

MR. DAN CUPID CUTS ANOTHER QUEER CAPER

Mr. C. E. McKenzie of Havelock and Miss Myrtle Hall United in the Holy Bonds of Wedlock.

From Friday's Daily.
A very quiet and pretty home wedding was solemnized last evening at 6 o'clock at the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius M. Hall, on Orchard Hill, when their daughter, Miss Myrtle, was united in marriage to Mr. C. E. McKenzie of Havelock. The happy event was witnessed by the relatives of the bride and a few intimate friends and was a most impressive one, the ring service being used by Rev. F. M. Druliner of the Methodist church, and the occasion was one that impressed all with the beauty and solemnity of the ceremony that was uniting the hearts and lives of these two estimable young people.
As the bride and groom entered the parlors of the home, unattended, to take their station before the minister, the wedding march was softly played by Miss Marie Fitzgerald. The bride was gowned in her traveling costume of sand silk and wore a very handsome picture hat, while the groom was attired in the conventional dark afternoon costume. The parlors of the Hall home were very prettily decorated with carnations and ferns, which lent a touch of artistic beauty to the event. Following the ceremony the bridal party and guests were served with very tempting and delicious refreshments and the happy young people showered with the best wishes of their friends.
The bridal couple departed on the 7:45 Missouri Pacific for Omaha, from where they will leave for Harvard, Nebraska, to visit at the home of Mr. McKinzie's parents for a short time before returning to Havelock, where they will make their future home. A large number of friends were at the station to bid them good luck and happiness as they departed on their honeymoon.

JOKES PLAYED ON NEWLY WEDDED SOME-TIMES VERY AMUSING

From Friday's Daily.
We have often wondered why the friends of a newly wedded couple always, if the occasion will permit, make a practice of deluging them with rice, as well as old shoes and other objects that make them a mark for the laughter and jokes of all in the immediate vicinity, and it would seem that these actions would certainly be appreciated more if the parties doing them would see that they were omitted. A short time ago we were on a train passing through one of the small towns, and as it pulled into the station was attracted by a struggling, howling mass of humanity on the platform, and finally a young man and woman emerged from the crowd and attempted to get on the train, while rice and old shoes flew right and left and the attention of everyone on the train was centered on the two, who were evidently just married, and after escaping from their demonstrative friends in the old home town they had to endure the grins and smiles of the trainmen and passengers on the train until they reached their destination. Surely such actions are a hard test on a person's friendship.

Funeral of Mrs. Root.

From Saturday's Daily.
This afternoon the body of Mrs. Root, mother of Judge Jesse L. Root, arrived in this city over the Burlington and the cortage proceeded direct to Oak Hill cemetery, where, after a short prayer service, the body was consigned to its last resting place in the family lot. The pall-bearers were selected from the members of the Cass county bar, of which Judge Root was a distinguished member for years.

Has Fingers Slightly Injured.

From Friday's Daily.
One of the little sons of Mr. and Mrs. Will Jean met with what might have proven a very serious mishap Wednesday afternoon while he and his little brother were playing at their home near this city. The boys had a small hand ax and were playing with this when one of them got his right hand too close to the business end of the ax and as a result had a small section of the skin removed from the fingers of the right hand, and it is lucky that the lad was not more seriously injured.

