

SAVE CORN EXPOSED TO THE WEATHER

Neglect to Properly Protect Harvested Ear Corn From Weather Will Result in Heavy Loss.

The following timely suggestions from one of experience, if properly heeded, will no doubt save the farmers of Cass county many dollars, and as the Journal is interested in the prosperity of our farmers, we give these suggestions, in the hope that they will be greatly benefited:

The north and west sides of wire cribs should especially be protected. The snow blows into them, it softens up at the middle of the day and freezes at night.

Hay or canvass makes a good covering for the top and corn fodder set up against the north and west sides of the wire cribs will protect against driving snow.

The agricultural colleges, extension departments and crop improvement organizations have been for several years vigorously boosting for increased yields and improved quality of corn by improving and testing the seed, but practically nothing has been said or done to promote the idea of properly caring for the corn after it is harvested.

The farmers this year have grown the largest crop of corn on record, that has matured fairly well, so that inherent moisture content is about normal, but many farmers are piling the ear corn that is of good quality on the ground and storing it in open wire cribs exposed to the weather without any protection whatever from the snow and rain.

The corn thus exposed is most certain to deteriorate in quality and become damaged to such an extent that it will be unsound and consequently have to be marketed as no-grade, when the same corn, if stored in well ventilated cribs, would have cured out, reducing the moisture content and preserving the quality otherwise in such a manner that it would be marketed as No. 3 or better grade.

The discount on no-grade corn will probably be as much as 10 cents per bushel, especially if the market becomes congested, and in this connection would suggest also the probability that such damaged corn will sometime in the future be considered under the pure food and drugs act as unfit for animal food, and its sale prohibited, as is now done in the state of South Carolina, where the corn is subjected to the acidity test, and if not within the requirements is confiscated under the law of the state.

Not until very recently have the farmers been responsible under the pure food law for selling stale eggs, but we notice recently that the law is being enforced and that the farmers are being held responsible for the selling of stale eggs, and there is no doubt but what the same will be applied to animal foods.

FRANK GOBELMAN AND ASSISTANTS GO TO MEMPHIS

Frank Gobelman, the artistic painter of this city, and his assistant, George Lutter, departed this afternoon for Memphis, Nebraska, where they will be engaged in painting a fine new house that has just been erected on the farm of C. C. Parmele near that city. The house was erected by Messrs. A. B. Smith, Orville Kintz and John Linderman, and the work of the Plattsmouth carpenters was so satisfactory that the painting job was let to Mr. Gobelman, whose reputation for satisfactory work is well known throughout this section. The job of painting will take the gentlemen some time to complete, as the house is quite a large one and will require a great deal of paint to cover it.

W. R. C. Officers.

The new officers which were elected by the Woman's Relief Corps at their last meeting were as follows: President, Mrs. L. B. Egenberger; vice president, Mrs. Jennie Johnson; junior vice president, Mrs. Frances Purdy; chaplain, Mrs. M. Archer; treasurer, Mrs. Val Burkle; conductor, Mrs. Loretta Ault; guard, Mrs. Asbury Jacks; installing officer, Mrs. Laura Thrasher; delegate to state encampment at Fremont, Mrs. Val Burkle; alternate, Mrs. Eva Reese.

WHAT THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION HAS TO SAY

Several Preachers Will Endeavor to Modify Morals of Plattsmouth in Their Own Right.

Time began on the Sabbath. Home and the Sabbath are God's first gifts to man; the Jachin and Boaz pillars of national strength and morality. The authority for the Sabbath day is divine. It came from God at creation, from Jehovah at Sinai, and from Jesus the Son of God and the saviour of men at Galilee. The Sabbath was made for man and was to be used as a day of worship. Any use of the Sabbath for worldly amusements or secular ends is sin.

The Sabbath is essential to the existence of Christianity, and any loosening of public conviction on this subject opens the way to an utter disregard, if not contempt, for divine law, and because of this more than one-fifth of the laboring people of this country are compelled to work seven days in the week, thus being denied the blessings of religious culture of this day of worship.

We cannot reach and save the masses until the masses have the time to hear the gospel of Jesus, and if through Sunday labor, sport and amusements at base ball park, beer garden, moving picture shows and theaters the attention of the people be diverted from the real purpose of the Sabbath day, how much chance will the church have to cultivate and maintain a moral standard that will guarantee to the parents of children who reside in this city, and others who desire to locate here, moral safety for their family? We must make our city morally and physically safe for them, for thoughtful people will pass by a city so given up to immorality and Sabbath desecration as to offer no protection for the moral development of their children, no difference what other advantages it may offer them.

One of the most potent assistants or assailants of the church and the Sabbath is the daily newspaper; and when it, consciously or unconsciously uses its mighty influence to create public sentiment toward the tearing down of the bulwarks of our moral safety as a city or nation, it would be an inexcusable mistake for the ministerial association of that city to allow it to pass without protest.

We therefore shall use every endeavor possible, as the representatives of the religious interests of this city to stop the present drift in the direction of Sabbath desecration, and we call upon every member of the churches of the city to assist in any way possible to discourage this unholy attempt to change the Sabbath of God into a day of sport, revelry, drunkenness and theater-going.

Signed:
W. L. Austin, President.
Allan G. Wilson, Secretary.

