Don't be wasteful of coal just because the strike is over.

The total American casualty list for the war is placed at 293,089, including 215,489. This looks big but is small in comparison to the lists of the European countries.

The I. W. W. organization has demonstrated their love for the former service men by killing four and wounding six in the Armistice day parade at Centralia, Washington.

The Knights of Columbus are to raise a fund from among their membership for the restoration of the educational institutions of Belgium. A most commendable work and this order will put it across.

President Wilson has been able to leave his sick bed for the first time since returning to Washington and this fact will bring much relief to the people of the United States regardless of political affiliations.

The Prince of Wales is rumored will be the next Governor General of Canada. The heir to the British throne seems to have been very favorably impressed with the importance of the American portion of the empire.

The government should see that the settlement of the coal strike situation is made with justice to all parties and that the public is not to be made the goat of a big boost in prices. The operators should run the mines to supply the demand of the public and not to create a shortage as has been charged, and the working hours fixed so as to best suit the conditions, with living wages.

SUFFRAGE.

With the Maine legislature in special session this week to ratify the suffrage amendment, the ratification game enters upon its second "half." California's ratification last week brought the number of ratifying states up to eighteen, just half of the required thirty-six. Maine will be the nineteenth. Can seventeen more be got in time for next year's national election? That is a close question. There are nine full suffrage states which have not yet acted—Oklahoma, Washington, South Dakota, Nevada, Colorado, Arizona, Wyoming, Oregon, and Idaho. All these will finally ratify, but will they call special sessions to ratify? Four states where women have presidential suffrage have not ratified—North Dakota, Indiana, Tennessee and Rhode Island. The North Dakota legislature is soon to meet in special session and will ratify. Should all the full suffrage and presidential suffrage states ratify in time, the favorable action of four out of the remaining sixteen must be secured. Two of these, Alabama and Georgia, have already refused to ratify. The needed four must come, accordingly, from these fourteen: Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, New Mexico, North Carolina, Vermont, West Virginia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Virginia, New Jersey and South Carolina. Six of these are "solid south." Three more are middle south. All are temperamentally slow to try new things. But for the political necessities of the case, insuring that national party committees will put the screws to the local politicians in the backward states, hope for ratification before the 1920 election would not be burning very bright.

TURMOIL IN AUSTRALIA.

New leaders are needed in many countries to guide the people out of the wilderness of post-war problems and the need seems to be especially felt in Australia, where the spread of bolshevism and the influence of reactionary political ideas form an admirable combination for unrest and upset.

This is the way it looks to an Australian correspondent of the London National Review, who is positive in his declaration that "it is becoming obvious that the future of Australia depends on the Anzacs," and "signs that they understand this are multiplying." The impression of home that the Anzac got on his return from the battlefields of Europe may be gathered from the remark of one that if this is the peace, let's get back to war.

"He was merely considering the middle sheet of a Melbourne newspaper," says this writer, "headlined with strikes and rumors of strikes and dotted all over with complaints about government extravagance and private profiteering, repatriation delays and arbitration eccentricities. The acting prime minister and the judge of the arbitration court were arguing in a tone of repressed bitterness up and down one column; in another, next door to the festivities welcoming the return of our warships, alleged naval officers ventilated their grievances about delayed promotion; across the page stretched the official announcement of restrictions on the use of gas and electricity, far more drastic than any issued while the war was on. That page was backed with a huge advertisement of an astounding cheap sale at which prices averaged 250 per cent advance on the ordinary prices of 1917.

"The seamen have struck on all coastal boats; the wharf laborers have struck; the builders' laborers have struck. Labor on the great stacks of wheat awaiting export is hopelessly disorganized. The strike of seamen and wharf laborers has thrown out of work at least 50,000 innocent people in Melbourne alone. State school teachers have threatened a stop-work meeting to protest against their low pay; state policemen have invaded the chief secretary's office and harangued him against his will; other state employees (civil servants, not artisans) are arranging 'public demonstration' of their grievances. One section of coal miners is out of work and another is working itself into a striking mood.

"And all this in a country possessing the widest suffrage, the most legislatures (for its size), and the best arbitration system (according to its traveling politicians) in the world."—Literary Digest.

THE GIRLS MEN MARRY.

There seems to be no end to the discussion of marrying and giving in marriage, and the viewpoints of the disputants are as various as their previous condition of servitude. The latest to add to the ever-lambent flame of the controversy is Dr. Kristine Mann, who tells the International Conference of Women Physicians that "what every woman knows" today is that "pale, weak women are most appealing to men" because of the chivalrous instinct of pity aroused in a man by the sight of fragility and pitiable dependence. To this finding many will enter their respectful demurrer. There is nothing particularly attractive to a man in the prospect of having a life partner whose health is precarious and who is unable to look to the ways of her household or to be the participant in the husband's interests in his business or in his recreative hours. There are all about us the most beautiful and touching examples of devotion and interdependence between husband and wife when the one or the other is enfeebled by an inherited or an accidental ailment, but such an ailment is a liability and not an asset in the partnership, and while in the half-Victorian days, of which we heard so much, it may have been fashionable to look as though one were passing into a decline, and it may have been considered soulful and spiritual to be unhealthy, today it is held to be morbid and even immoral to make anything less than the most and the best of the bodily tenement that is the home of the immortal spirit.—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE CALL OF THE WILD
It is a natural and logical thing that snipers of the I. W. W. should murder, in cold blood, American young men fresh from the shambles of Europe.

For the members of the American Legion fought for the flag of the republic, and anarchy and bolshevism and syndicalism hate the flag. They hate the republic.

THE LEGIONARIES FOUGHT TO ESTABLISH THE SUPREMACY OF LAW AND ORDER, AND ANARCHY HATES LAW AND ORDER.

THE LEGIONARIES FOUGHT INSPIRED BY THE PRECEPTS OF THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION, AND ANARCHY HATES CHRISTIANITY.

THE LEGIONARIES FOUGHT FOR FUNDAMENTAL MORALITY, AND ANARCHY HATES OUR CODE OF MORALS AS MUCH AS IT HATES THE LAWS AND INSTITUTIONS WHICH PROTECT THAT CODE.

THE LEGIONARIES FOUGHT TO MAKE THE WORLD SAFE FOR DEMOCRACY, AND ANARCHY FIGHTS—FROM AMBUSH, WHEN IT CAN; OPENLY, WHEN IT DARES—to banish democracy from the face of the earth.

THE I. W. W. MURDER OF THE FOUR EX-SOLDIERS IN THE ARMISTICE DAY PARADE AT CENTRALIA, WASH., WAS, THEREFORE SYMBOLICAL OF THE WARFARE UPON CIVILIZATION AND ALL ITS WORKS THAT IS BEING CARRIED FORWARD UNDER THE RED FLAG IN THIS LAND AND IN ALL LANDS.

IT IS A WAR AGAINST ALL GOOD MEN AND WOMEN, AND IT IS A WAR AGAINST GOD. FOR GOD, WHO DECREED "THE PRIMAL BLESSING"—a misnomer for the primal blessing—that in the sweat of his brow man should earn his bread, is hated and cursed by the hosts of red radicalism.

Right thinking men and women everywhere will rally, in the name of God and humanity, to put down this foul thing that is the most evil and abhorrent menace to human happiness to appear since time began. They will combine their strength to crush it as they would a monstrous prehistoric reptile threatening their homes and firesides. And in their war upon it they will make no distinction between the jungle denizens filthy and in rags and those sweet scented and hypocritical, with soft bodies and hard faces, that masquerade in broadcloth and fine linen.—World-Herald.
