

THE LAST SAD TRIBUTE PAID TO MRS. CAROLINE HENTON

A Large Concurrence of Sympathetic Friends Attend the Funeral in Honor of an Estimable Lady.

From Friday's Daily.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Caroline Henton was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. F. Gillespie, in Mynard, where she has made her home for the past thirty-two years. There were a large number of old friends present to pay their last tribute of respect to this grand, good woman, who after a long and useful life which covered the pioneer days of this section, had been called home to her final reward. The services were conducted by Rev. G. A. Randall of the Methodist church at Mynard, and Rev. J. M. Eades of the Liberty U. B. church, and the ministers paid a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Henton and her long Christian life which had such a force for good in the community where she had lived. At the close of the service all that was mortal of this pioneer lady was borne tenderly by six of her grandsons, J. E. Johnson, F. H. Johnson, A. S. Johnson, Harry Henton, Fred Henton and John Chapman, to the last resting place in the Elkkenary cemetery, where it was consigned to await the Master's call.

Caroline Bridge was born in Indiana, March 9, 1825, and resided in that state for a number of years, being united in marriage to William H. Henton, in Loganport, Ind., and they made their home for several years until they decided to come west to make their future home and arrived in Mills county, Iowa, fifty-six years ago this month and made their home there for three years. The family then came to Plattsmouth, where they made their home for twelve years and then removed back to Mills county, where the husband and father passed away. After the death of Mr. Henton the wife decided to remove back to Nebraska and located near Mynard, where she had resided for the past thirty-two years, most of that time being with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gillespie. Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Henton, five daughters and three sons. Two daughters and one son died in infancy, and the two sons, George Monroe and William Edgar Henton, dying after reaching manhood. Three daughters, Mrs. J. W. Johnson of Plattsmouth, Mrs. J. H. Adams and Mrs. W. F. Gillespie of Mynard, are left to mourn the death of this most worthy lady and kind and loving mother. Several grandchildren as well as eleven great-grandchildren, and one brother, William Bridge, of Canby, Ore., survive Mrs. Henton.

Card of Thanks.

To the many kind friends and neighbors who assisted us during the illness and death of our beloved mother we desire to express our most heartfelt appreciation and trust in their hour of sorrow and grief that they may receive the same kindly consideration that has been meted out to us by the many kind friends.

MR. AND MRS. W. F. GILLESPIE.

STAMPING OUT THE FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE AMONG THE CATTLE OF THE COUNTRY

How does it happen that within forty-eight hours after the discovery of the foot-and-mouth disease among cattle in the Chicago stock yards it should be reported to exist in thirteen states? Has there been any adequate system of inspection by the federal and various state authorities if its appearance in so many localities had not been before suspected? There is always reason in such circumstances to anticipate that alarmist reports may be exaggerated. One wholesome effect, fortunately, is to stimulate official vigilance and the taking of measures for the prevention of the spread of the disease. If there has been negligence in the past, it is not likely to happen again for some time. The interests at stake are too great, for both the cattle-growers and farmers on one side and the consumers on the other are directly concerned. The sinister aspect of the matter is the evident eagerness of some people to take advantage of the government's prompt action and profit by it to create a panicky feeling among farmers and consumers. As yet there is no proof that any large number of cattle has developed the disease, and the number actually destroyed at Chicago has been only what would be an inconspicuous part of the daily receipts there under normal conditions. But the gamblers in food need little encouragement if they see a chance to help along the game of extortionate prices.

A BUSY DAY IN OFFICE OF CLERK OF DISTRICT COURT

A Number of Cases Placed on Docket to Be Tried in Forthcoming District Court.

From Friday's Daily.

Yesterday was quite a busy day in the office of Clerk of the District Court James Robertson, when a number of cases were brought in to be placed on the appearance docket to be tried at the forthcoming term of the district court.

A case was filed entitled Andrew F. Sturm vs. Benjamin F. Moore. In this the plaintiff seeks to recover the sum of $826.50, together with interest at 7 per cent from April 1, 1914, alleged to be due on a promissory note executed by the defendant to the plaintiff. Rawls & Robertson appear for the plaintiff.