THOMAS SVOBODA PASSES AWAY AT THE HOME OF FRANK SLAVICEK

From Friday's Daily.
This morning shortly before 11 o'clock Thomas Svoboda, who has been very ill for the past ten days, passed away at the home of Frank Slavicek, where he has been making his home since coming to this city a little over a year ago from Lawrence, Nebraska. The fatal illness of Tom dated back some three months ago, when he was taken with an attack of measles and which was quite severe with him, and when he recovered sufficiently he exposed himself by coming out in the cold and this resulted in a very severe gathering in his head that confined him to his bed for several weeks. As soon as he was able he resumed his duties in the Burlington blacksmith shop, but in a few days became so ill that he was forced to remain at home, and on examination it was found that peritonitis had set in, and despite all that could be done for him he gradually grew weaker, and as the malady progressed it could be seen that his days were numbered. His parents arrived a few days ago from Lawrence and were present when their beloved one passed to the Great Beyond. The bitterness of the parting comes in the thought that this bright, genial young man, just dawning into manhood, must be taken from his family and friends ere he had lived his life to its completeness. There has hardly been a young man who had endeared himself more to those he came in touch with than Tom, and the news of his death falls heavily on their hearts, and it will be a long time before the void in their lives caused by the death of this young man is filled.
The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed as yet, but it is thought that the body will be taken back to the old home at Lawrence to be laid at rest in the cemetery there.
To the bereaved parents the deepest sympathy of the entire community will be extended in their hour of grief and sorrow.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning the body of the late Thomas Svoboda was taken to his old home at Lawrence, Nebraska, where it will be laid to rest in the cemetery there Monday morning, after short service at the Catholic church in that place. Besides the parents, who were here at the sad event, Mrs. John J. Svoboda and Frank Slavicek accompanied the body to Lawrence for burial. The young man just called away, was born in Plattsmouth on February 24, 1894, and when he was only 17 months old the family removed to Lawrence, where they have since made their home. The family and the funeral cortage was accompanied to the Burlington station by a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives to pay their last tribute of respect and esteem to the memory of this splendid young man. There was a wealth of floral remembrances laid on the casket as a gentle wordless tribute of the love with which the friends had held this genial young man, who was taken from them while yet life was so bright with youth and charm.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

DELIGHTFUL EVENING AT THE HOME OF H. N. DOVEY

Membership of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, of St. Luke's Church Elegantly Entertained.

From Saturday's Daily.
Last evening the members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, of St. Luke's church, were entertained in a most delightful manner at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Dovey by a banquet that was one of the most pleasant affairs that has been held for some time. The banquet was served in the large, spacious dining room of the Dovey home, and the table, glittering with the sparkling silver and china, was made most beautiful by decorations of carnations and ferns, while the soft-shaded candelabras with their candles, cast a soft and pleasing light over the banqueters who were present at the feast. The banquet was most tempting and was served by the ladies of St. Mary's Guild, and as is usual with a dinner prepared by these ladies, there was nothing omitted to make it a most complete success in the way of good things to tempt the appetite of the most discriminating. The banquet was given to the men of the parish to bring them in closer touch with each other, and to more fully understand the meaning of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, which is the leading men's organization of the Episcopal church in the United States.
While the banquet was being partaken of Miss Emma Cummins, at the piano, and Miss Agnes Knoficek, the violinist, gave a number of highly enjoyable selections that demonstrated the wonderful skill possessed by these two talented young ladies, and this feature was one of the most enjoyable of the banquet. Dr. J. S. Livingston, director of the local chapter of the Brotherhood, presided over the banquet as toastmaster, and a few brief remarks on the Brotherhood, its objects and purposes, as well as its benefits to the men of the community were given by Rev. W. S. Leete, rector of the church, Henry R. Gering, Dr. T. P. Livingston and George H. Falter, all of which were very inspiring to the men of the church present at the banquet.
The members of the Brotherhood feel very grateful to the ladies for their helpfulness in serving the banquet and the occasion will serve as an inspiration to other moves of the organization. The next meeting of the Brotherhood will be held at the church on Monday evening, April 26.

From Saturday's Daily.
Last evening some party or parties paid a call at the new Propst garage on Seventh and Vine streets, where the work of building is just commencing, and as a result of their call Mr. R. L. Propst is short several boxes of nails, as well as several crowbars, which were carried off. These articles, while they are not so very valuable, nevertheless their loss has proven very annoying to the gentleman, and he will state to whoever took them that in a short time there will be a new supply on hand, and if the party will notify him he will have them where it will be an easy matter to get hold of them. Those articles are certainly very poor ones for anyone to take, as it would be a hard matter to dispose of them, but in the future more care will be exercised by the owner in seeing that all loose material is locked up at night.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE FILED IN THE DISTRICT COURT

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a suit for divorce was filed in the district court entitled Lillie Henderson vs. George Henderson. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married at Plattsmouth on October 5, 1912, while the defendant was a member of the United States army encamped at the rifle range here, and that the plaintiff had conducted herself as a true and devoted wife, and that as the result of their marriage they have one son, George, 22 months old. She further states that the defendant had promised when his time of service was out that he would retire from the army and establish a home, but failed to do so, and re-enlisted in the army, going to Texas at the time of the Mexican trouble, and has written her that he expects to continue in the service of the army and would not be home. He has also failed to care for herself and the infant son in any manner, as the petition states, and the plaintiff asks that the law give her release, as well as the custody of her son. M. Archer appears as attorney for the plaintiff.

