

OLD CASS COUNTY COUPLE HAVING A GOOD TIME

Several Months Ago They Were Attacked by Wanderlust Fever and Are Sure Enjoying Trip.

The Journal has just received the following interesting letter from Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kirkpatrick who are now sojourning on the Pacific coast and enjoying a vacation and rest. The letter is as follows:

"We two grown up and grown old children have been afflicted with a disease called the wanderlust for the last two months, and have been taking the rest cure, if almost constant traveling and visiting can be called rest. On leaving our home in Nehawka we took a peep at Omaha just for a starter and to get a good send off. We spent a day in St. Paul, a day in Minneapolis and the beautiful Lake Minnetonka and Minnehaha Falls, and visited a day in Duluth, crossed the aerial bridge at Minnesota point and spent three days at Clogville with old friends, then crossed the bridge into Canada, was inspected by the custom officers. Began at Winnipeg and travelled the entire length of Canada to Vancouver, and I think it is the most wonderful country I ever saw. The wonderful wide expanse of local farm land covered with wheat in the shock so thick that it looked as if Canada could furnish bread enough for the armies of Europe. We saw scarcely any corn but plenty of cattle and horses and in some places hogs. The beauty and grandeur of the mountains further west surprised all my expectations but time will not permit a description of the glaciers and mountain lakes, deep canyons, long tunnels immense snow sheds high up on the side of the mountains. The national parks stocked with buffalo, elk, moose, deer, antelope and in fact all the animals that are wild in North America. Then the gradual descent to the Puget Sound and the sea voyage to a "bit of Old England" called Victoria, a veritable park of beautiful flowers and trees and lovely and magnificent homes, then another trip in a floating palace into the harbor at Seattle in the grand old U. S. A. After a week in Seattle and two in Tacoma, Wash., we went on a trip down a Columbian river to visit our former friends, the Bannings at Olaskinnie, Oregon. The scenery on the Columbian river beggars description. High up on the hillsides, amid the fair pine and cedar trees are the beautiful homes overlooking the reclaimed land, called the Delta gardens, where the land is worth and selling at $300 per acre and used to raise vegetables for the city markets, then beyond the beautiful Columbian river bearing on its bosom the passenger and freight boats plying between Astoria and Portland, long rafts of logs, hundred of feet long towed by boats toward their destination, and game of all kinds even the beautiful Chinese pheasant which is a most beautiful bird of the prairie chicken kind too pretty to kill and eat, but we plead guilty of eating some and pronounce it the most toothsome ever yet offered us. From there we went to Portland where we stayed a week with relatives and friends. We attended the land show and about every other person with a real good display was from Nebraska and by the time we got all around the county exhibits we concluded that Nebraska had to show them how to raise the stuff. We spent a day in Oregon City, big dams, waterfalls, saw mills, water power for electric lights, and machinery, interurban and trolley lines everywhere. Golf links, tennis courts, ball grounds, amusement parks, a river lined with houseboats are what we saw at Oregon City. We also spent several days at Forest Grove, saw the most concentrated and condensed farming that we saw anywhere and the most stock of any other strip of country. Fruits, vegetables, hogs and horses and cows for the wholesale production of condensed milk. We spent one night at what is called the cleanest city in Oregon, Roseburg, noted for the salmon streams, towering hills and beautiful flowers.

"At Ashland we rested with friends and ate a goodly portion of turkey and other good things at Thanksgiving time. A city between rows of hills and mountains and celebrated for its springs of lithia, sulphur, soda and amonia waters boiling up out of the ground, each in a separate place. It is also noted for its big red apples and other fruits and for the people being in the clouds a greater part of the time as the clouds settle down on the city at night and then one looking down from the hills would easily believe that what he saw was a river, so dense in the clouds that the electric lights do not show except at the edges and the clouds do really look like water. In the morning they float up and away to the top of Mt. Grizzly, Mt. Ashland and Pilot mountain, where there is snow all the time.

Now dear editor of the Journal if this or a part of it gets into print I will finish from Ashland to Los Angeles in my next. My better half is sleeping the sleep of the just and I must not longer burn the midnight oil or impose on the good nature of the Journal readers.

Oella Kirkpatrick.

