

ANOTHER OF OUR PIONEERS PASSES AWAY

E. F. Hyde Died at His Present Home at Seligman, Missouri, Last Night.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Ben Hyde of this city is in receipt of a message this morning from his sister, Mrs. L. C. Curtiss, announcing the death of their father, which occurred at his farm home near Seligman, Missouri, last night. Seven years ago Mr. Hyde suffered a severe stroke of paralysis, which, after long suffering and in almost a helpless condition, was the cause of his death. He was 84 years old and for the past five years, up to last spring, had made his home in this city with his daughter, Mrs. Curtiss. Last spring they moved to Missouri.

The deceased came to Mills county, Iowa, in 1856, and followed freighting from Platts-mouth west for several years; later he secured a position with the Santa Fe Railroad company and remained in the employ of that company up to the time he was stricken with paralysis. For a few years they lived at Union, in this county. The funeral will be held at Seligman and the re-mains will be laid to rest beside his wife, who died five years ago.

Twelve children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Hyde, nine of whom are living, two of whom have been residents of this city for many years. Mrs. L. C. Curtiss and Ben Hyde, the latter residing here at the present time; three are living in Mills county, Mrs. Royal and Mrs. Kirk of Glenwood; E. H. Hyde at Hastings, Ed and Elias Hyde and Mrs. Liggitt of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

ANOTHER CHICKEN CASE IN JUDGE ARCHER'S COURT

From Wednesday's Daily.

Judge Archer's court was the scene of another famous chicken case this morning, when Anton Bajack appeared and filed a complaint against Tom Sedlock, charging him with allowing his fowls at large and that they had done considerable damage to his property. After hearing the evidence in the case the judge imposed a fine of $1 and costs, amounting to $4, which was paid and peace again reigns supreme in the neighborhood. The parties in the case reside in the west part of the city, near the Missouri Pacific tracks.

$80,000,000.00 Lost Annually by Wage Earners.

Dr. Sadler estimates that about $80,000,000.00 in wages is lost annually to the American people as a direct result of colds. Lost time means lost wages and doctoring is expensive. Use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. It will stop the cough and heal and soothe the sore and inflamed air passages. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

C. C. Wescott has received a card from Mrs. Wescott announcing that she and Mason departed Monday from Los Angeles, California, and would stop over for a three days' visit at San Francisco with Mrs. Wescott's brother, Roy Eaton, and expect to arrive home either Sunday or Monday.

Uncle Ezra Says

"It don't take more'n a gill uv effort to git folks into a peck of trouble," and a little neglect of constipation, biliousness, indigestion or other liver derangement will do the same. If ailing take Dr. King's New Life Pills for quick results. Easy, safe, sure and only 25 cents at F. G. Fricke & Co.

Dr. J. B. Martin is able to be on the streets again today, after being confined to his home for a short time by sickness. The doctor is a very active man and does not often allow anything to interfere with the discharge of his duties.

Ed Rummel of the precinct was a passenger on the special for Lincoln this morning to take in the state fair.

Team Work.

Anyone wanting team work of any kind call on Tom Fry, 8-30-2wks-d.

H. Spies, the smokers' friend, has the largest line of pipes to be found in the city.

The Men Who Succeed

as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success today demands health. To all is a fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at F. G. Fricke & Co.

PIONEER SHOE HOUSE WILL QUIT BUSINESS

Robert Sherwood & Son Closing Out Stock With Determination of Quitting Business.

From Wednesday's Daily.

As will be seen from their advertisement, appearing on another page of this paper, one of Platts-mouth's pioneer business firms is about to close out their stock and retire. We speak of the firm of Sherwood & Son, which has been in the active business life of the city for the past thirty-five years.

