AUTO ACCIDENT HAS FATAL TERMINATION

Frank E. Hoskins Injured at Weeping Water, Dies at Lincoln Hospital From Effects of Injuries.

The automobile accident that occurred near Weeping Water early last Monday morning in which Rev. W. H. Hoskins and E. P. Buck of Weeping Water, and Frank E. Hoskins of Republican City were injured, has resulted in the death of Frank Hoskins, who passed away at the hospital in Lincoln Wednesday.

The three men were driving to Omaha to catch an early morning train for Des Moines, where Frank Hoskins was to attend a big cattle sale. The accident was caused primarily by the fact that the electric lights on the car winked out just a few moments before the car reached the bridge, where the accident occurred. It was one of the "crooked" bridges that are still to be found frequently, contributed to the fact that the car left the roadway in the dark and plunged over the embankment to the creek bed fourteen feet below. The car in its plunge snapped on a good sized tree and was turned completely around by the force of the impact. The three men kept their places in the car and were not thrown out or pinned under the car. Rev. Hoskins, who was the less seriously injured of the three men made his way to the Louis Ehlers farm near where the accident occurred and secured help but by the most super-human effort as he collapsed after securing the aid for his brother and Mr. Buck. Frank Hoskins was found suffering from six broken ribs, one lung punctured and a large blood clot forming in the side. Buck was injured internally and still is in serious condition, while Mr. Hoskins passed away Wednesday.

In speaking of the accident the Weeping Water Republican has the following:

"Not in many months has there come to the people of the community such a shock as results from this terrible catastrophe with its fatal outcome. The deceased, Mr. Hoskins was a man forty-three years of age, and was an esteemed citizen and successful farmer and stockman of Republican City. He had stopped on at Weeping Water on his way to Des Moines to attend the show and sale of the Iowa Shorthorn Breeders' association. Wishing for the companionship of his brother and also his judgment and help in making selection of a bull, he had stopped on at Weeping Water to accompany him. As the show was to take place Monday it was necessary to catch the 6 o'clock train out of Omaha. Mr. Buck had been planning a trip to Omaha that evening and the convenient arrangement of his starting early enough to meet that train, had been made.

"As a commentary it is to be noted that by a queer turn of fate the trip was undertaken really in opposition to the better judgment of the party, with regard to the weather that seemed to be brooding a storm when they first arose at 2:30 to prepare for the trip. The Hoskins brothers were especially reluctant to get Mr. Buck out into a storm that might hit him on his way. Even as they reached the top of the hill opposite the Ehlers home and got a better idea of what the weather might be, they mentioned turning back, but Mr. Buck expressed no fears of weather trouble and they continued their journey that fate seemed to have taken a hard hand.

"The remains of Frank E. Hoskins were taken to Republican City Wednesday. Deceased is survived by a wife and two daughters, the eldest of whom is married.

"Mr. Hoskins was able to make the trip to Republican City with the remains, going to Lincoln early Wednesday morning and there joining the relatives who had been called from Republican City immediately after the accident occurred.

"In regard to the condition of Mr. Buck, it is to be stated that this morning is that his injuries are very serious, but that he shows slight improvement this morning. The family have the sympathy of the community and it is hoped Mr. Buck may continue to show improvement."

MAKES SUCCESSFUL GUESS

From Friday's Daily.

The guessing contest for the accurate number of pennies which the firm of C. E. Wescott's Sons have had in their east show window for the past two weeks was closed yesterday and the prize secured by James Jones of Omaha. Mr. Jones was here a few days ago visiting with his relatives in this city and looking over the display of pennies, walked into the store and announced that there were 731 of the one cent pieces in the window. The count revealed the fact that there were 734 and as Mr. Jones' guess was nearest the correct number, he was given the prize, a fine $2.50 shirt.

POPPIE FAIRIES, SYLVIA NOBLE, EDITH FARLEY, RUTH PATTON and MARIE STOKES, were very fairy-like in their interpretation of fairy dance and song which added greatly to the play.

The rainbow girls in their pretty costumes as well as the fairies in dainty white supported their leads with their choruses which showed training, as did that of the fairies who were composed of the following: Rainbow Fairies—Martha Gorder, Marie Sperry, Helen Sharp, Dora Seennichsen, Louise Fogarty, Laura Coffman, Ruth Janda, Isabelle Marshall.

