A GOOD WOMAN IS LAID AT REST

The Last Sad Tributes to a Loving Mother and a True
Christian Lady.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Jennie R. Wells were held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 at the St. Luke's Episcopal church and were attended by a large number of old friends of this worthy lady, who gathered to pay their last tribute to her as she was laid to final rest among the scenes where so many years of her long and useful life had been spent. The body was brought here from Red Oak, Iowa, on No. 3, and was met at the Burlington station by the Woman's Relief Corps, of which Mrs. Wells had been a devoted member, and they acted as an escort to the church, where they occupied seats of honor.

The beautiful Episcopal service for the dead was conducted by Rev. Moore of Omaha in a very impressive manner, and the choir, composed of Mesdames J. B. Donnelly, Annie Britt, Messrs. C. W. Baylor and G. L. Farley, sang several of the old well beloved hymns of the departed lady during the services at the church. The casket, buried beneath a wealth of floral tributes, attesting the deep love and affection felt for the departed lady, both here and in Red Oak, was borne to its last resting place in beautiful Oak Hill cemetery by the two sons and four son-in-laws of Mrs. Wells, and the body tenderly laid to rest beside that of the husband and father, who had preceded her in death nineteen years ago.

During the years that Mrs. Wells was a resident of this city she made a host of friends by her kindly ways and sympathetic manner and her death came as a great shock to those who had known her so long and well in the past and her gentle words and kindly acts will be greatly missed, and to the sorrowing children deprived of her mother love the deepest sympathy of the entire community goes out.

The children who are left to mourn the loss of their beloved mother were all present at her bedside during her last sickness and attended the funeral here, being: Mrs. John T. Evans, Lincoln; W. E. Wells, Red Oak, Iowa; Mrs. M. S. Kerr, Kansas City; Mrs. Charles T. Miner, Kansas City; Mrs. W. M. Deming, Broken Bow, Neb.; John M. Wells, Kansas City; Mrs. A. R. Breese, Red Oak, Iowa. All of the son-in-law of the departed lady with the exception of Mr. Deming, who was unable to attend, were present at the funeral, as was her brother, M. B. Fellows of Imogene, Iowa; the other brother, Rush O. Fellows of Belle Fourche, S. D., being at Red Oak at the time of her death. Dr. I. Breese and S. B. Breese of Red Oak accompanied the funeral party and attended the services.

Jane Rose Fellows was born November 30, 1845, at Flowerfield, Michigan, and spent her childhood days in that place, coming overland to Nebraska in the year 1858 with her father, Milo Fellows, who afterwards became one of the first postmasters of this city. Here Miss Fellows grew into womanhood and on April 27, 1863, she was united in marriage to William L. Wells, a young Nebraska soldier, who was home on a recruiting trip, and with the bravery of the women of that time, Mrs. Wells bid her bridegroom farewell and he returned to his duties in the army, serving till the close of the great civil war.

Mr. Wells served as district clerk of this county for some eight years, and the family were residents of this city until 1880, when they removed to South Bend precinct, where they resided on a farm and in that village until the death of Mr. Wells in 1894, when the family moved back to Plattsmouth and resided here until 1904, when Mrs. Wells decided to give up housekeeping, and had made her home with her children since that time. She was taken sick last October, but was able to be around until about two weeks ago, when she was taken acutely at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Breese, in Red Oak, Ia., and her condition was such that no hope was held out to the family for her recovery, and last Sunday morning she answered the call of the Master to her final reward. Mrs. Wells at an early day joined with the Protestant Episcopal church, and was a lifelong and faithful member of that faith and reared her family in the belief of that church.

TENT MEETINGS CON- TINUE ENTHUSIASTIC

Notwithstanding the Intense Heat
Evening Meeting Was Fairly Well Attended.

After a day of intense heat, in which people suffered, whether they worked or did not, and the perspiration came out from every pore on the least exertion, the evening brought somewhat of surcease from the highly heated day, and those who are interested in the campaign at the big tent gathered, first to the twilight prayer meeting, where they renewed their faith and zeal, reconsecrating themselves to the service of the Master.

In the regular meeting, when the shades of evening had fallen and the cooling breezes came whispering through the tent, giving a cooling and delightful scene of refreshment after the day's toil, the conditions were such as made the attending of the service one of pleasure. For half an hour the musical program claimed the attention of those who attended, and this portion of the service was more than well worth the coming. Rev. Smith took for his subject the profit and loss of Christianity, or the profit of being a Christian and living the right life, and the loss of not having done what one could for the Master. With many incidents he illustrated the subject, drawing many a good lesson and making a number of fine points as he progressed.

