EASTER SUNDAY A DAY OF WORSHIP

CHURCHES OF CITY FILLED AT SPECIAL SERVICES HONORING THE RISEN LORD

Easter Sunday was a day of mildness as the weather man had smiled on this section and the pleasant weather was taken advantage of by large numbers who were out to enjoy the Easter tide in various ways.

The cool wind made it necessary to wear wraps and the usual display of the new Easter gowns was absent. The attendance at the churches of the city was exceptionally large and both at the morning and evening worship hours there were large congregations present to render their tribute to the Risen Lord and to celebrate one of the greatest days in the Christian church calendar.

At the St. Luke's Episcopal church the usual impressive Easter service had been prepared and the altar of the church was very beautifully decorated with the Easter lilies and with the candles glowing on the altar the scene made a setting of rare beauty. At the morning service at 11 o'clock there was the choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist by the rector, Father W. S. Leete, the choral service by Red-head being used by the choir of the church and the anthem, "Christ is Risen," by Shelly being given. At the evening service the Rt. Rev. Ernest V. Shayler, Bishop of Nebraska, administered the sacrament of holy confirmation to the class of some eight persons and with the beauty of the service received them into the fellowship of the church. The bishop gave a very instructive sermon on the faith that is the Christian's in the Risen Christ and which was enjoyed by a congregation that filled the church to its utmost capacity.

The St. Paul's Evangelical church held their Easter services at 10:30 in the morning with the administering of the holy communion and services in both English and German. An appropriate musical program was given by the choir of the church as well.

The Christian church held observance of the day with the administering of the holy communion at 11 o'clock and an appropriate sermon by the pastor, Rev. Walter R. Robb on "An Easter Message." The children of the Bible school, under the direction of Mrs. O. C. Hudson and Mrs. George Decker, gave a very fine Easter program of songs and recitations that brought forcibly to the congregation the lessons of the day.

One of the extensive observances of the day was at the First Presbyterian church where both at the morning and evening service special programs had been prepared. At the morning worship hour was held the celebration of the holy communion and at which the members of the Knights Templar were present to make their communion. The choir of the church gave a special musical program and a very beautiful violin offertory was played by Mrs. A. D. Caldwell. Rev. H. G. McCuskey gave an inspiring sermon on the message of the Easter day at the morning hour and which was heard by a very large congregation. The church was very handsomely arranged in decorations of the Easter lilies and spring flowers. At the evening service the choir of the church gave the cantata, "The Resurrection and the Life," by Wilson, under the direction of Edna Marshall Eaton, and this was very beautifully given and each member of the choir assisted in making it a very beautiful story in music of the Easter tide.

The services at the Methodist church were unusually impressive at the evening worship hour, when there was presented a pageant of "The Life of Christ," shown in twelve scenes from the life of the Master. The platform at the east side of the church auditorium had been arranged in hangings of black and against the dark colored background was presented the living pictures of the story of the life of the Christ. It was truly inspiring and the silence of the large congregation told of the wonderful impression that was made as the various scenes were enacted. The impressive nature of the living pictures was brought out by the special lighting effects that had been prepared by R. M. Werner, and which made the scenes very beautiful in the extreme. In the various scenes an appropriate scripture reading was given, telling the story that each of the pictures represents. At the morning service there were special musical numbers given and Mrs. H. W. Black of Minden sang a very beautiful solo number and the pastor gave the last of his series of special sermons of the Lenten season, "The New Life," in which he touched on the final perfection of the Christian life that was represented in the risen Savior and through whom mankind by faith could have the blessing of the life everlasting.

SEARCHES FOR SPEEDERS

Sheriff C. D. Quinton spent the greater part of Easter afternoon on the highway between this city and the Platte river bridge on the lookout for a party of auto travelers who were reported by passersby as driving in a reckless manner along the highway and threatening alike their own safety as well as that of every person who might be on the road. Travelers coming in from the north reported the party as apparently being intoxicated and unable to keep the road straight and menacing every one else who might be traveling. The auto party, however, evidently was able to get under cover by the time the sheriff arrived on the scene and although the sheriff waited there for several hours they failed to make an appearance and made good their escape.

OFFICERS MAKE RAID IN THE CITY LAST SATURDAY

Residence of Harry Poissall Visited and Five Parties Arrested and Quantity of Liquor Taken

Late Saturday afternoon a search warrant was issued from the court of Justice William Weber on the application of County Attorney A. G. Cole for the property of Harry Poissall on Granite street and the same was carried into execution late Saturday night by Sheriff C. D. Quinton, who was assisted in making the raid on the residence by Chief of Police Alvin Jones, Constable Detlef, Constable William Grebe and Deputy G. H. Manners.

The officers on visiting the Poissall residence found a half a gallon of moonshine liquor and placed under arrest Mr. Poissall and the members of the party found at the house. Those arrested were Peter Herold, who is making his home there, Lawrence Watson, Walter Elliott and Ben Rainey.

