FREMONT GARDENERS GET
BIG YIELDS FROM LOTS
Fremont, Neb., Oct. 11.—Reports from the thirty-six members of the Fremont Community Garden club show that the production of garden vegetables was very materially increased as a result of the work of the amateur gardeners, many of whom took up the work for the first time this season. Seventy-six lots were farmed by the members, potatoes being the principal crop. Clarence Lucas and Claude Douglas claim the potato growing championship, with forty-two bushels from a lot 40x150 feet in size.

S. ARMY.
Mothers and fathers who have boys in the army, wives who have husbands, need have no fear that those dear to them will get "lost" either in America or when they go to France. The Government has arranged to keep a card index of each individual soldier—private and officer—enlisted. Each one will have his individual card showing where he is at all times, what he is doing and what happens to him. It will also carry his description, the name of his next kin and his emergency address. The appropriation for such an all-been in a very critical condition until the last day or so she is a little improved. It is thought if complications do not set in she will ultimately recover.

C. H. Hudson is running the farm this week, while his son, Will Hudson, is looking after his interests at Alliance. Charles Trumble, Sr., and Charles Trumble, Jr., accompanied Mr. Hudson west to look after land, with a view of purchasing.
