Justin Strum got into the football game a little too strenuously Monday and had to take out time while the doctor bandaged up a broken collar-bone. Justin was game, however, and came back to school Tuesday morning, and can now put in full time on his studies so that when the broken bone heals up he can lay off and play football to catch up.

John Dale has purchased of J. M. Palmer the property on the north side of the street, at the present occupied by Miss Tanner with her restaurant, and will as soon as he can get possession move his stock of harness and accessories into it. This will give him a much better room than he now has and a better light to work by. Miss Tanner expects to go to Omaha.

The funeral of Mrs. A. J. Roe at Louisville Monday was attended by Mrs. J. E. Banning, Mrs. C. S. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Carroll and S. Humphrey, Ray Pollard taking them over in his car. Mrs. Humphrey, who is a sister of Mr. Roe, went over Sunday and remained a few days after the funeral to look after the children.

UNION.
Ledger.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Eaton departed yesterday morning to make several days' visit at Walthill and other places in that country.

Will Reynolds, who is working in a bank in Omaha, came down Saturday night to spend Sunday with his parents.

M. H. Shoemaker and wife were in Omaha on Wednesday attending the funeral of their friend, the late Harry W. Lloyd.

Miss Ida Miller of Lusk, Wyo., made a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Chalfant, north-east of here, and departed Wednesday for Dubuque, Ia., to visit relatives.

Wesley T. Wolfe and wife and Wesley Wolfe, jr., arrived last Saturday from Lusk, Wyo., to make a visit with Mrs. Wolfe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Chalfant and other relatives and friends.

The condition of Mrs. C. L. Graves, who has been seriously ill the past several weeks, appears to be slowly improving. Dr. E. C. Reed of Peru was called for consultation last Sunday evening, and Dr. Gilmore of Murray was called and is taking care of the patient.

Harvey Miller and wife, who resided on the Crouch farm, southeast of here, shipped their household goods yesterday, and will in a short time be comfortably settled on a good farm near Arapahoe. Mr. Miller and wife have resided in this neighborhood for 26 years, and have many friends who regret their departure, but wish them well in their new location.

W. B. Banning closed a deal on Wednesday whereby he disposed of his elevator and grain business, the buyer being William Mueller of Elmwood. The change of possession is to take place January 1, and by that date Mr. Mueller and his family will be permanently located here. Mr. Banning's lumber and coal yards and the cement block plant require most of his time, and that is the principal reason for retiring from the grain business.

The ownership of the pool hall changed last Friday morning, the new "boss" being Hallie Delaney, who bought out Morris Pollard. Mr. Pollard has conducted a very orderly place since he came here and has been an all 'round good citizen, whom we regret to lose, but we are pleased to know that his successor is a Union boy who is "all wool and several yards wide."

MARRIAGE OF MISS MARY PERKINS

Daughter of C. E. Perkins, Former President of the Burlington Railway.

The late C. E. Perkins, president of the Burlington road, who was well known in this city, and for whom the Perkins house was named, on account of his popularity with railroad boys, the following account of the marriage of his youngest daughter, from the Boston Herald, cannot fail to be of interest to those who remember the late Mr. Perkins so kindly:

"Burlington, Ia., Nov. 20.—Miss Mary Russell Perkins of Burlington and Boston was married at noon today at the family residence, the Apple Trees, to John Gieves McIlvain of the O-4 Bar ranch of Rancho, Wyo. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Naboth Osborne of the First Congregational church of this city and was beautiful in its simplicity.

"Only the immediate families of the bride and groom and a few old family friends were present. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Chittenden of Burlington as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Godman and Miss Dorothy Jordan of Boston. Mrs. Hamilton Fish Benjamin of New York and Miss Helen Tredway of St. Louis, Lawrence S. Fuller of Rancho, Wyo., was the best man. A breakfast followed the ceremony.

"The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Perkins (Fifth Forbes) and the late C. E. Perkins, president of the Burlington road. She is a member of the Vincent club of Boston and a charter member of the Chilton club. Mrs. William Hooper (Alice Forbes Perkins) of Boston and West Manchester, Mass., is her sister, and another sister is Mrs. George T. Rice (Margaret A. Perkins) of Westwood. The bride's brothers are Robert Forbes Perkins, who was married in Kentucky the middle of last summer to Miss Evelyn M. Gray of that state, and Charles E. Perkins of Commonwealth avenue, who married Miss Lelia M. Amory.

