

DAILY PERSONAL NEWS

Short Items of Interest From Monday's Evening Journal

C. A. Welch was down from Gibson and spent Sunday with his family.

Ray Travis came down from Omaha and spent Sunday with home folks.

Henry Goss Sundayed in Omaha, returning to this city on No. 6 this morning.

C. E. Brinkman went to Omaha this morning to look after business interests.

Will Schutz and wife and daughter were passengers on the morning train for Omaha.

Mrs. Hale returned from Hamburg, Ia., Friday afternoon and reports Mr. Hale no better.

Otto Lushinsky came down from Havelock Saturday evening to spend Sunday with Plattsmouth friends.

George Beck went to Glenwood this morning to spend the day looking after business matters.

Mrs. Henry Hinz and daughters, Misses Emma and Lizzie, were Omaha passengers this morning.

H. Tams spent Sunday with his family in this city, returning to Belden, Neb., this morning, where he is doing some work for the Burlington.

Mont. Wheeler and daughter, Miss Cora, who have been visiting his brother, Frank Wheeler, returned to their home at Norfolk this morning.

John Carlson was another Havelock shop man who came down Saturday evening to spend Sunday with friends.

Fred Hesse came down from Havelock on No. 14 Saturday evening and visited with home folks, returning Sunday afternoon.

Ben Glenn of Gothenburg, who has been the guest of his parents, T. W. Glenn and wife, for several days, left for his home this morning.

Fred Ramge and Alvin Ramge and wife came down from Havelock on No. 14 Saturday night to spend Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ramge.

Henry Thierolf and wife returned to their home at Star, Neb., Saturday afternoon after visiting relatives for a few days in this county, where he lived so long.

Joe Smith is nursing a very sore foot, having stepped on a rusty nail Saturday evening. He is walking with a cane now and will be incapacitated from labor for a few days.

Dave Young of Murray was in the city Saturday afternoon looking after business matters. Dave has gathered his potato crop and from one acre he garnered 188 bushels of "King's Early."

C. E. Bredfield and wife of Vederburg, Ind., departed for their home this morning after spending a few days with W. H. Newell and family. Mr. Bredfield is a nephew of Judge Newell and was returning from a trip to the coast and Seattle exposition.

J. F. Vallery and wife, general agent for the Burlington at Denver, Colo., visited Mrs. T. P. Livingston, Mrs. W. J. Sertight and other relatives over Sunday, departing for their home this morning.

We acknowledge the receipt of several card views of Texas and a copy of the Marlin Daily Democrat, published at Marlin, Texas, for which we are under obligation to our friend, Henry Donat, who is on a business trip down in that state.

R. A. Bates returned to Kansas City Saturday night to remain several days, and if the condition of Mrs. Bates are so that he can he will come up again about Thursday morning. It is thought that the operation upon Mrs. Bates will occur today or tomorrow, and Dr. Minor has great hopes that she will pass through the ordeal successfully.

John Nemetz was called to Omaha this afternoon on important business.

Arthur Sullivan was in the city today transacting business with our merchants.

Emil Walter Sundayed with his family, returning to Lincoln this morning.

Glen Smith, the Lincoln bridge contractor, was a Plattsmouth visitor this morning.

T. K. Ives of the Maney Milling company of Omaha was in the city on business this morning.

G. P. Smith, the Omaha architect, was in the city today looking over business matters.

Miss Esther Gilmore of south of the village was calling on her Plattsmouth friends today.

George Berger came in from his farm and boarded the early train for Omaha this morning.

Rev. Steger, accompanied by Rev. Freund, called on friends in Omaha and Council Bluffs today.

Fred Colman of Havelock was a guest of George Palsall over Sunday, departing for Omaha this morning.

Mrs. M. McCool departed for Omaha this afternoon, where she will visit relatives for a few days.

Adolph Storz of the brewing company was in the city today looking up some business matters.

William Wegner and wife, from near Louisville, were in the city today looking after business matters.

The cold snap is making trade among our clothiers lively, as customers begin to think of real winter.

Mrs. Dr. J. B. Martin visited her daughter in the metropolis today, who is a teacher in the Omaha schools.

William Puls of Gretna came in Saturday and will be the guest of A. C. Tulane and other relatives in this city for a few days.

Fred Hinz returned to York this morning, where he has been in attending business college, having spent Sunday with his parents.

