DEATH OF MRS. E. RATNOUR OF WEEPING WATER

A Most Estimable Lady Passes Away After an Illness of Several Weeks.

Mrs. Ellen Mary Ratnour was born February 28, 1849, at Plymouth, Wayne county, Michigan, and spent all her childhood days there. She was married July 3, 1865, to Elijah Ratnour of the same place. They moved to Weeping Water in October, 1870, where she has resided until her death, August 20, 1914. She was the mother of four children, two of whom are dead; she united with the M. E. church in 1873, and was faithful until death.

Those left behind to mourn her loss are her husband, son, Herbert; daughter, Eliza Race, of Kansas City, Mo.; sister, Mrs. H. G. Race, and brother, Charles Seleck, both of Weeping Water. The funeral was held in the M. E. church Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. J. C. Street having charge of the service.

A large number attended the services to pay their last respects to an old friend, who had lived a noble, Christian life, who had tasted the joys and sorrows of life, and been a loving wife and mother, a kind neighbor and friend.

Her death followed a sickness of several weeks, in which she bore up with patience and fortitude, and when she realized that the end was near, cheerfully resigned herself to the care of her dear Saviour and into His keeping.

The business houses were closed during the service. The beautiful flowers covered a smiling face in death that spoke of a happy meeting beyond. The sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of all friends, who pray their hours of deep sorrow may be lessened by the thought of the record of a splendid life lived.—Weeping Water Republican.

May Fever, Asthma and Summer Colds

Must be relieved quickly and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will do it. E. M. Stewart, 1034 Wolfarm St., Chicago, writes: "I have been greatly troubled during the hot summer months with Hay Fever and find that by using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound I get great relief." Many others who suffer similarly will be glad to benefit by Mr. Stewart's experience. For sale by Fricke & Co.

A. L. Tidd Returns.

City Attorney A. L. Tidd returned home this morning, after a visit of two weeks with his mother and other relatives in the Buckeye state. Mr. Tidd reports a most pleasant visit to the scenes of his boyhood days, and especially did he enjoy his visit with his dear old mother, whose heart is always warm for her children, no matter how old they become or how far away from her they get. Many changes have taken place in the old home town, and like others who have departed from their native states to seek their fortunes in the west, have but little to call them back to the "old stamping ground" except to see dear old mother. Mr. Tidd reports everything in the crop line in fairly good condition in the country through which he passed, and he seemed pleased that he was "home again."

Taken to Reform School.

"Billy" Barnhart, the 14-year-old boy who was sent to the state industrial school yesterday by the county court, was down at the Burlington depot this morning, having been brought down by his grandmother, who turned him over to Sheriff Quinton to take to Kearney. "Billy" was in the center of a group of admiring boys just before the train came in. He had received a distinction that does not come to many boys, and besides it was a nice trip to Kearney, and there would be many boys to play with there. The boy, on being questioned, said that he believed he would like the change all right and was anything but sad that he was going to leave the home of his grandparents and take up his abode with strange people.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kruger went to Omaha this afternoon to visit their son, who is ill in the Clarkson hospital there.

Approved Pictures.

Patrons of moving picture shows have often noticed the statement thrown on the curtain, "Passed by the National Board of Censorship." This means that the picture is proper for young people to see. The board of censorship is composed of an organization of New York people whose duty it is to pass on all motion pictures before they are sent out for use in the shows. It is said that all picture companies are now showing their pictures before the board of censorship. The Majestic theater here is using none but pictures that have been favorably passed on by the board.

ANOTHER ENJOYABLE EVENT YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. N. W. Chrisinger Showed the Jolly Eight Card Club a Most Excellent Time.

The members of the Jolly Eight Card club were very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. N. W. Chrisinger at her home on High School Hill yesterday afternoon. There were not so very many members of the club present, but nevertheless, this did not prevent those in attendance from having their usual good time, and all pronounced Mrs. Chrisinger as being a royal entertainer.

The principal amusement was derived from progressive card games, there being seven games played. With pretty tally cards the guests kept an account of the games won, and in the final count it was found that Mrs. Olga Groskary had captured the first prize and was presented with a handsome picture done in water colors; while Mrs. J. P. Sattler had won the least number of games and therefore had carried off the booby prize and was awarded a small cream pitcher. At the hour of 4 a dainty luncheon was provided by the hostess, to which all did ample justice. An hour or so spent in a social way brought to a close another most enjoyable afternoon for the Jolly Eight Card club.

