SITZMAN AND KEEZER ARE PLACED ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH MURDER

Jury Secured and State Examines Several Witnesses Including George Sanders, Who Was Witnessed the Crime.

The district court convened shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and proceeded to get a jury to try the case of the state against Louis Keezer and Isadore Sitzman, charged with attempted robbery and murder, and with murder and robbery on the persons of Mike Geno and George Sanders on the evening of September 1, last. The defense exercised but one of its peremptory challenges and the state three. The names of the jurors selected to try the case are: Chris Iske, George Kaffenberger, Oregon Douge, C. A. Harvey, G. L. Farley, Oscar Miller, H. P. Dehning, C. F. Vallery, G. E. Perry, F. H. Goodfellow, Elmer Hutchins and John Fowler, twelve good men and true, as the law requires.

Some preliminary matters were taken up and disposed of and while these were being discussed the jury was excused until 9 o'clock this morning.

The defendants' counsel, Judge Baker, made an oral motion to have the state elect on which of the several counts it would proceed upon and the matter was argued at some length, after which it was arranged to try the accused men on the count charging murder while attempting to commit robbery. The state made its opening statement to the jury, commencing about 10:15 this morning, immediately followed by the defendants' counsel, who went over the incidents leading up to the murder, and from the trend of the statement it appeared that the efforts of the defense will be to disprove premeditated or intentional murder. The attorney for the accused in his opening speech dwelt on the fact that the young men had been sent by Isadore's mother about 7 o'clock p. m. of the day, to the pasture for the cows, the pasture lying along the railway track on which the men were walking at the time they were assaulted and Geno was killed.

The state for its first witness placed on the stand Mr. J. P. Schroder, manager of the Newell & Atwood quarry. As its second witness and principal witness George Sanders was sworn and detailed the incidents leading up to the assault and murder, and in slightly broken English informed the jury of the assault upon himself, with a club which felled him to the ground. And when asked how long the robbers remained after the deadly assault, stated that they remained only long enough to take the money from their pockets. As soon as the witness could get up he went to where Mike Geno was lying, heard him utter a cry as if in fear, but could understand no words. Mike was lying at the side of the track and once attempted to get up, but could not rise, afterward he lay there in the weeds until the help Alex Martin had summoned from the quarry had arrived. John Gauer had arrived before the men from the quarry.

John Gauer was next called and testified to hearing the men call for help, and himself and his hired man hurried to the scene and arrived in time to see the two men running away toward Cedar Creek. Andre Thompson, the saloon keeper at Cedar Creek, was also sworn and testified on the part of the state, as to the condition of the three men who were assaulted, the substance of his testimony was that the three men were not intoxicated, that Sanders had drunk a glass of beer as late as three o'clock in his place, but did not buy any liquors himself. On cross-examination defendant's counsel had witness tell the jury that Mike Geno had bought a quart of whisky and put it in his pocket.

After Mr. Thompson's evidence was in, the court took a recess of five minutes so that the state could call Dr. Livingston.

Up to the time of going to press the state had called nine of its thirteen witnesses.

Visits Old Haunts.

Mr. Alex McIntosh, of Decatur, Illinois, was in Plattsmouth yesterday on business, and renewed old time acquaintances. Mr. McIntosh was a practicing attorney of this city more than twenty-five years ago, and was a partner of Judge Beeson's father and Judge Sullivan, and at one time he was deputy county clerk and filled that position for some time.

H. W. Baughman, living on the Dovey section west of town, was in the city yesterday and a caller on the Journal. Mr. Baughman, desiring to keep posted on county matters, had his name enrolled for the old reliable.

NO REASON FOR DOUBT

A Statement of Facts Backed by a Strong Guarantee.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 98 per cent of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want every one whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and cure baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, F. G. Fricke & Co., Union Block.

THE GREATEST PLAY COMING

"Ishmael" at the Parmele Saturday Night, November 12th.

Announcement that "Ishmael," that wonderfully interesting romance beloved by grandmother, mother and charm it has for many of the sterner sex, would they only admit it, is booked for the Parmele theatre next Saturday night, November 12, comes as the best news of many a day to countless people.

"Ishmael" was written many, many years ago, but not until recently was an adequate stage version completed. Fascinated by the dramatic qualities of the famous novel, Miss Grace Hayward, herself an actress from early girlhood and whose dramatization of "St. Elmo" and "Graustark" have pleased thousands, set to work to make a stage story of Mrs. Southworth's wonderful tale. That she has succeeded in building a cohesive, thrilling play, teeming with heart interest and with all the dramatic unities preserved in threading the stirring incidents that fill the chapters, is the testimony of thousands who had the good fortune to witness the first production. So spontaneous was the public verdict that a special company has been organized and is now entering on a tour which promises to mark an epoch in the history of dramatized novels. The company has been selected by a veteran manager of high reputation and organized with full consideration of the great scope and demands of Miss Hayward's play.

"Ishmael" has been a book for thousands, nay millions. Its romance is bewitching, its religious spirit is fervent, its power to thrill grows from chapter to chapter until the most casual reader finds his attention enchained and himself wrapped in the lives of the folk who move in and out of its action. The play may well be calculated to arouse equal interest, not only among the regular theatre-goers, but equally so among those who may be inclined, through honest but mistaken belief, to look askance at the stage.

Junior Auxiliary Evening at Rectory.

The cozy rectory of the St. Luke's church and the home of Rev. H. B. Burgess and wife was the scene of a splendid entertainment and social time given by the Junior Auxiliary of the church. It was very largely attended by the members of the auxiliary and their friends, who enjoyed a most delightful, as well as profitable evening. During the course of the entertainment a collection was taken, the Junior Auxiliary realizing a neat sum thereby. The Junior Auxiliary society is a band of young people of this church who are engaged in the study and work of missions, and the collection taken last evening will be used for promoting work along the mission line. We are informed that the Juniors are now busily engaged in preparing a box to be sent to the mission field. A most enjoyable feature of the entertainment of last evening was a musical program, which had previously been arranged for. There were vocal solos by Glen Scott and Miss Mildred Johnson, which were rendered in a very charming manner. There were instrumental selections contributed by Misses Nora Livingston, Dorothy Britt, Margaret Donelan and Emma Cummins, which were rendered in a very finished style. There were others on the program, whose names we were unable to procure and who deserve much praise for their style and manner of giving their particular selections, whether readings, vocal or instrumental solos. The pleasures of the evening were further augmented with a delicious luncheon, which was served at a convenient hour.

Unpleasant Dreams.

Persons suffering from unpleasant dreams or from disturbed, restless sleep, should keep in mind that this condition is usually due to some disturbance of the digestion and that they must change their mode of living. First clean out the whole system, as should be done in all diseases of the digestive organs, and give them more strength to enable them to do their work easily. This you will accomplish by using Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. The formula of this remedy has been changed lately to make it stronger and more effective and it will certainly gain the satisfaction of all our people. Constipation will be relieved by it at once and also many stomach troubles, and, by using the remedy for some time, should entirely be cured. Use it always when your appetite is poor and when you feel weak and tired. At drug stores, Jos. Triner, 1333-1339 So. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Illinois.
