

Stetson Hats

Hats Off to Our Stetson Hats!

We can't regulate the weather. Spring may be a long way off, but we can regulate your "look" by standing you under a new Stetson Hat, then your ready for Spring.

The shapes are a trifle different, somewhat larger.

The colors are mole, seal, Belgian black, zinc, iron and delft.

The prices are $5, $6.50, $7.50.

You are assured of Quality when you ask for Stetson.

We also have the staple hats, Black Graeco and Belly Boulder, at $5 and $7.50. This is the hat to buy if you expect to wear it the rest of your life.

We are not reformers, but would like to put a "lid" on you.

Take a slant at our east window!

Albert Wargal departed on the early Burlington train this morning for Omaha where he will spend a few hours looking after some matters of importance.

SINGLE TAX ADHERENT LECTURES ON TAX PROBLEM

Louis Post, Washington Editor and Economist Delivers Four Addresses in Omaha.

"We are living under a confiscatory system of taxation operated along highway robbery lines," said Louis F. Post, Washington editor, author and economist, in Omaha yesterday at four public meetings in which he advocated a tax on land in proportion to its location, value and the abolition of the taxation on production, consumption and income.

He spoke before the University of Omaha yesterday morning on "Basic Economic Facts," before the Concord club at noon on "Business Men and Other Working Men," the League of Women Voters in the afternoon on "The Problem of the Public Purse," and before the Omaha university law school last night on "Law and Land."

In all his addresses Mr. Post stressed the theory that the public creates the value and that speculative profits on land are therefore the property of the public, not the individual.

The present taxation system taxes the man more who has improved a city lot by erecting a building upon it, which is useful to mankind than the man who holds a lot for speculative purposes, he says.

"The tax on the building improvement should be eliminated and both property owners be taxed in proportion to the value of the land."

Mr. Post advocates what he calls a compensatory taxation system whereby an individual pays according to the financial benefits he has received from society instead of on the basis of his ability to pay.

Mr. Post is in Omaha under auspices of the Unitarian Laymen's league and will lecture at the First Unitarian church tonight on "Capitalism, Socialism and Sense."

BUILDING TRADES SHY YOUNG MEN

Only the Ranks of Plumbers, Carpenters and Iron Workers are Sufficiently Filled.

Los Angeles, Feb. 1.—Young men of the United States are not learning the trades important to building, according to the annual report of the committee on labor of the American general contractors, whose fourth annual convention continued here today.

These trades are those of structural iron workers, plumbers, carpenters, painters, brick masons, roofers, plasterers, paperhangers, building laborers and stone cutters.

With the exception of the first three, the report stated, there were actually fewer workmen in 1920 than in 1910, and only the structural iron workers and the plumbers in their increase had kept pace with the increase in the population of the country.

The report named two probable causes. The first was the cutting off of immigration by the world war, and later by restrictive immigration laws. The second was the fact that young Americans were not learning these trades.

WORKING GIRLS' MINIMUM WAGE IS PASSED BY HOUSE

Warm Debate Features Measure Giving $12 a Week as Minimum Wage of Working Girl.

Lincoln, Jan. 31.—Nebraska's poor working girl was voted a minimum wage of $12 a week by the lower house today following a warm debate. A motion by Representative Elzasser of Omaha to advance the measure to third reading carried, 58 to 40.

Fifty Lincoln working girls met Representative Donald Gallagher of O'Neill, beardless, wifeless, 23-year-old father of the bill, in the hallway as he left the house of representatives and presented him with two bouquets of flowers.

Kisses would have been in order if Gallagher desired, he was told. During the debate the girls gave members speaking in their behalf rounds of applause from the gallery, and when those opposed to the bill arose to speak, the girls drowned the speakers' voices in applause until the speaker announced that a repetition of such deportment would result in clearing the gallery.

Two Amendments Added
Two amendments were added to the bill, one exempting employers in towns of less than 3,000 population and farmers from provisions of the bill and the other making it optional whether a girl is paid $12 in cash or its equivalent in board and room.

Representative Barber charged such a law was class legislation and described it as another excuse for middlemen and manufacturers to increase prices to farmers.

"It will stifle initiative," Garber said.

What is our statute permitting public service corporations a minimum price for the products but class legislation? Representative Jacoby asked.

Representative Gallagher read letters he had received from working girls in which Omaha girls charged certain Omaha firms were working their girls 10 to 12 hours a day without overtime, which is against the law. One girl wrote that certain stores paid their girls no more than $5 a week.

At a meeting of the Nebraska Branch of the Universal Chiropractors' association, held at Lincoln on the 14 of January, it was decided to ask this session of the legislature to pass a bill raising the requirements to practice Chiropractic in this state.

As the law now stands it reads that you shall have had three terms of nine months each. Nothing is said in regard to the actual attendance at this session of the legislature to pass a bill raising the requirements to practice Chiropractic in this state.

There are twelve standard schools of Chiropractic in the United States that require that you shall have actually attended 4,102 1/2 thirty-minute hours, and where the time is actually checked up every class period by time keepers. Also, there are a number of so-called Chiropractic schools that are run in a haphazard manner, where no time is taken and the students can come and go as they please, yet at the end of three terms of nine months each, they receive their diploma and under the present law are allowed to practice in this state.

Under the proposed bill that will be introduced, it makes it incumbent upon the person appearing before the Examining Board to have attended a standard Chiropractic school teaching Chiropractic subjects for a stated number of hours of personal attendance, thus raising the requirements to practice Chiropractic in the state of Nebraska.

They Appeal to Our Sympathies

The bilious and dyspeptic are constant sufferers and appeal to our sympathies. Many such, however, have been completely restored to health by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets strengthen the stomach, invigorate the liver and improve the digestion. They also cause gentle movement of the bowels. When you have any trouble with your stomach, give them a trial. Weyrich & Hadraba.

WOULD CONTROL HIGHWAYS

In one of the measures proposed in the last day of submission of bills in the state legislature comes one that would make a radical departure in the maintenance of the state highways. This measure proposed by the committee on roads and bridges would, after April 1, 1923, have the state department of public works maintain the entire state highway system and requiring the county treasurers to remit to the state 4 1/2 per cent of the highway fund collected for the maintenance of the highways. The state department would also be given the power to close the highways for repairs.

REPORT CARROLL MAY QUIT THE ENFORCEMENT WORK

Governor Bryan Denies There is Any Friction Between Himself and State Sheriff, However.

Lincoln, Feb. 2.—Tom Carroll, appointed chief state law enforcement officer by Governor Bryan last week has never been put on the state payroll. Governor Bryan said this morning when questioned as to rumors that Carroll was about to resign.

"Mr. Carroll consented to help me out in the organization of that department," Governor Bryan said, "but he is still in doubt as to whether he wants to take the job permanently or not. Mr. Carroll has been pressed very hard by the federal prohibitionist authorities to retain his position with them and he has been offered a greater inducement to stay."

The governor also said that Carroll felt as though the responsibility of having the executive supervision of the law enforcement activities and of chief officers in general over the state was too great in proportion to the emolument which he would receive from the state.

"Mr. Carroll is without a peer among law enforcement officials," the governor said, "but his whole experience has been in the physical side of the enforcement. He is hesitating somewhat over accepting the directive responsibility."

The governor denied that there were any differences between himself and Carroll over appointments. He said the relations had been entirely amiable on both sides and that Carroll just now is occupied in establishing the new offices of the enforcement division in Lincoln.

Omaha, Feb. 2.—It has been reported for several days around the federal building that Mr. Carroll is considering a return to his former position. Federal Prohibition Director Rohrer would not discuss the matter but intimated he might have a statement today.