The members of the club in attendance yesterday afternoon were: Mesdames Olga Groskary, J. P. Sattler, W. Mason, R. Burdick, H. Timm, J. Lutz, A. Kanka and J. Wurga.

A Happy House Party.

Miss Ferris York was the hostess of a very enjoyable house party given last week at her home in this city. Tuesday the guests had all arrived and the special event for the day was a picnic at Swallow Hill, which proved a very delightful affair. The feature Wednesday was a box party at the Majestic. The young ladies went to the bridge Thursday, where they enjoyed a picnic, with many forms of pleasure. A hayrack party was scheduled for Friday, and the merry party went to Eight Mile Grove. Saturday the guests departed for their homes, all much pleased with the delightful time they had had and having nothing but the highest praise for Miss York as a hostess. The guests were: Misses Ruth Brown, Omaha; Frances Craft, Creston; Gwendolen Harriman, Red Oak, Iowa; Ruth Gladys Langhurst, Falls City, Neb.; Grace Spencer, Red Oak, Iowa; Eleanor Wright, Lincoln; Mabelle Bailor, Kansas City, and Olga Sattler of this city.

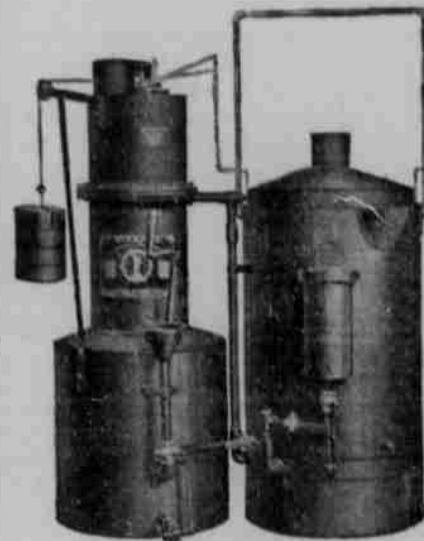

Thanks His Friends.

Union, Neb., August 22, 1914. Plattsmouth Journal, Plattsmouth, Neb.: Gentlemen—I wish to thank you for the kindness with which you have treated me during the past campaign. I also wish to thank the people of Cass county for the splendid support given me by them. I feel grateful to all my friends all over the state and especially old Cass. With good will toward all and malice toward none, I am ready for the next "Fox chase," and I hope to hurdle over the high places next time. I appreciate all kindness shown me. Respectfully, G. S. Upton.

After a heavy meal, take a couple of Doan's Regulents, and give your stomach, liver and bowels the help they will need. Regulents bring easy, regular passages of the bowels.

THE HARDWARE MAN

LITTLE MISS GOLDIE SIVEY SURPRISED

Her Mother, Mrs. Frank Sivey, Planned the Affair in a Quiet Manner.

Yesterday was the eighth birthday anniversary of little Miss Goldie Sivey, and in honor of this most auspicious event she was made the recipient of a happy birthday surprise party in the afternoon, which a number of her little friends, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Frank Sivey, had planned for in a very secret manner. The little folks had come prepared to show Goldie how to properly commemorate her birthday anniversary and also to have a good time, and they all sure did. They played all kinds of games which children delight in and which they could think of. Part of the time they participated in various pranks and puns, which made a genuine jolly time for them. They sang a number of songs, too.

At an appropriate hour they were invited to the dining room, where a most excellent four-course luncheon was served, and which all pronounced the best part of the party. The little folks indulged in a little more fun and frolic, a further examination of the many handsome birthday gifts which Goldie had received, and then, after having wished Goldie many more such birthday anniversaries, all went home, tired, but, oh, having had such a good time.

Those who enjoyed this occasion were: May Renner, Lorene Kopp, Mary and Nellie Richter, Helen Sivey, Ella Hyde, Mabel Gravitt, Clara Lamphear, Eddie and Ralph Kruger, Chester and Charles Conn, Frankie Sivey, Harold Hyde, Johnny Gravitt, Johnny Lamphear and Charles Brissey.

The Boiler Arrives.

The boiler for the postoffice heating plant arrived by freight yesterday and has been transferred to the new building site. The boiler weighed about 8,500 pounds and was transferred from the car by Scott & Goolsby in just three hours and fifteen minutes. This we would call pretty rapid work for the handling of such heavy material, and was done without the slightest difficulty.

KEEZER AND SITZMAN ASK STATE SUPREME COURT FOR NEW TRIAL

The Men Convicted of the Murder of Mike Geno and Given Sentence of Life Imprisonment By the Jury; Allege in Petition That They Were Wrongfully Convicted.

