ENTERTAINED AT WOHLFARTH HOME

The Sophomore Class Enjoys a Most Pleasant Time Thursday Evening.

From Saturday's Daily.

The sophomore class of the high school held a most delightful class party at the pleasant home of one of the members of the class, Miss Margaret Wohlfarth, on North Fourth street, Thursday evening, an account of which failed to get in in time for publication in last evening's issue.

For the occasion Miss Wohlfarth had made every effort to insure her classmates and the members of the faculty, who had been invited to participate in the class party, of a good time. The president of the class had selected two committees, whose duties were to arrange something on the line of entertainment for the evening and refreshments.

The committee on entertainment had prepared a splendid musical program, which proved a very pleasing feature of the evening's entertainment. Several instrumental selections were rendered by Waldemar Soennechen; a vocal solo by Miss Dye, and there was an instrumental selection given by Miss Freiday. The program was greatly increased in interest by the two readings rendered by Miss Anderson and the two readings by Miss Johnston. Then, too, there was an instrumental selection by Miss Mae Barker, an instrumental duet by Miss Beulah Sans and Miss Leota Barton and a reading by Superintendent N. C. Abbott. This splendid musical program proved a very entertaining one and assisted in making this enjoyable evening's entertainment one which will be long remembered by the members of this class.

Following the program, the entertainment committee had something else in the way of entertainment and this was in the nature of a guessing contest. Slips of paper bearing letters, which were all jumbled up, were distributed and each was to transfer and arrange these letters into the name of some animal. The members of the sophomore class whiled away several very pleasant moments in this contest. Social conversation and various other amusements were then participated in, which made the time pass all too rapidly.

Those who had been placed on the refreshment committee had arranged for a delicious luncheon, and just prior to the close of the entertainment ice cream, cake and wafers were served, which further augmented the pleasures of the evening. At a late hour the members of the sophomore class and the faculty departed for their homes, having thoroughly enjoyed themselves and voting Miss Margaret a charming entertainer and extending their warmest thanks for her kind hospitality.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL OF THE LOUISVILLE PRISONERS

One Gives Bond in the Sum of $1,000, While Three Are Sent to Jail.

From Saturday's Daily.

The preliminary examination of the four fellows who assaulted Contractor Parker of the Rock Island railroad at Louisville last Saturday evening, occurred before Judge Beeson today. Matthew Gering appearing for the defendants and County Attorney Taylor for the state.

After the examination of a large number of witnesses, three of the prisoners, Simon Maier, Roman Maier and Fred Maines, were committed to jail in default of bail to await the action of the district court, while Fred Schmarter was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000, his father going on his bond. There were a large number of people present from Louisville, including Mr. Parker, the man so badly dealt with.

John Fight was looking after some business matters in Omaha today.

THAT WHICH MAKES A GOOD PROSPEROUS TOWN

When Its Citizens and Business Men Join With One Accord in Boosting.

What makes a town, anyway? Is it the wealth evidenced by fine homes and splendid store buildings? These may attest the stability and thrift of certain people, but they offer no great inducement to commercial and moral progress.

Is it the spirit of good order and law observance? That is a factor only. The sleepest old hamlets that dot the map have this spirit in rank and abundance. Is it the schools and churches? May their number ever increase, but they don't make a town, they only cultivate it. Is it the geographical location, the character of the country surrounding it, the shipping facilities, the natural advantages?

None of these is an essential. Well, what is it that makes a town anyway? Just one thing—the unity of the people, the existence of a common bond which causes business enemies to put aside all differences when it comes to boosting a town. No town ever made real progress on the way to substantial success without the get together spirit unanimously adopted. It has rejuvenated old hulks of towns that were yawning their way into endless sleep. It has infused new blood into the heart of commercial life and made thriving cities out of paralytic villages.

Natural advantages count for much and prosperity cannot be built on shifting sand, but any town with half a chance can be made to grow and expand and thrive when its citizens join with one accord in the boosting program.

A Great Help to Farmers.

Mr. A. J. Uss of Omaha, representing the Independent Harvester company of Plano, Illinois, was in the city this week in the interest of his company. This is one of the largest institutions of its character in the United States and deals directly with those who are interested in the articles manufactured by this company—the farmer. The company manufactures every article of machinery used in farming, and their mode of doing business is of advantage to every farmer. The company is principally made up of farmers, who take $100 stock each, which guarantees every such stockholder goods at 25 per cent discount, besides their stock percentage. The proposition is a fair one and several of our substantial farmers have subscribed stock, and Mr. Uss will be here again Monday to induce others to go into the arrangement. A supply department will be established at Omaha, and probably a supply branch in Plattsmouth.