WILD WEST SHOW GOOD

Saturday and yesterday afternoon, the baseball park resembled one of the popular western rodeo gatherings when "Calgary Jack" Wheatley with the assistance of local cowpunchers staged a wild west show as far as fancy riding was concerned. "Hook 'em, cowboy," and similar expressions could be heard as the riders tore around the ball park on the bucking and racing horses and several real thrills were given the crowd as the riders had narrow escapes from being injured. "Calgary Jack" demonstrated that he is right at home in the saddle and that he is not afraid to tackle the wildest horse or steer. Exhibitions of Roman riding and other features of the old time rodeo were given. The entertainment drew out a very large and well pleased crowd for the afternoon.

PRESENTED WITH GIFT

The employees of the Burlington store department made a very pleasing gift to their retiring storekeeper, J. M. Heck, who is returning to Lincoln and who will be replaced here by W. F. Huneke, who was storekeeper prior to the coming of Mr. Heck. The presentation was made by Mrs. Grace Sperry on behalf of the employees and was responded to with feeling by Mr. Heck. The gift consisted of a handsome gold watch chain and knife and a very beautiful Elks job and certainly will be a cherished keepsake for the general storekeeper.

MAKE PLEASING GIFT

Bishop Ernest V. Shayler of the Episcopal diocese of Nebraska, while here yesterday to hold the Easter confirmation services, was presented with a very handsome and very much appreciated remembrance by the Church School Service League of St. Luke's parish. The gift consisted of a set of linens for the communion service for the use of the bishop of Nebraska at his private chapel in the Episcopal residence. The presentation was made by Laura Grassman, Ruth Smith and Jane Dunbar as the committee from the league.

FIRST GRANDSON IN FAMILY

The residents of the city who met Frank Wooster today noticed a more than usual pleasant smile flitting across his countenance and there is a reason as Mr. and Mrs. Wooster are grandparents. A fine little son was born yesterday at the South Side hospital in Omaha to Mr. and Mrs. Anton Wooster and both the mother and little one are doing very nicely.

FIRE DESTROYS GALLOWAY HOME SUNDAY MORNING

Family Find Great Difficulty in Making Escape From the Burning House Sunday Morning.

About 3 o'clock Sunday morning, W. A. Galloway was aroused from his sleep at the home in the extreme northern portion of the city by smelling the odor of smoke and as he opened the door of his sleeping room he was astounded to find that the house was full of smoke and the entire first floor a raging sea of flames. Mr. Galloway aroused his wife and children and assisting in getting them from a second story window to safety as the house was being rapidly consumed and a few moments delay might have proved fatal to the residents of the home.

The fire alarm was turned in and the department responded but without being able to save any of the property as the fire had progressed too far for the chemicals to subdue the flames and the house is far out of the fire limits and beyond the reach of the lines of hose.

The Galloway home was situated on North 8th street, several blocks north of the standpoint of the water company and was one of the oldest houses in that section of the city. While the destruction of the property will prove quite costly to the owner, he feels fortunate that the fire did not result in the injury or death of some member of the family.

DISTRICT COURT HANDS DOWN A DECISION IN CASE

Passes on Dissolution Suit of E. G. Dovey & Son Which Has Been Before Court Some Time.

The district court which has had under consideration for some time the case of H. N. Dovey vs. George E. Dovey, an action for dissolution of the co-partnership of E. G. Dovey & Son, one of the pioneer business concerns of the city, and which has been conducted by the sons of E. G. Dovey since 1881, handed down a decision in the suit late Saturday afternoon.

Judge Begley found that the co-partnership was formed on the date of March 13, 1922, at which time John F. Gorder was appointed as receiver of the firm and has since been in charge of the affairs of the firm. The court also overruled motion to have George E. Dovey turn over collateral of the firm to the receiver, but gave permission for the receiver to pay claim of G. E. Dovey and then receive the collateral in question.

WINS DIAMOND RING

At the "New Way" party club dance on Saturday evening at the M. W. A. hall a very pleasing crowd was in attendance and much interest shown in the drawing for the third of the diamond rings that have been given away by this dancing organization in the last few weeks. The ring was won by No. 339, which had been held by Mr. Roy Ebley, but who had given the ticket to Mrs. Joseph Flynn and Mrs. Flynn proved very fortunate. At one of the previous dances a brother of Mrs. Flynn gave her a number that won a ring and for the second time on last Saturday evening she proved a lucky holder of the number and won easily. The "New Way" club is giving a dance this evening at the Eagles hall.

MRS LUTZ SINKING

The reports from the bedside of Mrs. Henry Lutz state that she is in a very serious condition and in the last few days she has grown very much weaker and there is no hope held for her recovery and death seems but the matter of a few days at the most. Mrs. Lutz has been suffering for a period of several months from cancer and her condition has from the beginning given but little hopes of her recovery.

HAS NEW CAR

Storekeeper W. F. Huneke of the Burlington is no longer making the journey to the shops on foot as he has secured through Andy Moore, the local agent, one of the new model Durand cars and the gas wagon is not only a thing of beauty but is the latest work in car production and Mr. Huneke feels justifiably proud of the car.

COL. BATES POORLY

Col. M. A. Bates, editor of the Journal, was numbered with the sick today, being under the weather with the prevailing colds and general spring sickness that has been in evidence in the community. He expects to be up and around again in a short time, however.

