

LIVES OF TWO YOUNG PEOPLE ARE JOINED

MISS MYRTLE PETERSEN OF THIS CITY AND MR. LILLARD JENSEN OF KENNARD, NEB., WED.

One of the most charming weddings of the winter season was held last evening at 6 o'clock at the St. Luke's Episcopal church when Miss Myrtle Petersen of this city was united in marriage to Mr. Lillard Jensen of Kennard, Nebraska, and a large number of the friends of the young people were in attendance at the church to witness the ceremony that was to unite for life the two happy hearts of these estimable young people.

The church had been very tastefully arranged with decorations of roses whose red and pink beauty added to the charm of the scene and these decorations were used quite extensively on the altar and chancel where the ceremony was performed.

Preceding the entrance of the bridal party, Miss Edna Petersen sang very sweetly "Oh, Promise Me," by DeKoven, the accompaniment being played by Mrs. J. C. Petersen, Jr., and at the close of the first strains of the "Lohengrin" bridal chorus was sounded by Miss Genevieve Whelan, who presided at the organ, and to the beautiful melody of the song of love the bridal party entered the church.

The bride was preceded by the ribbon bearers, four little ladies who were attractively garbed in the bridal white taffeta under bridal veils with bouquets of roses, Ruth Adelaide Smith, Anna May McMaken, Ruth McMaken, Erma Mayfield who formed the entrance way for the bride by placing the festoons of ribbon on the pews of the church and the young ladies were followed by the two ushers, Harold Pitt and Jack Ledgeway.

The wedding ring was carried in a large lily by little Miss Ethel May Harris of Omaha, who was a charming picture of fairy like daintiness in a costume of pink satin and this little tot of four years bore her part of the ceremony in a very winsome manner.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Petersen, Sr., and wore a very striking costume of white satin overlaid with rare lace and wearing the bridal veil which was caught in place with the bridal blooms, wearing a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and in her gown presented a picture of rare charm and beauty. Mrs. J. C. Petersen was gowned in white crepe, wearing a picture hat of white trimmed with ostrich tips. Mrs. Petersen also wore a corsage bouquet of white roses.

Miss Bernice Ballance of Lincoln, served as maid of honor for the bride, wearing a beautiful creation of white organdy over pink and carrying a bouquet of pink roses. Miss Ballance wore a picture hat of pink. The bridal party were met at the chancel by the groom, Mr. Lillard Jensen and his brother, Reginald Jensen of Kennard, who served as groomsmen for the ceremony.

The beautiful Episcopal wedding service was celebrated by the Rev. Wilbur Seranton Lee, rector of St. Luke's church and who in a very impressive manner pronounced the service that was to make as one the lives of the bridal couple.

At the conclusion of the service the wedding march of Mendelssohn was played by Miss Whelan as the recessional and to the strains of which the bridal party left the church to be taken to the home of Mrs. Petersen, where the wedding reception had been arranged. At the home the rooms were made more than usually attractive by the use of the roses and cut flowers and here amid the scene of charm and attractiveness the young people were showered with the congratulations of their friends and associates. Mrs. J. C. Petersen was assisted in entertaining and receiving the guests by Mrs. J. H. Donnelly of Omaha and Miss Margaret Hodgert while in the dining room the tables were presided over by Miss Bernice Ballance of Lincoln and Miss Verna Hatt. The dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake and punch were served by four of the class mates of the bride, Catherine Lutz, Clara Mae Creamer, Alice Johnson and Lillian Palacek.

The bride and groom departed at 9 o'clock over the Burlington for Pacific Junction from where they left for Omaha and later to Chicago, where they will enjoy a brief honeymoon before returning to Kennard, Nebraska, where they will make their home in the future.

The bride is one of the popular young ladies of this city and has been reared to womanhood in Plattsmouth, having made her home with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Petersen, and was graduated from the Plattsmouth high school in the class of 1920. A young lady of much charm and personality she has made many friends during her lifetime here and in her new home will carry the best wishes of the host of lifelong friends.

The groom is a member of one of the prominent families of Kennard and is a bright and energetic young man and has a fine home awaiting the coming of his bride near Kennard, where they will make their home in the future.

The out of town guests at the wedding were: James H. Jensen and wife of Kennard, parents of the groom, Mrs. Paul Jones of Reserve, Kansas, a sister of the groom, Miss Edna Jensen and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jensen, Reginald Jensen, sister and brother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Petersen and wife and Mrs. Carl Hansen of Tilden, brother and sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goetschel of Blair; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ballance and daughters, Misses Verna and Bernice of Lincoln; Mrs. Emma Hansen of Omaha, Miss Hazel Schaller of Omaha, and Mrs. J. H. Donnelly of Omaha.