Pleasant Time at Travis Home.

THE EAGLES ENJOY DELIGHTFUL TIME

Large Number of Members of Order and Their Families are Present.

From Saturday's Daily.

Last evening was the first of a number of social meetings of the Plattsmouth Aerie of Eagles. The lodge has for some time been contemplating the holding of these social gatherings for the members of the order and their families, and when we say that the first attempt was a grand success it is indeed but a partial statement.

There were about sixty present last evening and they were most royally entertained. Several tables of progressive high five were one of the most pleasant features of the program. A total of eleven games were played and the prizes were awarded as follows: J. F. Eiseheid won the gentlemen's grand prize, winning nine games of the eleven, and J. E. McDaniel took the booby prize, a handsome imitation of a white Spitz dog, with its long, curly hair and bow legs. Mac being a great lover of dogs, this prize was greatly appreciated by him, but he says he will balk when City Clerk Wurl calls on him for the $1 dog tax. Mr. McDaniel won two games of the eleven. Mrs. Fred Egenberger won the grand ladies' prize and Mrs. Joseph Hadraba the booby one.

Mr. L. D. Hiatt and Mr. George Tartsch were present with mandolin and guitar and furnished some excellent instrumental and vocal music during the evening, which was indeed very pleasing to all. When you think the boys are not capable of the occasion you are fooled. L. D. joins George in the singing of German songs like a veteran in the line. Of course it is expected that Mr. Hartsch would be able to handle a stunt of this class, but we were surprised over L. D.

After the close of the progressive high five series all were invited to partake of the well prepared line of refreshments, which consisted of various lines of cold meats, cakes galore, delicious ice cream and plenty of sweet lemonade. After this most pleasing feature of the evening the hour was growing quite late and time for home taking.

It was indeed a most pleasant evening and the committee appointed to look after the affair are to be commended upon the excellent manner in which it was handled.

W. F. Gillispie Wins Case.

From Saturday's Daily.

A special from Washington, under date of May 19, says: "A favorable decision for W. F. Gillispie of Mynard, Neb., in his case against the Missouri Pacific railroad has been reached by the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Gillispie complained to the commission that the railroad had charged him unreasonably for certain shipments of oats from Atchison, Kansas. The case was placed before the commission by Representative Maguire."

Miss Della Tucker of Willard, Colorado, arrived in the city yesterday and will spend the summer at the home of L. B. Brown and sister, Mrs. Nix, south of Plattsmouth. Miss Tucker is the grand-daughter of Mrs. Nix.

AN OLD TRICK PRACTICED ON ONE OF OUR MILLINERS

Stranger Buys Hat for His Wife, Giving Check in Payment, and Secures $3 in Cash.

From Saturday's Daily.

Yesterday evening shortly after 6 o'clock a stranger in the city called at the millinery store of Mrs. Norton for the purpose of selecting and buying a new bonnet for his wife. He found the new piece of lady's headgear that he thought to be the very article that would appeal to the eye of his better half. As he requested Mrs. Norton to wrap the new hat up, he just discovered that he had no money, and asked if a check would be accepted as payment, and as the hat was valued at $3 he made the check out for $6 and Mrs. Norton gave him the balance in cash.

He signed his name as Larson, and no sooner had he left the building than Mrs. Norton called up the banker at his residence to ascertain if such a man had any money on deposit at that bank, and to her surprise, found that her suspicions were true, he was unknown. The police were immediately notified of the transaction and took up the trail, but the fellow seemed to have found a cavity in the earth and completely disappeared, and up to the present time has not been seen. He probably ditched the hat at the first opportunity, as the cash end of the deal was all that he was after.

Lyle Has Smallpox.

J. C. Lyle, the once genial and popular cashier at the Burlington station in this city, is having a little seige of hard luck at the present time. He is having a tussle with that very much feared disease, smallpox, up at Greenwood. After leaving Plattsmouth Mr. Lyle went to Greenwood, where he has been station agent for the Burlington. Mr. Lyle's many friends here trust that he may not experience any seriousness in his recovery.

Mrs. Roy Burdick went to the metropolis on business this morning.