J. E. Meisinger of near Cedar Creek came in this morning from his home to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. J. M. Meisinger.

Taken to Hospital Today.

From Friday's Daily.
This afternoon John Fitzpatrick, the veteran night policeman, who for years has been one of the most faithful guardians of the peace in Plattsmouth, was taken to Omaha today, where he will be placed in St. Catherine's hospital for treatment. He has been in poor health since his injury a few months ago in falling in the alley in the rear of Hatt's meat market, and for the past two weeks has been bedfast, and it was finally decided that he would be compelled to go to the hospital for treatment. John Cory and August Bach, jr., accompanied Mr. Fitzpatrick to the hospital.

EXCELLENT SHOWING FOR GOOD FRUIT CROP HERE IN NEBRASKA

From Friday's Daily.
"The prospects for fruit in Nebraska this year are the best for the past five years," said Secretary J. R. Duncan of the Nebraska Horticultural society. "Apple trees have a good set of fruit buds and promise a heavy bloom. Even on neglected trees there will be found a good showing of fruit buds on the outer limbs of the trees. Where the orchards have been given good care the prospects are excellent. Plums, cherries and pears are excellent. Peaches show winter injury. Young, vigorous trees show a fair percent of live buds, while the old trees do not show up as well. Providing no further damage is done by late spring frosts some peaches will be produced. The small fruits are in fine condition. Every strawberry bed is in shape to produce a big crop of berries. All in all the man who has a fruit garden, either large or small, has a good chance for getting an abundant crop of fruit this year. The spring being so late and trees and plants remaining dormant so long will increase the chances for escaping late frost."

SNEAK THIEVES PILFER NAILS AND BARS FROM ROBERT PROPST

From Saturday's Daily.
Last evening some party or parties paid a call at the new Propst garage on Seventh and Vine streets, where the work of building is just commencing, and as a result of their call Mr. R. L. Propst is short several boxes of nails, as well as several crowbars, which were carried off. These articles, while they are not so very valuable, nevertheless their loss has proven very annoying to the gentleman, and he will state to whoever took them that in a short time there will be a new supply on hand, and if the party will notify him he will have them where it will be an easy matter to get hold of them. Those articles are certainly very poor ones for anyone to take, as it would be a hard matter to dispose of them, but in the future more care will be exercised by the owner in seeing that all loose material is locked up at night.

THE ROAD TO THE MISSOURI PIVER FERRY IS IN FIRST CLASS SHAPE

From Friday's Daily.
John Richardson, who is operating the ferry over the Missouri river, just below the Burlington bridge, has done a great deal toward making the roads between this city and the ferry the best possible. He has removed a portion of the mud from the subway and placed the subway in first-class shape for travel for both automobiles and wagons. Mr. Richardson has also floated the road leading to the ferry and states that the road is now in fine shape and all ready for travel with ease and comfort. The work of Mr. Richardson will be appreciated by the traveling public that uses the ferry road to any extent.

The next time you are in need of flour, try a sack of Forest Rose. Sold by all dealers.

DEATH OF MRS. J. M. MEISINGER FRIDAY NIGHT

This Good Woman Passes Away After an Illness Extending Back for a Period of Ten Years.

From Friday's Daily.
Last evening at her home in this city, Mrs. J. M. Meisinger passed away after an illness dating back over a period of ten years, when she first began to suffer from the effects of the malady of Bright's disease, and this has gradually weakened her until the end came peacefully last night at 9:35, when her spirit was called away by the Master to her final reward.
Mrs. Meisinger during her long and useful life had made her home for the greater portion in Cass county, where she and her husband were among the leading citizens of Eight Mile Grove precinct for years. Her death, while not unexpected, falls very heavily on the bereaved family and friends and the place she has filled in their lives will be hard to replace, for as a tender mother and friend she had always striven to comfort and cheer those with whom she came in touch during her lifetime.
Mrs. J. M. Meisinger was born in Wenigumstadt, by Aschaffenburg, Bavaria, Germany, April 24, 1849, and in her native land spent her girlhood days, and when near her seventeenth year sailed from the Fatherland for the new world and landed in New York in 1871, where for a number of years she made her home, later moving to Pekin, Illinois, where she resided until in the early seventies, when she came west to join her brother, John Bergman, who had located in Cass county and was enjoying much success at his farming, and the sister decided to make her home in this county, as her parents had passed away before she left the old country, her mother passing away while she was yet of the tender age of 12 years, and the father when she was 17, just a short time before her departure for America.

