Short Items of Interest From Monday's Evening Journal

Cecil Thomas and wife are visitors today in Omaha, going there on the early train.

Miss Clara Payne is spending the day in Omaha, going to that city this morning on the early train.

M. Martin is spending today in Omaha, being a passenger for that city on the early morning train.

Mrs. Wade Windham is spending today in Omaha, being a passenger for that city on the morning train.

Horace E. Rand is spending today in Omaha, being a passenger for that city this morning on the early train.

Mr. Ray came down from Omaha last Saturday to spend Sunday in the city with friends, returning to his home this morning.

Miss Gertrude Stonner spent Sunday in the city with her folks and friends, returning to Lincoln on the morning Burlington train.

A. L. Anderson and wife were north-bound passengers this morning for Omaha, going there to visit relatives and spend several days.

Charles Miller, one of the good citizens of the precinct, came in yesterday and was a passenger for Omaha, where he spent the afternoon.

Peter C. Hansen came down last Saturday from Omaha, where he is working for the Union Pacific, and spent Sunday with his folks in this city, being a passenger for Omaha on the early Burlington train this morning.

Christian E. Metzger, Cedar Creek's good citizen and business man, was a passenger for Omaha this morning, having come in from his home last evening to take the morning Burlington train for that city.

Judge Travis held a brief session of district court this morning and entered an order in the case of Fisher vs. Larsen et al in which anyone opposing the confirmation of the sale of the property has until next Monday, November 8, in which to file objections.

Mrs. Henry C. Miller and son John came in last evening from their home at Jamesport, Mo., to make their future residence in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have rented the rooms over Weacott's store and hereafter will be at home to their friends at that location.

Wille Egenberger, who has been so seriously ill from appendicitis for several weeks, was able to be out of the house last Saturday, driving down from the house in a carriage for a few hours' sunshine. His many friends will be glad to hear that he is able to be out.

France Balance came over yesterday morning from Glenwood to spend several days with his parents and to cast his vote. France brought with him a fine pair of ferrets which he made a present of to Claus Speck. He secured them from William Houston, a ferret raiser of Glenwood and they were mighty fine animals. France, although a Republican, expressed the hope that a large number of candidates on the Democratic ticket would be elected and indicated a preference for the good fellows who are making the race.

Thomas L. Murphy spent Sunday in the city with his folks, coming down from his pharmaceutical pursuits in Omaha Saturday evening for that purpose. Thomas intended to return to the thriving little city up the creek on the early M. P. train, but found it would not arrive here, let alone get to Omaha, until late in the day, so he wisely transferred his patronage to the Burlington. Mr. Murphy is not a profane man, but he was much perturbed over the foolish policy of the Gould system in running trains regardless of schedule, and roundly berated the management for their policy.

Frank H. Smith of the Journal visited with friends in Omaha yesterday.

Charles M. Hiett and wife are visitors today in Omaha, going there this morning on the early train.

John J. Svoboda and family departed Saturday afternoon for Haystack, where the spent Sunday with friends.

Gus Beumelster, one of the good citizens of the precinct, was in the city Saturday transacting business and meeting friends.

A. J. Seaman of Omaha is in the city today attending to the tax sale, Mr. Seaman being a bidder on several parcels of land throughout the city.

L. D. Brown and sister, Mrs. Nix of Kenosha, spent Saturday afternoon in the city visiting with our townspeople and looking after business matters.

Misses Anna, Clara and Nettie Jirousek were passengers for Omaha this morning, going up to spend the day in the metropolis.

Prof. Ed. Schullhof came over last Saturday for the purpose of spending Sunday with his folks, returning to Glenwood this morning.

J. B. Austin, trainmaster of the Burlington, came down this morning from Omaha, and is attending to company business in the city.

Miss Alice Kerr of Glenwood spent Sunday with her mother and sisters, accompanied by Miss Rilla Drew, who also visited at the Kerr home over Sunday.

Mrs. Guy France and daughter Oeola, came down yesterday evening to spend several days in the city guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Bates.

L. G. Larson, the contractor, is looking after business matters today in Pacific Junction, being a passenger for that municipality this morning on the early train.

Peter Neilson and family came down yesterday morning and spent the day visiting with M. Bajack and family, returning to their home in Omaha this morning.

A. DeAcord, who has been working in Thurman, Ia., for some time past, came over last Saturday and is figuring on opening a business in the city in a few days. Mr. Acord is a good citizen, well known here, and his many friends are rejoiced to know he is returning once more to make his residence among them.

S. Lindholm and wife were passengers this morning for Omaha, where they will spend the day looking after business matters and visiting with friends. Mr. Lindholm is the gentleman who recently purchased the fine farm of ex-Senator Thomas, west of the city, and is one of the best citizens of this vicinity. He recently added his name to the Journal's list, and it was a welcome addition, as this paper is pleased to enroll the best of Cass county's citizens on its list.

