"DEEP PURPLE" COMING TO THE PARMELE SOON

Playwright Taken for Real Crook
in Quest for "Atmosphere"—
Poor Marksmanship of Copper Saved Author.

Paul Armstrong, author of the "Deep Purple," which comes to the Parmele on Saturday night, February 28, is a great stickler for realism. In seeking his "types" and "atmosphere" for the play, Armstrong managed to get in the good graces of the chief of a New York "mob" of "dips." Armstrong played the part so well that he was allowed to attend a secret meeting of the clan held in a flat in Upper New York.

But Paul didn't know that the police were "wise." During the progress of the meeting the blue-coats appeared and proceeded to raid the place. The crooks lost no time in making their getaway through the windows. Armstrong followed the crowd, but was unfortunate enough to receive a bullet in his left leg. Captured and taken to the hospital, Armstrong had some trouble in convincing the authorities that he was not a dyed-in-the-wool crook. The flat in which the episode occurred was the original for that in which the main scenes in "The Deep Purple" take place.

CUPID'S DART AGAIN PIERCES THE HEART

Popular Cass County Young People Wedded in This City Yesterday Afternoon at 1:30.

Yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, at St. Paul's church, in this city, was performed the ceremony that united the lives and hearts of two of the popular young people of the county, Mr. Clarence E. Meisinger and Miss Luella L. Kaffenberger.

The wedding was a very simple yet impressive one, performed by Rev. J. H. Steger, pastor of the church, and the bridal couple were attended by Miss Edna Meisinger, sister of the groom, and Messrs. Mike and Fred Kaffenberger, brothers of the bride. Miss Kaffenberger was gowned very handsomely in pale blue chiffon over silk and carried a very handsome bouquet of bride roses, while the groom was clothed in the conventional black. The wedding party, after the ceremony, departed for the home of the bride's parents, near Cedar Creek, where a very elaborate 6 o'clock dinner was served to the party and a number of the close relatives of the newly wedded pair. They will in the future make their home on a farm near Cedar Creek.

The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kaffenberger, two of the worthy residents of this part of the county, and she has been brought up among the scenes where she will make her future home and where her friends are without limit.

The groom is a very fine young man of splendid character and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Meisinger, and like all of his family, he is among the most reliable young farmers in the county and well liked by all who have the pleasure of his acquaintance. To the newly wedded couple the best wishes of hundreds of friends will be extended and that they may have all the happiness they so well deserve is the wish of the Journal.

For Everybody.

Mr. John S. Holly of McAdoo, Pa., judged right our specialty which for many years is so well known to our families. He writes as follows: "I received your handsome calendars, for which please accept my sincere thanks. I wish to add that Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine is very good for all kinds of diseases and that it gives a good appetite. This remedy should be in every household. It should be recommended to every sufferer, because it is good for everybody. Yours truly, John S. Holly." It is an undeniable fact that this remedy is good for everybody, because it creates a healthy appetite, regulates the digestion and keeps the bowels clean. At drug stores. Jos. Triner, Manufacturing Chemist, 1333-1339 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago. For rheumatic and neuralgic pains use Triner's Liniment.

A Piano Worth Owning

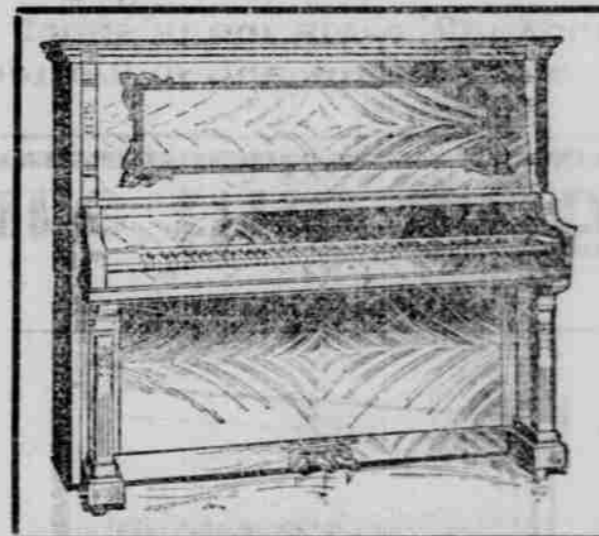

Here is a short description of this magnificent Segerstrom piano: It is a large size instrument, measuring 4 ft. 9 in. in height, 5 ft. 2 in. in length and weighs, boxed ready for shipment, over 800 lbs. The finest materials and most experienced workmanship have produced in the Segerstrom an instrument excellent in tone, power and appearance. The case design is very beautiful. It is adorned with rich carvings, standing out in bold relief, indicating artistic elegance. The surface of the instrument attracts at once with its deep mellow color, polish and resplendent as a mirror. The keyboard is a wealth of genuine ivory keys. The action is easy, elastic and responsive. The piano has a fine, full singing tone, at once deep and tender, capable alike of producing spectacular musical effects and of yielding the softest, dreamiest melodies.

This elegant piano compels admiration for its massive showy qualities, and likewise proves itself friendly to the deepest, tenderest feelings of the heart. It will win its princely way in any home.

It is installed in thousands of the best homes, conservatories, educational and religious institutions in the land and is well and favorably recommended by leading public men, women and institutions; by musicians, teachers and other excellent judges of musical instruments. Ask to see the portfolio containing these recommendations.

Get it For Your Home

This piano will make your home more attractive—for yourself, for the rest of the family, and for your friends. It will beautify the parlor, keep the children at home; teach the daughter a fine accomplishment, make home life pleasant to the son, entertain your friends, brighten the lonely hours, and promote sociability and good fellowship.

Or For Your Society
