

WE WILL NOW BID ADIEU TO THE PASS- ING YEAR OF 1914

A Prosperous Year for Plattsmouth, and May 1915 Be Just as Prosperous One or More So.

Today marks the passing of the year 1914 into the memories of man, and ere the lapse of many hours time will mark the birth of the new year, 1915, which to many means the dawning of brighter things, but to others will bring grief and sorrow.

The year just closed has been one filled with many events that will leave a profound mark on the history of the world, and it might well be called the year of great unrest, as there is not a country on the globe where there has not been some great movement indicating the spirit of restlessness. In our own country the Colorado civil war and labor troubles have marked the year, while in Europe the great nations there are in conflict to settle the question of supremacy on that continent, but this is still raging and is the heritage that the old year will add to the troubles and problems of the new.

In our own lives the year has brought much joy, which has been blended with touches of sorrow and trouble that enters into the making of that great mystery of life, and these tests have been borne uncomplainingly by many and by weakening others, but in spite of this time has swept on its way to usher in another passage on the way of life and a new page will soon be unrolled for the human race to fill with its deeds during the coming year.

In this city 1914 was one of the best from the standpoint of progress and improvement that the city has seen, and on every hand can be found the evidences that mark the spirit of improvement that has predominated the lives of our people during the past year. New residences proudly rear their heads throughout the city, the business houses have been placed in modern conditions and the changes are far better than many realize. In the line of municipal improvement the city government has not been backward in the least, but the many blocks of street improvement carried out by the city shows that there is a general on-ward movement to make this one of the nicest appearing cities in the state and one of which we can be proud. The streets curbed and guttered, the miles of permanent sidewalks are all evidences of the spirit of progress, and while it has been extensive in 1914, we look forward to even greater work being carried on the coming year just about to open up.

The Journal trusts that its friends, patrons and Cass county may have a bright and happy New Year and that the coming year may bring to them happiness and prosperity in their lives and undertakings.

"SEPTEMBER MORN" AT THE PARMELE THEATRE WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 13

"September Morn," which comes to the Parmele theatre January 13, is one of the finest musical comedies in the business, and in speaking of the orchestra carried by the company, the Lexington (Ky.) Leader says: "The company has one feature not usually seen in a traveling company—a woman orchestra director. This is Miss May Valentine, and she is unusually talented. Her work last night was of the highest order, and the way in which she handled her musicians was very commendable. Miss Valentine is a musician of much note in the middle west, and she will be heard of in other fields as she and her very excellent musicians are heard elsewhere. She is ably seconded by her drummer, Ralph Handersott, who has been in Lexington many times."

Cass County People Wedded.

A number of the young people of this county seemed to have decided that Omaha was an ideal Gretna Green, as appears from the dispatches in the Omaha papers of this morning indicate in the list of marriage licenses issued in that city. Herman S. Bornemeier, aged 24, of Murdock, and Miss Claire Ostertag, aged 23, of Omaha. Henry Christenson, aged 23, and Miss Florence Spencer, aged 19, of Weeping Water, were also granted a license in that city.

ICE PUT UP THIS YEAR OF EXTRA FINE QUALITY

Some of the finest ice that has been put up here in years is now being stored away in a number of the ice houses around town. J. H. McMullen, who has had a very extensive experience in cutting and storing ice in years past, is looking after the work, and the ice secured is from 12 to 13 inches thick and as clear as crystal in every way. There will be a small surplus of this ice stored for summer use in addition to the artificial ice manufactured here. The work of cutting ice has furnished employment to a large number of men and proven a great benefit in that it helps them out to this extent.

IN PLATTSMOUTH FORTY YEARS AGO.

Fire at the Burlington Shops.

On Sunday morning last, just as the good people of Plattsmouth were getting ready for church, a fire broke out in the store house of the B. & M. R. R. in the machine shop yards. Mike Mulligan had his engine on the track, and commenced blowing the most terrible blast we ever heard from an engine. It drowned the bells and everything else.

In a few minutes nearly the entire male population of the town was on the ground. The Babcock and trucks soon arrived, and cutting through the west gate of the yard, the engine was soon in place. The flames were now raging all over the roof of the house, the wind blowing from the east, and carrying every tongue of fire towards the round house and main shops. It soon became evident that only the most superhuman endeavors could save the whole yard from going. The two corners of the round house and the building on fire were not over 15 feet apart, and the boards and shingles caught time and again. The Babcock worked splendidly and made a black streak on the boards wherever the acid struck.

We never saw men work any better; rolled in blankets and protected as well as possible, they swarmed on the roof of the round house and held the nozzles of the different hose right in the fire. The only wonder is that some of them did not get killed.

