HAULED COAL ALL NIGHT.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The matter of getting help at this time is one which is agitating many people. George Taylor, the teamster, is having trouble of getting people to assist in doing his work. He is at this time unloading coal for the coming winter, and as the weather is exceedingly warm and the coal dust bad to fly, it is not possible to keep one at it through the heat of the day. During the same time the railway company, to enforce and keep in effect the full efficiency of the rolling stock, demand that the cars be unloaded in the prescribed time. Mr. Taylor, while he is willing to do work for those who want their coal unloaded, says he will not stand for demurrage, which seems right, too. To avoid these conditions, and finding it easier to work when the sun was not pouring down on one, he worked all night last night and made good at it, as he was able to defeat the demurrage, to get the work off, and to find a more pleasant time to work.

THOUGHT HE WOULD TRY IT OUT

From Monday's Daily.

Yesterday J. W. Welsh of Omaha, wanted to get out and see the country and how other people were getting along. So he cranked up the old car, and she is a goer to and slipping out of the city just after noon, made for the rural districts. When he got to the Platte river, he thought just as well see Plattsmouth, and here he came. Just as he rounded the corner at the Masonic Home, something in the rattle of the car seemed to say to him, "Try Me Out" and he gave the gas with the spark well advanced, he rounded the corner at Heisel's Mill corner like Haley's comet at perihelion, as he sailed on down the avenue, he was intercepted by Officer Jones, and halted before the tribunal of Judge Archer, and there being no doing business, a cash bond of five dollars was required and this morning there was no J. W. Welsh and the funds went to the general fund with the city treasurer.

WHICH WILL YOU DO, WORK OR FIGHT?

THE MATTER IS NOW IN YOUR HANDS AND THE DECISIVE HOUR IS HERE.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Yes that is what it will be, you will make the decision, you will either work or you will fight, if you have been fighting to keep out of work, you now will have to work, and work hard at that to keep from fighting. By what is known as reclassification, will mean, that you will have to show why you are not employed if such is the case. The classifications have been made, with the exception of the later registrants, and those who have as they think been unfortunate enough to be placed in deferred classes, will have to make good therein or they will have this classification taken from them. When they have been placed in a class which guarantees them a deferred induction, or probably in other words not to be called at all because, of some productive occupation, and they are not working at it they will have to show cause why they are not so employed, and why they should not be placed according to what they are occupied at. This is not to work a hardship on any one but is designed to relieve from a hardship, those on whom the brunt of the service of winning the war is resting. It is service either in the army, fighting, or in the commercial army, which is producing the things which make it possible to win the war.

Local boards are made responsible for the reporting of any one who it is supposed is not employed where they have a classification which shows, that they have been set aside for some special occupation such as farming, or other productive industry. Notice of people who are taking vacation either voluntary or forced, to appear and be examined as to why they are not so employed. This examination will determine their classification, and the changing of it or the maintaining of the position they at present occupy.

The idea being that if you are not working you must prepare to fight and that at once. If you are not doing the things which you asked the classification for you will be placed on the list to go on the first call, after being so placed. Now is the time to work if you are so minded, to keep from fighting, and do not let any grass grow under your feet getting at it either.

MAKES VISIT AT CAMP DODGE.

From Monday's Daily.

Will Rothman was a visitor at Camp Dodge over Sunday going Saturday noon, and returning home this morning, where he went to visit with his brother Louie Rothman. As Louie has just been given a shot in the arm for the numerous inoculations, he did not have to go to the drilling, which is required and the length of the avenue of the camp which is seven miles long, and he and Will went to the top of a high hill and watched the procession, there being 45,000 men that made a great display as they went and Will says that they looked like they were enough to whip the world. He saw Louie Rothman, Herbert Thacker, Ed Rice and Glen Hawkenberry and they are all looking fine, though they have not as yet received their uniform. They are tanned pretty brown and looking in fine shape. He did not see Carl Schmidtman, as he had received his uniform and was away from camp for the day. And What It Means to You

We Have a Joint Interest in This Community

And We Wish to Join With You in Every Way to Promote the Community's Interests.

In a sense, this community is like a farm—it pays according to the way in which it is treated.

The successful farmer co-operates with his farm.

Knowing that certain soil elements are necessary to healthy crop growth, he sees to it that these elements are maintained.

The same principle holds good in community development. Our community is composed of two closely related elements—town and country.

They are both essential to healthy community growth. Neglect or mistreatment of either of them by the other affects both—it injures the whole community.

Both elements must be maintained.

Accomplishing this is simply a matter of sincere co-operation among all of us in this community.

Our idea of our own part to play for community good in a business way is—

To sell only such implements as have the quality to give high-grade results in the field.

To consider good performance by our implements as a part of our obligation.

To sell every implement at a fair price.

To practice the square deal towards each and every customer.

On this basis we invite the co-operation of every farmer in this community.