Mrs. George Mapes of Ralston was called to Plattsmouth Friday by the illness of her mother and departed for her home this afternoon.

E. D. Stokes and wife and daughter Alice, who have been the guest of friends in this vicinity, returned to their home at Plainview today.

Wayne Murphy was an over-Sunday visitor with friends in the city, coming down from Omaha to attend the club dance Saturday evening.

L. B. Brown, acting mayor of Kanosh, was in the city today and made the Journal office a pleasant call and left the coin which gladdens the heart of the editor.

W. G. Meisinger and L. A. of Eight Mile Grove, J. B. Meisinger of Lincoln, C. A. of Springfield and P. M. of Benson were in the city looking after business matters this forenoon.

J. C. Boyd, who has been residing in the city for some weeks, has just completed arrangements to move his family here and make Plattsmouth their future home.

Miss Nellie Kerr, who has been the guest of Miss Emma Bauer for a time, departed for Omaha this morning, where she will call on her friends today.

Frank Macin departed today for Ord, where he will open at once a fine factory for the manufacture of cigars. His will be the only factory in the town, which has a population of 2,500 people.

J. A. Hisky of Bayville, Kas., arrived Friday to inspect the loss of his residence, burned a few days ago. There was $800 insurance, but this does not cover his loss. He estimates his loss above the insurance at about $400.

Leo Bennington of Omaha was in the city today on business.

Mrs. Wilber Goodrich was taken sick at her home last evening and during the night was very bad. At the time of going to press she was slightly improved.

Albert Egenberger, Bert Spies and Gus Kopp went to Omaha yesterday and spent the day with Will Egenberger at the hospital. Will is gaining right along and doing fine.

Mrs. Joseph F. Hadraba is home from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Janda at Lawrence, Neb. She reports a pleasant visit with papa and mamma, and all are doing well.

Henry Thierolf of Cedar Creek was in the city Saturday and made the Journal office a pleasant call. Mr. T. has finished his run with his steam thrasher this year and has had a splendid season.

The Plattsmouth Dancing club gave one of its pleasant evening entertainments at Turner hall Saturday evening with many out-of-town members present. The music was the piano played by Miss Munn.

Too Much Booze.

Saturday evening while No. 2 paused at the station to change passengers a man named E. S. Lucas, who evidently had been attending the festivities in Omaha, and had taken on board more booze than he could comfortably carry, alighted to let the cool evening breeze fan his aching brow. The man was en route to Anderson, Ia., his home, and no doubt had been expected home for some time. After he had walked on the platform for a short distance, with unsteady step, he stumbled and would have pitched under the wheels of the coach had not Chief Amick clutched him by the arm and jerked him to his feet. Mr. Lucas, being an Iowa citizen, resented the effort of the policeman to help him, and attempted to break away. At the same time he thrust his hand in his pistol pocket and drew forth a quart bottle loaded with "red eye," and attempted to fell the officer with the wet goods. Chief Amick was too quick for him, and although the stranger was a man much larger and stronger than the chief, a few blows from the policeman's club quieted Mr. Lucas perceptibly. He was taken to the city bastille and thrown in.

Yesterday the man was sober, and desiring to go to his friends, he was allowed to deposit the amount the community had been injured by his unseemly conduct, viz: $13 with Judge Archer, and departed for his home on No. 2 Sunday evening. A check was given on the First National bank of Anderson in lieu of the cash.

Returns From Kansas City.

In the rush yesterday we neglected to mention the return of Mrs. Kate Oliver, who came up from Kansas City Saturday evening, where she had been to visit her daughters living there. She was in the Kaw city during the Priests of Palace and Flower Parades, and thinks them the grandest sights she ever beheld. She says Kansas City never does things by the halves, and that it is the greatest city in the west. While there she visited the two Mesdames Bates, in company with her daughter, and spent a few pleasant moments with them. She encouraged Mrs. R. A. Bates, who will be operated upon this week, with consoling words, which were kindly received by the patient. She and her daughter went again to take them out in the latter's automobile, but they were out somewhere viewing the Flower Parade, and the two lost a fine opportunity of viewing many pretty places in the city. Grandma Oliver's visit to Kansas City done her much good, and we are glad of it.

New Pastor Installed.

