Alvo News

Clyde Carroll of Waverly was visiting friends here Saturday afternoon.

A number of new cases of the flu are reported, though all are on the mend.

A few more ice houses were filled last week—a third cutting off of some of the ponds.

Chas. Rosenow has been quite ill the past several days, but is getting better at this writing.

Chester Ough spent the week end in Lincoln with relatives, returning home Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schaefer, of Murdock, were calling on friends in Alvo Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Verl Linch autoed up from Diller and attended the sale at the Ed Earnest home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Boyles, of Lincoln, spent the week end here with Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boyles and other relatives.

Miss Claire Willis came down from Lincoln Saturday to visit over Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Willis.

Fred Weaver and sons, Bud and Glenn, of South Bend, spent Sunday evening with relatives at the Mrs. J. A. Shaffer home.

Ray Clark and three older children are spending several days in Lincoln at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rosenow autoed to Lincoln Thursday afternoon to visit their daughter, Mrs. Ray Clark, who with her sick baby is at the Aug Rosenow home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dinges autoed to Lincoln Sunday afternoon, spending the night with relatives there and doing some shopping in the city Monday forenoon before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. France, of Lincoln, visited Saturday and part of Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Arthur Dinges and Mr. Dinges, going from here to Syracuse to visit relatives on Sunday afternoon.

Fred Thomas and daughter, Miss Iowa Thomas came up from their home at Cortland and took Grandpa Thomas home with them as he is too feeble to reside alone. He was able to walk to the depot.

M. E. Church Notes

The Sunday morning audience was not up to the normal size that Alvo has been having. Seems like the flu is still working mightily amongst the people and it is quite noticeable in the different audiences. Of course the preacher would rather have a big audience any time than an audience with a broken program. So what can't be helped must be endured. We hope this condition will soon cease.

and we shall surely be delighted to see you in the regular services again. Our prayers and our best wishes go out in your behalf.

The ladies of the Aid society will meet with Sister Parcell Wednesday afternoon to transact the regular business of the Aid then plan for that big doings. We are looking forward to this date when we can use our autos and go to the various exercises that the ladies are boasting. Of course the program will not be right soon; for the big debt is paid and for once in 25 years this Alvo M. E. church can say, "We owe not a dollar," and the budget is in good shape, but we do not want to be inactive ere we rust out or die in a rut. So, on with your program.

The lady evangelist, Miss Clara Messer, of Enid, Oklahoma, will be with us for our revival on April 15th. This time of six weeks will soon roll by and spring work will be on us, but please keep in mind the great mission of the church. We are expecting a splendid good revival. It must be a success as it will be if the prayers of the church are for the meetings. Other papers speak very highly of the evangelist and we are very fortunate in securing her services over top of other calls from near-by pastors. May Heaven's choicest blessings rest on such a revival in Alvo.

The Bible class really had a little argument on "Would it have made any difference with Jesus had Zachaeus been an Irishman instead of a little Jew?"

The prayer meeting topic is Chapter 1 of 1st Thes. Bring your Bibles. Sorry so many could not be present to get the history of the Susannah and Samuel Wesley home last Sunday morning.

Wonder if the different Sunday school classes would try this lively rally plan of which class can really put on the best opening and closing for the Sunday school. Let's try it. All agreed? Sure.

Next Sunday morning the subject is the 4th Commandment and the evening subject, "The Conversion of a Jewess."

Regular official board will meet at the parsonage next Monday night. Sorry to lose Brother and Sister Vinson from our church. They move to Havlock this week.

Miss Mabel Hunt presents her church letter for reception with us. You are cordially invited to all our services.

TELLS WHAT THE FARMERS WANT

Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota declares He is Answerable to No One But Constituents.

Bismark, N. D., Feb. 26.—Lynn J. Frazier, non-partisan senator-elect from North Dakota, declares that in the senate he will have no piper to pay, except the people of the state. "Altho elected on the republican ticket, the republican national committee did not contribute one cent to my campaign," declared the "dirt farmer," who came back in politics power, "to receive the highest gift within the power of the people of his state one year after he was recalled during the third term as governor—a humiliation suffered by no other chief state executive in the United States. The non-partisan league which many politicians, both among those friendly and inimical to the organization, believe will never again function as a party organization in the state, is credited by Frazier with the progressive successes of the last election.

"The non-partisan league is stronger than it ever was," Frazier declared. "Wherever the league has worked progressives have been elected." He mentioned Dill, Washington; Wheeler, Montana; Shipstead, Minnesota; Lafollette, Wisconsin; Brookhart, Iowa; Howell, Nebraska; and Charles Bryan, Nebraska, as elected by non-partisans. Fair prices for their products, not further credit extension, is the need of agriculture, Frazier asserts, placing himself on record for price stabilization, repeal of the Esch-Cummins law, and amending the federal reserve law to make it "more workable."

DEATH OF PIONEER NEBRASKA WOMAN

Mrs. Catherine Simpson, Widow of Former Mayor J. D. Simpson, Dies in Michigan.

Word has been received here by old friends of the death at Flint, Michigan, of Mrs. Catherine Simpson, widow of the late John D. Simpson, former mayor of Plattsmouth and a pioneer resident of the west. Mrs. Simpson had been making her home at Flint with her daughter, Louisa, who was well known here in her girlhood days.

The deceased lady was in her eighty-eighth year and has lived a life full of the wonderful experiences of the pioneer days in the west and during her residence in Plattsmouth was a very talented musician and in fact many of the older residents of this city were given their musical education at her hands.

Mrs. Simpson was the daughter of Captain and Mrs. Andrew J. Klepser and was born in Delphi, Indiana, where on July 6, 1853, she was united in marriage to John D. Simpson. Mrs. Simpson was known in her old home as a very gifted musician and when the family came west to the territory of Nebraska she devoted much time to her musical work and was more than usually successful in bringing to the pioneer community the wonderful touch of a gifted musical talent and education.

Mrs. Simpson, while a resident of Plattsmouth, was one of the ladies who made and presented the flag to Co. A of the 1st Nebraska, raised in this county in 1861 and commanded by Captain R. R. Livingston, later general of the brigade.

The husband was elected county treasurer of Cass county in 1857 and later the family removed to Denver where Mr. Simpson was engaged in bookkeeping. For a few years, returning to Plattsmouth in 1864 and was then engaged in partnership with Wheatley Micklewait, the first mayor of Plattsmouth.

The deceased lady was here at the time the Burlington railroad was surveyed through this section and had the honor of throwing the first shovel full of dirt that marked the construction of the railroad line of the Burlington & Missouri River railroad in Nebraska at this point.

In the years that passed Mr. Simpson was identified with work for the Burlington and Mrs. Simpson continued her musical work in this city and was very prominent in the social life of the community and particularly in the Episcopal church of this city where she was organist and leader of the musical work for years.

There were two daughters born to Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, Lella and Helen Luella, both of whom inherited the musical gift of the mother and made a wonderful career for themselves in this line.

Since the death of the husband, Mrs. Simpson has resided with her youngest daughter in Michigan until her death which occurred February 10.