It was in the centennial year, 1876, that Robert Sherwood, sr., first started in the shoe business, locating in a building situated where the present meat market of Kunsman & Range is located. Here he continued to stay for several years, then removed to a building then situated on the site of the Bookmeyer building. Mr. Sherwood stayed here until 1883, when a fire swept away the building and the contents and it was then he erected the building at the corner of Fifth and Main street, now known as the Krug building, and occupied the same with his shoe store and remained until 1904, when he removed to the present location on Main street.

In 1895 Robert Sherwood, jr., was taken into the business and the firm changed to Sherwood & Son. This firm has had a great many hard experiences in its career; first, a fire in 1883, then on July 17, 1902, a disastrous flood swept down upon them, causing the walls of their building to crumble down, entailing the loss of several hundred dollars' worth of stock, and they had hardly recovered from this when on August 20, the same year, they were again visited by a flood that lost them much property and goods, but with determination and grit they continued in business at the old stand, and it is with regret that we see them retire from the line of business in which they have been so long engaged. It is the universal wish that they may be prosperous in whatever line of business they may engage in, or wherever they may cast their lot.

Many Driven From Home.

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by F. G. Fricke & Co.

J. W. Barwick, the veteran clerk at the superintendent's office at the Burlington shops, has been confined to his bed for about a week with a severe attack of what seems to be rheumatism. It is to be hoped he will soon be able to be around again.

What We Never Forget

according to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure our burns, boils, scalds, sores, skin eruptions, cuts, sprains or bruises. Forty years of cures prove its merit. Unrivaled for piles, corns or cold-sores. Only 25 cents at F. G. Fricke & Co.

Eugene Walter's drama, "Paid in Full," will be given at the Parmele next Monday night. The piece is carefully staged and perfectly played by an excellent company.

STRONG FIRM IN THE AUCTIONEER BUSINESS

From Wednesday's Daily.

While in the city this morning Robert Wilkinson, the Dunbar auctioneer, paid this office a pleasant call, and in conversation with him he tells us that he has taken a partner, one who will be a valuable assistant to him in the handling of his sales, in the person of L. J. Hall of Union. Mr. Hall has had a great deal of experience in the stock line and his judgment as to value is good. He has assisted Mr. Wilkinson in a number of large sales and has displayed great ability to the end of securing the top price for all property placed in the ring. When sales are large enough both men will attend them, which will be worth 10 to 20 per cent to the party giving the sale, as it has been demonstrated that two good men are capable of securing more money from the same amount of property than one. This has been tried by all the leading auctioneers of the state, and while Mr. Wilkinson has been among the last to take a partner, he has never before been able to find the right man. With the two men at the service of the sale holder it does not increase the price; the terms will remain the same as in years gone by when Mr. Wilkinson did all the work himself. Their territory will extend over the entire southeastern portion of Nebraska, and it has been almost impossible for one man to look after it.

The Schutz sale was one of the best that has ever been held in this section, over $2,800 being taken in. Everything sold well and brought top-notch prices. The sale was clerked by R. F. Patterson of the Bank of Cass County.

Briggs-Hyers Case Postponed.

Judge Travis went to Papillion Tuesday to hear the arguments for a change of venue in the case of Chief of Police Briggs of South Omaha and Sheriff Hyers of Lancaster county, charged with the killing of Roy Blunt, but the hearing was postponed by agreement. Ex-Senator Burkett of Lincoln, who is attorney for Hyers, was unable to be present. The court later will set a date for hearing of the arguments.

"PAID IN FULL" AT THE PARMELE MONDAY NIGHT

One of the Greatest and Most Interesting Plays Ever Presented in Platts-mouth.

When a play not only grips the heart-strings, but plays an intermezzo on the tender chords, it bears the hall-mark of a great success. It is not surprising, therefore, that "Paid in Full" has made an appeal which has been heeded.

