

The Plattsmouth Journal.

VOL. XXXIII.

PLATTSMOUTH, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1914.

NO. 39.

BIG AUDIENCE SEE "THE CALLING OF DAN MATTHEWS"

The Best Show of the Season, and It Merits Success in Every Town and City They Visit.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Harold Bell Wright, who gave to the world his great novel, "The Calling of Dan Matthews," certainly had a mission to fulfill and his splendid story filled with deep and lasting lessons was offered last evening in the dramatized form at the Parmele theatre before a large audience. The story has lost none of its interest in being staged, and the company presenting it gave a very strong rendition of the drama. Present day conditions in the church circles of the small country town form the chief theme built around the figure of Dan Matthews, the young minister who has just taken charge of a church and whose first experience with the chief financial backer of the church shows the true character of the man and weakens the faith of the minister. A very pretty love story is woven through the play that makes a pleasing climax to the rather heavy theme of the play itself. Homer Tilton, who played the role of Dan Matthews, gave a very realistic rendition of the character of the true hearted minister of the gospel and in his scenes with Hope Farwell (Miss Hedda Laurant) was exceptionally strong. Miss Laurant handled the role of Miss Farwell in a splendid manner and her thrilling parts in the play gripped the audience with their intensity and force. Walter Ayres, as Doctor Oldham, the kindly old family doctor whose life is filled with the cares and troubles of his neighbors, was more than pleasing, and the clever manner in which the character was presented was most pleasing to all who were present. The play was undoubtedly one of the best that has been here this season, and the company excellent in every way. While the play is by the same author as "The Shepherd of the Hills," the theme is more suited to modern conditions, and the story is well written and depicts a great many very unpleasant truths whose existence cannot be denied.

A MIX-UP IN THE HALLOWEEN CELEBRATION AT CEDAR CREEK SATURDAY

From Tuesday's Daily.
The citizens of Cedar Creek have been having some little excitement in their generally peaceful village in the past few days over what was apparently a Halloween celebration. Several days ago three freeholders of Cedar Creek made application to Justice of the Peace M. Archer for the appointment of special constables for the purpose of guarding certain places and property there in that place on Halloween. As there is a statute providing for this, Justice Archer at once named William Grebe and a man named Jones, who were sent out to the scene of their duties. Saturday evening, it is reported, quite a good deal of lumber disappeared from the lumber yard there, and on Sunday evening a general mix-up seems to have occurred, from all accounts, in which one of the officers suffered slightly from being struck in the melee, but the stories of the affair are conflicting, and it is very hard to determine the facts in the case on which to base an opinion. As yet there has been no complaints filed in the matter, and it is not known as whether or not there will be unless further developments warrant it.

To Attend Teachers' Meeting.
From Tuesday's Daily.
County Superintendent Mary E. Foster departed this morning for Omaha, where she will attend the meeting of the Nebraska Teachers' association that is convening there today. Miss Foster is constantly alive to the best interests of the Cass county schools and allows nothing to interfere with her work along this line.

Watch for Hessian Fly.
From Tuesday's Daily.
The United States agricultural department cautions winter wheat growers to examine their wheat fields at this time for evidence of the Hessian fly, and their bulletin, No. 12, tells how they may be detected. The Hessian fly did considerable damage in Mills county the past season, and every effort should be made to exterminate it.

IS THE COST OF FOOD PRODUCTS INCREASED BY DELIVERY SYSTEM

From Tuesday's Daily.
Students of economics have long been talking about the way the cost of food products is increased by delivering goods from stores to the consumer's door. Secretary of Commerce Redfield, in a speech just delivered at the Boston Pure Food Fair, urged women to carry their own bundles. In society circles some women would not be willing to sally out with a market basket, unless they were sure their neighbors would not see them. It would seem almost socially lowering to carry home a roast of pork. The ordinary run of people might not thus be affected by the damning appearance of a brown paper parcel. But they do not seem to have time to do their own marketing. The business man does not probably take quite as long time at his office as formerly. But his time is filled up more closely. His father used to quit work at his place of business rather late, then he would go home and go to bed before 9 o'clock. The son has his lodge or his club as an entertainment to attend in the evening. If he takes a half-hour off to visit stores and markets, and do the family shopping and carry parcels home in his arms, he must cut down his working hours, or go home late to his supper, and cut short his evening of enjoyment. Where women used to formerly circulate among the markets and grocery stores, now they order largely by telephone. They are governed very considerably by the advertisements they read in the newspapers. They are so busy with church work, bridge, and clubs, that there seems to be no time left for the marketing their mothers used to do. The store delivery team may not be economic. But it is very popular and has come to stay, because it saves time to the hurried man and woman of today. If a man's time is valuable, it may be worth his while to pay the difference in the higher cost of goods and save the bother. With the majority of persons, it is simply one sign of the growing comfort and luxury of the age.