Dodge and Canfield, which were very much enjoyed and appreciated by the ladies in attendance. At a suitable hour, Mrs. Troop served very dainty and delicious refreshments.

ELECTION DAY IS QUIET AS GRAVEYARD

Only Interest Apparent in Board of Education Ticket—Voters Do Much Writing In.

From Tuesday's Daily. The municipal election today was one of peace and quietude and hardly a rifle marked the surface of the voting and the only face attracting much attention was that for members of the board of education where there were three candidates and, therefore, a race.

In the various wards over the city there was more or less independent voting by writing in names of the candidates desired for councilmen. The election was in marked difference to those in the past when the spirit of rivalry ran high for the city offices and party lines were keenly drawn and the campaign warm and hectic between the parties and the personal followers of the candidates.

Judge William Weber, who has for many years been a staunch republican over in the good old democratic second ward, remarked to the Journal reporter the marked difference between the present quiet and uninteresting elections and the stormy days when each party printed their own tickets and the voters were all out in force. The judge related one of his campaigns when he was a republican candidate for assessor and the leaders of the opposition, composed of such veterans as Col. Ed Ruffner and Col. Fred Kroehner, were pouring the democratic votes into the polls to make the ward safe for democracy. A large delegation of voters had been marched up to the polls to vote under the leadership of democratic workers from the shops and as they neared the second ward polls a number of the Weber workers started an argument with the leaders and while the scrap was raging other workers for the judge made good the chance to supply the voters with the republican ballots and had them voted before the storm died down.

At that the placing of the two political parties in the field gave the voters the choice of men and the issues made an election full of interest and strong leaders in the city government.

HAVING A TOUGH TIME

From Tuesday's Daily. Frank Gobelman, the paint dealer, appears to be having all of his hard luck in a bunch, as he suffered a very badly cut hand last Sunday when he fell with a large plate glass and the last few days of the week was taken down with the flu and spent a few days in bed suffering as the result of the malady. He was out this morning for the first time but still feels the effects of the sickness and is on the job at the store looking after the needs of his customers.

FOURTEEN STATE LAWYERS TO AID IN SOLDIER WORK

General O'Bryan Names Them to Hear Complaints From Disabled Veterans in Nebraska.

President Edward P. Holmes of the state bar association, at the request of General P. O'Bryan, now counsel to the federal senate committee investigating government care of disabled soldiers, has named the following Nebraska attorneys as assistants to the general in this state:

Vincent C. Hascall of Omaha, J. W. Kinsinger of Lincoln, Earl Meyer of Alliance, George Munn of Ord, Frank Warner of Norfolk, Robert M. Armstrong of Auburn, and Harry Ellis of Holdrege.

General O'Bryan states his position in a letter from which this is taken: "I cannot attempt to perform the functions of the veterans bureau in Washington, nor can I, acting for the committee, appeal in cases where soldiers are dissatisfied. I must, however, cause to be investigated a large number of complaints that might be considered as characteristic, for the purpose of judging the merits of complaints of each class.

"What I have in mind is to constitute a list of former officers who are lawyers and who will serve in the manner indicated (without compensation) to hear the limited number of complaints sent to them, where the circumstances warrant it, to secure the facts by affidavits, and to report to me briefly their conclusions and suggestions. This latter will be directed toward expediting prompt action in any meritorious case that has been neglected, but should include observations of constructive character which go to the root of any organizational defect in the system of providing for the disabled."

From Tuesday's Daily.

Yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock was held the funeral services of the late Mrs. R. L. Probst, whose sudden death last week at Lake Worth, Fla., came as such a severe shock to the family and to the many friends here.

The services were held at the Methodist church and the building was filled to its utmost capacity by the friends of the family and many were compelled to stand outside of the building, unable to gain entrance.

The Rev. F. M. Drullner, pastor of the Methodist church here some ten years ago and an intimate friend of the Probst family, had come from his home at Carroll, Nebraska, for the service and gave the sermon, speaking words of comfort to the bereaved family and the sorrowing friends and through his long association with the family his message brought them a measure of comfort in their deep and lasting sorrow. The text was from the 15th chapter of I Corinthians.

A male quartet, composed of Messrs. Frank Cloidt, L. O. Minor, R. W. Knorr and E. H. Wescott, sang two numbers, "Jesus Savior, Pilot Me," and "Now the Day is Done." At the conclusion of the service the body was borne by the pall bearers composed of the sons and sons-in-law to the waiting hearse and was taken to Omaha where the final interment was made later. The pall bearers were Will, Wayne, Thayer and Dwight Probst, Elmer Hallstrom and Joseph Sindelar.

The address of the evening was by Attorney William A. Robertson, who discussed the work of the legislature and some of the pending bills before the body and particularly the changes proposed in the civil code bill, the good roads measures, the laws affecting intangible property and the bank guarantee law, all of which have attracted much interest as affecting the people of the state and on which there has been no definite action taken as yet by the legislators. So interested were the ladies that after the meeting Mr. Robertson had to answer a number of questions relative to the pending measures and other legislation in which the ladies are interested.
