COW CENSORSHIP FAVORED IN HOUSE

Short Grass Representatives Put on Amendment Excusing Range Cattle from Tubercular Exams.

Cow censorship was the topic of the hour in house committee of the whole Thursday morning. The audience was held so tightly in the grip of the cow subject that movie censorship made a rapid trip through the house chamber almost unnoticed. H. R. 113 hurried through en route from the committee on arrangement. It stopped only long enough to be smiled at by a few and frowned upon by others.

Movie censorship supposedly applies to the morals of the young and old and those in middle life, but especially to the young. Cow censorship applies to white cows, black cows, steers, the young calf, the cul-de-cow and the cow with the crumpled horn. It applies to the young heifer who kicks her heels skyward when she scents the approach of a stein and to the decrepit old cow whose only ambition is to chew alfalfa and gossip with other old cows.

H. R. 589, the cow censorship bill, provides for the testing of all cattle shipped into the state except for immediate slaughter, for tuberculosis. When the state finds it necessary to kill censored cows, it shall reimburse the owner not more than $25 for an ordinary cow and not more than $50 for a registered cow.

The department of agriculture is empowered to make necessary rules and regulations to carry into effect the necessary censorship purpose of the act. It is given authority to regulate or prohibit transportation within the state of exposed or affected animals.

When the movie man is censured, he must merely pay a fine. When the cow is censured she must die. Representatives from the short grass country declared that if enforced to the letter, the law will put the cattle industry on the shelf.

Mr. Mickey said that in the range country, cow censorship in steers by the thousand. If the steers are young they usually are kept until they reach the age of three, four or five years. If every steer must be treated for tuberculosis and the veterinarian may charge almost any price the member from Cherry sees nothing to it but a quietus to the cattle industry.

"If you want to ruin the cattle business, pass this bill," he said.

Messrs. Mickey and Reed, short grass representatives, with the approval of the house, wiped away the objection by plastering on a proviso that the bill shall not apply to range steers and feeders shipped in.

A committee amendment proposed to wipe from the bill the clause which gives to the department the right to order a re-test within sixty days after the original test. Speaking for the amendment, Mr. Gilford said that it simply builds up business for the veterinarian.

"Either recognize the reliability of the initial test or do away with it entirely," he said.

The amendment was defeated and the bill advanced to third reading.

Titan Tractor

Back to the Old Price

$1,000

WE have reduced the price of the Titan 10-20 to its former low price of $1,000 f. o. b. Chicago. This is the same Titan tractor which 75,000 farmers have put into remarkably successful service — the same tractor, plus 1921 improvements and additions.

A full set of removable extension angle lugs sold as extra equipment under the former $1,000 price is now included without extra cost. Fenders, Platform, Angle Lugs, Throttle Governor, Friction Clutch Pulley, Wide Range Adjustable Drawbar, Water Air Cleaner—all are included in the $1,000 price.

International 8-16 and 15-30 Tractors Also Reduced in Price

Farmers who want a lighter tractor, built like a high-grade automobile but with the same sturdiness and reliability of the Titan, can now get the International 8-16 at $1,000 f. o. b. Chicago. We have long restricted the sale of this model to a limited territory, but increased production enables us to release it to all sections of the United States.

The International 15-30 tractor has been reduced to $1,950 f. o. b. Chicago. Bear in mind that we give unequalled service, made possible through 92 branch houses and thousands of local dealers, to every International tractor owner, no matter where located.

Prices of Other Lines Reduced

Prices have also been reduced on chilled plows, tractor plows, cream separators, kerosene engines, seeding machines, International threshers, harvester-threshers, wagons, hay presses, and a number of other lines on which your dealer can give you full information.

COMMISSIONERS INSPECT ROAD WORK

In Company with the State Division Engineer and Federal Representative Go Over It.

The county commissioners, Messrs Farley, Harris and Gorder, were out yesterday looking over the road work in the vicinity of Eagle and particularly that of the highway connecting up Eagle and Murdock, an important part of the state highway running from Murray west to Lincoln.

The commissioners were joined at Eagle by Division Engineer Merrick of the state department of public works and the representative of the government aid road department who traveled with the commissioners over the highway from Eagle to Murdock inspecting the places where it is necessary to have culverts or bridges placed to put the road in first class shape.

It is the intention to ask to have the federal aid extended to this road and to have it completed in first class shape which will give a wonderfully smooth highway through the central portion of the county and connect at Murray with the government aid highway running north and south.

This road was started last year and has had a great deal of work placed on it to make it the proper width and has been kept up in first class shape this spring, and is now one of the best highways in this portion of the county.

VERY QUIET WEDDING AT M. E. PARSONAGE

Miss Louise Hesse and Mr. James M. Cunningham United in Marriage This Afternoon.

From Thursday's Daily.

A very simple and quiet wedding occurred at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. A. V. Hunter, when two of the popular residents of this city, Miss Louise Hesse and Mr. James M. Cunningham, were united in marriage.

The bridal couple was attended by Miss Ida Ledgway and Mr. Louie Hesse, brother of the bride. The impressive ring service was used by the Rev. Hunter in uniting the lives and hearts of the contracting parties.

Both the bride and groom are well known and very popular among a large circle of warm friends. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Dora Hesse and has been brought to womanhood in this city and during her years of residence here has endeavored herself to a large circle of warm friends. The groom is the president of the local aerie of Eagles and has been for several years in the employ of the Burlington in the paint shop in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham will start housekeeping at once in the home that the groom has arranged for the coming of his bride.

In company with the many friends the Journal joins in wishing a long and very happy married life to these two estimable people and one filled with just enough sunshine and shadow to make the close one of beauty and love.