"THE TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE" COMING TO THE PARMELE

Manager Shlaes of the Parmele theater informs us that on Friday night, December 17, he is to have "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," by John Fox, jr., and made into a play by Eugene Walters. The piece is presented by Gaskell & MacVitty, by special arrangement of Klaw & Erlanger. To the casual observer of things theatrical surely this is a combination very hard to beat—John Fox, jr., author, who also gave us "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," both books having had a most phenomenal sale ranging into the millions.

Eugene Walters, who made a new era in things theatrical with two first pieces, "Paid in Full" and "The Wolf," two of the greatest dramatic successes ever produced.

Klaw & Erlanger, who are to the theatrical business of the world what "John D." is to Standard Oil, and lastly, Gaskell & MacVitty, to whom we are indebted for our very best book dramatizations seen here in the last five years.

LOOKING OVER ROAD TO THE PLATTE RIVER WAGON BRIDGE

The county commissioners together with the good roads committee of the Commercial club and Division Superintendent F. R. Mullin of the Burlington were out a few days ago looking over the wagon road leading to the Platte river auto and wagon bridge to see what could be done to make the road more passible in bad weather and do away with the inconvenience that has been experienced several times in the past from the water and mud. The Burlington is ready and anxious to do whatever they can to make the road better and will construct a ditch from the point where the auto road crosses the railroad right of way to Swallow hill to carry off the drainage water that has been standing there in the spring and after each rain. It is hoped to secure a proper drainage in this way that will do away with the bad roads at this point while the commissioners and roads committee will do their part to assist in putting the road in good shape. The Omaha Commercial club is contemplating a great deal of work on the road through Sarpy county and which will join onto the road at the bridge and with the improvement on the road on this side of the river will make a splendid highway all the way into this city. The constant increasing number of automobiles makes this road one of the most important in this part of the county and one that is traveled a great deal.

JOHN CRABILL IS HOME FROM THE HOSPITAL IN OMAHA

From Saturday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon John W. Crabill who for the past two weeks has been at the Methodist hospital in Omaha, where he was operated on for appendicitis, was able to return to his home in this city, being brought back from the hospital by Superintendent W. G. Brooks, his brother-in-law, in the auto. Mr. Crabill has had a very severe time but has rallied nicely from the operation and is now on the highway to complete recovery and with the home influences to assist should soon be restored to his usual good health. It is a pleasure to his family and friends to have him back with them after his serious ordeal at the hospital.

Mrs. Emma Hoppel of Cordova, Nebraska, arrived here last evening on No. 2 and departed this morning for Cedar Creek to attend the funeral of Mrs. Catherine Brodbeck, which was held there today.

BOX SUPPER AT THE KEIL SCHOOL HOUSE SATURDAY NIGHT

Saturday evening a most successful box supper was held at the Keil school house near Cedar Creek, which was one of the most pleasant that has been held there for years and the result was one of general satisfaction to the patrons of the school and reflects great credit upon the teacher, Miss Anna Henrich, who arranged the affair, and the pupils who took part in the excellent program which was given just before the auctioning of the dainty boxes prepared by the ladies. The auction of the boxes was conducted by Mr. Louis Keil, and he soon had the bidding going very lively, and as a result $76.25 was realized for the evening, which is a most flattering sum. Everyone present had a jolly good time and the evening will long be very pleasantly remembered by those attending. Miss Henrich, the teacher in this district, is one of the most successful teachers in the country schools and her work in this district has been a great factor in advancing the work of the pupils and of the standard of the school.

WILLIAM BARCLAY BUYS MORE CITY PROPERTY

Today a deal was closed whereby Chief of Police William Barclay secured quite a bunch of Plattsmouth residence property, consisting of the three brick cottages, the building occupied by the steam laundry on South Fourth street and the frame residence on Pearl street adjoining the other property. Mr. Barclay will, as soon as the leases have expired on the houses, have them vacated by the tenants and at once put a force of workmen to work putting them in first-class shape and entirely cleaned and renovated, so as to be strictly modern and first-class. These residences have been owned by J. H. Moyer, a non-resident, and have been allowed to run down a great deal, but Mr. Barclay will see that they are fixed up so as to be acceptable to anyone as a residence, and from the way in which he has improved his other property interests it is certainly a good thing that he has secured the buildings. The laundry building is a modern structure and will not require any further repairs or remodeling.

