President Taft has reconsidered his announced plan to go to Panama, perhaps for fear of another landslide.

Leading politicians think that politics are the worst jumbled up this year they ever were in the history of Nebraska.

It must be rather embarrassing to President Taft to have his prerogative on a second term menaced by the bounding colonel.

As for the initiative and referendum, they are opposed by a great number of persons who don't know what the term means.

A good many standpat congressmen are still standing pat—for the reason that the voters denied them the privilege of running.

Perhaps Speaker Cannon will also regard the election of a democratic house in November as a means of letting him down easy.

New York has 9,000 law offices. This may have some connection with the proverbial rash of the Gotbamite and his being hard to get acquainted with.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson says, "the revision of the tariff has lost no man his job." He wouldn't dare make the assertion in the hearing of the Hon. Jim Tawney.

If Aldrich is in earnest about county option why did he vote against county option two years ago? He is anything to all men at all times—for votes.—Blair Democrat.

There is one problem of life which Mr. Roosevelt has not yet solved for us. He hasn't indicated how we are to curb the pirates who masquerade under the guise of waiters and hackmen.

Lincoln's population only increased a little over three thousand in the past ten years, and it is yet considerably below the 50,000 mark, which they have been boasting for the past two or three years.

Will Nebraska lose a congressman? It would appear that way from the census returns. The fact is the Nebraska enumerators were too honest. They should have went east and taken a few lessons from those who know how the trick is done.

And now comes John Barry Ryan, a New York enthusiast, who proposes to furnish the army and navy with a fleet of air ships, gratis, asking only the government's moral support. Aside from the item of maintenance would incidentally come that of starting up numerous recruiting stations and giving the pension roll a fresh boost.

Edgar Howard, of the Columbus Telegram, keeps pounding away at Congressman Hitchcock. He done this before the primary and Hitchcock carried Edgar's county by a big majority, and if he will insist on keeping it up till election day, the democratic candidate for senator will carry Howard's county by an overwhelming majority.

It is really interesting as well as amusing, to watch the many compliments the republican papers of Nebraska are paying W. J. Bryan. Much different to what it was two years ago, when these same papers couldn't say one word of praise for Mr. Bryan when he was a candidate for president. Now that he has deserted his party on the county option question, and refuses to support Dahlman for governor, the "Great Commoner" is a grand man and doing the right thing in their estimation. Out on such hypocrisy!

The United States senatorial committee appointed to investigate the charges of Lorimer buying his renomination, adjourned to take into consideration a motion of the accused's counsel, asking an indefinite postponement on the inquiry on the ground, among others, that the legislators who voted for his renomination might be "embarrassed" in their fight for re-election if called to testify. It is touching how solicitous and ample is the extension of senatorial courtesy. Even the postponement of the Ballinger inquiry was not based on such broad grounds as these.

AFTER ELECTION!

The republicans promise to make public the source of campaign contribution after the November congressional election.

The report of the standpat republican members of the Ballinger investigating committee is to be made public—after the election.

Nothing further is to be said of the $5,000,000 Taft-Humphrey ship-subsidy grab bill—until after election.

The soft pedal is to be applied to the Oklahoma Indian lands thievery—until after election.

Nothing is to be done with the Lorimer investigation—until after election.

No step is to be taken in the sugar trust-friar lands Philippine scandal—until after election.

The national monetary commission, of which Senator Aldrich is chairman, will not make its report recommending a central government bank—until after the November election.

And President Taft and his standpat followers will not quit talking about economy—until after the November election!—Nebraska City News.

A SCAVENGER CAMPAIGN.

The campaign of abuse and slander is not to confine itself exclusively to Mayor Dahlman, it appears. A mud-slinging assault is to be made, by republicans and assistant republican experts in the art of character assassination, on pretty much the entire democratic ticket, with Omaha's most notorious moral reformer, Victor Rosewater, in command of the slush bucket brigade.

Immediately on his return home from Mexico, Mr. Rosewater opens up, through the columns of the Bee, an attack on Ralph A. Clark, the democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, and another on Ben Hayden, the democratic candidate for railroad commissioner.

It matters not that Mr. Clark is a splendid and manly type of the young men of Nebraska, a man of education and culture, of unquestioned probity and the highest standing both at home and abroad; it matters not that, in the last legislature, he was one of the conscientious, hard-working, fearless and independent members of the house, and the efficient and fair chairman of the appropriations committee, giving to the state an expert business service worth thousands of dollars in return for a legislator's pittance; it matters not that his life, both private and public, is without flaw or blot—the scandal mongers are after him and branding him as "the bell-wether of the corporation lobby."

And Mr. Hayden, likewise, is denounced as "the trusted lieutenant of the notorious Tobe Castor" in managing the "legislative oil room" some twenty or thirty years ago! The preposterous nature of the charge and of its bearing on this year's campaign will be instantly recognized by the many thousands of Nebraskans who enjoy a personal acquaintance with Ben Hayden and who know him as a big-hearted and generous man, "square" and honest as he is modest, who leads a decent and a cleanly life and has the respect of all who know him.

It is not to be thought that this kind of a campaign can be made to win in Nebraska. It is not to be thought that the whited sepulchers of this state are to be permitted to be foul, with impunity, the names of good and reputable citizens.

The issues of this campaign are clearly defined. The candidates, as a rule, have frankly stated their several positions with respect thereto. When the agents of the republican candidates abandon a fair and manly debate of the great questions that are in controversy to take up a scavenger campaign against the democratic candidates they demonstrate not only the weakness of their cause but that they themselves do not believe the gospel they are preaching.

The people of Nebraska are intelligent enough to see clearly what is being done and why it is being done. And they have sufficient regard for fairness, decency and justice to rebuke, as they deserve to be rebuked, those who resort to this tactics.—World-Herald.