Benjamin S. Baker, the attorney for Louis Keezer and Isadore Sitzman, the two men convicted here for the murder of Mike Geno about a year ago, has filed with the supreme court a petition for a new trial. The petition alleges that the men were wrongfully convicted. A thirty-one page abstract of the record has just been filed in the higher tribunal for the perusal of the judges who are to pass upon the case. The facts of the murder and of the trial are well known to Cass county people, as both the killing and the trial attracted considerable attention. Geno was employed in a quarry near Louisville and was attacked by two men while on his way back to camp after having had his check cashed. Robbery was the motive of the attack. Geno, George Sanders and another companion were beaten with clubs and robbed of about $70. Geno's skull was fractured and he lived but a short time after the attack. The murder was committed on September 1, 1910.

There was considerable feeling against Keezer and Sitzman at the time and many who heard the trial looked for a verdict of hanging. They were sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

It is alleged that there was error in each of the twenty-four instructions of the trial judge, and that he also erred in not giving ten instructions desired by the defendant.

The exceptions taken indicate that the defendants are pinning their hopes on error in the instructing of the jury. It is contended that the court should have required that the proof show beyond doubt the premeditated purpose of murder when the attack was made upon Geno; that the court should have told the jury that it would not be warranted in finding them guilty unless something was said at the time by the defendants that they intended to rob Geno; that the court should have told the jury that it would have no right to find that an assault was made to rob Geno because an assault was made on Sanders in an attempt to rob him; and that the court should have instructed the jury that the state having failed to prove that money or property was taken from Geno the presumption is that none was taken from him and that after the assault his money and property were still on his person.

Keezer made a confession after his arrest, and later on Sitzman admitted his part in the tragedy. Their confessions, made to the sheriff, his deputy and the county attorney, were received in evidence.

TENNIS NOTES.

(From the present time until the end of the Cass and Mills counties tournament the Journal will run a department devoted to tennis news. Results of practice games, or other news of interest to tennis enthusiasts are wanted for this column.)

Entries for the tournament close next Saturday noon.

The drawings for the tournament will be made Saturday evening.

There will be two social events for the visiting players, a smoker on Monday evening and a dance Tuesday evening.

No admission fee will be charged at any time during the tournament. The public is invited to see the games.

Nehawka will send four players for the Plattsmouth tournament, which begins next Monday. Stone and Hall, both good players, are two of them.

On account of the fact that many of the men entered in the tournament are business men a number of the contests will be played after 5:30 o'clock.

Glenwood will have a fast bunch in the tournament. The Glenwood boys recently defeated the Lake Manawa Boat club delegation, which proves that Glenwood has a fast aggregation. The prizes for the tournament are on exhibition at Herold's stationary store. An $8 racket goes to the winner of the singles and two $6 shaker-knit sweater coats to the winners of the doubles.

Morgan and Staats went to Omaha yesterday afternoon to meet a crack team there, but they could not get a team to meet them. McKay, the Indiana state champion, and Morgan went for a set, McKay winning 6-1. Morgan and Staats then played four sets, Morgan winning after a hard match.

Division Superintendent.

A special from St. Louis, under date of August 23, says: General Manager Sullivan of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain railroad today announced the appointment of J. F. Russ to be superintendent of the Omaha division, with office at Falls City, Neb., vice A. De Bernardi, who has been promoted to the superintendency of the western division, with headquarters at Kansas City, Mo. R. G. Garden has been promoted superintendent of the northern Kansas division, with office at Atchison, Kas., vice J. F. Russ, transferred to the Omaha division. Both appointments will become effective August 28. Mr. Garden formerly was superintendent of the eastern Missouri division, with headquarters at Jefferson City.

ARE PAINTING THE BURLINGTON BRIDGE

Sand Blast Being Used to Take Paint and Rust Off the Big Structure.

The Burlington painting crew, which has just finished the job of painting the depot and the other buildings at the Burlington depot, have started the work of painting the big bridge across the river southeast of town.

The painters are first going over the bridge with a sand blast, which takes off both paint and rust, and leaves the metal almost as bright as new. The sand is blown through a tube at terrific pressure by a gasoline engine, which is in a car on the track.

It is quite a job to go over the bridge with the sand blast and then paint it and the crew will be some time making the big structure bright red again. It was painted last in 1907.

The crew that is painting the bridge is one that keeps at work year in and year out, traveling in work cars. They go over the entire system, making the rounds every few years. One of the men with the present crew was here the last time they made Plattsmouth.