Several bucket lines were formed, one from the river and several from tanks about the yard. At the river Wing Sharp, Jos. Sharp, Gilbert Hobbs and several others plunged in to the Missouri and stood waist deep dipping water, for a long time. In and about the building the fire boys moved and worked in the very teeth of the blaze, and were as begrimed and blackened as soldiers during battle.

Jos. Johnson, Mayor Livingston, Mart Cutler, Bill Bryant, Hank McMullen and many other citizens worked nobly. John Taiton and his men, Frank Skinner, James Dick and other R. R. boys, did good work. In fact it just needed us all, and not a man, nor a bucket, nor a squirt of the engine could have been left out and the buildings saved.

All the stores in the building were consumed. One hundred pounds of oil were buried in a sort of sub-cellar under the burning building, and the very staves were charred, but fortunately the fire was quenched in just the right moment, and saved the "ile."

It commenced about 10 and burned for an hour; by 12 o'clock all was quiet again and only the smoldering embers and the broken glass were left to tell the tale.

This is the second time the shop have caught. The origin of the fire is as yet undetermined.

ALMOST A FIRE THAT WOULD HAVE BEEN A BLESS- ING TO NEIGHBORHOOD

From Thursday's Daily.

Fire is sometimes a great calamity, but yesterday afternoon there came near being one that might have been considered a blessing in its way, as it would have removed what has been for years an eyesore to passers-by on Washington avenue. This is the old frame shack just west of the German Home that is occupied by Robert Johnson, despite the protests of the city authorities and persons residing in that section of the city. It seems that a boon companion of Mr. Johnson, who has been nursing a fine jag for the past few days, decided that it would be a fine thing to kick over the stove in the "parlor" of the house, and in so doing the garments of Robert became ignited and he came near making his departure from this life of care and trouble in a chariot of fire, and it was with difficulty that the flames were subdued and the building saved from destruction and the flaming garments of Mr. Johnson extinguished in time to save him from being cremated, but he received quite a number of severe burns. This building should have been torn down and removed years ago, and some steps should be taken to see that it is done away with and not allowed to be the roosting place of every Tom, Dick and Harry who might drift in there and annoy the passers-by with their conduct and language.

THE MATRIMONIAL MARKET IS STILL ON THE BOOM

Yesterday County Judge Beeson issued a marriage license to Mr. Herman Stohlman, aged 23, of Manly, and Miss Hulda Gref, aged 23, of Louisville. The groom is a son of George Stohlman, and a member of one of the most prominent families of that section of the county and one which is highly esteemed throughout the county. The bride-to-be is a niece of Rev. Hartman of Louisville, with whom she has been making her home, and is a most charming young lady and one who has a host of friends in the locality where she has made her home. The wedding ceremony will be performed in Louisville Sunday at the home of Rev. Hartman. The young people will make their home on a farm between Manly and Louisville in the future.

DOINGS IN THE DISTRICT COURT NOW IN SESSION

Yesterday in district court a hearing was had on the order regarding the custody of John R. Pierson, jr., the son of J. R. Pierson, who was formerly engaged in the banking business in Union. The action was brought by the mother of the boy, who now resides at Lincoln, and who sought to prevent the lad from being removed from the jurisdiction of the judge of the district court of this city. The court, after hearing the evidence, awarded the custody of the young man to the father, with the stipulation that the parties settle among themselves the period of time that the boy should spend with each of his parents.

The district court today was still wrestling with the O'Brien estate settlement and a large number of witnesses will be called to testify in the case on both sides. The estate amounts to several thousand dollars.

Our Platform.

It should be known where osteopathy stands and what it stands for. A political party has a platform that all may know its position in regard to matters of public importance, what it stands for and what principle it advocates. The osteopath should make his position just as clear to the public. He should let the public know, in his platform, what he advocates in his campaign against disease. Our position can be tersely stated in the following planks:

First: We believe in sanitation and hygiene.

Second: We are opposed to the use of drugs as remedial agencies.

Third: We are opposed to vaccination.

Fourth: We are opposed to the use of serums in the treatment of diseases. Nature furnishes its own serum if we know how to deliver them.

Fifth: We realize that many cases require surgical treatment and therefore advocate it as a last resort. We believe many surgical operation are unnecessarily performed and that many operations can be avoided by osteopathic treatment.

Sixth: The osteopath does not depend on electricity, X-radiance, hydrotherapy or any adjuncts, but relies on osteopathic measures in the treatment of disease.

