

PLATTSMOUTH YOUNG MAN CAUGHT IN RAID ON ARCADE HOTEL AT OMAHA

Police Discover Him and a Young Woman Occupying Room and Haul Them Up in Police Court

Omaha is enjoying the sensation of a grand jury just now and it seems it is also getting some facts brought out regarding the uses to which some of the smaller and cheaper hotels of the city are being put. One of the things which has caused the grand jury investigation was the arrest last Sunday night at the Arcade hotel in that city of Bert Lamphier, a boy who has been employed in this city for some time past, and a 16-year old girl whose name is not given in the papers.

Lamphier left this city some week or ten days since. On Sunday night last, the police raided the Arcade hotel there and found him and the girl spoken of above occupying a room. They placed the two under arrest and took them to the station. The two were arraigned in police court on Tuesday morning and the girl at that time was paroled in the custody of her father. Lamphier was held to the county jail under bonds to await the action of the grand jury. He must have made some arrangements for bond as he is in this city today, having come down from Omaha this morning. It is said that the girl in the case at one time lived in this city or its immediate vicinity but has been living in Omaha for some time past with her parents.

The investigation by the grand jury is said to have disclosed a practice among boys and girls in the city of going to several of the smaller hotels and obtaining rooms together, remaining over night. In the Lamphier case, it is said the prolonged absence of the girl from home was what led the parents to complain to the police with the result that they located and arrested the pair.

Yesterday Probation Office Mogy Bernstein appeared before the grand jury at Omaha with a number of young girls who are said to have testified to the lax manner in which the hotels were run and the ease with which rooms were obtained. The hotel proprietors were also called before the jury and protested their innocence, some of them calling attention to the fact that they had notified the police of suspicious cases coming to their hotels. The action of the grand jury cannot, of course, be foreshadowed nor can the nature of the testimony given before them be told as everything is conducted with secrecy. The hotel proprietors and clerks, however, are plainly worried over the outlook.

JURY FIND AGAINST BOWERS

After Being Out Since Yesterday Afternoon, Return at 1.30 With a Verdict for the Defendant.

The jury in the case of Bowers vs. C. B. & Q. Ry., which went out yesterday afternoon at 11:30 this morning was still out and at that time the case looked like a disagreement. Immediately following the determination of this case or the discharge of the jury the case of Blish vs. the C. B. & Q. will be called for trial if the present arrangement of the docket is adhered to. During the interim this morning Judge Travis disposed of some equity matters and entered several orders in other cases.

In the case of the First National Bank of Plattsmouth vs. Hatt & Son et al, the following order was made: It is ordered that this cause stand and be tried on the pleadings filed in the county court and the issues made by the pleading be tried by this court without further pleading. Plaintiff excepts, defendant except.

The case of the Bank of Cass County vs. George Sheldon et al, a suit to quiet title to land, the court held a trial and granted judgment and decree as prayed for by the plaintiff.

In the matter of the application of Frances Skoumal, guardian, etc., for leave to sell real estate, a license to sell was granted. It appeared to the court that the value of all of the property was less than $500, it is ordered that the guardian sell said land at private sale. Bond was fixed at $100.

On last Monday the case of Speck vs. Speck was heard and decree given the plaintiff for the custody of the child, also granting her alimony in the sum of $300.

The jury in the case of Bowers vs. the C. B. & Q. Ry., came to an agreement this afternoon about 1:30 and reported to Judge Travis at that time. The verdict when read created a good deal of surprise around the court room and had evidently been arrived at after a long struggle as the jury went out about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They found for the defendant, Bowers, the plaintiff, sued the railroad company for $1,000 damages for the loss of a stallion and the injury to other animals and household property. His claim was that the injuries took place in the railroad yards of the Burlington in this city while the car in which the goods were being switched about. There was considerable conflicting testimony in the case but the general opinion seemed to be that the plaintiff would get a small verdict.

Owing to the jury having been out all night Judge Travis was inclined to give the members a brief breathing spell before entering upon the trial of the $25,000 damage case of Blish against the Burlington which is the next case on the docket. He excused the panel until 3 o'clock this afternoon when a jury will be impaneled in the case. It is probable the taking of testimony will not be commenced before tomorrow. (Friday) morning as the counsel on both sides as well as the court have the condition of the jury in mind. This case is one where Earl R. Blish asks $25,000 damages from the Burlington for the loss of his left foot which was so badly crushed in a collision in the local yards on the night of July 1, 1909, as to necessitate amputation. The contention is that the railroad company was negligent on which the plaintiff was employed as a fireman. The case has attracted much attention here and was given considerable publicity in the Journal at the time it occurred.

Why purchase any medicine whose maker dares not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

And I have selected honest and responsible druggists in every city and village everywhere to accept my plan and sell your. These selected druggists are selling my medicines with the sick—and the entire risk is mine alone.

But write me first for an order. I have an agent in almost every community—but all druggists are not authorized to grant the 30-day test.

So drop me a line, please—and thus save all disappointments and delays.

Besides, you are free to consult me by letter as you would your home physician. Do so freely and fully—if you desire. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost. Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan.

Besides, the books will open up new and helpful ideas to you. They tell of my 20 years experience at the sick people's homes and in Hospitals. All phases of diseases and relief are told of here. They tell of the "inside nerve" no larger than a hair, which controls the heart's impulse. How the stomach and kidney each have their inside or power nerve. How these organs sure fail when these controlling or master nerves begin to fail. How Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing nerves, and rebuilds and puts them to help you—it is within the power of medicine to do so. My best effort is surely worth your single request. So write now, while it is fresh in your mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.