A CLEAN RECORD.

(Lincoln Wageworker.)

Mr. Hitchcock is a democrat—a fact that should not, among organized wage earners, count either for or against him. All that they should consider is how he stands toward organized labor and how his principles square with those of the labor organizations.

He is opposed to any such tariff law as we now have, but he is not a free trader. He believes that the highest measure of protection needed, and the highest justified, is a tariff that will make up the difference between the cost of production at home. He is the real father of the postal savings banks. He has always been steadfast in his opposition to corporate control of governmental affairs. His vote on all measures conducive to the welfare of labor has always been cast upon the right side. His record in congress is as straight as a string, and his record as an employer is one that should commend him to wage earners.

The Wageworker, which knows neither politics nor religion when it comes to the support of candidates for public office, believes that organized workingmen will honor themselves by supporting, working for and voting for Gilbert M. Hitchcock for the United States senate.

Come out and hear Mayor Dahlman, at the Parmele theatre tomorrow (Saturday) night.

If you are against county option, vote for candidates for the legislature who you know are opposed to the same.

Edward Payson Weston is threatening to walk to San Francisco again. What Mr. Weston needs most of all is a hobble skirt.

It may be necessary to send out a tracer to discover what has become of the Lorimer inquiry. Is this another case of "whitewashing?"

Make up your mind to vote for Hon. W. B. Banning, if you want a man in the State Senate who will always be alert to the best interests of his constituents.

Aldrich is anything to get the office. Mayor Dahlman is for principle first, and the office afterward. The people of Nebraska cannot term him a turncoat.

Walter Wellman is best known as the distinguished aviator and journalist who is always going to do something very soon.

Mayor Dahlman, democratic candidate for governor, will speak at the Parmele theatre, in this city, Saturday night, October 8, at 8 o'clock. Come out and hear him.

An expert says that one person in every 300 is insane. The standpatters are reaching the conclusion that about three persons in every four are insane.

The German Alliance is a great organization, and every German in the country will become a member. The demonstration at Lincoln this week was an immense affair.

You do not have to be a faith healer to give Senator LaFollette the benefit of all the absent treatment at your command. It is such standpatters as Burkett who need the application of faith-healing.

Taft, realizing that he will need all the republican votes he can scrape up this fall, has pardoned all of the sugar thieves recently convicted in New York at a heavy expense to the dear people.

Reference to Henry L. Stimson, the republican candidate for governor of New York as the "Nemesis of the sugar trust" is the first inking many persons have had that the sugar trust had a Nemesis.

How do you like this from Taft? He says it is his purpose to use the money deposited in the postal savings banks to complete the Panama canal. Your money will be pretty well soaked before you get it out of the canal.

It speaks something for the condition of Nebraska building and loan associations, and the laws governing them that the secretary of the state banking board has found nothing to kick about, and simply says, "I am not ready to point out any material changes."

The farmers of Cass county will not so easily forget the many favors that Congressman Maguire has paid them during his short term in congress. Mr. Maguire is a friend of the farmers and the laboring men of the first district. In fact he is a true friend of all the people.

Cass county needs a new jail worse than any county in the state. At the election on the 8th day of November the taxpayers will have an opportunity to vote for an additional levy for the purpose of erecting a jail. They are the ones who will determine whether or not we shall have a decent and safe place to keep prisoners.

BURKETT'S RECORD.

The following are some of the occasions when "Slippery" Elmer voted with Aldrich on the tariff schedules. These are taken from the Hemingford, Nebraska, Journal, one of the leading republican papers of the state, which severely condemns Burkett for his acts on these matters:

"May 11, against limiting the duty on earthenware and stoneware to 35 instead of 60 per cent.

"May 14, against putting farm implements and tools on the free list.

"The Payne bill taxes farm implements 15 per cent, although the Dingley rate of 20 per cent was found prohibitory. Whereas the manufacturers of agricultural implements had made $113,000,000 worth a year, the importations had only amounted to about $22,000 worth a year, and the manufacturers of farm implements have been for years selling a vast quantity of their products in foreign lands in competition with foreign manufacturers and at prices much below the prices at which they sell to American purchasers.

"May 18, in favor of increasing the duty on razors to 100 per cent instead of retaining the old duty of 55 per cent under the Dingley bill.

"May 18, against reducing the duty on cutlery, knives, razors and scissors; also for increasing the duty on umbrella frames.

"May 19, against putting sewing machines on the free list. Also against reducing the duty on sewing machines.

"May 27, to postpone consideration of the income tax. This was Aldrich's plan to kill the income tax amendment, which was being pressed by its friends.

"May 24, against putting lumber and other building materials, tools and white lead on the free list.

"June 7, for increasing the duty on cheap cotton gloves.

"June 12, against reducing the duty on woolen goods to 30 per cent.

"June 11, again voted to postpone consideration of the income tax.

"June 16, against free zinc to be used in making paints cheaper for the people.

"June 17, against reducing the duty on common window glass.

"June 24, for increasing the duty on boots and shoes from 15 to 20 per cent.

"June 25, for increasing the duty on wire nails.

"June 26, against putting agricultural implements on the free list.

"Then strangely enough, on the 26th day of June, in contradiction to his former vote, he voted in favor of putting all lumber on the free list.

"June 28, he voted against the reduction of all tariffs in the metal schedule. Also voted against putting text books on the free list. And the same day he voted against putting salt upon the free list.

"July 7, he again voted against putting agricultural implements upon the free list.

"July 7, he again voted against the income tax.

"And he claims now to be progressive! If this be progressiveness, God pity the poor farmer."

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8 hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $80 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless officials and places all graduates in positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S. C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.