The Journal gives space to the above, but we want it distinctly understood that we do not sanction its intent and purposes—to create a discord among the business men of Plattsmouth in order that they may carry out those purposes. The Journal will refuse to print any more such articles, as we do not believe such agitation does any good, any more than keeping the town and community in a furor. Our patrons are composed of all classes of people, for and against anything of this kind, and we propose to "keep hands off" in such a fight. We have all we can do to attend to our own business, and have made friends by so doing.

Here for Christmas.

Lynn Cook, who is conducting a shooting gallery at Leavenworth, Kansas, came in Tuesday evening and will visit over Christmas with his parents, William Cook and wife. Lynn reports that he has had a very successful season, but wants to get back home around the parental board for Christmas.

Miss Teresa Hemple departed this morning for Omaha, where she will visit friends for the day.

THE MEETING AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Last evening at the Christian church the Rev. Dunkelberger delivered one of his impressive sermons, the theme being, "Forgiveness." In this he brought the story of the returning of the prodigal son as an illustration of the forgiveness of the father, and showed how the heavenly Father was as desirous of expressing His love and forgiveness as is the earthly parent. The meetings are attracting much interest and are growing from night to night. No announcement will be made today of the subject for tonight, but it will be one of great interest and ably presented. The public are invited to attend these meetings. Good singing and good music, with the word preached in the most able manner. The services commence at 7:30 and end by 9 o'clock, which allows all to get home at an early hour.

DEATH OF M. L. FREDRICH'S FATHER IN GERMANY

Commissioner Martin L. Friedrich has just received word from Germany of the death of his aged father at Brenns Bach, Hessen-Darmstadt, Germany, of old age, on November 18. The elder Mr. Friedrich would have been 85 years old Christmas; he has been blind for the past three years and has been gradually growing more feeble. The information of his death was conveyed to Mr. Friedrich in a letter from Germany and he was greatly shocked to learn of the death of his aged parent. A number of years ago the elder Mr. Friedrich visited this country and was here for a short time and became acquainted with a number of our citizens, who will learn with great regret of his death.

WHAT ABOUT THE ANNUAL FIDDLERS' CONTEST?

John Nemetz has just received a letter from John Hampton of Auburn, Neb., inquiring about the date for the annual fiddlers' contest which has been held here for the past two seasons. Mr. Hampton was one of the contestants at the last contest, with his little son, and was one of the star features of the evening. These contests have always draw big crowds and proven to be most enjoyable events for all those attending, and it is to be hoped that the local lodge of the Red Men will take the matter up and put the affair through in their usual business-like manner.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS AT THE TELEPHONE OFFICE

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company has just completed the placing of the new furniture in their rest room in the telephone building on Sixth street. The floor of the room has been varnished and an elegant new rug gives the finishing touches to the artistic beauty of the room. The furniture is of dark mission style and they have also bought a fine leather couch, which will give the employes a most delightful place to rest. The walls and ceiling of the room are finished in two shades of blue trimmed with gold and the room and its beautiful furniture makes a room which for appearance, as well as comfort, would be hard to beat.

HOMER READ OVER TO SEE THE DOCTOR YESTERDAY

John Read and son, Homer, of Pacific Junction, came over yesterday afternoon to have the doctor examine the arm of Homer, which was taken off Sunday evening. The arm is healing up nicely and if nothing unforeseen happens the boy will be in good shape, except that his shooting in the future will have to be done with one hand. This is a very hard blow to anyone, but the little lad takes it like a man and there is never a complaint from him.

DEPART FOR THEIR NEW HOME IN NEBRASKA CITY

This morning Jesse Blunt and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Renner left for Nebraska City, where Mr. Blunt has purchased the Diamond cafe, which he will enlarge and improve and make one of the nicest restaurants in that city. The fixtures that were formerly used in the Ruby restaurant were moved yesterday afternoon to Nebraska City and the work of fixing up the new restaurant there will be started at once.

A NEW THING IN THE MOVING PICTURE BUSINESS

Arrangements have been made by Manager Shlaes of the Gem and Majestic theaters to have a representative of one of the leading moving picture houses of Chicago come to this city in the near future and take views of the principal business houses, public buildings and the prominent citizens of the city, as they appear on the street. The views will include the school buildings and the pupils, churches in the city and the Burlington shops and will be one of the biggest advertisements that has been made for the town. On the day selected the citizens and all those in the city will be notified in order that they may get in the picture. Mr. Shlaes will sell advertising space on the film to the different business houses of the city as they may desire. After the film has been shown by Mr. Shlaes it will be turned over to the Commercial club, which can use it to advertise the town and its industries, as well as its beauty as a residence town.

Not Aware.

Enjoying perfect health we are not aware that digestion is going on in our body, because it does not cause us the least discomfort. As soon as unpleasant sensations are felt, we have dyspepsia, one of the most common diseases of this country. The usual symptoms are the following: Poor or no appetite, eructations, constipation, nausea, vomiting, different pains, headache, nervousness, weakness. The greatest remedy for such complaints is Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. It will quickly and decidedly clean out the whole digestive canal, strengthening it at the same time; it will relieve acute and chronic constipation. The dose can be gradually decreased. To ladies it gives quick relief in their pains. At drug stores, Jos. Triner, 1333-39 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill. For rheumatism of muscles and joints try Triner's Liniment.

D. E. Seivers of Marquette, Nebraska, who has been here for a short visit with his daughter, Mrs. Joe Thompson, and his business partner, Hon. W. H. Newell, with whom he has been associated for thirty years, departed for his home this afternoon.
