

MEXICAN REBELS TAKE FIRST TOWN

Insurrectos in Full Possession of Mexcal.

PLAN TO TAKE OTHER TOWNS

Jailer Who Hesitated to Release Prisoners Only Man to Lose Life—Simon Barthold of California, Brains of Movement, Talks Freely.

Mexical, Mex., Jan. 20.—Mexical, the first border town to be captured by the insurrectos, is in full possession of the Mexican rebels. It was taken by a band of eighteen.

The only man to lose his life was the Mexican jailer, who hesitated to release his prisoners. He was shot through the window of his office and instantly killed.

The custom house was seized. Reinforcements are said to be flocking to the rebel standard from the surrounding country.

The capture of the town is the first sign of activity of the rebels on the western coast of Mexico.

The rebel general's chief aide was Simon Barthold, a socialist agitator from California. He talked freely to a press representative and declared that the movement was but a small part of a prearranged plan for a general insurrection. It was intended, he said, to take as rapidly as possible all the border and other towns of importance in the northwest section of Mexico. Barthold maintains that he has 300 insurrectos available for service.

ANIMALS HEALED BY PRAYER

Virgil O. Strickler Gives Testimony in New York Court.

New York, Jan. 20.—It is a common practice among Christian Science healers to apply their treatment to dogs, horses and other animals.

In the case against Willis V. Cole, a healer charged with a violation of the law against the practice of medicine without a license, Virgil O. Strickler, formerly an attorney of Omaha, who succeeded Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson as first reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientists, was testifying.

After a long examination, in which he explained that the general method of treatment is merely one of prayer, Mr. Strickler was asked if the treatment was confined to humans.

"No," he answered, impulsively, "animals, other than humans, may be affected by prayer."

The same question was asked Mr. Cole, and he replied with even more fervor than Mr. Strickler, that he had frequently treated animals. "Yes," he announced in a loud voice. "I have treated dogs and effected absolute cures."

PARIS MODES FOR GIRLS

Kansas City Y. W. C. A. Teaching Factory Employees to Make Easter Hats.

Kansas City, Jan. 20.—Packing house and factory girls in this city will wear the latest Paris fashions in hats next Easter. The plan has been devised by the sewing class at the Y. W. C. A. This class meets only once a week, but a milliner has been engaged and each of the dozen girls who now belong is working on her Easter hat. The hat is from a Paris fashion plate which the milliner has secured in advance. By Easter these young women, who cannot afford to buy even the most inexpensive creation from the French designs will be able to walk to church in a hat that will cause all to turn and look when she enters.

SEEK MISSING REPORT

House Employees and Public Printer Summoned Before Committee.

Washington, Jan. 20.—An investigation to determine what happened to the Ballinger-Pinchot committee's special report, which Representative Hitchcock of Nebraska declared had been unaccountably lost in its transmission from the house to the committee on agriculture, was begun by the house committee on rules.

The committee summoned Asher Hinds, parliamentary clerk to the speaker, and J. W. H. Reisinger, printing and document clerk, and requested an exact statement of the methods that had been followed in referring the report to the committee. The house printer will be summoned before the committee this week.

NO TRACE OF DOROTHY ARNOLD

All Theories of Disappearance Still Dropped.

MAY DRAG CENTRAL PARK LAKE

Father Gives Credence to Report She May Have Been Drowned—Missing Young Woman Believed to Have Been Seen Walking in Park.

New York, Jan. 20.—Through John S. Keith of counsel for the family of the missing Dorothy Arnold, was told in part of what they have done in their effort to find her, what theories they have held and how those theories have been exhausted.

"We have no theories left," said Mr. Keith. "We started with three—that it might be a love affair, discontent, or ambition or suicide. So far as we can see the theory of a love affair is not indicated. We are satisfied that Miss Arnold did not set out to earn her own living. As for suicide we only know that she seemed happy up to the moment she left."

So far as newspaper developments go the family and the police are no nearer an idea of where the girl is today than they were on the night of Dec. 12, when she failed to return home. The possibility of Miss Arnold having been attacked in the park was thought by Mr. Arnold to have been strengthened by the story which a woman brought to the house, who said she was positive she saw Miss Arnold walking toward the entrance of Central park late in the afternoon of Dec. 12, the day she disappeared.

Mr. Keith said that a search of the lake in Central park might be worth while. On the night of Miss Arnold's disappearance the lake froze over, and as it had remained frozen since then a body, if in the lake, probably would not have been discovered.

