L. G. Larson was a passenger to Pacific Junction on the noon train, where he will look after some carpenter work at the residence of John Olson. Mr. Larson has been on the sick list for the past few days and is not improving as rapidly as he would like.

One of the results of the recent election which was particularly to the information that his nephew, Thomas Robertson had once more been re-elected as county clerk of Franklin county. This makes the sixth term for that gentleman and is a striking testimonial to his popularity. He and one other Republican comprised the sole survivors of the election on the Republican ticket in that county, consequently he has good cause to feel proud of his victory.

An echo of the litigation which has been taken place ever since the death of the late Samuel S. Johnson near Elmwood, cropped up this morning in the county court, where the administrator was having the hearing on claims before Judge Beeson. The claim of C. E. Beckwith against the estate amounting to a sum in the neighborhood of $3,000 was the bone of contention, the administrator resisting payment. The case consumed all the morning and a good part of the afternoon, there being a large array of witnesses on hand for the hearing.

K. C. Clark of Union was in the city today, coming up this morning from his home. Mr. Clark is a brother of C. G. Clark, the young man who was killed a few days since by a fall from an electric light pole at Fairbury. This accident attracted widespread attention throughout the state at the time. Mr. Clark was notified of the unfortunate occurrence and hurried at once to that point, being present at the last services over his beloved brother. In his sorrow at the untimely taking away of his cherished brother, Mr. Clark has the sympathy of the entire community.

Buried at Union.

Charles G. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Clark of this place, who was accidentally killed at Fairbury, last Friday, was buried in Union, Monday at 10 o'clock a. m. Rev. Lake officiating.

Besides the father and mother, the three remaining sons were present at the funeral.

The particulars of Mr. Clark's untimely end are as follows: He had climbed a telephone pole to the height of about twenty-five feet and expected to repair an electric light wire that had broken and was being whipped around by a strong wind. Mr. Clark walked out on a cross piece with his hands above his head holding on to the telephone wires when the wind whipped the electric wires across and the current charged the telephone wires that he held. He pitched forward and struck on his head on the ground. He lived but 30 minutes, dying without gaining consciousness.

Willis G. Clark of Thomas, Okla., arrived last Sunday and attended the funeral services of his brother. Two brothers reside in Union.

He leaves to mourn his loss besides his father and mother three brothers, a wife and four children.—Weeping Water Republican.

Distinguished Visitors.

SPECTACULAR CAPTURE OF ROBBERS.

Three Young Men Landed in Jail Charged With Robbing Car Bunks at Oreadopolis.

Sheriff Quinton this morning made a spectacular capture of three car robbers near the stand pipe in the north part of the city. The three men who were landed in jail, had broken into the bunk car of a gang working for the Missouri Pacific at the Oreadopolis semaphore tower, and presumably had stolen some of the belongings of the men. They were seen to enter the car and according to the testimony of one of the witnesses the men did not have any overcoats when they entered the car but they had two when they left. The bunk car was standing on the tracks in the yards here. The party discovering the burglary at once notified the sheriff's office and Sheriff Quinton started out to get the men. He impressed a team and buggy on Main street and headed north, his informant telling him the men had crossed the hill to the east of the M. P. yards and were going over in the direction of the standpipe. It was near the latter place that the sheriff came up with his prey after having driven the team on a wild run up Sixth and other streets, being obliged to change from one to the other as the streets became bad. The men were considerably surprised when the sheriff dashed upon them but offered no resistance and went peacefully to jail. Sheriff Quinton says the owner of the team certainly did not spare them and drove them to a finish to come up with the culprits. The men are young, being about twenty-two years of age except one, who is a mere boy. The other two are evidently professionals in the business and have had much experience. It is not known just what the men took at this writing, two overcoats being the only outward signs of their plunder. The men will remain in jail pending the return of County Attorney Ramsey, who is at Lincoln today. The race of the sheriff excited considerable attention from many spectators.

Died of Heart Trouble.

Mrs. H. B. Green died shortly before 12 o'clock Wednesday night at the home of her son, Heston Green, who resides on the Colonel Reeves place south of Knox.

Deceased was past 60 years of age and for a long time had been afflicted with heart disease. Last Saturday she had a bad spell, and about 11 o'clock Wednesday night experienced another attack, which resulted fatally in spite of all that could be done for her relief.

Mrs. Green's home was in Plattsmouth. Some weeks ago she and her husband came to their son's for a visit and later Mr. Green decided to remain and help his son husk his crop of corn.

No arrangements at the time of our going to press had yet been made for the holding of the funeral.—Thurman (Iowa) Times.

FATAL INJURIES FROM FALL.