THE ADDITION AND IMPROVEMENTS AT THE K. S. HALL IS NEARING COMPLETION

From Tuesday's Daily.
The work on the building of the K. S. hall in the west part of the city is progressing very nicely and the new addition is getting in such shape that it will soon be in shape to use. The entire basement beneath the hall has been dug out and a large sized room the entire length of the building will be used there in the future that will allow the hall in the main building to be enlarged. The large crowds present here on the occasion of the dances and the social gatherings of this society makes it almost impossible to handle them, and it is to overcome this that the new addition is being made. Most of the basement room will be constructed of concrete and will be one of the best equipped places of its kind in the city.

Q. Z. Notice.
There will be a special meeting of the Q. Z. society of the Presbyterian church at the home of Miss Mathilde Vallery Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at which time they will meet with the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary and complete all arrangements for the Rummage Sale which the ladies of the church will hold November 12-13-14.

Wall Paper. Gering & Co. Phone 36.

GOVERNOR MOREHEAD
Re-Elected Tuesday by at Least 10,000 Majority
Accept the Journal's Congratulations Governor, and May You Live Long and Prosper

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION MEETS AT THE RILEY HOTEL

From Tuesday's Daily.
The Ministerial association of the city held their regular weekly meeting at the Hotel Riley yesterday to discuss matters of interest to the churches and their cause. One of the chief features of the meeting was the discussion of the place of holding the annual Thanksgiving service that will be held for the purpose of allowing the citizens to gather together and return their thanks for the benefits showered upon them in the year just passed. The ministers decided to hold the services in the Christian church this year and the sermon will be delivered by Rev. F. M. Druliner of the First Methodist church, one of the leading pulpit orators in the city, and the service should be attended by all who can be present.

DISTRICT CONVENTION OF THE WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS TOMORROW

From Tuesday's Daily.
Tomorrow the district convention of the Woman's Relief Corps will convene in this city for their session at the Modern Woodman hall, and our citizens should join in showing the ladies a cordial welcome here. The last convention selected Mrs. Nannie Burkle of this city as the president, and decided on Plattsmouth as the next meeting place of the convention, and it is now up to the citizens here to see that they are entertained here in a proper manner. The business houses of the city should decorate in a fitting manner to show their appreciation of the ladies' recognition of Plattsmouth. Don't fail to decorate tomorrow in honor of the event in the national colors. It will not take much of an effort and will show the true spirit.

Miss Margaret Albert was among the visitors at the state teachers' meeting in Omaha this morning, going to that city on the early morning train.

MRS. GEORGE E. DOVEY AND DAUGHTER DEPART FOR NEW YORK CITY

From Tuesday's Daily.
Last evening Mrs. George E. Dovey and daughter, Mrs. Fred Truesdell, and children departed on No. 6 for New York. Mrs. Truesdell has been here spending the summer at the home of her parents, and Mrs. Dovey returns home with her to spend the Christmas holidays in New York with her, and Miss Alice Dovey, who is appearing in the metropolis this season in one of the leading operas. Mrs. Dovey has not been in the best of health for some time, and the visit will give her a splendid opportunity for rest and recreation. She will return home shortly after New Year's.

FRED EBENGER ARRIVES IN PLATTSMOUTH FROM GERMANY LOOKING FINE

This morning Fred W. Ebinger arrived in Plattsmouth over the Missouri Pacific from his trip of several months in Germany. He reached New York Friday morning and at once started for home with stops at Buffalo, N. Y., and Clinton, Ia., where he visited with relatives. He was quite tired out with his long trip and states that the conflict waging there is something that is hard to imagine. He, however, does not believe the American public clearly appreciates the condition of affairs on the European continent. The arrival of Mr. Ebinger was the occasion of much relief to his family and friends who have been greatly worried over his enforced stay in Germany after the war broke out.

Miss Irene Hartwick was among the passengers this morning for the metropolis, where she will attend the state teachers' meeting for the day.

P. F. Cherry, John McKay and G. L. Spohn of Weeping Water were here yesterday for a few hours looking after the returns from their precincts.