Yesterday was a red letter day for the membership of St. Paul's church of this city, it being the occasion of the installation of their new minister, Rev. J. H. Steger. The installation sermon was preached by Rev. F. J. Langhorst of Nebraska City, former pastor of the church. In the afternoon Rev. F. H. Freund of Portland, Ore., also a former pastor of this church, but now president of the Washington district, delivered an address on "Missions of the Northwest." In the evening General De Wall delivered an interesting lecture on the Boer war, a synopsis of his address appearing in another part of this paper.

Attends Convention.

Miss Greenwald, the photographer on North Sixth street, departs Wednesday morning for Lincoln, where she will spend three days at the state convention of photographers. Miss Greenwald believes in up-to-date photography and loses no opportunity to improve her studio. At the convention an opportunity is afforded to meet members of the art from all parts of the state and new and valuable ideas are discussed. Miss Greenwald will be in her studio Saturday.

IN COUNTY COURT.

State of Nebraska, County of Cass, ss. In the matter of the estate of Levi Rusterholtz, Deceased.

To All Persons Interested: You are hereby notified that there will be a hearing upon the petition of the executor for final settlement of said estate before this court at Plattsmouth, in said county, on the 5th day of October, 1909, at 10 o'clock a. m. That all objections, if any, must be filed on or before said day and hour of meeting.

Witness my hand and the seal of the said county court of said county, this 5th day of September, 1909.

(Seal.) ALLEN J. BEESON, County Judge.

Order to Show Cause

In the district court of Cass county, Nebraska. In the matter of the guardianship of Bee Campbell, a minor. The cause came on for hearing upon the petition of James N. Campbell, guardian of Bee Campbell, a minor, praying for a license to sell the undivided one-half of the north half of the west 1/4 of section 25, township 11, range 9, in Cass county, Nebraska, for the purpose of converting said property into money to assist in advancing the education of said minor and for reinvestment.

It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before me at my office in the court house at Plattsmouth, Nebraska, on the 10th day of October, 1909, at the hour of 1 o'clock p. m. to show cause why a license should not be granted to said guardian to sell said real estate.

Dated this 28th day of August 1909.

HARVEY D. TRAVIS, Judge of the District Court.

D. O. Dwyer, attorney.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of an order of sale, issued by James Robertson, Clerk of the District Court, within and for the County of Cass, State of Nebraska, and to me directed, I will on the 15th day of October, A. D. 1909, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, at the south door of the Court House, in said county and state, sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described real estate, to-wit: Lots five (5) and six (6), block four (4), in Munger's First addition to the Village of Alvo, in the County of Cass, State of Nebraska, the same having been ordered sold under decree of foreclosure, by said court, to satisfy a decree of judgment in the sum of $735.45 and costs recovered by Melvin J. Stone, executor of the last will and testament of Isaac Stone, deceased, against Belle Bennett, Roy Bennett, Willard L. Clites (or Clite), Eva Eganette Clites (or Clite), a minor, and Willard L. Clites (or Clite), her natural guardian, Elmer Bennett and Maude Bennett, his wife, Arzilia Foreman (nee Bennett), and George P. Foreman, Jr., her husband; Earle Bennett, a minor, and Belle Bennett, his natural guardian, defendants. Dated at Plattsmouth, Nebraska, July 19, 1909.

C. D. QUINTON, Sheriff.

Ramsay & Ramsay, Attorneys for Plaintiff.

STATE OF NEBRASKA, IN COUNTY COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF CASS.

In the matter of the estate of August Stohman, Deceased.

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT.

All persons interested in said estate are hereby notified that there will be a hearing upon the petition of the administratrix for final settlement of said estate before this court at Plattsmouth in said county and state on the 25th day of October, 1909, at 10 o'clock a. m., and that all objections thereto must be filed on or before said day and hour of hearing.

Witness my hand and the seal of the county court of said county this 4th day of October, A. D. 1909.

(Seal.) ALLEN J. BEESON, County Judge.

Ramsay & Ramsay, Attorneys for Estate.

Notice of Dissolution.

Notice is hereby given that the co-partnership of E. G. Doved & Son, heretofore composed of the signers hereof, is by mutual consent this day dissolved. Oliver C. Doved retiring therefrom. The business of said partnership will be conducted hereafter under the name of E. G. Doved & Son, by George E. Doved and Horatio N. Doved, who assume all debts and liabilities of the former firm and will pay the same.

HORATIO N. DOVEY, GEORGE E. DOVEY, OLIVER C. DOVEY.

