The ceremony making this popular young Union woman and Mr. Fuesney man and wife was said by the Rev. H. E. Dierck of the First Baptist church of Union.

The groom is a very prosperous farmer in the west and the young couple will make their home there, after having spent some time here, visiting with friends and relatives.

The Journal joins with the many friends in extending best wishes to this happy young couple.

Eighteen members of what is known as the Helpers' club of Union and vicinity gathered at the home of Mrs. Dan Lynn in Union on the last day of January, 1923.

At these meetings the first thing in order is to do one hour's work for the hostess which rule was abided by. Then sociability with neighbors and friends was next in order which was carefully looked after for the next hour.

Then came the afternoon lunch (it being the main and important part to be considered.)

This was served to the satisfaction of all present (some calling it a feast. Each departed to their several homes vowing to meet again in two weeks with Mrs. L. F. Fitch, one and a half miles northwest of Union on February 10th.

George Green visited the High school last week.

After Every Meal

Top off each meal with a bit of sweet in the form of WRIGLEY'S.

It satisfies the sweet tooth and aids digestion.

Pleasure and benefit combined.

Colorado. Needless to say it was a most enjoyable evening for those present and all voted Mr. and Mrs. Braner royal entertainers.

Buried at Plattsmouth

Last Saturday was held the funeral of the late Mrs. Gus Splitt at the Lewiston church, and afterwards the remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery at Plattsmouth.

The funeral was conducted by the Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union, who was a very close friend of the family.

Mrs. Agnes Splitt, nee Grauf, was born October 22nd, 1857, and has lived in the neighborhood of Murray and Rock Bluffs for her entire life, having many friends and was loved by all who knew her.

She answered the call to the great beyond on Sunday evening, January 28th, at her home some six miles northeast of Union and southeast of Murray, at the age of 65 years. She was united in marriage on May 14, 1919, to Mr. Gus Splitt, who succeeds the wife, as well as two children, Roy Splitt, 11, and Billie, 3. She leaves as well her aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grauf, five sisters and one brother.

Cutting Deep Just Now!

We do not like taking inventory—it makes our head ache to figure too much. To save the large invoice taking, we are going to make a deeper cut on prices in all lines in our store, before we take the invoice. The bargain giving cut is for the month of February. Better get your bargains while the getting is good.

"THE STORE OF SERVICE" UNION NEBRASKA

GET INTO THE BUREAU

Three dollars and fifty cents of the four dollar dues to the Cass County Farm Bureau is spent for the benefit of the women, girls and boys in Cass county. The other half dollar goes to the National Farm Bureau to carry on work for nation-wide benefit.

There is not a cent of tax money used from Cass county to carry on the work that Miss Wilkins is doing for the women and children of the county. Many town women are interested in the dress form and sewing work and although Miss Wilkins is really supposed to limit her work to country residents, she includes all who want the work and instruction. When the drive starts for members for the Cass County Farm Bureau, just remember that your four dollars will be spent for the benefit of our women and boys and girls.

WHISKY "EXPERIMENTS" SAME AS MOONSHINING

Denver, Feb. 5.—The Colorado supreme court today ruled that "experimenting" in the making of whiskey is just as much a crime under the prohibition law as "moonshining."

The decision was given in the case of Henry Byrd of Yuma, Col., in whose home deputy sheriffs found a still several months ago and arrested Byrd.

The defendant contended he was only "experimenting" and that he had not manufactured any whisky. The court, however, held that it is unlawful to experiment, when violation of the law is the object of the experiment.

LADIES MAKE CHANGE

Miss Lillian Palacek, who has been stenographer at the office of County Attorney A. G. Cole, has resigned her position and accepted a similar one with the Farmers' State bank and will at once enter on her new duties. Miss Edna Klingler will take up the work formerly handled by Miss Palacek in the office of the county legal department.

DEATH CLAIMS

CHURCH HEAD

Bishop of Lincoln Diocese, Charles J. O'Reilly, Passes Away Sunday Afternoon at 5 p. m.

The Rt. Reverend Charles J. O'Reilly, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Lincoln, passed away at St. Elizabeth's hospital at 5 p. m. Sunday. His death was due to arteriosclerosis, aggravated by an injury received in a hard fall some two months ago which fractured a shoulder.

Bishop O'Reilly came to Lincoln March 20, 1918, from a diocese in Oregon and was installed in his new cathedral on June 25, 1918. He was the third bishop in the Lincoln diocese, succeeding Bishop John H. Tihen. The first bishop of the diocese was Bishop Thomas Bonarum, who was installed about forty years ago and died here about twelve years ago.

Bishop O'Reilly was born in St. Johns, New Brunswick, January 4, 1860. He received his classical education at St. Josephs college, Miramichi, New Brunswick, where he received the degree of master of arts. His family moved to Portland, Ore., where he taught for some years in a Catholic college. Wishing to devote his life to the service of the church, he took the theological course at Grant seminary, Montreal, Canada, and was ordained to the priesthood at Portland, Ore., June 29, 1890.

His first charge was at Tigardville and Oswego, from which he was promoted after two years to the important parish of St. Marys, in eastern Portland. He became quite prominent in various social and fraternal activities, was interested in temperance and welfare work and when eastern Oregon was made into a separate diocese he became its first bishop. He was consecrated in Portland, August 25, 1903. As a missionary bishop of that diocese, he lectured extensively in different parts of the country to gather funds for its development. Among his works, the cathedral at Baker City, a beautiful Gothic structure, will ever remain a monument to his memory.

In recognition of his labors, he was transferred to the larger diocese of Lincoln. His main efforts as bishop of Lincoln were devoted to the de-