Making a Great Success.
From Tuesday's Daily.
This morning Miss Bongue departed for Pacific Junction, where she will look after some matters for the beauty parlors in this city which she is operating and at which she has been most successful. Miss Bongue is an expert in the art of hairdressing and manicuring and has been very much pleased with the results secured from the ladies of Plattsmouth and vicinity. The beauty parlors are run in connection with the Pease millinery establishment and is proving a great success in the handling of the needs of the ladies.

LYMAN J. HOWE IS COMING TO THE PARMELE ON WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 18

From Tuesday's Daily.
One of the phases of the grim preparations for the war in Europe is depicted in a film to be presented by Lyman J. Howe at the Parmele theatre on Wednesday, November 18. It shows the extremely severe training that a squadron of cavalry is subjected to. They ride at breakneck speed across the country so wild and rugged that it seems utterly impossible. They scarcely pause even at the brink of a dizzy precipice. They plunge down headlong regardless of life or limb. That escape without being crushed or maimed seems miraculous. Accidents of the most startling character happen in such rapid succession that spectators are apt to exclaim, "Oh-h-h!" or "Killed!" Nothing is wanting in this film of all the reality of war save actual bloodshed or sacrifice of human life. Again and again the squadron emerges from clouds of dust only to continue on their perilous and swift race over more steep embankments, across streams and over walls. In striking contrast to this feature, every moment of which teems with excitement, is a delightful pictorial pilgrimage to Venice—the City of the Sea—famous the world over for its poetic and haunting beauty. Throned on her hundred isles, it resembles no other city on earth. Here are architectural jewels unsurpassed anywhere else, even in Italy. To glide along these curving promenades of rippling water lined with palaces, massive columns, marble balconies and sculptured arches, all under the spell of twilight, then under the shimmering rays of moonlight, is to witness a picture that will linger in the memory for years to come.

DEATH OF A FORMER CASS COUNTY LADY WHO PASSES AWAY AT LINCOLN, NEB.

From Tuesday's Daily.
The following, from the Lincoln State Journal, gives a short sketch of the life of Mrs. Emma Harris, a former Cass county young lady:
Mrs. Emma Lettie Harris, nee Dimmitt, was born at Elmwood, Neb., July 20, 1884, and departed this life in her home at Lincoln, October 23, 1914, aged 37 years, 3 months and 3 days. She grew to womanhood in Cass county, Nebraska. She was reared in a Christian home and had the influence and benefit of the family altar in the parental home. When 12 years of age, she gave her heart to God and her hand to the Methodist church, of which she was a worthy and active member, known as an active worker in the church. In 1897 she was elected delegate to the junior department of the Epworth assembly held at Lincoln. In 1906 she moved with her parents to College View, Neb., where she transferred her membership to the Methodist church at Normal, Neb. December 26, 1906, she was united in marriage to Roy G. Harris. To this union were born two children, Lydia L. and Raymond H. Mrs. Harris was a true and affectionate wife, a faithful mother, a loving and obedient daughter and a kind neighbor. She leaves to mourn her early departure a dear husband, her two children, aged 6 and 3 years; her parents, one brother, William G. Dimmitt, and one sister, Mrs. Dovie L. Harris, both of Litchfield, Neb., besides she leaves many relatives and a host of warm friends. One brother, Ernest E. Dimmitt, preceded her to the glory land.

RETURNS INDICATE GOVERNOR MOREHEAD'S ELECTION

Most of the Democratic County Ticket Elected, Notwithstanding the Republicans Put Up a Stronger Fight Than the Democrats.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Pluralities in Cass County.

Governor—Morehead, d.	366
Congress—Maguire, d.	426
Senator—Sturm, r.	295
Representative—Kime, d.	70
Floor Representative—Puls, d.	60
County Clerk—Liberthal, d.	418
Register of Deeds—Snyder, d.	584
Treasurer—Fox, d.	563
Sheriff—Quinton, r.	443
Superintendent—Marquardt, r.	565
Coroner—Brendel, d.	695
Commissioner—Heebner, r.	6
Commissioner—Snoko, d.	337

The fine, bright election day yesterday brought out a very large vote in the different wards and precincts of the county, and the extremely long ballot made the work of counting, after the polls closed, a long-winded task that kept most of the election boards working all right in an endeavor to count out the ballots. In this city the election boards were compelled to spend the entire night in working, and it was not until 6 o'clock this morning that their work was completed.

Governor Morehead led a big vote in the city, as did most of the democratic ticket, and Congressman Maguire received the usual democratic vote and from all indications will carry the county by a good majority.