Fairies—Allie Marquette, Alice Crabill, Helen Koubek, Norma Lynch, Patrick Flynn, Jane Dwyer, West, Maxine Clout, Virginia Price, Eleanor Swatek, Edna Rummelfield, Jean Hayes, Ruth Pickett, Germain Mason, Tennie, Koubek, Jessie Craig, Dorothy Farmer, Charlotte Field, Leona Hudson, Catherine McClusky, Elizabeth Hart, Margaret Iverson, Catherine Flynn, Nina Hollowell, Florence Connor, Ada McFarland, Laura Grassman, Dorothy Gradoville, Bernice Fogarty, Mary Swatek, Lorene Windham, Margie Arn, Olive Hollowell, and Louise Kalasek.

The Boy Police with Harlin Draper as captain and Harlin Gorder, Theodore McMaken, Ralph Connor, Walter Davis, Joe Sheehan, Louis Russell, Joe Buttery, Theodore Hadraba, Stewart Egenberger and Jack Hart, added spice to the program by their drills and songs.

Clement Janda and Allee Lorenz favored the audience with piano numbers between acts, which were heartily applauded.

The teachers, Misses Martens, Hesel, Noble, Ryan, Owens and Koesler, who were placed in charge as well as Mr. Pratt, feel very grateful to the children and parents who helped to make it a success. Especially do they feel grateful to Miss Baird who assisted them and to Allison Flynn, Carl Ott, Willis Hartford, John Pearson and the numerous teachers and others, who made flowers or loaned any assistance.

G. E. DE WOLF TO RETURN TO CITY

Will Take Position as City Superintendent at Commencement of Next School Year.

The patrons of the Plattsmouth city schools will be as well pleased as was the board of education this morning to learn that G. E. DeWolf, former city superintendent, is to return to this city and assume charge of the schools here during the coming year.

This fact was not learned until near noon when a message accepting the offer made by the board of education, was received from Mr. DeWolf. At the time Mr. Pratt's resignation was made to the board and the announcement that he would not be a candidate for re-election, the board at once took up with Mr. DeWolf the proposition of again resuming his school work and with the result that he has accepted.

Mr. DeWolf served as city superintendent in the years 1917 to 1919 and followed W. G. Brooks in the office and has left behind him a record of very high efficiency as well as personal popularity that has been enjoyed by but few men who have engaged in school work here, and this makes his return doubly pleasant to the patrons of the school here.

He came to this city from North Bend after several years of work in

LAST DAY OF THE MORELAND

With the close of the performance at the Moreland theater this evening this theater under the name of Moreland will cease to exist and will re-open Sunday as the Lyric under the new management of which Messrs. Clout & Moore of the Parmele theater will have charge.

This theater has had a variety of titles since its establishment by R. M. Shales a number of years ago, being known as the Gem for several years and when the interests of the Mid-West Amusement company was purchased by K. Moreland, the theater was named for the new owner.

The new management will strive to see that the best of pictures is continued at the Lyric as has prevailed in the past and that every effort is made to cater to the patrons in every way possible.

In the change in management of the theater, Charles Petersen, who has been in charge there since the sale of the theater by Mr. Shales will retire from the theater management. Mr. Petersen has been a very accommodating manager of the theater and has always made it a point to secure the best possible attractions for his patrons, and his retirement will be much regretted by his friends. For several years he has spent in the picture show business has been so pleasant that he expects to continue in this line of work although he has not as yet determined on his future location.

With the opening tomorrow of the Lyric, "Trumpet Island" a Vitagraph feature will be shown while at the Parmele "Ducks and Drakes" with Bebe Daniels will be offered for the patrons.

CENTRAL CITY WINS FROM PLATTSMOUTH

Class "E" Championship Aspirations Go Glimmering as Result of Hard Fought Battle.

The basket ball fans of the city eagerly awaited last evening word from the state tourney at Lincoln, in which the local high school team was pitted against the fast Central City team and when the returns finally were received they brought a feeling of gloom as the Merrick county aggregation was able to pull through winners by the score of 14 to 12, in one of the closest and best games seen in any of the contests played in the state tournament.

The Central City team had the best of the game from the start and at the close of the first half the score was 9 to 4 in their favor. The Plattsmouth team then proceeded to lumber up and go after their opponents, but without success as the final score indicated. For Plattsmouth McCarthy played the most successful game in securing goals, as four field goals were checked to his credit, while Sattler and Schubeck were able to annex one each.

The final results of the championship will be played today, with Central City and Nebraska City as the contenders and the indications are that the honors are to go to Central City, which team has showed high class in their work in the series of games, defeating Benson, whom dopsters had picked as the probable winners.

Despite their defeat for the coveted honors, the Plattsmouth team has made a brilliant record during the season and the boys can feel a pride in their work, even though denied the culminating honors of their basket ball career.