At the close a number of those present evidenced a desire to live the better life and were joined in a series of prayers. Among the number were ten little girls, whose purity of life spoke for the good life they expect to live, and a man who had seen the effects of a life of sin, who had pursued the world to win from it pleasure at any cost, but had found it not. He stated that his father had been a minister, but had gone from this world of labor to his reward, but left his son and an aged wife, who had been solicitous of his welfare. In his standing for a better life he is giving joy to his mother, such as he could do in no other way.

The subject for this evening will be "The Reason Given for Not Being a Christian." Besides the meeting at 3:30, which is to be held this afternoon, there will be another twilight prayer meeting at 7:30, just thirty minutes before the convening of the regular service.

It has been planned that the Sunday schools will meet in the tent together, and that the churches engaged in the effort, there will be no services at the individual church buildings, but that a morning union meeting will be held just after the Sunday school shall close.

That this may not interfere with the work of the individual churches, arrangements will be made to have collection envelopes from each church, that the offerings for that time may go where it regularly does.

FORMER PLATTSMOUTH ATTORNEY IS APPOINTED JUDGE OF BUFFALO CO.

Dispatches in the state papers this morning convey the information of the appointment of J. E. Morrison, a former Plattsmouth attorney, but now of Kearney, to the position of county judge of Buffalo county, in place of Judge Hollowell, who was charged with having acted as attorney for parties having business in his court. Mr. Morrison was for years one of the prominent lawyers at the Cass county bar and one of the leading citizens of Plattsmouth, but removed from here some twenty-five years ago and finally located in Kearney, and his appointment to the office of county judge will be very pleasing to his former friends here.

THE COMMISSIONERS ORDER TELEPHONES OUT OF COURT HOUSE

The county commissioners, at their meeting here this week, ordered all the telephones out of the court house and jail and the only telephone used by the county after July 1 will be that at the county poor farm. The commissioners do not believe the rates should be raised and do not care to have the taxpayers forced to pay the increase, and as a consequence, decided to take out the 'phones. This change will prove quite an annoyance to many who have been in the habit of calling up the officials out in the county to save a trip here and it will be some time before the public will get used to the proposed change. There is a great deal of business transacted by parties in the county court, treasurer's office, as well as that of the clerk, sheriff and county attorney that can be expedited over the telephone, and the taking out of these instruments will compel the parties to appear in person to look after the matters in which they are interested. However inconvenient it may be to parties having business at the court house, it is a principle that should be sustained that the taxpayers of the county should not be compelled to submit to the raise in rates, even if it is rather inconvenient for them to have the telephones moved out of the county offices.

Injured Man Recovering.

August Olson, the man who was mysteriously shot at Cedar Creek Monday night, is doing nicely at the hospital in Omaha and will recover from the shooting without injury. The bullet was found lodged in his thigh and taken out without much difficulty and the patient is recovering nicely from the effects of the wound and it is thought he will soon be able to be out. There is still no clue as to where the bullet came from and it will probably never be known.

Man Found Insane.

The county board of insanity yesterday afternoon had Soren Hansen, the man found at the Peter Meisinger farm Monday night, before them, and after an examination of the patient decided that he was a fit person to be sent to the insane hospital at Lincoln, and as the man was a resident of Douglas county he was taken to Omaha this morning by Sheriff Quinton and will be turned over to the proper authorities to be taken care of.

PROPERTY CONTINUES TO CHANGE HANDS

There has been considerable changing of property in this city in the last few days in the line of purchasing of residences by different parties, which serves to indicate a spirit of confidence in the city and its future by the citizens here.

The residence property of Charles Renner, at the corner of Pearl and Eleventh streets, has been purchased by County Recorder of Deeds A. J. Snyder, and the family will move from the Baylor property in the Second ward, where they have been living, it having been purchased by Fred Engelkemeier.

E. A. Lorenz has purchased the Justus Lillie property on Oak street and will move shortly into his new home, and it is understood that Mr. Lillie and family will purchase the Harry Kuhney property on North Fourth street, while Mr. Kuhney will try and secure a place further out, where he can have more land.

These changes in residence property show that the citizens are beginning to realize that Plattsmouth is a mighty good town to live in, and such a spirit is what makes a town good, as you cannot expect strangers to take up with a place where residents are ready to take a knock at it. The best way to develop a place is for every man, woman and child to get behind it and boost and make the world realize that it is the best place in the world that the residents can find to live in and that they are proud of the fact that it is their home.