"Like her mother, the bride is very much interested in philanthropy, and is one of the most active workers of the Red Cross in the state of Iowa, being chairman of the Burlington division of the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. McIlvain left shortly after the breakfast on a wedding trip. They will live on Mr. McIlvain's ranch in Wyoming.

ZUCKWEILER & LUTZ

LOUISVILLE.

Courier.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. August Panska, November 14, 1911, a girl.

Adam Fornoff was up from Cullom Wednesday visiting at the home of A. H. Peterson.

John Ossenkop and son, Henry, and family were Omaha passengers Monday morning.

Mrs. J. W. Thompson returned Tuesday evening from a six weeks' visit at Litchfield with relatives.

Clara Rathbun went to Mullen, Neb., last Saturday for an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Blanche Gardner.

Mrs. Edith Rochford has resigned her position at Diers Brothers store and left Monday for Lincoln, where she will visit with friends.

Mrs. C. M. Merriam is here from Chicago visiting her son, Chester. She is accompanied by Mrs. B. J. Austin of Red Oak, Ia., and Miss A. R. Huntoon of Omaha, aunts of Mr. Merriam.

That the school board should provide a telephone for the school house is the opinion of many of the patrons of the school. Louisville is about the only town of any consequence where there is not telephone connections with the schools.

Tom Parmele, Jim Terryberry and Charley Gaebler returned Tuesday morning from a trip to the Parmele ranch out near Broken Bow. Terryberry, who is somewhat of a ranch owner himself, in conversation with a Courier reporter, said: "I have visited a great many ranches in my time, but I want to say that the Parmele boys have the only ranch that I have visited that I really envied the owners of. It consists of about 8,600 acres and unlike the majority of western ranches, they raise enough corn, hay and alfalfa to feed the stock in fine shape. It is a little bit of the finest ranch I have ever visited."

Social Shooting Match.

There will be a social blue rock shooting match held in Murray next Wednesday afternoon, November 29. A cordial invitation is extended all the shooters of this locality to attend.

Frank McNurlin and wife of Mt. Pleasant precinct drove in from the farm Saturday and visited Mrs. McNurlin's cousin, Bill Smith and family, for the day. Mr. McNurlin returned home that afternoon, but his wife will remain for a week to have some dental work done.

A Fine Play.

There is so much that is good in "Under the Harvest Moon" that no one wonders at the extraordinary success which the play has enjoyed. It pictures scenes and people in the east, not in an ideal way, but as everyone knows them to be. It holds, so as to speak, the mirror to nature, and if, in some of the scenes it makes one cry just a little bit, it is because of that touch of nature that is placed there so deftly that one forgets that they are looking on a mimic like stage. Everyone who appreciates the good that the theaters can do will like "Under the Harvest Moon." It is all clean and wholesome; its atmosphere is refreshing and there is nothing suggestive in the story that it unfolds. Its humor is crisp, quaint and occasionally cracks like a whip. Its rugged epigrams are delightful and its bits of homely philosophy are remembered and laughed at over and over again. The presentation of the play at the Parmele theater next Thursday night, November 30, will introduce a carefully selected company. The engagement promises to be a record-breaker.

Another Result of Good Roads.

J. W. Rugha, living south of town, has been a good roads man, and kept it dragged for the benefit of automobilists as well as teamsters. Last Friday he had just untied his Scotch collie dog to have a little run and a pup and the collie were out in the road playing when an automobile hove in sight. The driver, seeing the roads were the right kind, turned it loose, and it went by like an express train. The pup lay in the road dead and a little farther on the collie was breathing his last, while the automobilist was in the distance. Mr. Rugha's boy had a little wagon and harnessed the dog to it and enjoyed great times, that is why he cried, and for the reason that the dog went after his cattle. Mr. Rugha says that hereafter he will not drag the roads. Automobilists make a mistake when they think it smart to kill dogs and chickens for the farmers who keep their roads in nice shape. Some dogs persist in chasing automobiles and get killed, but to speed by at a terrific pace is unlawful and dangerous. —Weeping Water Republican.

J. W. Burnie went to Chicago Friday evening and returned Sunday morning with his wife and daughter. Mr. Burnie and family will make Plattsmouth their home and we are glad to welcome him and his estimable family to our city.
