R. C. Bailey, the Maple Grove blacksmith, was in Plattsmouth last Saturday, and he tells us that he has finished his corn husking and is mighty well pleased with the crop, which averaged 35 bushels to the acre. In gathering the same he thinks he is in a position to challenge most of the huskers of this locality, as he husked an average of 140 bushels a day for three weeks.

C. M. Robinson, general agent for the Old Line Bankers Life Insurance company of Lincoln, was in Murray a few hours Wednesday afternoon in the interests of the company. There is a pretty strong combination connected with the Bankers Life, and it is simply this: When you meet one of the best fellows you ever knew, that's Robinson, and when he represents one of the best old-line companies in the state, there is no reason why such a combination should not write insurance, and Robinson does it.

Come and meet your friends and take dinner and supper with the ladies, even if you do not care to invest in any of the fancy work.

HOME TALENT LYCEUM NUMBER SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 25, AT 8:30 O'CLOCK AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

"Turn of the Tide."

The "Turn of the Tide," that very popular temperance drama, given at Jenkins' hall last Saturday by the Sunshine band, was largely attended. The total receipts were $47.50. After the expenses are paid the net proceeds go into the treasury of the band, who are doing a grand work in assisting the church in which they are connected. They were deserving of even a much larger crowd, and no doubt would have received it had the weather been more favorable. We have heard nothing but the greatest praise for the excellent ability displayed in all the characters. Every member of the cast was good, and as the play is a very interesting one, the production proved one of the most pleasant evening's entertainment seen in Murray for a long time.

Here From Kansas.

Clinton Totten, from Waukeene, Kansas, came in last Thursday for a few days' visit with friends and relatives at the old home and to see his sister, Mrs. Dave Lloyd, who has been in the hospital at Omaha for the past four weeks receiving treatment for tuberculosis of the bone. Mr. Totten and George Lloyd were in Omaha Wednesday to see Mrs. Lloyd, and returning home report her getting along nicely and that she will be able to return home the latter part of the week. Mr. Totten made the trip especially to see his sister and is greatly pleased to find her condition improving very rapidly. He will remain for several days. He says the crop conditions in Kansas were very poor the last season, and in consequence thereof business is very quiet.

No Change Yet.

The invoicing of the A. Hast stock of goods has been completed and everything is ready to be turned over to the new owners, which has not as yet been done, owing to some minor details not being completed to the titles of the property for which Mr. Hast was trading. There is no doubt but what these matters will be straightened out within the next few days, and the new owners take possession. The stock is at present under the management of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Smith. Mr. Hast is still in Murray and will no doubt remain for a few weeks, looking after his collections and other matters of business.

Saved Many From Death.

W. L. Mock, of Moek, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe it's the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free, or regular 50c or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Notice to Patrons.

We are now invoicing our stock of goods preparatory to turning the same over to the new owners, and as my time for remaining in Murray is limited, I wish again to remind all those indebted to me to please call and settle. It has been a great pleasure to me to extend credit to all my patrons who have asked the same for the past few months, and I trust all will now favor me by calling and settling their accounts at the earliest possible moment. Please give this your prompt attention.

A. HAST.

You owe that faithful old horse or team that has done your summer's work a new pair of shoes, and the place to secure them is at the shop of R. C. Bailey, the Maple Grove blacksmith and horseshoer. He knows how to do the work, and you know he does, so have it done now.

EVERYBODY GOING TO OLD KENOSHA

There is Going to Be a Great Thanksgiving Day Celebration at Old Kenosha.

Mary Ann, we'll just go down there and eat goose, Thanksgiving. I hear that Old Kenosha's dry bones has begun to rattle, and that them ole farmers wuz gwine to have one of them ole time Thanksgiving dinners; one such as they say our forefathers had when they come to Americay, arter putting in a hul year raisin what they could ketch, and raisin what they could doggin out with a hoe in one hand and a gun in tother, fur fear some head-eyed indian would get his scalp afore he could get back to the cabin. I tell ye, Mary Ann this country of ourn wuz bought with tears and blood, grit and grin, fur them Pilgrim forefathers an foremothers had the grit, or they'd ever one on 'em pulled back for old England, when the Mayflower, as they called her, so sail an left the hul kil and posse here to dig out a livin an make homes fur themselves an their families. Buildin out of nothin but forest trees, with the indians peekin at 'em every time they got a stone's throw from their cabins, an mebbe takin a shot at 'em from behind some bush or tree. But Mary Ann, when the hul heart is at the bottom of some undertakin, an that undertakin has the sperit of love behind it, with the power from above backin the entire affair, southin is gwine ter be did. An that wuz the sperit that has caused this nation to riz to whar she now stands; the Christian land of Americay. I'm mighty proud of her, an would spill the last drop of gore from these veins to defend the red, white and blue banner yander over the door.

But speakin of ole Kenosha, reminds me of ole days when this 'er country was just as different as a sheep is different from a kitten. Law, me! how things loom up in my recollection. I well remember hearin ole Uncle Ivan White tell of how him and Aunt Ann Campbell, under a big elm tree, the first night they spent on their homestead at Kenosha, an how the wolves howled. There want many neighbors closer'n three or four miles. I just know, Mary Ann, Uncle Ivan an Aunt Ann will be at the Thanksgiving dinner. Then, too, there wuz Aunt Becky an Uncle Levi, God bless 'em, they hepped to make this country a home fur this generation. An there are scores of others, in fact the hul down south and back east sent sons and darters—they very best they had—to lay the foundation of this good ole state. Jist lets see—there wuz Uncles Tom Campbell, Bobbie Fitch, Joe Sans, George Shrader, Jimmie Chalfant, Josie Moore, Louis Young, an so many more on 'em, Mary Ann, I can't begin to name the half on 'em. Them men, with their families are the pioneers of ole Kenosha. Some on 'em have gone to the better land, to receive their reward, while some are still here, doin all there is left fur 'em to do, until the Master calls 'em hence. I know some uv them ole pioneers will be at the Thanksgiving dinner an I'm goin to be thar. They say "Billy" Taylor is goin to do the preachin. Now, don't that seem strange! Who'd a thot thet red-headed chap thet used to run around with our boys, into all kinds of mischief, playin all manner of pranks, would ever turn out to be a preacher? Wal, I do say, Mary Ann, of the Lord wants a feller to preach, an the feller will be willin to foller His callin. He sees thet he preaches, an "Billy's" no exception. I know I'll see lots of them ole pioneers, chillern an granchillern thar, even tho their parents are gone. I am gettin anxiouser ever minute fur the day to come.

Such was the conversation of Josiah Wakeup and his good wife Mary Ann, after learning of the good old Thanksgiving service to be held at Kenosha church on November 30th. From eleven o'clock a. m., till the rising of the moon and the going down of the same. The devotional services will be conducted by the pastor, W. A. Taylor; a chorus of male voices will furnish the music. After the sermon dinner will be served by the K. N. K., and if you have never had an opportunity to judge their culinary skill, do not miss this one, when you can do so for the nominal sum of 25c. If your appetite has not been normal, we feel assured that it will be benefitted after a meal like the

K. N. K. will serve. After dinner the time will be spent in displaying articles of needle work, such as will be found useful in the home and will make suitable Xmas remembrances. Sociability is the theme uppermost. At evening time fresh oysters with coffee cake and pickels will be served. For the further enjoyment of the evening there will be elocutionary readings, and music, both instrumental and vocal. Be sure you don't forget the date, November 30th. "DIXIE."