NO RED CROSS ADVERTISING

Asks Solicitor General in Regard to Protecting Emblem.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The American Red Cross has asked the solicitor general of the United States to advise it as to the proper steps for the enforcement of that portion of its federal charter relating to the use of its emblem and name for advertising by private firms and manufacturers.

Such use of the Red Cross is punishable by a penalty up to $500 or a year's imprisonment. It is believed many persons who use the emblem and name for advertising purposes are not aware that such use is forbidden and that heavy penalties may be enforced against them.

The United States has entered into a treaty with all the civilized governments of the world to prevent the misuse of the Red Cross emblem or title. The law specifically prohibits the use of a "Greek red cross on a white ground, or any sign or insignia made, or colored imitation thereof, or of the words 'Red Cross' or 'Geneva Cross,' or any combination of these words."

The use of the red cross on the New York ambulances has been abandoned, and medical and other associations have pledged themselves to suppress its use for any advertising purposes. The officers of the national organization request of the solicitor general an opinion as to the best method for proceeding against those who continue to use the emblem or name.

SEES RELIGIOUS REVIVAL

Prediction of Rev. Jowett of England, Who Comes to New York Church.

London, Jan. 20.—"America is at the beginning of a great religious revival, which will have a profound influence on the whole world."

This statement was made by Rev. J. H. Jowett, pastor of the Corris Lane Congregational church at Birmingham, who has just accepted a call to the pastorate of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church of New York, the richest church of that denomination in America. Dr. Jowett is the leading nonconformist clergyman in Great Britain and has been called the Henry Ward Beecher of England. He is president of the Free Church council.

"Yes," he continued, "America is the land of promise and the prospect of having a place in this great movement is what has led me to accept the call to your country."

"When men of great affairs turn their attention to spiritual things, as they do in America, it means an awakening which must have its results. The layman's missionary movement I regard as one of the most significant evidences of this awakening."

WEDDING AT WEEPING WATER

Miss Elizabeth Dora Spangler and Mr. Dent Hites United in Marriage.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spangler at Weeping Water was the scene of a very pretty wedding, Wednesday, January the 25th, at high noon, when Miss Elizabeth Dora Spangler and Mr. Dent Hites were united in the holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. A. L. Ogden, of Bethany, Nebraska. There were forty relatives and friends present to witness the ceremony. Promptly at the hour appointed, the bride and groom entered the parlor unattended, taking their places on a rug where the marriage vows were said. The bride appeared very charming in a dainty white organdie, trimmed in lace, and carried a bouquet of roses. Following the ceremony, the assembled relatives and friends extended congratulations and best wishes, after which all were invited to the dining room, and seated at a bounteous wedding feast, the table being laden with good things to eat and to which all did ample justice. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spangler and has resided in this county for a number of years, for the past few years having been in charge of a millinery establishment at Union. She has a large circle of friends, whose best wishes will ever attend her in her new home. Mr. Hites is engaged in the well, pump and wind-mill business, and has many friends who will wish him and his estimable wife a most happy and prosperous future. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Hites will be at home to their many friends at Hastings, Iowa, after February first.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Phil Crissman, of Miller, Nebraska, Mrs. L. H. Stander, of Archer, Nebraska, Mr. Chris. Spangler, of De-weese, Nebraska, Mr. and Mrs. Hites, of Hastings, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spangler, of Plattsmouth, Miss Lizzie Spangler, of Plattsmouth, Mr. and Mrs. John Spangler and family, of Louisville.

BABY DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. C. GRAVES DEAD

Ethel Gayle Graves, the seven-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Graves, died at the home of her parents in Lincoln Saturday morning, January 28, 1911, of pneumonia. The little girl had been ill but about twenty-four hours. The funeral occurred Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the family residence, 626 South Eighth street, and interment made in Wyuka. The afflicted father is a former Plattsmouth boy, and was born and reared here, where he has the sympathy of all his former neighbors and friends. The Journal extends sympathy to Carl and his wife in this hour of affliction.

PLAGUE SWEEPS OVER CHINA

Ravages of Disease Are Combated by American Missionaries.

New York, Jan. 30.—The American missionaries are practically the only hope of checking the awful ravages of the plague in northern China and preventing its spread throughout the whole empire, if not through all of southern and central Asia.

According to advices received here at the various missionary headquarters, the work of preventing the spread of the plague has fallen on the shoulders of the missionaries, who far outnumber the physicians in the employ of the Chinese government.