A case has also been filed entitled Nancy J. Garrison vs. Alonzo D. Garrison, Luella Pitman and George Garrison. In this suit the plaintiff seeks to have two deeds to real estate executed by George W. Garrison, deceased, to the two first named defendants set aside. In her petition the plaintiff states that the deeds were made in 1899 by George W. Garrison, and remained in his possession until his death, when they were secured by the defendants and filed. The petition further states that the plaintiff was married to the late George W. Garrison on June 12, 1902, at Seymore, Ia., and that in August, 1903, he executed a will giving to the plaintiff the sum of $500 and a life interest in the homestead, and after his death in June this was admitted to probate and the plaintiff refused to accept the settlement and demanded her dower right of one-fourth interest in the estate. She asks that the deeds be set aside and the real estate, consisting of farm lands, be listed with the property of the estate for division. Matthew Gering appears for the plaintiff, and Rawls & Robertson for the defendants.

In the re-guardianship of Jaunita Clemens, minor, an application is made by Christina Burr, guardian, to sell real estate in which the minor has an interest amounting to $200. The property in question consists of several lots in the west part of this city. Rawls & Robertson appear for the guardian.

MRS. MARY J. JEAN SEVERELY INJURED AT THE HOME OF DAUGHTER IN LINCOLN

From Friday's Daily.

The condition of Mrs. Mary J. Jean, who was injured quite severely a few days ago at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Collins, in Lincoln, is reported as being slightly improved, and the relatives and friends are now hopeful of her recovery from her injuries. Mrs. Jean was in the kitchen of the Collins home with another daughter, Mrs. A. N. Sullivan, when Mrs. Sullivan slipped and fell, and in doing so caused Mrs. Jean to fall, with the result that the aged lady sustained a broken hip as well as a broken shoulder blade. Medical assistance was at once summoned to look after the injured lady, and she was made as comfortable as the circumstances would allow. Her son, C. L. Jean, and wife, residing southwest of this city, are at her bedside in Lincoln, assisting in caring for the mother, who is quite well advanced in years, being over 80 years of age. Mrs. Jean is one of the pioneers of Cass county, and her many friends here will regret greatly to learn of her misfortune and will trust that she may recover without serious effects from the injuries.

Final Settlement Is Had.

This morning the final settlement of the estate of the late O. P. Monroe was held in the county court and the administrator, N. K. Peoples, discharged from his duties with the wind-up of the estate.

Streets Getting Cleaned Up.

From Friday's Daily.

The paved streets in the business section of the city were treated this morning to a thorough sweeping by the street sweeper and a force of men who gathered up the debris accumulated on the streets and hauled it away to the city dumping ground. The work was much needed and added greatly to the appearance of the business part of the city, and should be repeated quite often, as it tends greatly toward the appearance of the streets in the business section.

FEW APPROPRIATE CHRISTMAS SUGGESTIONS FOR ALL TO CONTEMPLATE OVER

From Friday's Daily.

The holiday season is drawing on apace and before we are hardly aware of it Christmas will be upon us and the rush of the Christmas season of shopping will be on in full blast. It would be well for those who are contemplating making their purchases to get out early and secure what they desire as early in the season as possible and avoid waiting until the last few days to swamp the clerks in the stores with their rush. It is just as easy now to tell what you will want to purchase for your relatives and friends as it will be a few days before Christmas and a reminder now will go far toward lightening the burden of the tired worn-out clerks who are compelled to pass through the most trying time of the year around the Christmas season. Remember in the season of good cheer to be charitable to all and this includes the clerks in the stores. Do your Christmas shopping early and help them out.

HUNTERS MUST LOOK OUT FOR GAME WARDEN ON BOTH SIDES OF RIVER

From Friday's Daily.

Deputy Game Warden T. L. Hall was over on the river near Folsom last Sunday and incidentally found three non-resident hunters from Omaha in the act of hunting. took them before Justice Bouquet of Pacific Junction and they put up a bond of above $50, sufficient to cover the state license and costs. Whether they will contest the case in court, time will tell.—Glenwood Tribune.

The sportsmen from this city who hunt to any extent on the Missouri river should fight shy of the Iowa side of the river or they may suffer a similar dose, as the Iowa laws are very severe on the wrong-doer from out of the state.

The Date December 3, and the Principal Speaker Will Be Congressman-Elect C. F. Reavis.

From Friday's Daily.