C. G. Clark, a Former Thurman Man Falls From Telephone Pole at Fairbury, Neb.

Charles G. Clark, a well known young man and former citizen of this place, fell from a telephone pole at Fairbury, Neb., Friday last and sustained injuries which resulted in his death thirty minutes later.

He was the son of K. D. Clark, who ten or twelve years ago conducted a store in Thurman, and who owned a farm southwest of town. The deceased was in the restaurant business here for a time which he relinquished to engage in the work of telephone lineman. He helped to install the independent telephone line which now comprises the Fremont County Telephone company system. He was a brother-in-law of T. E. Hines of this place and N. R. Kenady of Council Bluffs. A press dispatch in the Omaha Bee tells of the fatal accident as follows:

"Charley G. Clark, wire chief of the Bell Telephone company fell from a thirty foot pole today and struck on his head, dying in thirty minutes without regaining consciousness. Just two hours before the accident, Clark had taken out an accident insurance policy after being pleaded with by his brother, who made a special trip here for that purpose, to provide protection for his wife and four small children in case he should be fatally injured in his hazardous work."

Clark's body was prepared for burial and shipped to Union, Neb., where the parents now reside, the funeral occurring Sunday afternoon.—Thurman (Iowa) Times.

Will Be Swept Hereafter.

Some mean persons who had swept their streets this morning perpetrated a low down, ornery trick on some of their less energetic neighbors by putting up signs in the street in front of their places of business, one of which read, "No trespassing on this field" and another read, "$5 fine for gardening here." They seemed to labor under the delusion that the rich, ripe soil which encompassed the streets thereabouts were intended as a field for corn planting or to raise the luscious pumpkin in. The parties whose portion of the street had been decorated did not seem to appreciate the joke but the neighbors had a merry laugh at them and the passing throng also made merry over the humor of the sign painters. It is reported that the street in front of these places will be swept in the future to prevent anymore such humorous demonstrations.

His First Visit.

Dan Fenteman, who lives near Elmwood in Otoe county, yesterday made the first visit he ever made to this city, although he had been a resident of the vicinity of Elmwood for forty years. He expressed himself as most agreeably surprised at the city and at its size, having entertained a delusion that the place was a small town. He should make his visits more frequently and he will like the city and its people more as he gets better acquainted.

Death of Mrs. Kennedy.

Mrs. Mary Kennedy, formerly of this city, died in Omaha, Saturday, November 6, 1909 at 12:40 p. m.

Mrs. Kennedy had been failing in health for a year or more and Sunday was suddenly taken with paralysis, having a second stroke Thursday noon from which she never rallied. She leaves a large family, the sons being John, of Topeka, Kas.; Felix, of Sheridan, Wyo.; Ed., of Marquette, Mich.; and daughters Mrs. John McCann, of South Omaha; Mrs. Joseph McCaffrey, of Omaha; Mrs. Leo Schroder, of Perham, Minn.; and Misses Anna and Glanche Kennedy of Omaha.

Funeral services will be held in Omaha and the remains brought to this city on Monday, November 8, at 10 a. m., and taken direct from the train to the cemetery west of the city, where they will be laid at rest beside her husband and three children.

The news of Mrs. Kennedy's passing away will be received with the deepest regret by many in this city who had known the deceased in her life time and who had learned to appreciate the many womanly qualities with which she was endowed. The sorrowing family are assured of the sincere sympathy of all in their loss of a most loving mother.

Credit Given Brains and Muscle.

James J. Hill, builder of the Great Northern railway, is to deliver an address to the farmers and visitors at the National Corn exposition to be held in Omaha December 6 to 18. Mr. Hill says he will present some figures to show that the west and the north are not indebted to favorable seasons and brute force alone for the good crops which will be harvested this year. He is a firm believer in the mixing of brains with muscle and gives brains most of the credit. His address is one of the big drawing cards of the exposition at Omaha.

Killed Sixty-Four Squirrels.

The open season on squirrels being made the most of by the farmers and others. The pesky little chaps have become so numerous that they are doing great damage in the corn fields. One farmer living about two miles west of Wymore, reports that he has killed sixty-four of those pests at one of his corn cribs since the season has opened, and he says that they appear just about as numerous as ever.

Oscar H. Allen, one of Wabash's best citizens is in the city today in attendance on county court as witness in the Bauer matter. Mr. Allen who is well known here and who is a strong Democrat, is more than pleased with the outcome of the election in this county and was glad to see so many good men go into office. Mr. Allen served through the Spanish-American war and left the army with the rank of lieutenant, being one of the best officers in the service.

Former Congressman and now City Attorney Jesse B. Strode of Lincoln, came down this morning as a witness in the Bauer matter and spend several hours with old friends and relatives in the city. Mr. Strode is one of Plattsmouth's old-time citizens, who is justly popular and his many friends were glad to shake his hand once more.