REFUSAL OF CITIZENSHIP BRINGS GRIEF

William Schall of Omaha Well Known Here Finds That Technicality Bars His Papers.

Yesterday in Omaha, William Schall, well known in this city to a large number of the citizens, was denied his citizenship papers on the technicality of residence for five years in one place and which comes at a very serious time for this gentleman as his children who have survived the horrors of the wars of Russia and Poland are now on their way across the ocean to join the father and will find on their arrival here that the lack of citizenship of the father may deprive them of the right to enter the United States.

Mr. Schall was here at one time to seek his first papers in the district court here, but owing to the fact that his brothers-in-law, M. Fanger and V. Zucker, were residing in Omaha the application was made there and Mr. Schall has been residing in that city since.

In speaking of the matter the World-Herald has the following: "It was found that the witnesses, V. Zucker of Omaha and M. Fanger of Council Bluffs, the latter Schall's brother-in-law, did not have continuous knowledge of Schall's actions and conduct for five years, as required by federal law. Schall had been at Braddock, Pa., two years of the period, instead of in Omaha continuously, and these facts prevented his admission to full citizenship. He will have to wait until he can comply with the full legal requirements, the judge said, and then start a new application for citizenship."

The man wept in the court room when he heard the ruling. His first thought was of his children, now on their way to America from Gallia, and ignorant that entrance to this country will be denied to them because their father has not been admitted to citizenship, as they expected.

"It's the saddest case I ever knew," the brother-in-law, Fanger, declared. "Schall came to America in 1913, bringing three of his children. His wife and seven other children were to follow soon afterward. But the war began; they were prevented from leaving the old country, then the mother and two of the children there died of hunger and cold. The other motherless children will soon receive the crushing blow at New York that they cannot enter America because their father's citizenship proceedings have been held up indefinitely."

EAGLES TAKE FALL OUT OF RESERVES

Win From East School Team by Score of 31 to 18, While Elks Are Cleaned Up by the Morgans.

Last evening another surprise was given in the city basket ball league when the Eagles team sent the Reserves composed of high school students to 18 in a hard fought battle. The Eagle team has been showing some remarkable work in the last few games and are now going strong, having just recently defeated the Elks who have been leading the league for the greater part of the season. Some very clever exhibitions of basket throwing was given by Burkle and Kirvanek of the Eagle team and which aided their team in attaining their well deserved victory.

In the conflict between the Elks and the Morgan's the Bills were unable to get going in the first half which ended with a score of twelve to one, but in the second half of the game they showed a little more speed and secured seven scores, but were defeated by the final result of 18 to 8.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE
An action for divorce was filed in the office of Clerk of the District Court James M. Robertson yesterday afternoon, entitled Maggie E. Holcomb vs. Walter Holcomb and in her petition the plaintiff alleges the defendant guilty of extreme cruelty in use of language and in action toward the plaintiff and which has caused the plaintiff great mental suffering as well as undermining her health so that she is now suffering physical incapacity as the result. The petition states that the parties were married at O'Neill, Neb., July 5, 1911, and lived together until October 21, 1920. The plaintiff asks for the sum of $5,000 alimony and the sum of $25 per month for the care of the five minor children of the marriage and the custody of the children. Attorney D. O. Dwyer appears in the action for the plaintiff.

Simon Gruber, Jr., and Frank Meade, two of the prominent young men of near Union, were in the city yesterday afternoon for a few hours attending to some matters of business and calling on their friends in the county seat.

LYCEUM HUMORIST HERE ON FRIDAY

Herbert Leon Cope, Who Has Had Years of Experience in Lecturing, to Be Here This Week.

The promoter of the 1921 lyceum course have felt that they were more than fortunate in the fact that the great humorist-lecturer, Herbert Leon Cope, has been included in their program of attractions for the winter course. Mr. Cope has been dated for thirty lectures during the summer at various chautauqua attractions and twenty of these are return engagements, so that his attractions have proven the best that could be found a disappointment to the extent that he has been repeatedly requested to return for additional addresses.

Who's Cope? Well, say! Ask almost any soldier who was in any of the camps in the southeastern division and he will tell you all about it, for more than a million soldiers and marines were cheered by his bubbling humor and good cheer. Cope put the bright spot in their camp life. He's the fellow who chased away the blues—and the doughboys nicknamed him "Kill the Blues" Cope.

We all know that "the voice with the smile wins." Cope lives that expression. He goes in high all the time—a regular twin-six for humor and joy. "He can make a horse laugh" was a common expression among the doughboys. And it's so! Cope has seen quite a bit of this old world, too. A dozen years or so ago, he was the biggest hit on the Lyceum and Chautauqua platforms of George Eaton of near Union, was in the city today for a few hours looking after some matters of business at the court house. Mr. Eaton is one of the old resident of the county, but does not often find time to visit in this city.