Plattsmouth, Neb., September 22, 1909.

N. H. Isbell.

The R. F. D. portrait gallery of the Omaha News contained the following last evening in reference to N. H. Isbell, the rural route carrier on route No. 1 out of this city: He has been in Uncle Sam's service eight years, carrying musket two years and carrying mail six years. He travels thirty-two miles every day except Sundays and holidays, zero weather and blizzards not excepted. He has no use for a substitute only when he takes his annual vacation. Mr. Isbell serves 115 families and handles about 9,000 pieces of mail per month. He says that he only has one kicker on his route, and that is an old lady 85 years of age. Sometimes when she comes out for the mail and he hasn't any for her, she threatens to tip his wagon over. Then he gives her the Taft smile and that settles it.

Colonel Thrasher Returns.

Colonel Thrasher and Mrs. Thrasher returned to their home in this city last night on the midnight train, having arrived in Omaha from Persia, Ia., too late to get the Burlington train down. The colonel and Mrs. Thrasher attended the wedding of their nephew, R. Davis, son of H. H. Davis and wife of Persia, and Miss Baker of that town. Both parties to the ceremony are of prominent families in the community and enjoy the friendship of a large circle of acquaintances.

The groom is the owner of a fine farm and the happy couple will go to housekeeping with pleasant surroundings.

W. T. Adams was called to Omaha on business this morning.

Tickling in the Throat

"Just a little tickling in the throat!" Is that what troubles you? But it hangs on! Can't get rid of it! Home remedies don't take hold. You need something stronger—a regular medicine, a doctor's medicine. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral contains healing, quieting, and soothing properties of the highest order. Ask your doctor about this. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Constipation positively prevents good health. Then why allow it to continue? An active liver is a great preventive of disease. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. What does your doctor say?

STILL IN THE SOUTHLAND

Another Epistle From Charles Grimes Now Sojourning at Waco, Texas.

Waco, Texas, Oct. 8.—This fifth installment of a great journey in a far land has been delayed by several causes, but it is duly forwarded, as its manifold lessons of interest and junk must not be wasted. The people simply wouldn't stand it. We take up our journey where we quit it on Saturday in Kansas City.

And while here let us take a few moments to contemplate that venerable relic of antediluvian days—the union station. This antique monument rears its unstable and uncertain head aloft in a manner which seems to threaten the lives of the thousands who every day pass its portals. It is surely a ruin, and the action of the railroads in unloading on a $3,000,000 structure comes none too soon.

It is a curious study to watch the many types of humanity constantly streaming through the doors of this station. Odds and ends of the human race from the four quarters of the globe, merchant princes of the United States elbowing the Chinese coolie, a newly arrived Russian emigrant with his heavy fur cap, the perspiration streaming down his face, side by side with the Mexican in his thin tropical garments and fantastic straw sombrero, all making part and parcel of the future American. Perhaps no city in the United States can boast of a more cosmopolitan procession through its gates than Kansas City, the midway city of America.

Kansas City is one of the great railway centers of the world. Few other cities rival it in the number of trains daily moving in and out its portals, and it is a great clearing house for all points north, south, east and west. In the Kansas City union depot one gets his first touch of the southwest in the big, broad-shouldered white-hatted cattleman of Oklahoma and the Panhandle. It is the gateway to that land of romance now enjoying its "boom" period—Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and beyond.

I was a passenger out of Kansas City on the M., K. & T. railway, taking their noon train, so as to see as much of eastern Kansas and Oklahoma and Texas as possible. This train has very nearly as good equipment as the Burlington's No. 6, and is a long, heavy train drawn by powerful and handsome engines. One noticeable feature of the Katy is the symmetrical outlines of their locomotives. They are handsome in design and finish, and give one an impression of their power even before they are in motion. The cars are also modern in every respect and apparently every effort is made to please the most fastidious traveler. Only a few days since the Katy inaugurated a new limited train between Kansas City, St. Louis, Dallas, Ft. Worth, Waco, San Antonio and Houston, which rivals any in America for comfort, and is among the fastest trains running. It leaves Houston and San Antonio in the morning, Ft. Worth and Dallas at night and arrives in Kansas City the next morning and St. Louis that night. That is going some.

The Katy is almost, if not quite, the only independent railway left in the country, and many times it has been reported as in the hands of Messrs. Hill, Morgan, and Harriman in his lifetime. It would seem a pity to have so fine a system and one so progressive pass into the hands of exploiters and so ruin its immense benefit to the country it passes through.