Kills Snake on Street.

It isn't often that a man kills snakes in the public highways of a real live city, but this happened last Saturday when Messrs. McDaniels and Sales found a reptile crawling about on the sidewalk near Ed. Mason's store, and proceeded to slay it. The snake was a harmless one of the garter variety and did not create much of a sensation, but for a moment it rather worried the brave men who destroyed it. They thought it wasn't the real goods, but they found from actual experience that it had all the necessary appurtenances of a real, live reptile, and they then proceeded to put it very much to the bad.

Miss Davis of Union has been a guest of Miss Edyth Pitz for a few days.

A Burlesque Shower.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gould entertained a company of friends at a card party at their rooms at the Hotel Ribley Saturday evening in a most delightful manner. The occasion was in honor of Miss Cora M. Walker and Mr. W. A. Sharp, whose marriage occurred today at Kansas City, Mo.

The principal amusement was derived from the fascinating game of high five, which was entered into with much interest and enthusiasm. Miss Mae Patterson captured the high prize and Miss Walker the second prize. Following the cards the guests repaired to the dining room, where a delicious luncheon was served. In deference to the season the table decorations consisted of a large pumpkin with black cat decorations and containing assorted fruits and place cards with the black cat decoration and bearing the names of the guests. After doing ample justice to the luncheon provided the guests returned to the Gould rooms, where the bride and groom-to-be were given a burlesque shower, which proved particularly amusing to all. Those who enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Gould's hospitality were Misses Cora Walker, Genevieve Howard, Pearl Nischo, Mae Patterson, Mrs. Shalala and Messrs W. A. Sharp, Robert Hayes, George Mann and Frank Gobelmann.

On Sunday the same parties were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gobelmann at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark White, ten miles south of this city. This affair was also in honor of Miss Walker and Mr. Sharp. The party was conveyed by a carryall, and the drive along the river and through the woods was particularly enjoyable. Arriving at the White home they were heartily welcomed and social conversation and vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed until dinner was announced. It was a notable gathering of sons and daughters of pioneer families that assembled in the dining room. With appetites keenly whetted by the morning ride, ample justice was done to the many good things which graced the board.

The afternoon was spent in sauntering about the farm and bluffs near by. It was a late hour in the afternoon when the guests took their departure after having spent a day long to be remembered.

For Sale.

Small farm, 13-1-2 acres, 1-1-2 miles south of Plattsmouth, on Rock Bluff road; good improvements with plenty of apples, pears, grapes and other fruit. Possession given either with crop or after crop is taken off. Further particulars and terms of Claus Jess at the farm.

LOUISVILLE.

(Courier.)

Dr. J. Vanvooghe is having the material delivered on the ground for the erection of a neat residence on railroad avenue.

The new telephone exchange and the Ribley block are nearing completion and add greatly to the appearance of Main street.

Uncle George Schooman came up from Plattsmouth Wednesday evening and visited until Thursday with his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Hoover and other relatives and old-time friends. He went from here to Berlin for a short visit with his son Henry.

At the German church west of town Wednesday occurred the marriage of Miss Mary Wegner, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wegner, and Mr. Rainhard School, both well known in this vicinity. After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride. The Courier extends congratulations.

Charles Siekjest, wife and two children of Euclid, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peizer Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Siekjest moved from Louisville fifteen years ago and settled on a farm near Euclid. He tells the Courier that for the first few years it was pretty hard plodding but now they raise abundant crops and he is growing rich. He paid the Courier office a short visit in company with his son and renewed his subscription for another year.

The Woodman hall was the scene of such activity Wednesday night and the lodge got was given a test of his physical ability. A class of about thirty untamed candidates were introduced to his goatship but he was game to the last, and after a couple of weeks rest will be quite himself again. District Deputy James had been at work in the vicinity of Louisville, Cedar Creek and South Bend for a couple of weeks and succeeded in organizing this large class. There were more than a hundred members present to see the initiation. Among the distinguished visitors were Dr. W. E. Cook of Plattsmouth, state physician and State Deputy Kester, both of whom addressed the assemblage. The local camp is in splendid condition and its membership is composed largely of young men who are wide-awake and enjoy the meetings.

ELMWOOD.

Leader-Echo.

Bert Buster and wife of Seward were visitors over Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Buster.

Frank Rosenow was over from Murdock Sunday. Yes, the smile that won't come off since the stork's visit to his home.

Cecelia Brekenfeld has resigned her position as bookkeeper for the Union Lumber company and is now clerking for Pennerman Bros.

D. Smith came in Saturday from Venango, Neb., for a short visit with his Elmwood friends. The Smith family are well and happy and pleased with their new location.

Mrs. George Bogenrief was taken to the state hospital for the insane at Lincoln Monday evening. Her many friends will be sorry to learn that her condition was considered thus serious.

