

THE RED SOX DEFEAT MALVERN BALL TEAM

A Large Crowd Present to Witness the Game, and Many From the Iowa Town.

The Malvern, Iowa base ball team journeyed over yesterday afternoon to do battle with the redoubtable Red Sox of this city...

The first inning was without result in the way of scoring and the start looked like a real ball game...

In the third the Iowa lads gathered in run. G. Barkus, opening the inning was safe at first on an error by Beesley...

The fourth again was a lucky session for the Iowa team as they forced over the second tally on a combination of hits, Jones hit safe to center field...

The fifth inning was the big one for the Sox as they added three more to their growing list of scores...

The sixth was also a little spot of sunshine for the locals when two more of the crimson hosed warriors rattled over the plate. Huff, as the first man up, was retired on a grounder to second base...

In the seventh the locals again falled. Herold was retired on a fly catch in left field and was followed by Rocky who picked out a nice one and patted it for a safe hit to right field...

The following is the summary of the game:

THE AVENGING CONSCIENCE IS SURE A GREAT PICTURE

On Wednesday and Thursday at the Airdome will be shown "The Avenging Conscience," a feature in six reels which will be presented by an all star cast including Henry B. Walthall, Blanche Sweet, Spottwoode Atken and this mysterious and masterful picture drama has been acclaimed one of the greatest of that master genius, D. W. Griffith. The play is taken from Edgar Allen Poe's "The Telltale Heart" and "Annabel Lee" and is a stirring play. The story of the play is as follows:

"The Avenging Conscience" is a drama of the mind, completely visualized throughout and with a thoroughly connected story. Though it deals with the penance inflicted upon a murderer by his own conscience, this penance is so personified that the result is a very graphic narrative. This is brought about by the use of some extraordinary photographic effects, which show the dead man returning to haunt the living murderer, who imagines, among other things, that he can hear the heart of the dead man still beating.
