Protecting Your Family

Keeping the wolf from your door is often taken too figuratively. But it is not an idle joke, to be ridiculed or ignored.

To keep the wolf from your door requires weapons more powerful than implements of war. It requires a defense that cannot be bought or borrowed—it is gained through practice of thrift.

To save is to insure yourself and your family protection.

Every man owes himself and his family the protection of a savings account in a good substantial bank such as this one. There are other ways in which we can help you protect your family. Investigate.

The Bank of Murray has added an entire new set of curtains and shades to their bank building, which is very pleasant and harmonizes nicely with the interior decorations.

T. S. Barrows and J. A. Scotten were fishing at a point near the Bell farm in the Missouri a few days since and returned with a large string of fish. They were either lucky or fortunate.

Walker Gilmore has been doing some concrete work about the home for the past few days and thus improving the convenience and value of the doctor's home and adding to its value as well.

Miss Hazel Davis, aged fourteen and Clara Mrasek aged fifteen underwent an operation for the removal of their tonsils at the Fenger hospital in Omaha last Monday and returned home at Tuesday evening, they both getting along nicely.

The rejoicing is not over yet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Staska, over the arrival of a young son and heir which come to their home several days since. You cannot purchase a ticket for less than the regular price, notwithstanding the smile which constantly plays on the lips of the genial agent.

Joe Mrasek of the Peterson Hardware company, accompanied by the Richter brother Paul and Herman were Omaha visitors last Monday at Omaha, where they purchased for Herman and Paul Richter a Marsalles cylinder car sheller, which the boys will do custom shelling with during the fall and winter.

Fred Rhodwald, of Weeping Water, representing the Aug Meyer Auto company of that place, last Tuesday sold to W. G. Boedecker a new Ford coupe, taking in exchange the car which Mr. Boedecker has owned for some time past. The car which Mr. Boedecker had owned heretofore had been one without a starter, and the one which he has just secured is one fully equipped, which will make the use of it more of a pleasure.

Had a Tussle with the Storm

The storm which did so much damage along "O" street last Friday evening also caught the family of Frank Mrasek and Herman Richter, as they were returning from the state fair. They had sought to outrun the storm, but were not able, and had gotten about three miles from Elmwood at the home of Fred Hall, when the storm struck. They were not able to get out of the auto, and ran it alongside of a garage which was careened to one side, and they were all afraid it would blow over on them. When the fury of the storm had in a manner abated Mr. Mrasek ran to the house and finding no one in the house, opened the door and secured the family went and remained until the family came home some three hours later from the fair, where they had been also. They prevailed upon Mr. Mrasek and company to remain. It is well that they did, for otherwise they would have run into a stream of water many feet deep and been swept away. Frank says frankly that he saw in the storm something to be afraid of.

Flies Over Home Town

Last Sunday Forest Tracy, who formerly made his home here, flew over Murray a mile high while on his way from Fort Sill, Oklahoma, to Fort Crook, passing this place not far from the noon hour. His mother, Mrs. Tracy, who has been doing some needlework here for some time past, knowing that he was to come to Fort Crook, went there to see her son. He not knowing that his mother had gone to Fort Crook came here immediately after the landing at the Fort. When he found his mother had come to Fort Crook he returned, Mr. Tracy, who is the mechanic, says when passing here the plane was traveling at the rate of one hundred and fifty miles per hour.

MAKE REAL SILK PURSE OUT OF EAR OF A SOW

Chemists Upset Ancient Maxim by Spying on the Work of the Industrious Silkworm.

A silk purse made from sows ears, as chemistry's answer to the old saying that it couldn't be done, was shown at the chemistry exposition in New York recently.

In announcing the successful result of experiments, Arthur D. Little, Inc., chemists and engineers of Cambridge, Mass., said the silk was not very strong and that there was no present industrial value in the process involved. It was more or less the product of chemistry at play, but a contribution also to philosophy in proving the fallacy of the old proverb.

In reciting the factors that entered into the transition of sows ears from Chicago stockyards to a silk purse such as a woman might carry, the chemists explained that the first step was to analyze the silkworm's method of making silk. This done, its caterpillar chemistry was copied in the laboratory.