A very strong fight was made in this city by the republicans on their entire ticket, and especially on the county treasurer, where Major Hall was opposing County Treasurer Fox for re-election, but Mr. Fox was able to carry the city by a majority of 160 and will have a majority of something like 400 in the entire county, as indicated by the returns as they slowly come in. Sheriff Quinton was the high man on the republican ticket, running ahead in almost every precinct and ward, and his majority in the county is estimated at 400.

A. J. Snyder, for register of deeds, got away to the good in the voting and will be an easy winner by a majority of some 100 in the county.

County Superintendent Foster on the democratic ticket is evidently defeated, on the face of the returns, by a majority that will probably be in the neighborhood of 300, by Miss Eda Marquardt, her republican opponent.

Frank J. Liberthal, the present county clerk, on the democratic ticket ran splendidly throughout the county and in the city received a very heavy vote that will give him a good, safe majority of 350.

In this county Andrew Sturm, republican candidate for state senator, is running ahead of John Mattes, his democratic opponent, and from the face of the returns will have a majority of some 300. Mattes, however, ran strong in this city, where he is well known, and in Nebraska City and Otoe county received a majority of some 500 which will probably be added to by the later returns, and makes Mr. Mattes a winner.

On the legislative ticket M. G. Kime, democratic representative, appears to have much the best of the race with C. E. Pool, and will be elected by a safe majority.

In the battle for county commissioner in the Second district, C. E. Heebner appears to have broken down party lines and carried the city by a large majority as well as most of the country precincts. Henry Snoko, the democratic candidate in the Third district, came under the wire an easy winner by a big majority estimated at some 250.

The later returns from the country precincts have served to cut down the majorities for the democratic candidates and the final result can not fully be determined until the complete returns are in. With Weeping Water precinct, Weeping Water First ward,

Center precinct and Plattsmouth Fifth ward missing, the majority of M. G. Kime was 80, while that of W. H. Puls was some 57. Both of these gentlemen ran well in this city, but were cut in the heavy republican precincts of the county.

The non-partisan judiciary ticket was lost sight of by the election officials in the different wards and precincts and no returns were made on them, and it will require the official canvass of the vote to fully determine just what the outcome of the election will be to these candidates. District Judge Begley, County Attorney Cole and County Surveyor Fred Patterson were without opposition, and their election is something they have not had to worry over in the least.

The woman suffrage proposition was another of the matters that was passed up by most of the election boards, but in this city the majority of the antis is conceded to be quite large, and it is not thought it can carry in the country precincts.

THE CASS COUNTY ELECTION RETURNS NOW COMPLETE

The Officers in the Court House Will Remain Just About as They Were, with the Exception of County Superintendent.

The returns brought in from the different precincts yesterday made several changes in the results of the election from the indications from the first returns. When the smoke of battle cleared away County Treasurer W. K. Fox was found to be the high man in the entire county on either side, having a nice plurality of 638, which is going some, especially in view of the extremely hard fight that had been made on him. Governor Morehead secured 416 on the unofficial returns as his lead over Howell. Congressman Maguire was given the plurality of 425 in the county to assist him in his fight for re-election. The majority of Sturm for state senator was increased to 314 on the returns, but this was overcome in Otoe county, where Mattes won by 500. Mike G. Kime, the democratic candidate for state representative against Clarence E. Pool, had one of the tight races of the campaign and won out by the narrow margin of 17 votes. For the office of representative for Cass and Otoe counties W. H. Puls, democrat, received a plurality of 70 in this county, while in Otoe his opponent, Fred Nutzman, was given a lift of 611 which put him across. Frank Liberthal was right in the front ranks of the winners, slipping over the wire with the lead of 426 votes and will continue to handle the reigns of office for the next two years. Andy Snyder, the register of deeds, will have on the face of the returns a majority of 567 votes, which is a splendid showing. Sheriff Quinton's plurality will be 443 over his democratic opponent, John Wunderlich, who has made a splendid campaign, and while the great personal popularity of the sheriff would not allow him to win, the friends of Mr. Wunderlich feel well pleased over the campaign he has made which was like the man himself—clean and straightforward in every way. Miss Eda Marquardt was up and going in the general result, as she will have 509 votes to the good in her race for county superintendent. Dr. J. F. Brendel will be the next county coroner, having a plurality of some 601 for the office over B. I. Clements, his republican opponent. In the Second district commissioner-ship, C. E. Heebner appears to have won out by a narrow margin of 6 votes over C. H. Spohn, his democratic opponent. Henry Snoko, candidate on the democratic ticket in the Third district for commissioner, justified his friends' expectations by coming under the wire a winner by 337 votes.

Letter files at the Journal office.

M. Tritsch, refracting optician, at Gering & Co.'s Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Examination free.