The road uses the Frisco tracks from Kansas City to Paola, Kas., a distance of forty-three miles, and it is a fine piece of track. The Katy makes no stops on the strip but merely hits the high spots. And it may be remarked here the native's call it Pi-o-l instead of Pa-o-la as we benighted heartens do. I know because a number of male persons asked me when we would get to Pi-o-l. One young man whose home was manifestly in that vicinity seated himself by me and got his anger in quite deep, seeking to probe the mystery of my birth. I suspected, however, I thwarted his fell designs. He, too, called it Pi-o-l. There were two young women from the country seated back of us and he soon gave me up as a bad job and fell to bothering them. As they had female laughs of their own, they soon routed him on his own battlefield. Then he sought to involve me in the mess but after gazing upon the weird and unusual beauty of the young women and hearing them call it Pi-o-l also, I fled to the smoking room, and spent the rest of the distance enmeshed in the smoke of the vile cigars of the news butcher. It was preferable to the disjointed and broken storm of proper names and things these young people were laddling out.

From Kansas City south the country is rolling prairie, much like our own Nebraska west of Plattsmouth—a beautiful, gently undulating land, ordinary fruitful and with abundant harvests but this year, a sufferer from drouth. Come, the chief staple through this section is short, very short and in most fields it is being cut for fodder. The ground is very dry, much more so than farther north. Kansas and Missouri farmers have been hard hit by the drouth.

The towns along here are not much—mere collections of little frame stores and dwellings with the omnipresent corn crib at the station. station was called Koch—suppose after our former fellow townsman Jakle, but don't know—maybe not.

Paoli is the first town of importance and it looks like a fine little town from the train, progressive and up-to-date with electric lights and waterworks. Here the Katy parts company with the Frisco and takes its own rails. There is no difference noticeable, making all the stops, however.

This is a land of orchards now, and hereabouts times are better. The fruit crop is a good one and the raisers are getting good prices. Apples are plentiful throughout this section. The country is more broken and rougher but is pretty and attractive to the eye. Fall plowing is in progress and the farmers are raising great clouds of dust. This is dry plowing with a vengeance.

Along here William got severely rebuked by a young woman about sixty-one years of age. She sat across the aisle and more open work sex with large and expensive shoes and she was quite pleased with her general ensemble, especially the hat. She picked up her suit case and sat it in her lap. She then commenced a vigorous struggle to break into the thing but the dock refused to work. After watching the Y. W. S. frantic efforts awhile, I concluded I was called on to volunteer my assistance and rose to my feet, crossing the aisle. With a bow which would have put the late Lord Chesterfield to blush, I inquired "Lady, might I be of assistance to you in your home of distress." If I didn't put it just that way, I meant it anyway. She never even looked up, but said "Nur! I'm perfectly capable of tending to my own business." I was stunned and bewildered. Here was my well meant efforts sternly cast aside and myself withered and shamed. I could only murmur "much obliged" and sink into my seat dazed and confused. However, I lived to even up matters with this young woman as I will later show.

CHARLES GRIMES.

Miss Helen Foster has been suffering the past few days with an attack of appendicitis.

PORTLAND, MAINE, CHILD

Ill, Weak and Emaciated, Restored to Health by Vinol
"Our little daughter, six years of age, after a severe attack of the measles, which developed into pneumonia, was left pitifully thin, weak and emaciated. She had no appetite, and her stomach was so weak it could not retain food. She lay in this condition for weeks, and nothing the doctor prescribed did a bit of good, and we were beginning to think she would never recover."

"At this time we commenced to give her Vinol, and the effect was marvelous. The doctor was amazed at her progress, and when we told him we were giving her Vinol, he replied, 'It is a fine remedy, keep it up.' We did so, and she recovered her health and strength months before the doctor thought she could." J. W. Flagg, Portland, Me.

Vinol cures conditions like this because in a natural manner it increases the appetite, tones up the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body.

GERING & CO. Druggists

PERKINS HOTEL

GUTHMAN & CORY, Proprietors

Plattsmouth, Nebraska

RATES $1.00 PER DAY

We Solicit the Farmers' Trade and Guarantee Satisfaction.

WHEN IN THE CITY GIVE US A CALL

The Perkins Hotel