Seventh: We have a friendly feeling for other non-drug, natural methods of healing, but we do not incorporate any other methods into our system. We are all opposed to drugs; in that respect at least, all natural, unharmed methods occupy the same ground. The fundamental principles of osteopathy are different from those of any other system and the cause of disease is considered from one standpoint, viz.: Disease is the result of anatomical abnormalities followed by physiological discord. To cure disease the abnormal parts must be adjusted to the normal; therefore, other methods that are entirely different in principle have no place in the osteopathic system.

Eighth: Osteopathy is an independent system and can be applied to all conditions of diseases, including purely surgical cases, and in these cases surgery is but a branch of osteopathy.

Ninth: We believe that our therapeutic house is just large enough for osteopathy and that when other methods are brought in just that much osteopathy must move out.

THE GREAT DEMONSTRATION OF INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CO.'S GRINDER

The year 1914 was auspiciously ushered out at the place of business of John F. Gorder by displaying to the farmers of this community a trio of feed grinding combinations. These comprised three International oil engines belted to three I. H. C. feed grinders, and actually turning out ground feed from oats, wheat, shelled and ear corn. Mr. Gorder conceived this idea some time ago, and with the help of the International Harvester company, has demonstrated to our citizens and farmers that ground feed is a money-making proposition from a stock raising standpoint. He has also shown that it can be produced easily and cheaply.

Mr. Gorder has gone to considerable expense in promoting this affair and if we are to judge by the many complimentary remarks passed among the farmers during the past two days, it has been highly appreciated. Mrs. John Gorder, assisted by Mrs. Fred Gorder, served hot griddle cakes, maple syrup and coffee to the crowd all day, and certainly deserve their full share of the credit.

For a great many years the Gorder family has been prominently identified with any movement designed for the benefit of the agriculturist and for better farming. Mr. Gorder states that he extends to his hundreds of friends and patrons in this vicinity the best of wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Customs of Nations.

We announce, with pleasure, that Mr. Joseph Triner, of Chicago, has again this year issued a beautiful Wall Calendar for 1915. A copy of this calendar will be mailed upon receipt of 10c in money or postage. Address your letters: Jos. Triner, 1333-1339 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill. The calendars will be mailed after December 1, 1914.

Mrs. Mike Lutz Improving.

The condition of Mrs. Mike Lutz, who was operated on Saturday at the Lutheran hospital in Omaha, is reported as being improving and her husband departed for that city this morning, where he will spend the day with her. For some time he has been quite ill and it was thought that an operation would bring her relief and her friends will be pleased to learn that she is getting long so nicely and will trust that she will soon be able to return to her home here.

It was announced, a short time ago, that a new ingredient had been contained in foodstuffs to make them nutritious, which means, that even small quantities of some food may suffice, while large quantities of another food are of no value to the body. This cleaning-out excess Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine will do in a thorough manner. Select then such food as agrees with you, a food of nutritious value. ## REMEMBER "THE PERILS OF PAULINE" TOMORROW

Cast of Characters

Harry Marvin.....Crane Wilbur
Pauline—His Adopted Sister.....
..... Pearl White
Owen—The Villainous Secretary...
..... Paul Panzer
Hicks—Owen's Friend.....
..... Francis Carlisle
The Pirate.....Donald Mackenzie

Synopsis of Previous Episodes

Harry Marvin and his adopted sister, Pauline, have been left orphans by the death of their father, who left half of his fortune to Harry, and the other half to Pauline. Pauline's half of the fortune is to go to the secretary, Owen, if Pauline should die before marriage. Owen is in the power of a tough character by the name of Hicks, who persuades him that it would be a good idea for something to happen to Pauline so that Owen would inherit the fortune, and split with him. They have already tried two or three times to have Pauline apparently accidentally killed, but Harry has always intervened.

Story of the Fifth Episode.

Harry has been trying to get Pauline to consent to marry him at once, but on one excuse or another, she always put him off. Believing that a little jealousy would help, Harry starts a flirtation with Miss Sampson, one of Pauline's girl friends. This arouses Pauline's jealousy and makes her so cross that she goes to a large reception alone, although both she and Harry had been invited. Here she meets Signor Baskinelli, a noted pianist. Signor Baskinelli is much attracted by Pauline's charms, and in his violent Italian way, makes love to her. She, however, repulses him. Owen and Hicks see the byplay and propose to Signor Baskinelli that he run off with Pauline. They make arrangements with some tough characters, and then Signor Baskinelli invites the party for a trip through Chinatown. On this trip, they so manipulate things that Pauline is detained in a Joss House. As she comes out, the tough characters attempt to seize her, but Harry hears her scream and rushes back and puts them to rout. Pauline flees while Harry is fighting, and is seized by some Chinamen. She is tied up and placed in detention. Harry misses her and in his search of the Joss House, discovers her place of detention. He demands her release, but it is only after a great struggle with the Chinese inmates that he has any success whatever.