It was found that man had to provide a substitute for a process by which the silkworm exudes from two fine ducts in its head minute threads of a viscous liquid, coated with another secretion, which are cemented into a double strand. This becomes a firm filament of silk when it coagulates on reaching the air.

Analysis of this viscous liquid showed it to be like glue and with somewhat similar chemical properties. The sow's ear being chiefly gristle and skin, also has the natural elements of glue. This was obtained from the ears and it was put through several processes of preparation, filtered under pressure and placed in spinning apparatus of a special design.

The solution of glue and chemicals came out as sixteen very fine colorless streams, joined into one composite fiber, treated to give it strength and color and processed yet again to obtain the desired soft, silk feel. The weaving followed on a small hand loom, the fabric was formed and the purse made.

REV. BUCHANAN IS MARRIED IN ILLINOIS

Former Murray Pastor and Bride to Spend Year in Scotland—Account of Wedding.

From the Monmouth (Ill.) Daily Herald we take the following account of the marriage of Rev. J. D. Buchanan, former pastor of the Murray U. P. church, which occurred on September 1st. Rev. Buchanan left a few days before the ceremony, preaching his farewell sermon to the congregation at Murray, August 28, and will spend a year or more abroad, attending the graduate school of Theology at Edinburgh, Scotland. Here is the account:

"The west side U. P. church was the scene at noon today of one of the prettiest weddings of the season, when the Rev. J. Dales Buchanan claimed Miss Helen Barr Huey, the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. G. Huey, as his wife. Preceding the ceremony Miss Lurline Sneath played a selection on the harp. At twelve, to the strains of the Lohengrin Bridal chorus, the bridal party entered the church. First in the wedding party were the ushers, Gordon Marsh and Homer Maxwell, of Cannonsburg, Pa. Following the ushers came the two bridesmaids, Mrs. Leonard Killey and Miss Ruth Huey, sister of the bride and Miss Grace Huey, who was her sister's maid of honor. The flower girls were Margaret Richardson and Ruth Lukens. The Rev. J. Dales Buchanan and his brother, Bruce Buchanan, with the bride's father, Rev. Huey, who performed the ceremony, met the others of the bridal party at the altar.

"The bride's dress was of white ivory satin with over drape of burnt out lace and she carried a bouquet of white brides roses and snap dragons. The church was beautifully but simply decorated for the occasion.

"Immediately after the ceremony, the wedding party went to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception for relatives and close friends was held. The house was simply, but artistically decorated with the pink and orchid asters. After the reception a three-course wedding breakfast was served by the friends of the bride.

"Both Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan are well known in college circles. Mrs. Buchanan is a graduate of Central H. S. in St. Louis, with the class of 1914. She was a student of music at Corath's conservatory in St. Louis, at the time of her removal to Monmouth early in 1914. She entered Monmouth college and was graduated from the Conservatory of music with the class of 1917. Mrs. Buchanan is an accomplished musician and for the last two years she was the head of the music school in connection with the Genesee Collegiate Institute of Genesee, Ill. In June of 1921, she received her degree of B. S. from Monmouth college.

"Rev. Buchanan is a graduate of the M. H. S. and also of Monmouth college with the class of 1915. He served two years in the army as a second lieutenant of the 38th Field Artillery. Last May he was granted the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from Princeton Theological seminary and his Master of Arts degree from Princeton university at Princeton, N. J. He was awarded a fellowship in Apologetics at the Graduate School of Theology of the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

"The bride and groom left on the afternoon train for Chicago en route to Niagara Falls, Toronto, Buffalo and Albany. From Albany they will go down the Hudson river to New York City, from which place they will sail on the Columbia Sept. 19 for Glasgow, Scotland. They will be abroad at least a year while Rev. Buchanan is attending the University. In the few days before the N. J. He was awarded a fellowship in Apologetics at the Graduate School of Theology of the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Over that Hot Stove, Too!

Why pay three dollars and seventy-five cents for that bushel of peaches, work over the boiling hot stove and get fifteen quart cans of the fruit, then pay for the sugar, and furnish the container, which makes the fruit alone not counting the can cost you 26 cents each.

When you can purchase the peaches and the finest put up in heavy syrup, including the cans for only 27 1/2 cents each. Did you ever stop to figure the matter out.

We would be pleased to take your order for the fruit already canned, and save you the hard hot work.
