DOINGS ON FIRST DAY IN THE DISTRICT COURT

From Tuesday's Daily

In the district court today the court excused the jury until May 2. The criminal case entitled the State vs. William Wisnes, was dismissed on motion of the county attorney, as the prosecuting witness has failed to appear against the accused. The defendant has been in jail for a month, waiting trial. He was complained of for stabbing a man at the quarry near Louisville some time ago.

The docket was called at the opening of the court this morning and cases marked for trial where they were ready. The first case on the criminal docket for trial will be the State against William Becker. In this case the state was given leave to endorse on the information the name of James Robertson as a witness, to which the defendant's attorneys, Clark and Robertson, excepted.

In the case of Jesse Dysart vs. Mary Dysart and others, the court entered an order fixing the attorney's fee at $125.

A default was called against the defendant in the case of Lizzie Everett vs. George Everett.

The following named citizens took out their second papers this morning: Max Herman, Jan Siokr, Blazey Kubovec and Josef Svoboda.

TRYING TO STRAIGHTEN OUT LEGAL TANGLE

From Tuesday's Daily

Mr. Peter Miller of Weeping Water was in the city today to have the court or some officer of it straighten out his naturalization papers. His first papers were taken out in Colorado, and it happened that Mr. Miller was born in a portion of Denmark which, after his birth, became a part of the German empire, and the officer making out his first papers made an error in stating that he was forswearing allegiance to the Danish government instead of the German. Mr. Miller got his second papers in this county before our present efficient clerk of the court came into office, and the second papers followed in the track of the first. Mr. Miller desires to visit the fatherland this summer, starting across the ocean next month, but as he is not legally naturalized, his former sovereign might claim a portion of his time for military duty. Mr. Miller was advised to get a lawyer and have the record in the first proceedings corrected.

UNFORTUNATE YOUNG MAN BECOMES INMATE OF ASYLUM

Mr. George Tams, superintendent of the poor farm, was in the city today and informed the writer of the unfortunate condition of Peter Petersen, a young man 30 years of age, born in Cass county, and so afflicted with rheumatism that he had to be admitted at the farm last Saturday. The disease is in the young man's legs, which are swollen and useless, he having to get about on crutches. The young man has no relatives in the county except a sister, and his means being exhausted, there was no other recourse for him but to go to the county farm.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE CAPTAIN H. E. PALMER

News of the death of Captain Henry E. Palmer was indeed startling to the people of Omaha and Nebraska, so many of whom were familiar with the strong, true personality and vigorous life of the pioneer western soldier and business man. His coming to Omaha after tramping on foot across Iowa and traveling with an emigrant train to the coast, his life as a boy soldier, his career of business man crowned with many honors in military, civic and fraternal life, afforded a romance and tragedy that read like fiction to one not familiar with the real history of the west.

Captain Palmer was naturally proud of some of the things in which he had a prominent part, that helped the growth and development of the new civilization in the unsettled period after the war. He was proud of the distinction of having been the commander of the Loyal Legion and G. A. R. of Nebraska. But apparently and indeed, according to his own statement, nothing so gratified him as the success of the movement for the magnificent free government sanitarium for old soldiers, in which he had the most prominent part right from the beginning.

He had built up a strong insurance business and in his late years could not but congratulate himself upon the result of his adventurous trip west from his native state of Wisconsin, before the civil war. At 70 years he was still a vigorous man, blessed with rare health and enthusiasm at an age when most men are inclined to seclude themselves a little with their books and a few chosen friends. His hale greeting, his resonant voice will be missed by his friends, who know that his brave exterior covered a sadness in his home life on account of the death of his son, and that his cheery salute was possible only because of the strong personality that was early disciplined in the ups and downs of human life.—Omaha World-Herald.

GAVE BOND IN THE SUM OF TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS

The case of the State of Nebraska against Jesse Blunt had right of way in the district court yesterday afternoon. This was a case where Jesse was put under bond to keep the peace in general and especially against Mrs. Blunt. Two witnesses testified against the defendant concerning threats heard from defendant to harm the complainant, his wife. After hearing the evidence the court held the defendant in a bond of $200, conditional that he would keep the peace and properly conduct himself in the future. Adolph Geize appeared in open court with the defendant and acted as surety for the future good behavior of defendant.

A Reliable Medicine—Not a Narcotic.

Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." For sale by Fricke & Co.

Frank Boyd Will Return.

We are informed that Frank Boyd, who went to Arkansas some time ago, is not very well pleased with the country down there and will soon return to Plattsburgh. We are also informed that he has been suffering a great deal with a cancer on his face, with which he was suffering when he left Plattsburgh, but which has grown worse. He expects to follow his trade when he returns.

One Conductor Helped Back to Work.

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." It clears the blood of uric acid. For sale by Fricke & Co.

Becomes a Citizen

Father John Veleck yesterday received his final citizenship papers from the district court. County Judge Slama of Saunders county came down on the evening train and went before the court in the capacity of a witness and testified to the sterling qualities of Rev. Veleck and his splendid qualifications for citizenship in this republic. Father Veleck expects to start next month on an European trip, to be gone about three months.