It was shortly after her arrival in Nebraska that Miss Bergmann was united in marriage at Plattsmouth, on June 28, 1874, to Mr. J. M. Meisinger, the ceremony being performed in the new Catholic church, which was then just nearing completion. Mrs. Meisinger had in all these years been a most devout member of the Roman Catholic church and of that faith. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Meisinger made their home on the farm west of this city, where their family was reared to manhood and womanhood and the happy home life continued until about a year ago, when the poor health of Mrs. Meisinger caused them to move to Plattsmouth, where they purchased the home where they resided until death called them away.
The wedded life of Mr. and Mrs. Meisinger was most perfect in every way and the charmed circle was broken only by the death of the husband on February 24th, and since that time the wife has been patiently awaiting the summons of the Master to join her with her helpmate, who had preceded her in death. While living only a little over a month after the death of her husband, each day was counted as bringing her a little nearer to the meeting with her loved one, and it was with resignation and hopefulness that the loved mother and friend closed her eyes forever, to see in the splendor of the never-dying day those she had loved in life, but who had crossed before death's dark and unknown sea.

In their hour of grief the family will receive the deepest sympathy of the entire community and the loss of this worthy lady will be one deeply felt, as there has been very few residents in the community who have contributed as much to its progress and welfare as Mr. and Mrs. Meisinger, and their passing is certainly a deep loss to everyone in this section of the county, who have had the pleasure of knowing these worthy people.
To mourn her death there remains four children, Henry J. Meisinger,

The Journal does job work.

John M. Meisinger, Mrs. L. W. Lorenz and Mrs. Frank J. Libershal, as well as three stepchildren, Mrs. M. Hild, J. G. Meisinger and P. P. Meisinger. One brother, John Bergmann, of near Mynard, is also left to share the grief over her death.
The funeral of this grand, good woman will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock from the St. John's Catholic church in this city.

REPORT OF ADMINISTRATOR IN ESTATE OF E. G. DOVEY, DECEASED

From Friday's Daily.
This morning a hearing was had on the report of George E. Dovey, as the administrator of the estate of E. G. Dovey, deceased. Mr. Dovey died while in England on a visit in 1881, and since that time the affairs of the firm of E. G. Dovey & Son and the other interests of the family have been looked after by Mr. George E. Dovey, a son of the deceased, as administrator, and the estate was never fully settled up. The death of the widow, Mrs. Jane Ann Dovey, in November, 1913, made necessary the closing up of the estate to determine the question of the value of the estate of E. G. Dovey and her interests therein. General John L. Webster of Omaha appeared for the administrator, while Rawls & Robertson of this city appear for the heirs of Mrs. Jane Ann Dovey in the settlement of the affairs of this estate.

MRS. JESSE CHILDERS PASSES AWAY FROM PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Jessie Childers, who since 1888 has been a resident of the vicinity of Orepolis, passed away last evening from an attack of pneumonia, after suffering greatly for some time from the malady. She has been gradually growing worse until her death last evening at 10:30. Mrs. Childers was a native of Ohio, where she was born in 1848, and where she resided for a number of years, later moving to Illinois, and then to Missouri, where she was united in marriage to Jesse Childers, and in 1888 the family moved there from Auburn, Missouri, and have since made their home. Beside the husband and two children are left to mourn her death, Mrs. Alice Grey, Julesburg, Colorado, and W. M. Childers, residing at Orepolis. The funeral of this good woman will probably be held tomorrow afternoon from the late home.
Besides the husband and children, Mrs. Childers leaves to mourn her death four brother and four sisters as follows: Elwell Clutter, Los Angeles, California; Will Clutter, Oklahoma; Sam Clutter, New Hampton, Missouri; Jack Clutter, Monett, Missouri; Mrs. Will St. John, Oklahoma; Mrs. J. J. Horner, Gladstone, Oregon; Mrs. J. H. Cook, Mayesville, Missouri, and Mrs. George Lamphear, of this city, as well as sixteen grandchildren.

STANDING OF CONTESTANTS IN THE G. P. EASTWOOD PIANO CONTEST

From Friday's Daily.

Mrs. Philip Rhin	3,858,195
Miss Josephine Wurga	1,987,630
Mrs. W. H. Klinger	1,170,380
Miss Klara Bisanz	145,535
Miss Tillie Halmes	127,765
U. B. Church	114,460