Bert Bennet has resigned his position at Wood's meat market and is preparing to move his family to Bethany, where he will enter the meat market business on his own account. We join his many friends in wishing him and his estimable family success and an abundance of friends in their new home.

Advertised Letter List.

Mrs. W. B. Mayes and baby of Columbus, Neb., who have been visiting with the Misses Helen and Irene Jess, returned to her home this morning. The Misses Jess accompanied her as far as Omaha for the day.

James Craig of Burwell, Neb., who has been visiting with friends in this city for several days, returned to his home this morning. Mr. Craig was born in this county and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Craig, for many years residents of this city.

Mirt Cochrun and wife of Wyoming, who have been visiting with Joseph Tubbs and family, departed for their home this morning. Mr. Cochrun is a prominent farmer of eastern Wyoming and a most excellent gentleman. Mrs. Cochrun formerly was Miss Mayme Tubbs, well known in this city and vicinity.

Mrs. Lizzie Heath, state superintendent of fair and open air meetings of the Indiana W. C. T. U., and delegate to the recent Omaha convention, a national affair, in company with her sister, Mrs. Ida Overshine, both cousins of Dr. J. H. Hall and M. A. Hall of this city, are visiting with Dr. Hall and family for a short time.

P. L. Sutton of Rock Bluffs came in this morning to take the early train for Rosalia, Pender county, Neb., but got here just in time to be too late, and had to wait until the afternoon train. He goes up to Pender county to visit his brother and help him with his fall work. He ordered the Journal sent to him for four months, presuming that he would be gone that length of time.

M. S. Briggs departed this morning for Pacific Junction, where he has some work to look after. Mr. Briggs sustained injuries much more severe than anticipated at first, when he was accidentally thrown from the ladder in the Coates block several days since. It was found on examination that he had sustained a fractured rib and was very badly bruised about the arms and body. Despite his injuries he continues to follow his trade of painting and paper hanging and sees that his work is taken care of.

Miss Tona Janda is visiting in Omaha this afternoon.

Dr. A. P. Barnes was a business caller in Omaha this afternoon.

Prof. J. W. Gamble departed this afternoon for Lincoln, where he will attend the State Teachers' association.

George Fester, the genial proprietor of the box ball bowling alley, is taking in the sights in Omaha this afternoon.

John McNurlin came in this morning from his farm near Cedar Creek. Mr. and Mrs. McNurlin have been out in that section among friends and relatives for the past two weeks, and Mr. McNurlin came in to vote, returning this afternoon.

J. W. Sutton, who has been visiting relatives south of town for the past month, departed this afternoon for Bancroft, Neb., where he will remain for the winter. Mr. Sutton has made northern Nebraska his home for the past year.

Ed. Lutz and John Hallstrom were among the Plattsmouth landseakers who departed this afternoon on No. 7 for Miller, S. D. They are both prospective purchasers should they find anything in that locality that looks good to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boeck were passengers for Omaha this afternoon, where they go to spend the day and return with Mrs. Gyger tonight or tomorrow, who will spend a few days visiting at their home. Mrs. Gyger is an old resident of this city, and a great friend of Mr. and Mrs. Boeck.

When your wife is housecleaning it is just as well not to get into any argument. You lose. There is something about the work that absolutely convinces a woman that she is right, and a long-winded debate is dangerous while there are so many loose articles scattered promiscuously about the room. Savey.

If the world looked as cherry to a guy all through life as it does a couple of days before he is married, the price of hard coal or wages wouldn't bother him much. But after he wakes up there are several things besides the toothache that tempt him to violate the ordinary rules of a well regulated Sunday school class.

Misses Stanfield Jones, Emma Falter, Della Tartsch, Vista Douglas and Christina Hansen, who are attending the state normal at Peru this winter, will arrive home this evening for a visit with parent and friends the rest of the week. The students of the state normal are enjoying a vacation at this time so that their instructors may attend the teachers' association, which meets at Lincoln.

John McNurlin came in this morning from near Cullom, where he has been assisting the Seybert boys gather corn. John never misses voting if he can help himself, and he stopped work long enough to come to town for that purpose. He does not like to loaf about town when he knows they need him on the farm, although he has plenty laid up for the veritable rainy day.

Lights at the Shops.

Mr. M. A. Gardner, electrical engineer, and his assistant, Mr. Collins, arrived in the city this morning from the east and spent the day up to the time No. 7 departed this afternoon looking over the light situation at the B. & M. shops. As we understand all plans for the electrical wiring were made by this gentleman, and it depends upon what their report may be as to whether or not the company installs their own dynamo for their lights or they become patrons of the home company. The Journal is, indeed, pleased to see such improvements made in the shops at this point. It certainly looks as if they were preparing for long hours of work during the coming winter months.