Eugene Walter actually lived the play. He breathes his very existence into it. It is almost unnecessary to say at the very beginning that the play is not a sweet-meat. It is a very strong food, and should only be taken by those who wish to harrow their very souls by a chapter from the lives of everyday people who are enacting the sordid tragedy of existence where sin is not so gilded that we are blinded by the glitter. It is the story of a sullen, vicious, resentful husband, who has become so embittered in the daily grind that every spark of manhood and honor has been wiped out. He finally sacrifices his wife to smear over, if possible, with his employer his theft. The very goodness and innocence of the wife is her most effective shield.

With a powerful cast of players, "Paid in Full" will be submitted for your approval at the Parmele theater on Monday night, September 9.

Freighted Out of Nebraska City.

George Ray and wife of Murray, M. Lynde and wife of Union and William Ray of Bethany, Missouri, were here yesterday, the guests of John Clinkenbeard and wife. Mr. Ray was one of the freighters out of this city in the early days and this is his first visit here in something like forty years.—Nebraska City News.

"Paid in Full," which will be seen at the Parmele next Monday night, is an interesting play dealing in a vein of grim veracity with a problem in the existence of an underpaid clerk and his wife.

Hogs Have Ride in Automobile.

From Wednesday's Daily. On Friday afternoon the citizens of Avoca realized the fact that the automobiles made for passengers could be of other use than to joy ride or make business trips, when Eugene Stult, one of our prominent farmers, living about six miles from here, used his automobile to deliver hogs to our stock buyer, Peter M. Jorgensen. We have seen lumber and a number of other freight articles hauled in automobiles, but this is the first one we have seen used in delivering hogs. Has any community of the state of Nebraska any more progressive methods than this? If so, please let us hear from them. This means of delivering hogs to market is certainly a good one in hot weather, as the shrink on the hogs should be very light, owing to the breeze that is created by the speed of the car, and also the short time en route. SOMETHING OF INTEREST TO BUYER AND SELLER

Where Differences of Opinion Abound in the Application of the Principle.

From Wednesday's Daily.

All agree that the theory of home patronage is a splendid thing, but where differences of opinion abound is in the application of the principle, says the Omaha Trade Exhibit.

Every man with anything to sell believes firmly that the people of his community should prefer to buy of him rather than of any foreign competitor.

The seller can see no good reason for the failure to observe the home patronage principle in ten cases out of ten.

But when the seller becomes a buyer, what then? Well, it seems to make all the difference in the world whose ox is gored.

Bankers, for example, are dependent absolutely upon their home communities for the great bulk of their profitable business. And yet, as a class, they are the most flagrant violators of the home patronage principle. If everybody were to follow their example, there would be no banks outside of cities, because there would be no small business communities on the map.

Retailers, too, are often times violators of the home patronage principle when buying, though ardently for it when selling. Many of them have not yet learned that preaching home patronage is not one-tenth as effective as practicing it.

No one with anything to sell should expect people to buy merely because the prospective buyer and seller happen to live in the same town.

Of course there is a somewhat indefinite obligation resting upon the buyer to buy at home and thus do his part toward the upbuilding of the community.

But there is an even greater obligation resting upon the seller to offer merchandise of such qualities and such values, and to render service of the proper character, so that the buyer will have something substantial to justify home buying.

When both sellers and buyers respect and observe the home patronage principle, the results are naturally beneficial to the community in which they reside as well as to themselves. But there is much more involved than sending money away or keeping it at home. The distinct sides of the question—the seller's obligation and the buyer's obligation—both deserve most careful consideration.

CANDIDATES FOR THE STATE REFORM SCHOOL

From Wednesday's Daily.

Yesterday morning some parties entered the switch shanty in the Burlington yards, near the depot, and stole a ticket punch and a conductor's duplex from the coat of Yardmaster C. S. Johnson. This morning two boys were noticed and were apprehended and on being searched the missing articles were found on their persons. The boys were about 12 or 13 years of age and gave the names of George Wandenberg and Abe Savade and their homes at Omaha. On being captured the kids stoutly denied committing the offense, but they were taken to the jail, where the missing articles were discovered. The duplex was found concealed in the trousers of one of the boys.