LIVE TURKEYS FOR THE CHRISTMAS DINNER

A flock of fifty live turkeys will arrive here this week for the use of the firm of J. V. Hatt & Son in their meat market during the Christmas season. These turkeys were secured from one of the farmers residing just north of Glenwood and are as fine specimens of the feathered bird as can be found in this part of the country. Turkeys are quite hard to raise and there are very few farmers in this section of the country who care to take the trouble to raise them when other poultry can be raised a great deal easier, and this generally makes it hard for the dealers in this line, who are compelled to ship their birds for the holiday season. The greatest sections for the raising of turkeys seems to be the south and southwest, and in Texas especially is the industry carried on quite extensively.

Motored From Louisville. From Friday's Daily. C. J. Gabriel, Albert Shelsborn, John Schoemann, Henry Shoemann and John Group of Louisville motored to this city this morning in Mr. Shelsborn's car to attend to some business matters and visit county seat friends. They were pleasant callers at this office, and while here Mr. Shelsborn had his subscription to this paper extended for another year.

Showing Some Improvement. The condition of George Becker is showing some improvement over the last few days and yesterday he enjoyed quite a restful day, but last evening was not quite so well, but much better than he has been in the last few days.

PLATTSMOUTH BASKET BALL TEAM WINS ANOTHER VICTORY

The basket ball game scheduled with that of the Louisville High School team Saturday evening in that city resulted in a complete rout of the Louisville boys who were humiliated by the Plattsmouth team by a score of 116 to 11 and the game was one that was too one sided to really be interesting as the boys from our neighboring city were decidedly lacking in practice and were unable to withstand the onslaughts of the redoubtable aggregation that Coach Cook brought with him to make a mass attack on the trenches of the Louisville team and the local boys were able to shoot baskets at will with the result of the overpowering score that told the story of the game. It had been expected that there would be a great deal of difficulty in getting away with the third game of the series but it proved one of the softest that could possibly be desired. The regular members of the team were able to take it easy and a number of the substitutes were put in to get a little practice out of the affair.

The girls team, however, was not as fortunate as in their match with the Louisville girls they were defeated by the score of 5 to 29 but this was only the opening contest of the season for them and they are not as yet on to all the ins and outs of their game but have some good material that can be made one of the best teams of young ladies that has represented the school in recent years. The success of the boys team has created a great deal of enthusiasm among the students and they are all looking forward to one of the most successful years in the history of the school athletics.

JAMES KUNDSON ANSWERS TO A CHARGE OF DRUNKENNESS

This morning James Kundson was present to answer to a complaint by the chief of police to being drunk on Saturday evening, when he having become well filled with the juice of the corn, wended his way out Chicago avenue and proceeded to throw a scare into the residents along that thoroughfare, although he was not in the least unruly, but the police were called and gathered him in. The court, after hearing the facts in the case decided that it would be necessary for him to part with the sum of $2 and costs, amounting to $5, to satisfy the feelings of outraged justice, and this amount was handed over without a complaint and the man allowed to go on his way. He has been engaged in working in the country for some time.

The police judge has just filed his report with the city clerk and the past month has been the most profitable in the history of the office since Judge Archer has been on the bench, and $76 has been handed over to the city treasurer. Nineteen arrests were made during the month, seventeen paid fines, one worked out his sentence and one was remanded to jail to do time for his violation of the law.

Certainly Well Remembered. From Saturday's Daily. Tuesday C. J. Meisinger, residing west of this city, did his butchering, and from the large supply of toothsome meat he brought in a liberal supply to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Meisinger, Thursday, and it is needless to say that the remembrance was a most pleasant one to the old folks and they will enjoy many a fine repast from the array of real home meat.

MONUMENTAL AGENCY. I wish to notify all parties in this locality that I have taken the agency for the Glenwood Monumental Works, for this county, and that I am prepared to take care of all parties needing this line of work.

JOHN HOBACK, NEAR UNION, ACCIDENTALLY SHOT HIMSELF

A very serious accident occurred near Union Saturday afternoon, in which John Hoback, a prominent young farmer residing southeast of the city, received very dangerous wounds as the result of the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of a companion with whom he was out hunting. The two young men were walking along the road near the home of Mr. Hoback, and his brother-in-law, a lad of some 17 years of age, was slightly in the rear of the unfortunate man, when in some manner the shotgun was discharged and the full charge of No. 6 shot entered the left arm just below the elbow. Medical assistance was at once summoned and the injured man looked after as quickly as possible. A large number of the shots were removed from the arm and it is hoped that it will be possible to save the member from amputation if complications do not set in. The injured man is well known in the southern portion of the county and his misfortune will be greatly regretted by his many friends.
