.

An honorary reception committee consisting of a number of the aged pioneer ladies of Nebraska has also been selected and invitations have been sent them asking their attendance on Thursday, September 2: Mesdames J. F. Buck, Lloyd Gapsen, Allen Beeson, W. W. Wiley, Isaac Wiles and George Mayfield.

Over 100 tickets for the pioneers' banquet Thursday evening, September 2, have been sold and those of the aged citizens desiring places at the festal board should send in their applications early, as the number who can be accommodated are limited. Not over 200 can be accommodated. It is said, and those who have not yet secured tickets will do well to send in for them.

SHIRTS SHIRTS

This hot weather takes shirts and lots of them. A man that is going any hard work at all needs a fresh shirt every day. This means that you have to have a good supply on hand. We can help you. For Carnival Week we have just secured from a large jobber a lot of soft shirts with collars attached, which were slightly soiled by machine oil in manufacturing them. On some of them you can scarcely notice it, and on all of them it will come out in the first washing. These shirts are full cut with long full sleeves, double sewed throughout, and are mostly black and white patterns that will not fade. At the present price of cotton these shirts could not be made for less than 75c or $1. We bought the lot at a great reduction and are going to give you the benefit by pricing them to you at 39c. This would scarcely buy the material alone. We have all sizes now. Better come before they are broken.

UNDERWEAR UNDERWEAR

From now until the close of Carnival Week we are going to offer you all of our 50c and 75c balbriggan plain and fancy underwear at the remarkably low price of 39c. Understand this is our regular line of underwear and as long as the sizes last you can buy them at 39c, CASH MONEY.

SUITS SUITS SUITS

Now, about those fine Quality Suits that we are selling at half price. We have 11 of them left. They are good sizes and elegant patterns. You certainly can't make money any faster than by buying them. You can wear any of them till snow flies, and they'll be ready to do service for you next spring. Look in our corner window and you will see 3 of these suits—just half price.

Handkerchiefs—We have sold over 40 dozen of men's plain white kerchiefs this summer at 5c each. The greatest handkerchief bargain ever brought to Plattsmouth. We still have a few left at 5c—a half a dime. There are many other Carnival Bargains in here that you will do well to avail yourself of. "Come early and avoid the rush" applies in this case.

THE HOME OF SATISFACTION

Messrs. Adam Kaffenberger and Adam Fornoff, who have been spending several days on their farms near Huron, S. D., have returned to their homes in this vicinity, returning last evening. They report that the hail storm several weeks ago in that section did an incalculable amount of damage to the crops, and that the loss is very heavy. Mr. Kaffenberger's land was on the edge of the storm, and he did not suffer as severely as most others. His tenant had a number of acres of wheat cut before the storm came, and this is yielding well, the remainder being largely a loss. His corn was also badly cut by the hail and will not yield anything like as heavy as it should. Mr. Kaffenberger, however, thinks himself very fortunate to escape so happily. Mr. Fornoff was not so fortunate and the wheat on his farm is practically a total loss, as none of it had been cut when the storm took place. Corn generally throughout that country is fine and in good condition and, barring an early frost, will make a good crop.

Miss Anna Fisher is expected to arrive in the city this evening for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Anton W. Vetsnik until after the carnival.

Notice.

The banquet to be given at Coates' hall on September 2 at 6 o'clock p. m. is not confined to pioneers and old settlers, but it is open to every one who wishes to attend. One of the principle objects of meeting around the banquet board is to blend together early territorial reminiscences with those of statehood. There will be responses from persons representing every period since the organization of the territory up to the present time. It is the desire that those who are now enjoying the blessings of the present may hear and learn something about what those who were laying the foundations for present state prosperity passed through with. A most elaborate provision will be made for the tables, and the occasion will be enlivened with music. Price of tickets, 50 cents. Make application to any of the undersigned, or buy of ticket sellers.

REMEMBER THE MAIN

idea of Carnival Week is to meet old acquaintances and form new.

To our old customers we wish to say: We want you to make our store your headquarters during the Carnival, and bring your friends with you. Of course we are here for business and would be pleased to quote you prices on Drugs, Glass, Lead and Oils, Paints, or anything in our line that would interest you—but come in and say "Hello" anyway as we are always glad to see you whether you wish to purchase or not. Watch this space next week for our special line of Rexall Goods which will be on display during the Carnival.
