DEATH OF FORMER CASS COUNTY BOY; DIES IN OREGON

The following from the Woodburn, (Oregon) Independent, gives the sad news of the death in that city of Harry E. Cole, a former resident of Cass county and who will be remembered by many of the older residents of Murray and vicinity. The old Cole homestead where Mr. Cole was born was on the farm now owned by Dr. J. H. Hall east of Murray and the Phillip Keil farm occupied by Mr. Cole for a number of years and sold by him when he moved to Oregon.

"Harry E. Cole died at his home in this city at 2 a. m. this morning after a prolonged illness. He had returned the Sunday before with his wife from the mountains, where he had gone with the hope of improving his health."

"Harry E. Cole was born on a farm near Plattsmouth, Cass county, Neb., November 4, 1864. He married Myrtle B. Richardson February 16, 1888. With his family he moved to Oregon in 1897, locating at Halsey, where they remained two years. They then moved to a farm one mile northwest of Woodburn and lived there until they moved to this city, where he resided until called by death. For a time he was in the furniture business here."

"Harry Cole was a devoted husband and father, a good man, of cheerful disposition, who had performed many acts of kindness, was always ready to help where he could be of assistance, and all who knew him were warm friends. No other in this community was more highly respected and esteemed and his death is mourned by all. He was a member of Woodburn Lodge No. 196, A. F. & A. M., Evergreen Chapter No. 41, O. E. S., Modern Woodmen, and at the time of his death was Kin of the Royal Arch Chapter."

"There survive him a widow and two sons, Willard T. and J. Gilbert. He will also be remembered by many children, whom he loved and who loved him. "The funeral will be under Masonic auspices and services will be in the Masonic Temple Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be at Belle Passat."

RECEIVES NOTICE OF PATENT AN AUTOMATIC CAR STOP

From Wednesday's Daily.

John G. Claus of this city has received notice from Washington of the granting of a patent by the government for an automatic extension car stop. This is a project upon which Mr. Claus has been working for some time and has at last secured in the patent a protection for his invention. The patent stop is one designed for use on railroad cars and has the advantage of giving a great deal more comfort to the persons alighting from a railroad coach than those that are in use at present. They are made so that when not in use they can be drawn up automatically and be out of the way until it is desired to use them when they can be released and dropped down for the use of the persons alighting from the car.

RUSSIANS DIVIDE FOES WITH WEDGE

Advances Has Practically Separated German and Austrian Forces in East.

ARE NOW ENVELOPING KOVEL

Petrograd, Aug. 2.—The Russian wedge separating the Austrian and German forces was thrust forward still further today. Not only has the separation been virtually accomplished but today unofficial advices indicated rapid progress of the movement from the south enveloping Kovel.

Military experts here believed that the terminus of the one remaining railroad line to Lemberg at Stojanof had probably fallen before the advance northwest of Brody.

Brody's capture gave the czar's forces command of the terminus of the main tap line.

Utilization of the railroad lines in Galicia will greatly aid the Russian advance. Floods still are hampering operations.

French Gain in West.

Paris, Aug. 2.—French onslaughts have won additional ground from the Germans both north and south of the Somme, according to the official communique today.

A small German gain after many unsuccessful attacks with asphyxiating gas was admitted in Vauxchapter wood, but the enemy's losses were said to be heavy. One hundred prisoners were taken.

"North of the Somme we captured a powerful fortified work between Hem and Moncau," the statement declared. "South of the Somme we occupied a German trench northwest of Denscourt, imprisoning several."

"In the Champagne zone west of Aubives Russian reconnaissance forces charged and dispersed a German detachment at the point of the payment."

On the Somme front, the communique said, there were thirty-three aerial combats by French airmen over the German lines. One German aeroplane, attacked by two Nieuports, fell in flames. Fourteen other German machines were obliged to land badly damaged.

Berlin Admits Small Loss.

Berlin, Aug. 2.—Repulse of all allied attacks on the Flanders front, except on the high road between Mari-court and Clery, where completely demolished German trenches were occupied, was announced by the war office today.

Haig Reports Gains.

London, Aug. 2.—British troops are still grappling in hand-to-hand combat with the Germans around Pozieres, but are gaining, according to General Douglas Haig's report from the front today.

The British commander-in-chief said additional progress had been made east of Pozieres.