The committee that has been placed in charge of the arrangements for the annual banquet of the Young Men's Bible class of the Methodist church, which will be held in the parlors of the church Thursday evening, December 3, have about completed their work and are ready now for the sale of the tickets that will be looked after by the committee headed by Jesse P. Given the young men of the city as well as the older men to attend and enjoy the event. The repast will be prepared and served by the ladies of the church, and those who have attended previous banquets of the class well know the rare treat that is in store for them in the delicious banquet. The chief speaker of the evening will be Congressman-elect C. F. Reavis of Falls City, who despite the fact that he is a very busy man, has found time to give the young men of the city a few hours of his time in delivering his address and his visit here is appreciated very much by the members of the class, and his address will be well worth hearing, as there are few more popular speakers in the state than this gentleman. A number of local speakers will also be on the toast list, and the feast will be presided over by Principal A. O. Eggenberger of the High school as toastmaster. The banquet is becoming more and more popular each year, and the occasion this year will see a greater demand for the tickets than ever before, and those who desire to attend should get their tickets as early as possible.

Death of Geo. Takenberg.

From Saturday's Daily.

Geo. Takenberg, one of the old landmarks of Louisville, died at his rooms over the Blake-McCarty drug store on Monday, November 9.

Deceased was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, 1878, and was in his 59th year. He came to Nebraska in 1878. He was a cousin of the late Dr. J. A. Hasemeier and B. S. Hasemeier of Lincoln and Mrs. Jas. Robertson of Plattsmouth. The funeral occurred from the M. E. church Tuesday at 1 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Norman. Interment was at River View cemetery.

Little was known of the deceased, as he was very reticent and never could be induced to talk of his early life. It is related, however, that when quite a young man, back in Cincinnati, he had a love affair which terminated disastrously for him, and it is said that he brooded over the matter until his mind became affected. He came west and lived a quiet, simple life with relatives until the past five or six years, when he lived alone.—Louisville Courier.

LOCAL FOOTBALL TEAM REGISTER ANOTHER VICTORY

The Glenwood Boys Not Stout Enough and Fast Enough for Our Boys, by Any Means.

Yesterday afternoon the Plattsmouth football team added one more to their list of victories when they annexed the contest with the team representing Company I, Iowa National Guard, by the score of 12 to 0, but which should have been much greater had the locals played the football that they can and should have done. The game was attended by a large outpouring of the fans to witness the efforts of the athletics representing Plattsmouth, and the victory was one that gratified everyone. The use of the forward pass by Plattsmouth was very successful throughout the game, the throws by Arries at quarter and the receiving by Humphries being all that could be asked for and added to the ease with which the game was annexed from the Iowa boys. The kicking of Streight was also one of the features of the game and his trusty putting of the ball was one of the causes of the victory for the locals. Ames, the veteran center, was out of the game yesterday suffering from injuries received in the game a week ago with the Columbians at Omaha, and his place in the line was taken by Fred Dawson, who done very good work, although not used to this position. The locals have a very fast organization this year and one that does not need to take a back seat for any of the small town teams in this section of the country.

ED SCHWALD HURT BY OVERTURNING WAGON WHILE HUSKING CORN

Last Friday afternoon Ed Schwald, who is employed on the farm of Charles Tucker, one mile west of Murray, met with an accident that will lay him up for several months, as the result of the overturning of the wagon in which he was standing. Ed was engaged in shucking corn in the field and had occasion to turn the wagon, in which he was putting the corn, around, and climbed into the wagon box to turn the team, and in doing so the wheels of the wagon cramped and the vehicle was overturned, throwing Ed out and breaking his right leg some six inches below the thigh bone. He was at once taken to the house and medical assistance summoned from Murray and the injury set by Dr. B. F. Brendel and the patient made as comfortable as possible. It was decided that it would be best to take the injured man to the hospital in Omaha where he could have the proper care and attention that the serious nature of the injury demanded, and yesterday afternoon the neighbors brought the unfortunate young man to Murray from where he was taken to Omaha on the afternoon Missouri Pacific train to undergo treatment. Mr. Schwald has lived near Murray for the past year, being employed on several farms in that locality, and has made many friends there by his many actions and dealings and everyone in that section of the county will be grieved to learn of his misfortune. He is about twenty years of age and came to Murray from Chicago, where his home is.

SHERIFF OF NODAWAY COUNTY, MO., HERE TO LOCATE STOLEN TEAM

Sheriff W. H. Wallace of Maryville, Missouri, accompanied by a Mr. Dwyer of that place, was here yesterday for a short time trying to get trace of a team of small gray ponies that were stolen from the premises of Mr. Dwyer near Maryville last Thursday evening. The sheriff had traced the team as far as Shenandoah, Iowa, and there the track of the team was lost and it was thought they had been taken west and as the ferry over the river here made a convenient crossing place the Missouri sheriff came over to consult with Sheriff Quinton as to whether or not a team of the description of the one stolen had been seen here. The two gentlemen returned home without having found a trace of the team.
